

AVIATION

On every battle front in the world where the United Nations are fighting the Axis, San Jose State College men are flying planes. And on the ground, other San Jose State College men are repairing and maintaining those planes, or building new ones.