President's Message

I have been looking over the La Torre for 1917. Twenty-five years ago—and there's a picture of the young men drilling.

Now it's war again. We thought we could have world peace by wishing for it. We assumed that everyone else was as peaceably inclined as we were.

We've got to win this war. Nothing else matters at the moment, but soon we must begin to think about the peace time to come.

We must not blunder again.

This time we must make it possible for all men everywhere to be free, for all men to make a living, for all men to be happy. Short of that there will still be war.

DEPARTMENTS

When San Jose State College was born, in the year 1862, it was christened "Normal School of the State of California," the name being representative of the nature and purpose of the institution —to train teachers for the elementary schools of this state. For many years a normal school it remained.

Then, in recent years, the nature of the school changed markedly—and the change brought a change of name. "State College" it became, the new title representative of the vastly broadened character of the institution's program. Teacher training was no longer its sole objective, but only one of many aspects of a rich program of vocational instruction in the semi-professional fields.

The 1942 La Torre is proud to show pictorially, on the following pages, various phases of this program.

LIBRARIANSHIP

REFERENCE ROOM

Newest building on the San Jose State College campus is the Library, completed in 1942 at a cost of $275,000. Its beautiful construction, light, warm rooms, comfortable desks and chairs, offer the student real incentive for study. But the San Jose State College Library is more than just a beautiful new building and 80,000 books. It is an instructional unit as well. The college Library School is unique among California state colleges and is one of only three in the state. It trains librarians for public schools, and has established an outstanding reputation for efficiency in this field.

MUSIC

The San Jose State College Music Department is the largest in the West. It offers a complete program of vocal and instrumental instruction and music theory. Its hundred-piece band, hundred-and-twenty piece symphony orchestra, sixty-voice a cappella choir, and brass and woodwind choirs, are known throughout California.

San Jose State College is primarily a vocational school, preparing young men and women for specific jobs in the semi-professions. On preceding pages, and those following, are pictures showing various aspects of training in the college's vocational departments.

Less pictorial, but not less important, are the Academic departments of the college. These are, in fact, the very foundation of the institution. San Jose State College is distinguished for the breadth and excellence of its liberal arts program. Her students, regardless of the vocational field for which they are preparing, participate substantially in the cultural activities provided by these departments.

Cultural and vocational instruction are so combined in every student's program that of any graduate of this institution it may be truly said, "This is an educated person."

McFADDEN HEALTH COTTAGE

HEALTH AND HYGIENE

When a San Jose State College student is ill, all he has to worry about is getting well. Hospitalization, doctor and nursing care, anasthetics, x-rays are provided by the college through the Health Department. Vaccinations, physical examinations, tuberculosis tests are among the other services this department makes available to students of the college. The college - owned McFadden health cottage is available always to sick or injured students.

EDUCATION

San Jose State College is a teacher-training institution. While it has broadened its curriculum to include preparation for many other vocations, it still places heavy emphasis on the training of young men and women for teaching positions. To a solid foundation in the liberal arts is added formal instruction in educational methods and theory and training in specialized fields. Then, in the senior year, students do three months of full-time practice teaching in regular school classrooms. San Jose State College places an average of four-hundred and fifty teachers a year.

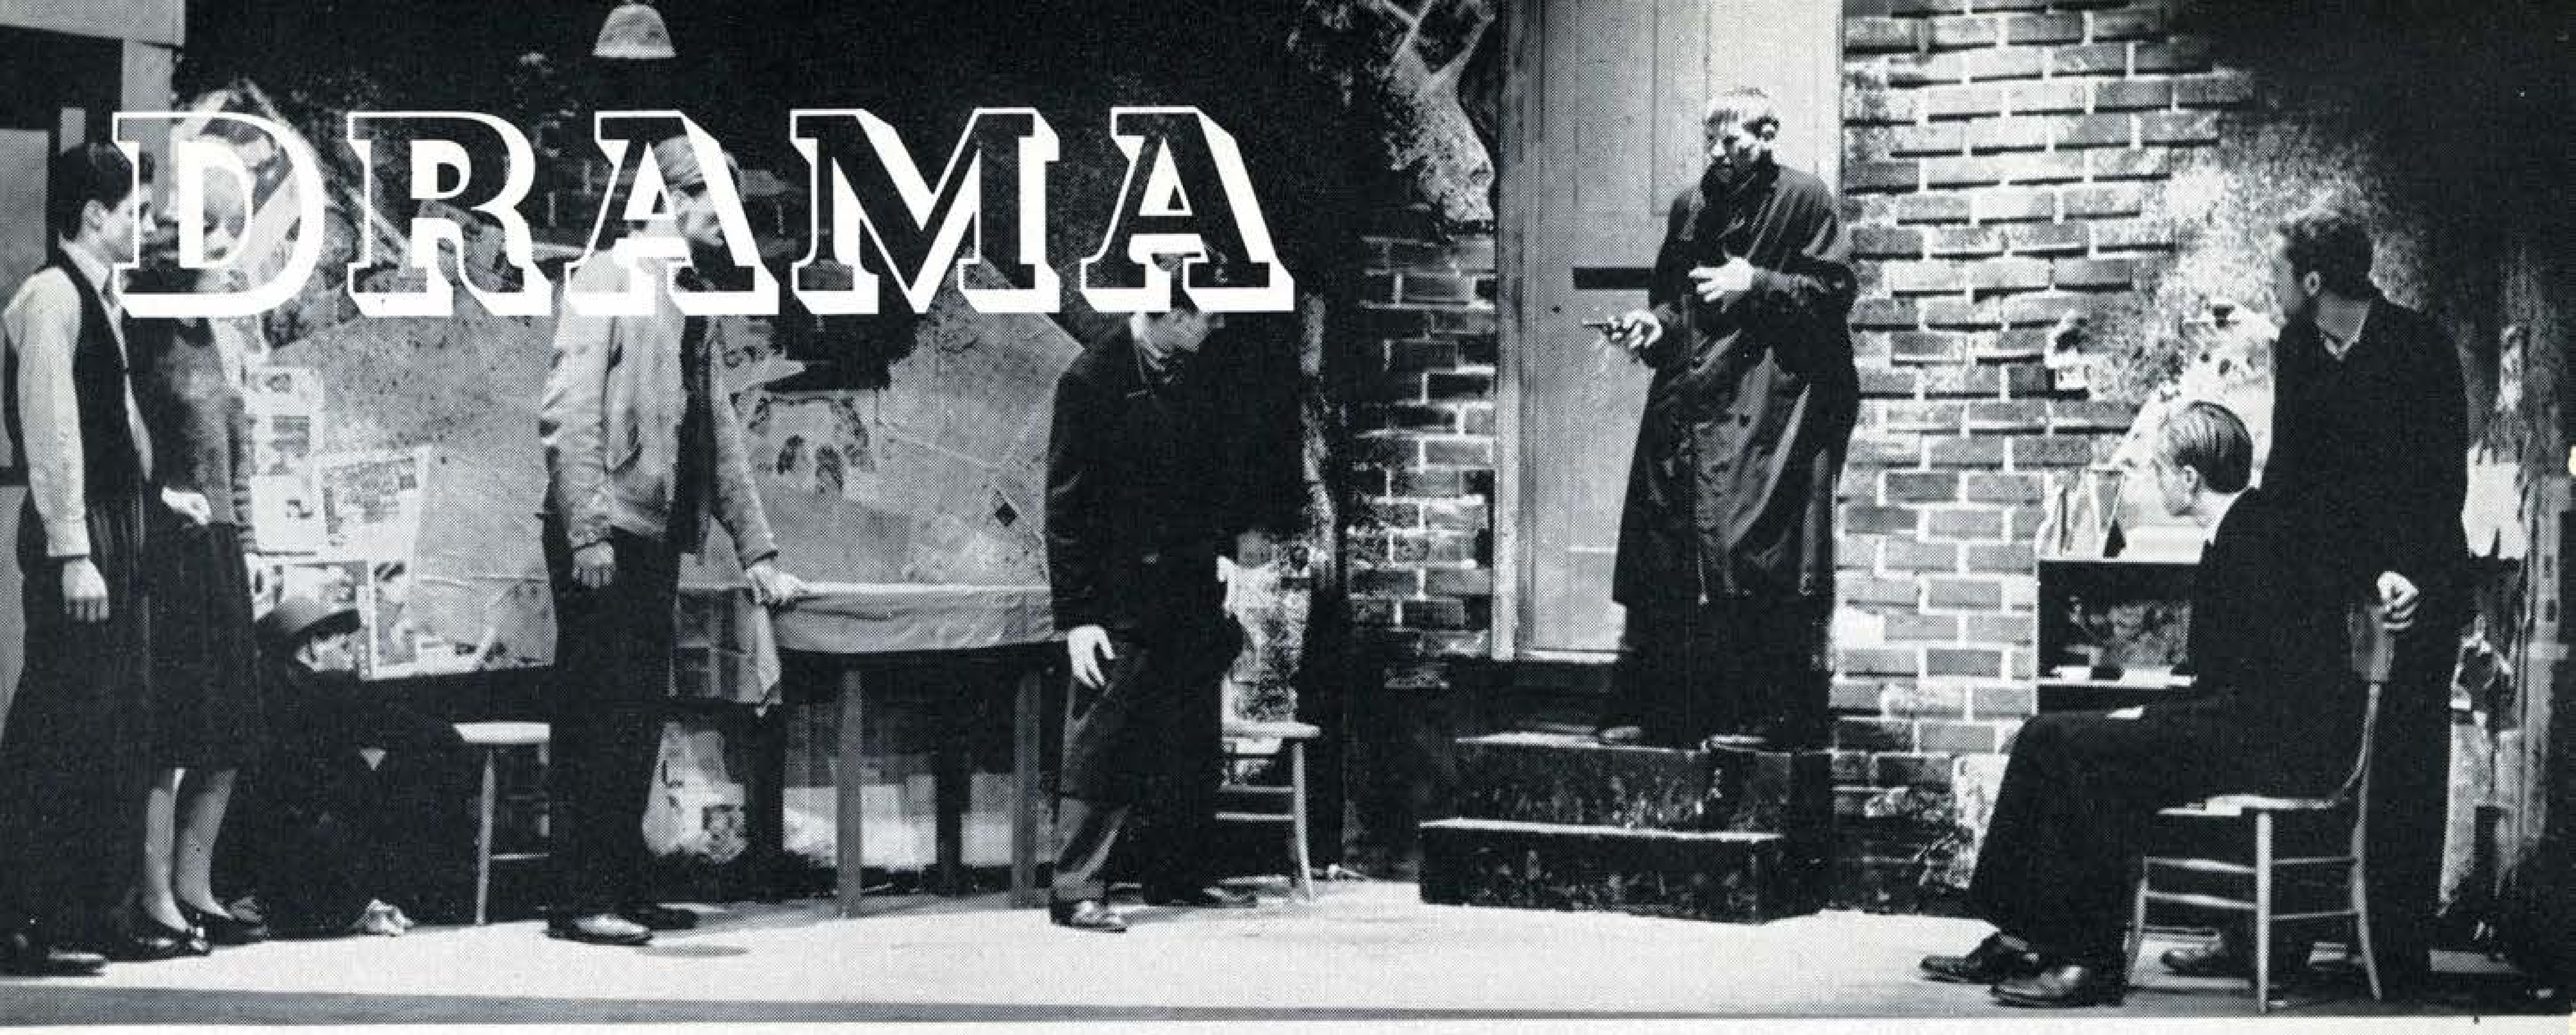
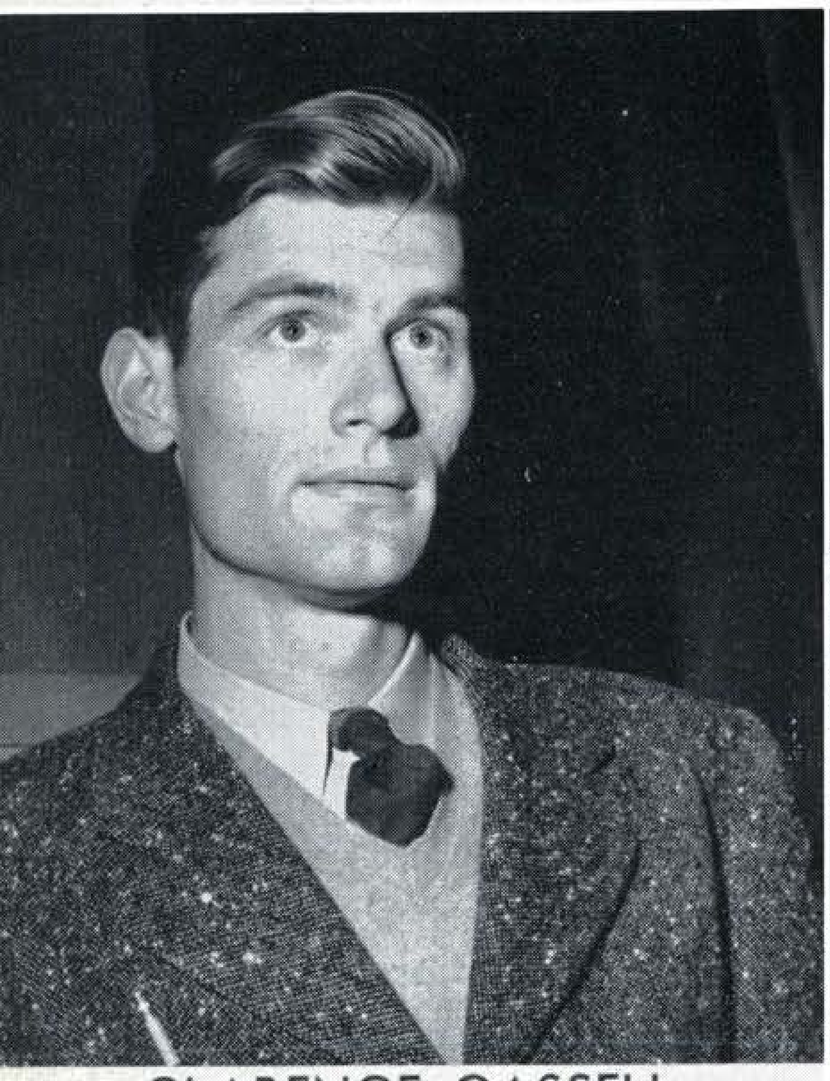
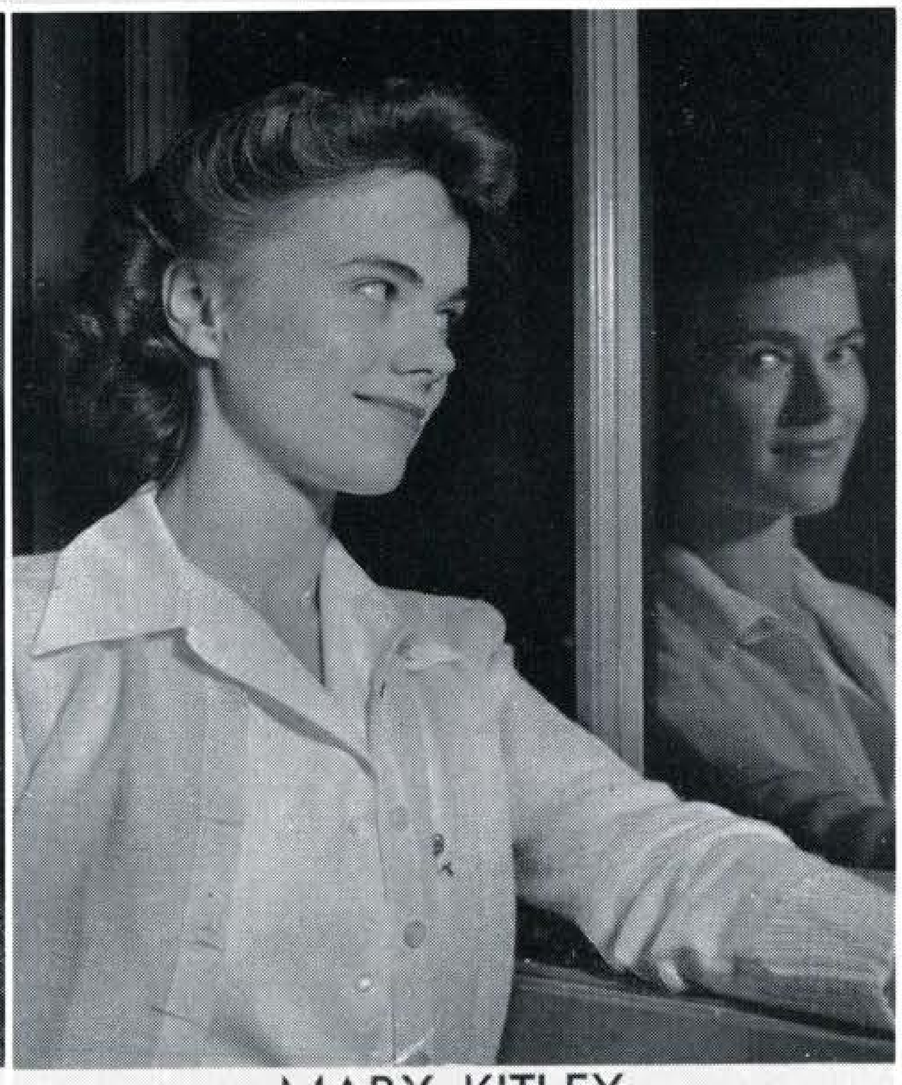
DRAMA



Coming back from a watery grave Ollie Bauquier, playing the part of Carr, seeks out his murderer. "Winterset" and "Pride and Prejudice" were the two serious dramas staged by the San Jose Players during the Little Theatre drama season.

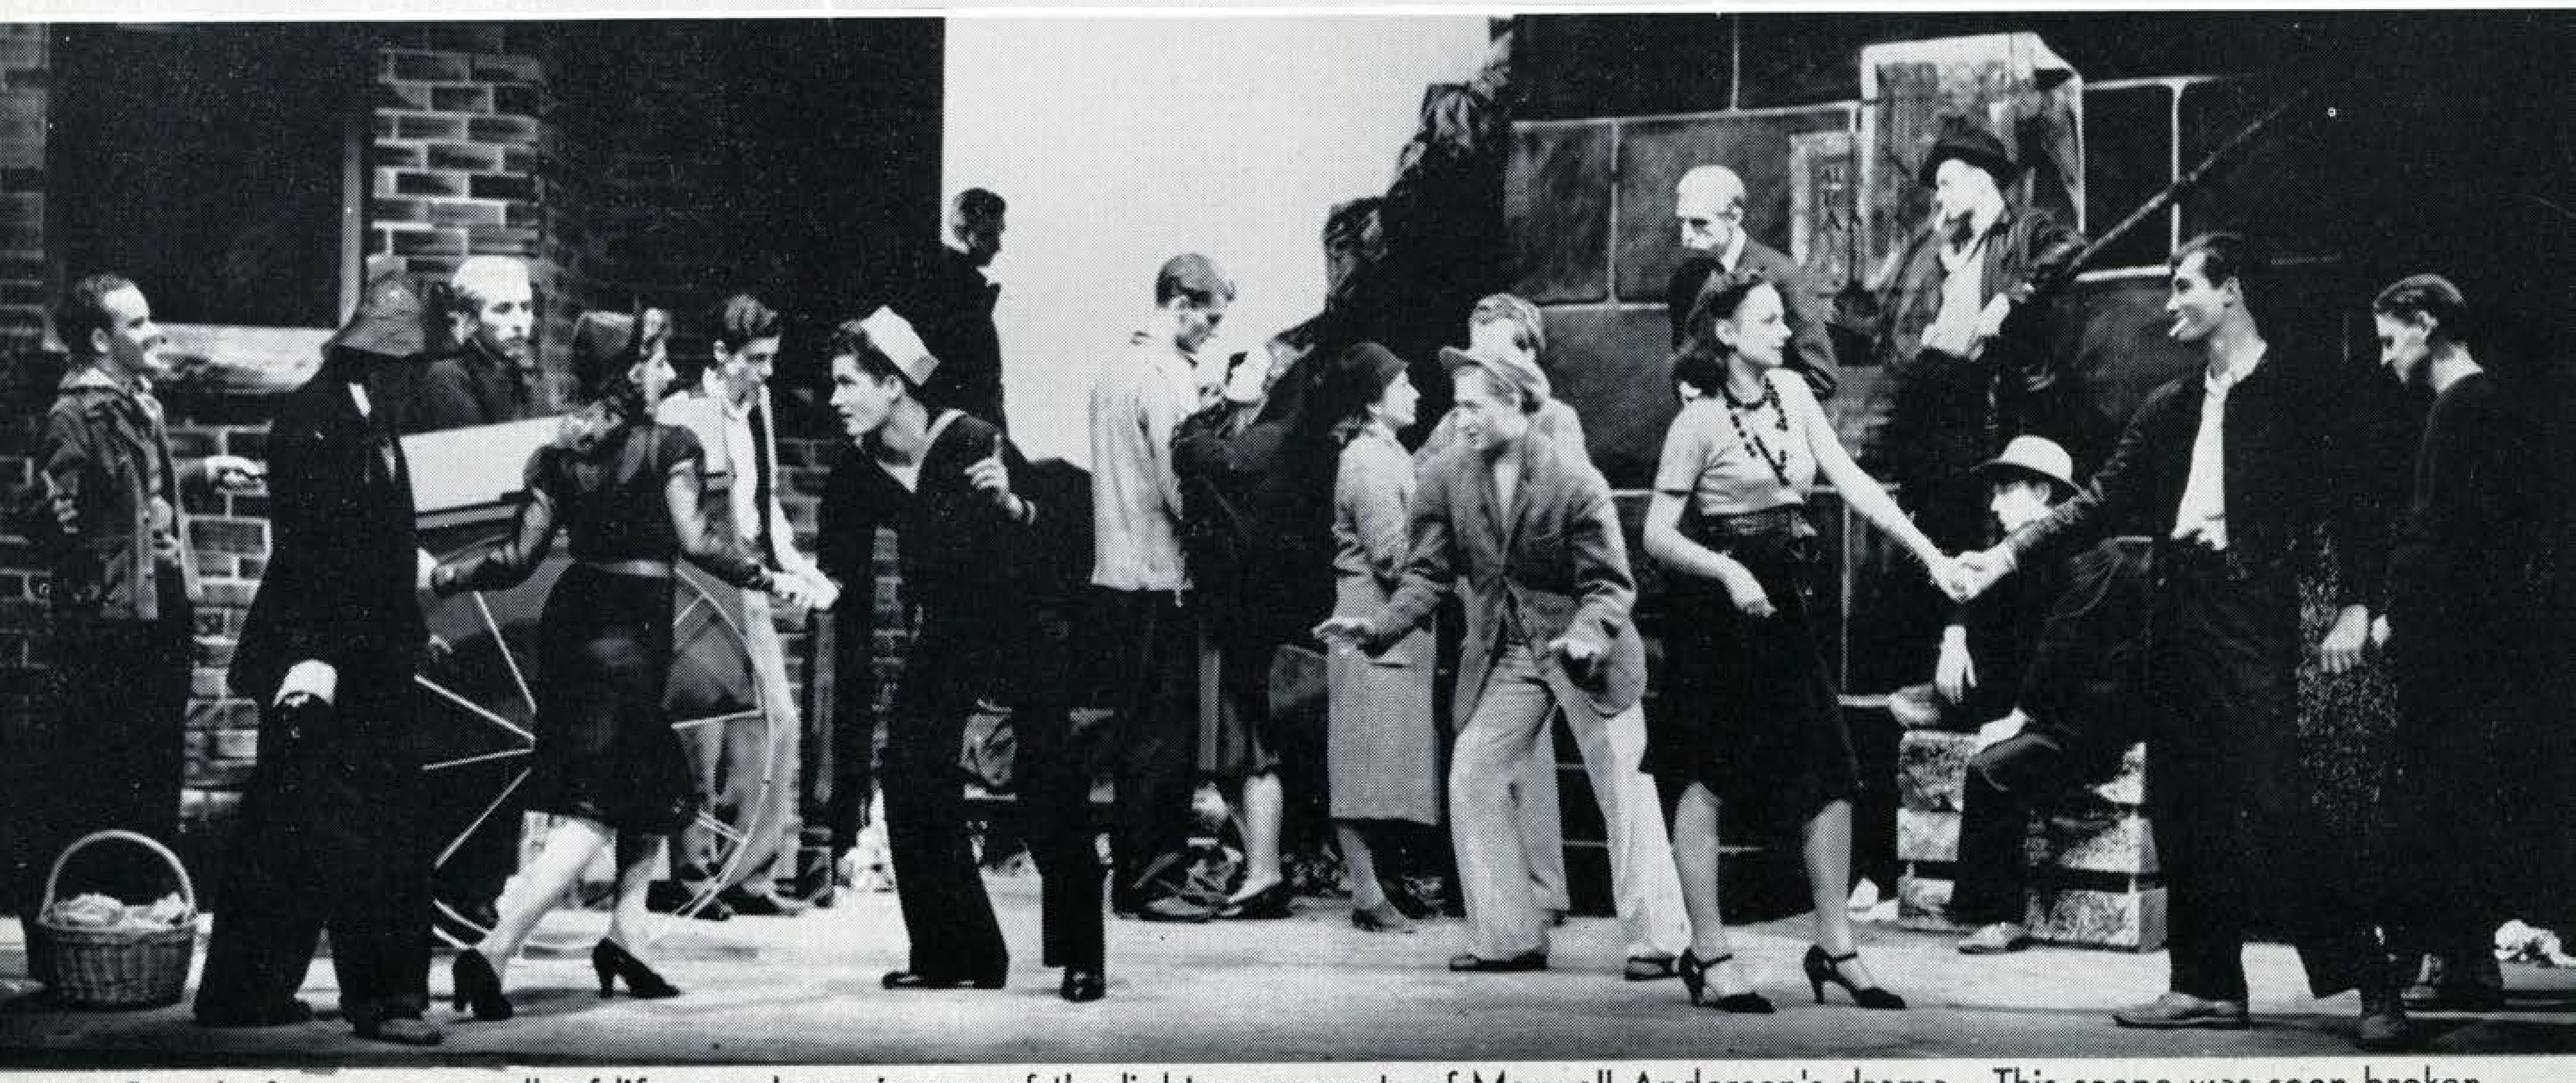


CLARENCE CASSELL
President



MARY KITLEY
Secretary

JOHN SHEPERD
Treasurer



People from every walk of life are shown in one of the lighter moments of Maxwell Anderson's drama. This scene was soon broken up by two tough lower east side policemen.

Clarence Cassell (Mio) and Audrey Tracey (Miriamne) look for a way of escape from the slums in "Winterset."

Deane Healey and Barbara Whittaker enact a juvenile love scene from "Ah Wilderness."

Denny Morrissey (Uncle Sid) slightly intoxicated, sets a bad example for the younger generation in "Ah Wilderness."

Jack Hume and Howard Evans portray a pair of gay young blades in "The Rivals."

The villain (John Sheperd) meets Lois Ijams in a desolate Parisian attic. This scene is from the melodramtic "East Lynne."

Howard Evans and Barbara Whittaker strike a romantic pose from "The Rivals."

Duane Heath snaps the handcuffs on villainous John Sheperd (Francis Levison). Barbara Stuhlman (Miss Corny) looks on with satisfaction.

Little sister (Mary Kirtley) and Deane Healey (Richard) read a mush note.

Hero of "East Lynne" Bill Kidwell (Archibald Carlysle) helps his second wife's brother Harrison McCreath (Jack Hare) escape a murder mix-up.

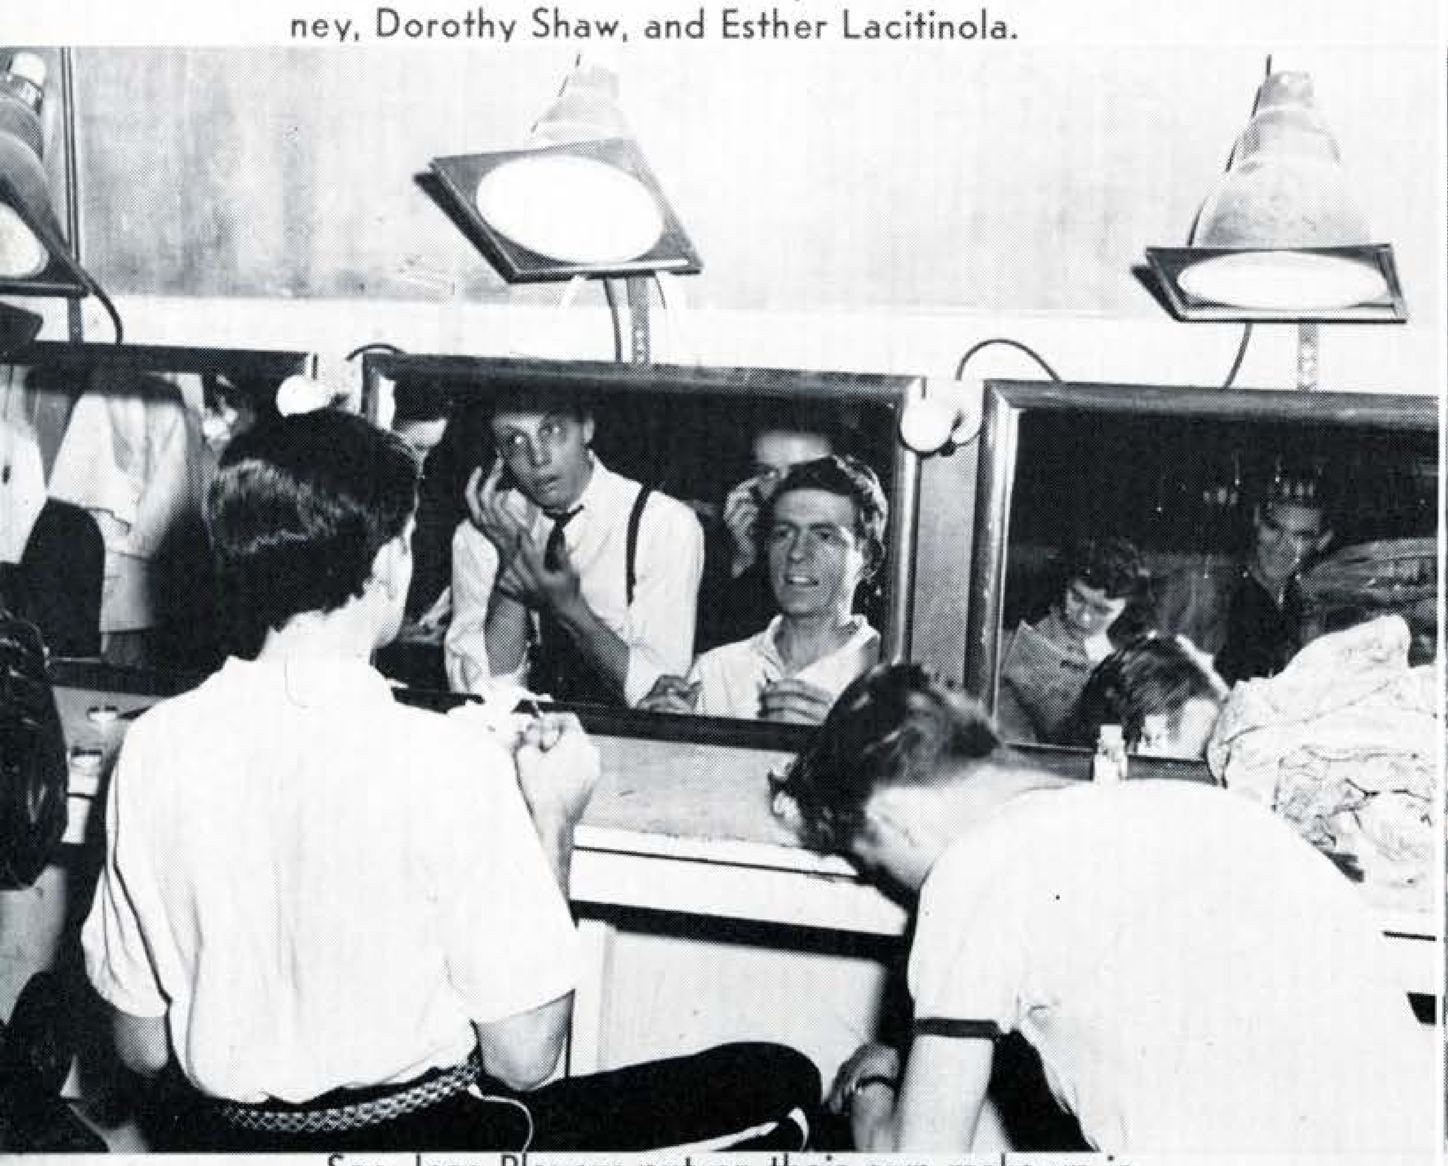
Bill Kidwell (Archibald Carlyle) forgives dying Lois Ijams (Isabelle) of the sins she has committed. This too, is from "East Lynne."



San Jose Players put on their own make-up in the dressing rooms of the Little Theatre in preparation for one of the six plays staged by the department of speech during the year.

Jimmy Spitz applies technical makeup which turns out to be a scar. He played the part of Trock the gangster in "Winterset."

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The symphony orchestra, in an effort to interest the younger generation in classical music, inaugurated youth concerts in addition to presenting the quarterly concerts.

These youth concerts are patterned after those given by Dr. Walter Damrosch. Mr. Adolph Otterstein, head of the department of music, conducted the concerts.

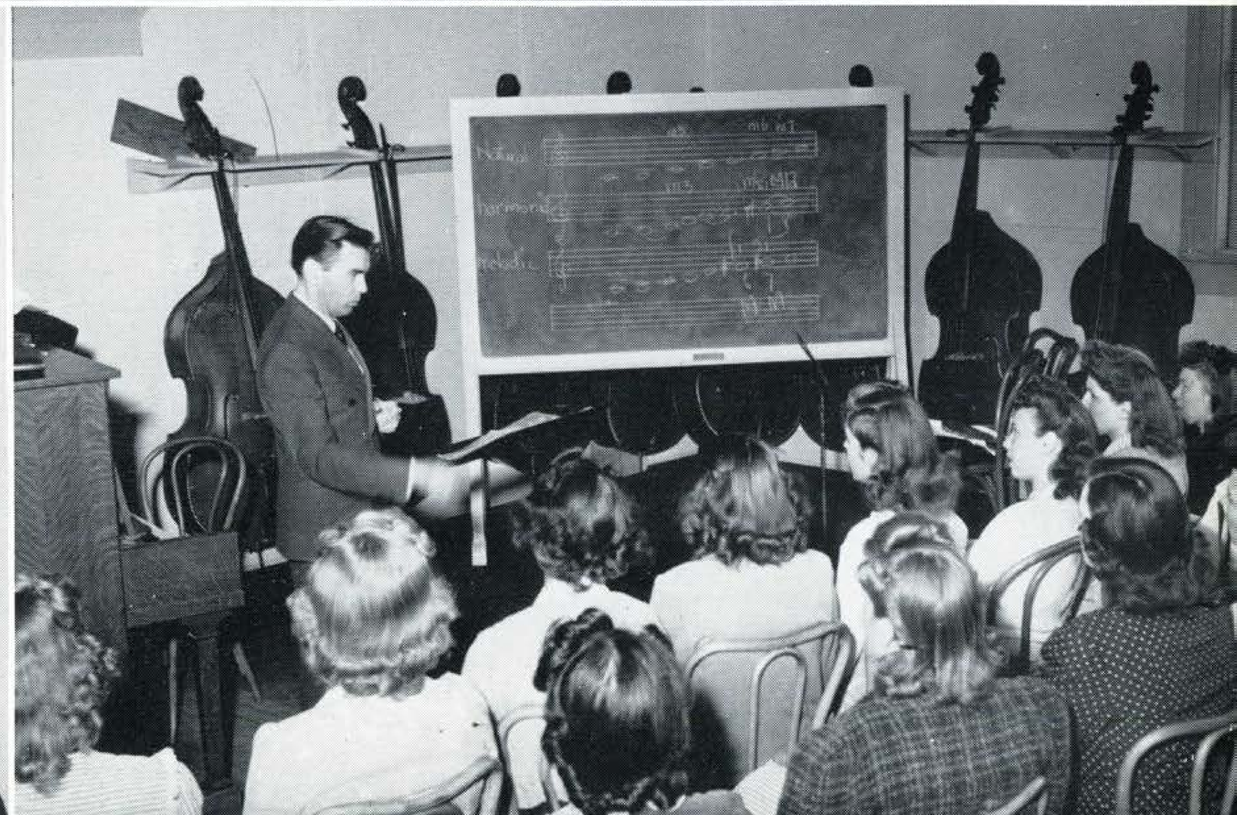
SYMPHONIC BAND

Symphonic band's yearly concert was presented during the spring quarter to a large audience in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

The program included Carl Friedman's "Slavonic Rhapsody," Richard Wagner's "Rustic Wedding Music," and Handel's "Water Music." Mr. Thomas Eagan directed.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The annual tour of the A cappella choir was eliminated this year because of the tire shortage. However, this organization presented its annual concert for students and townspeople. They also sang at chapel and gave a concert at Stanford university. Mr. William Erlendson is the director.



THEATRE ORCHESTA

Indicative of the progress of the San Jose State college music department, was the organization of a new theatre orchestra, under the direction of Edward Azhderian, senior music major. This group was organized in order to sightread through the inumerable smaller semi-classical selections that the students would otherwise never have the opportunity or experience of playing. These students, chosen from the musical elite of the campus, met twice a week without credit.

WOODWIND CHOIR

Another year of the unique combination of the San Jose State college Woodwind Choir under the direction of Thomas Eagan has established in the minds of the music lovers a deeper interest in the new type of woodwind choir that for the past decade Mr. Eagan has given his ablest efforts to standardize. All music played in the concerts presented by the 11-piece choir has been specially written and arranged by Eagan. All their concerts have been encouragingly successful and future standardization of this group nationally will bring added prestige to San Jose State college.

SENIOR SNEAK

SPARDI GRAS

The Royal Party procedes to the coronation platform with the Spartan Knights and Student Council as honor guards.

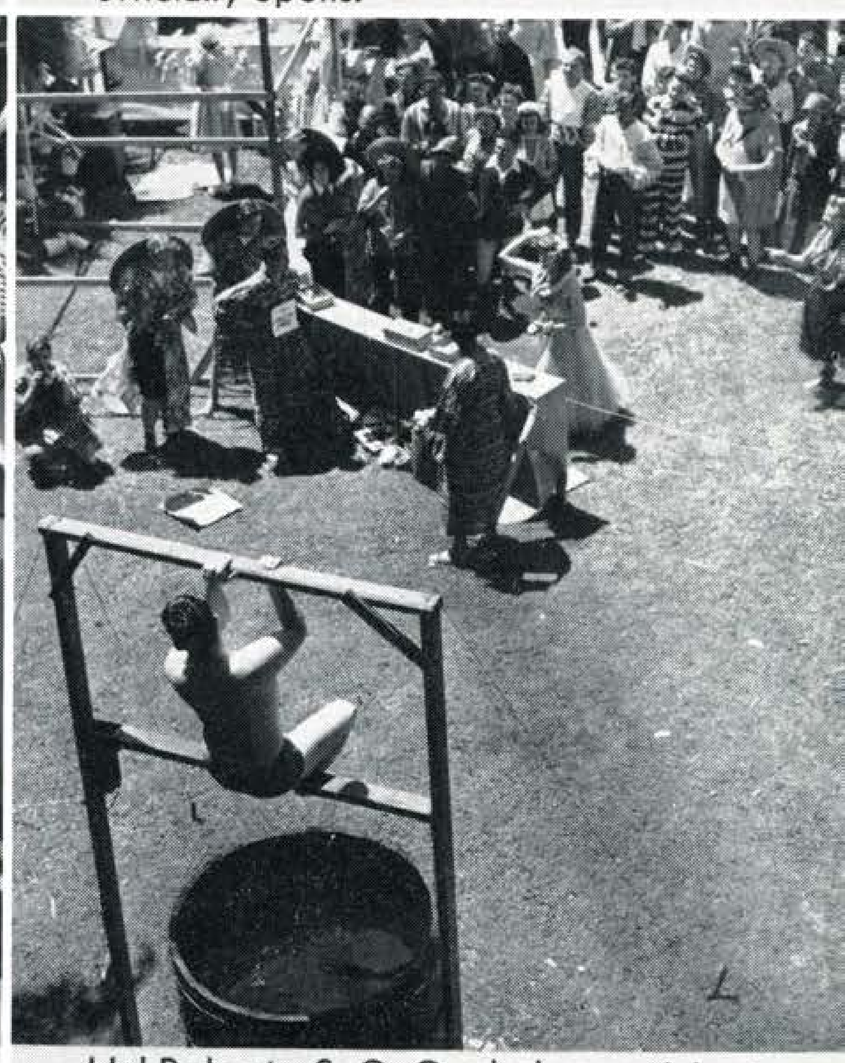
Tom Taylor clowns again for whiskerino winners Ken Wilkens and Earnest Lukes.

"Bishop" Poytress and crown bearer Marty Taylor officiate at the coronation ceremony of Queen Helen Donovan and King Herb Petty.

Guards of Honor, Campbell, Sheets, Robison, and Thompson smile as Spardi Gras officially opens.

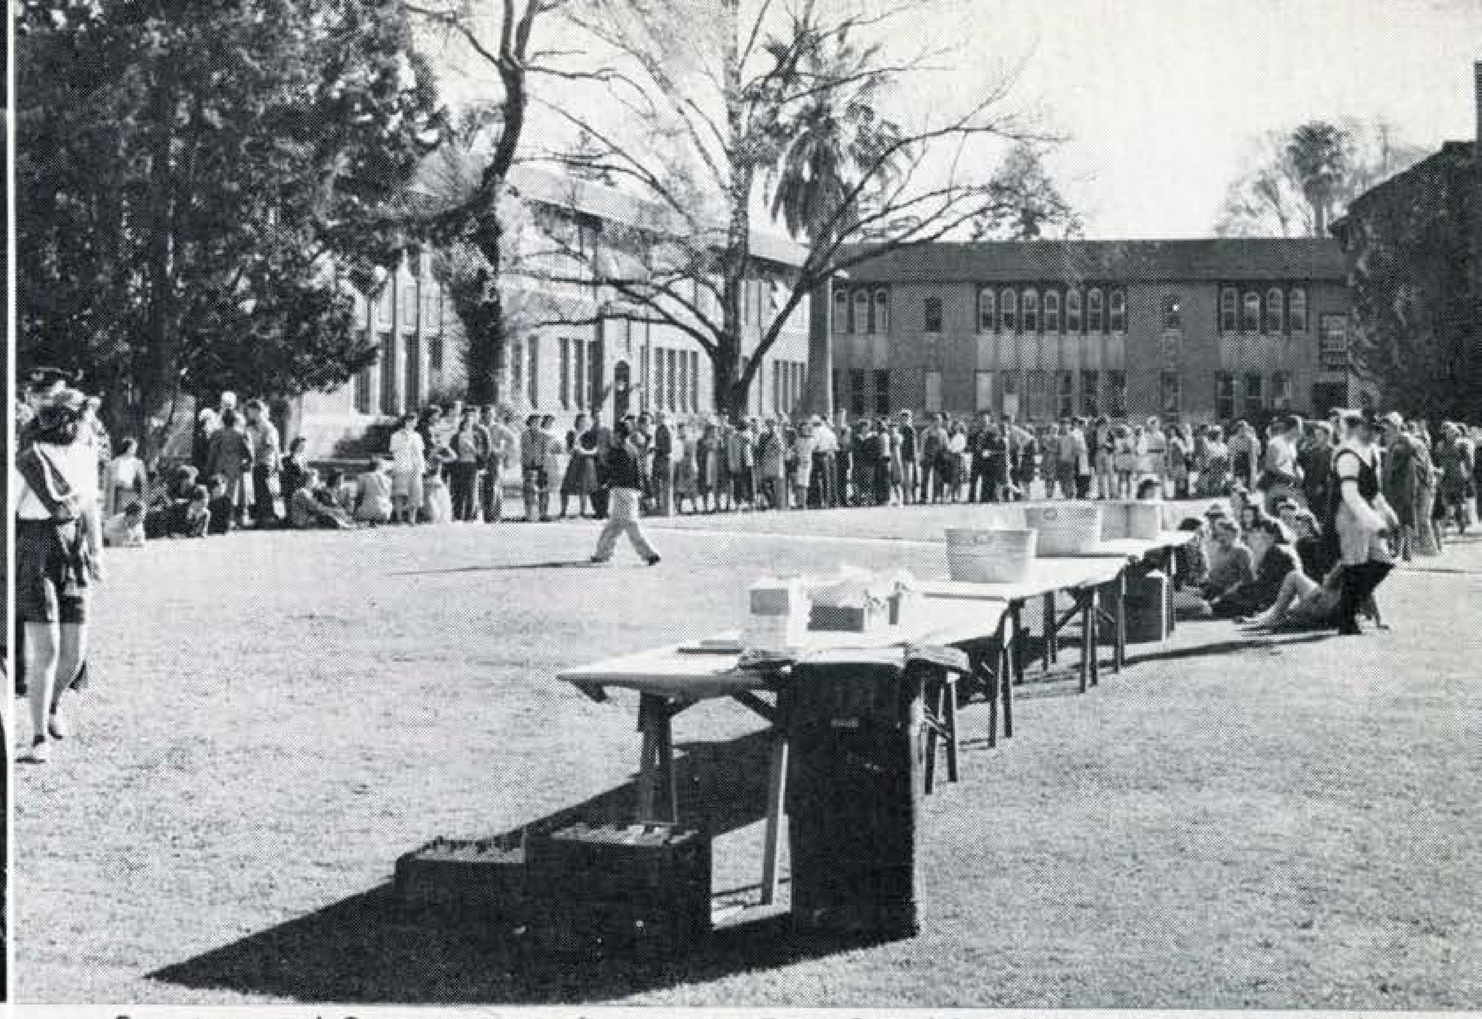
A. P. O. Johnny Watson gets his fill of omelette at the fraternity's egg-throwing booth.

Dean "Aunty Aircraft" Pitman and Don "Uncle Sam" True attract attention.



Hal Roberts, S. G. O. pledge, anticipates another ducking as a Hawaiian lass throws another baseball.

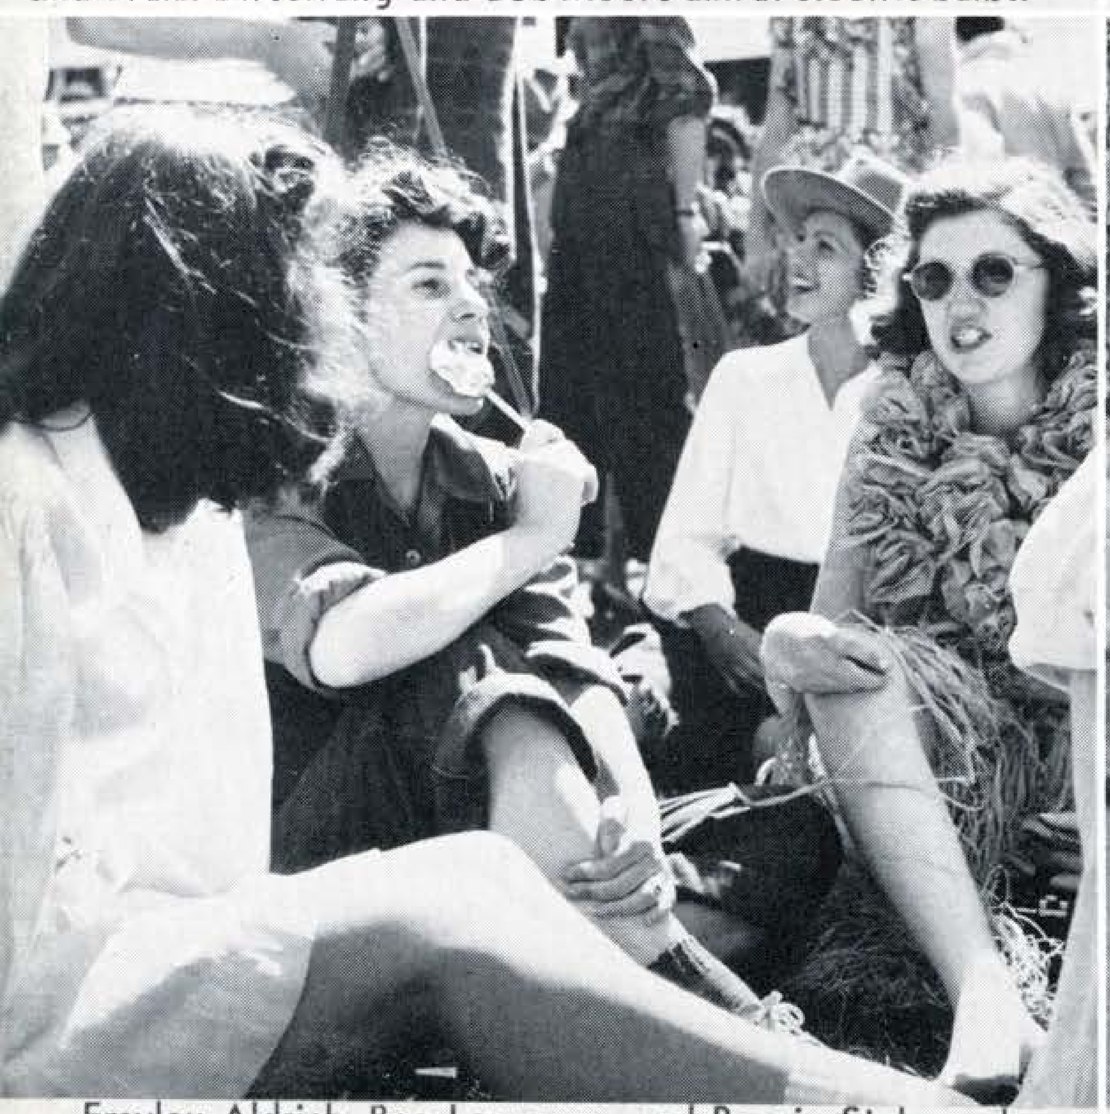
Competitors for nobel costumes Duane Heath, Arden "Poncho" Ardaiz, Art Adams and Henry Leland.



Spartan and Spartanettes line up in East Quad for the annual "bean" feed served by Spartan Spears.

Back to the "Good Old Days." Sling shots replace books and Frank Ditesffang and Bob Moore aim at electric bulbs.

"What's the matter baby?" Bob Arthur, Chuck Brown and Roger Frelier participate in traditional Spardi Gras Activities.

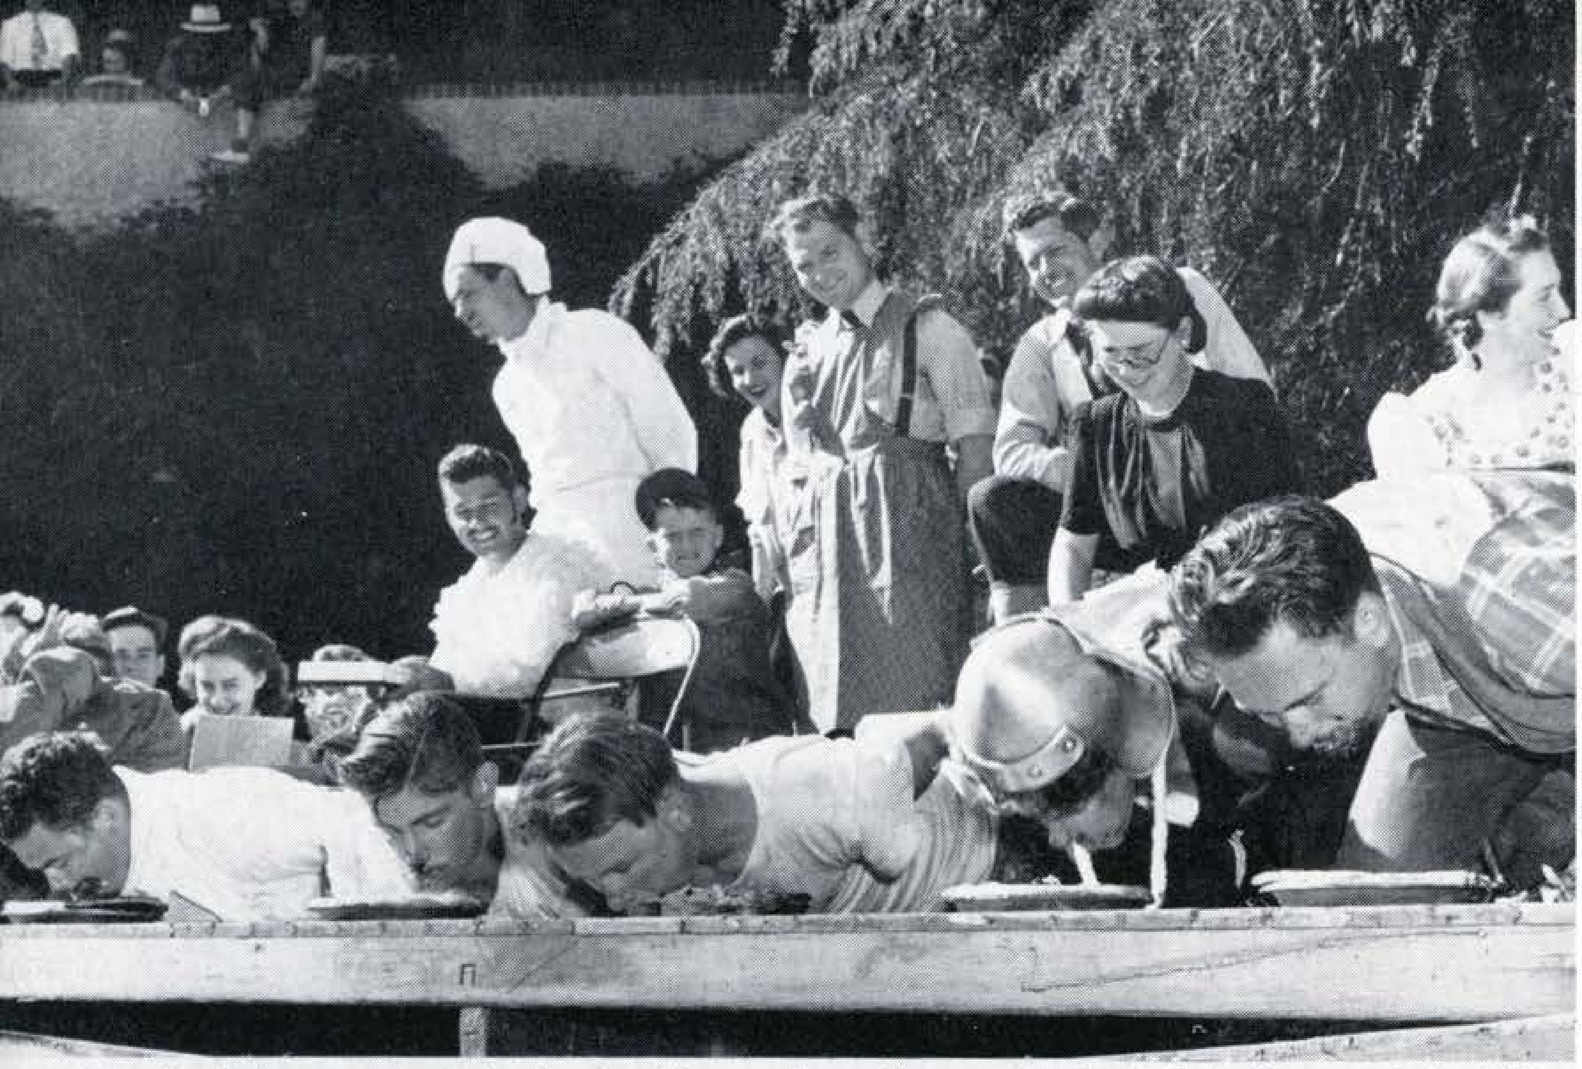


Emylou Aldrich, Bee Laurence, and Bonnie Staley relax on the lawn while other merry-makers go on their way.

"Scrappy" in traditional Easter bonnet and frilly night shirt strikes a pose with La Torre photographers Erle Madison and Al Lasser.

Spardi Gras committee. Standing—Douglas Morrison, Bob Jennings, Jane Reed, Tom Taylor, Al Guetling, Frank Valenti. Sitting—Orlyn Gire, Chr. Denny Morrissey, Lorraine Titcomb, Estelle Siglin, Chuck Brown.

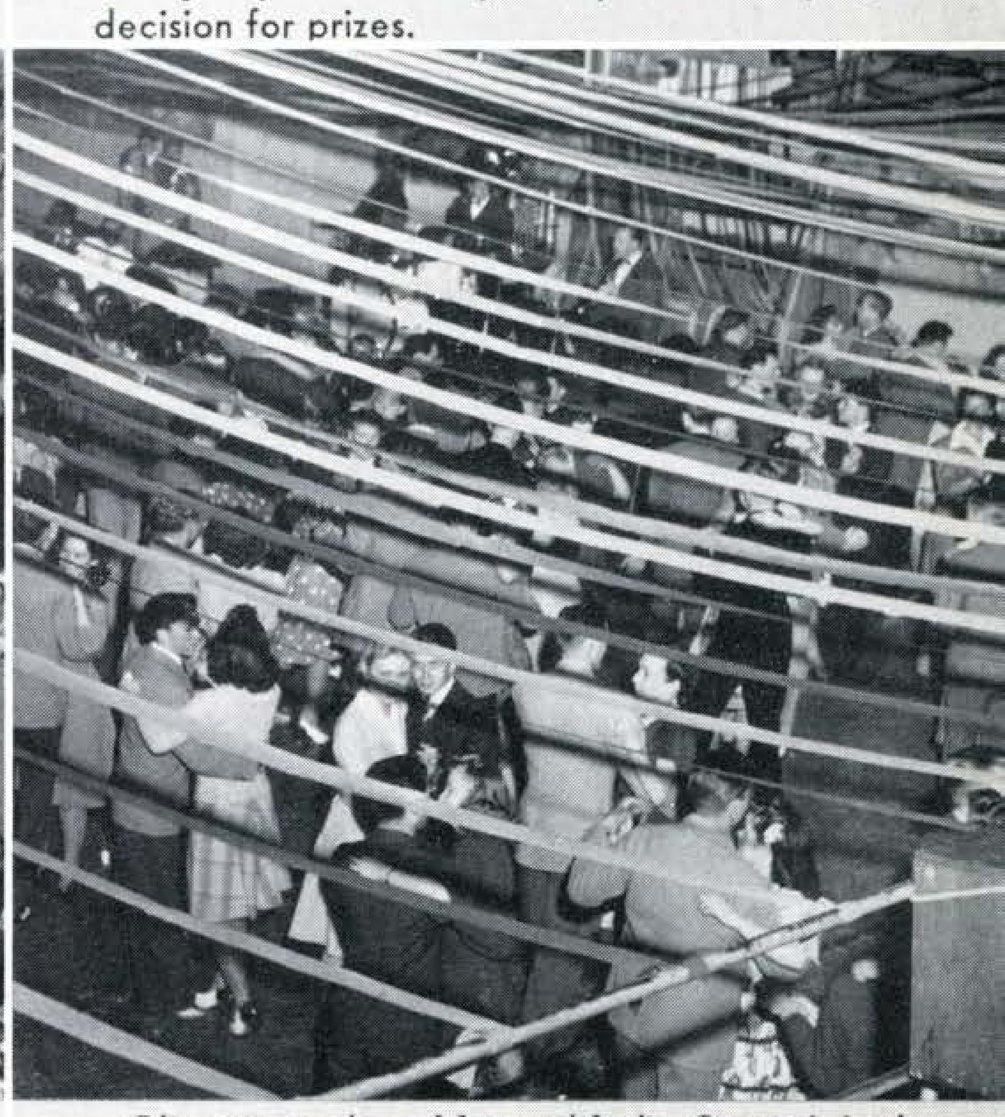
A capacity crowd gathers to watch "Wild Bill" Poytress crown the King and Queen as newspaper photographers vie for positions in "shooting" the royal party.



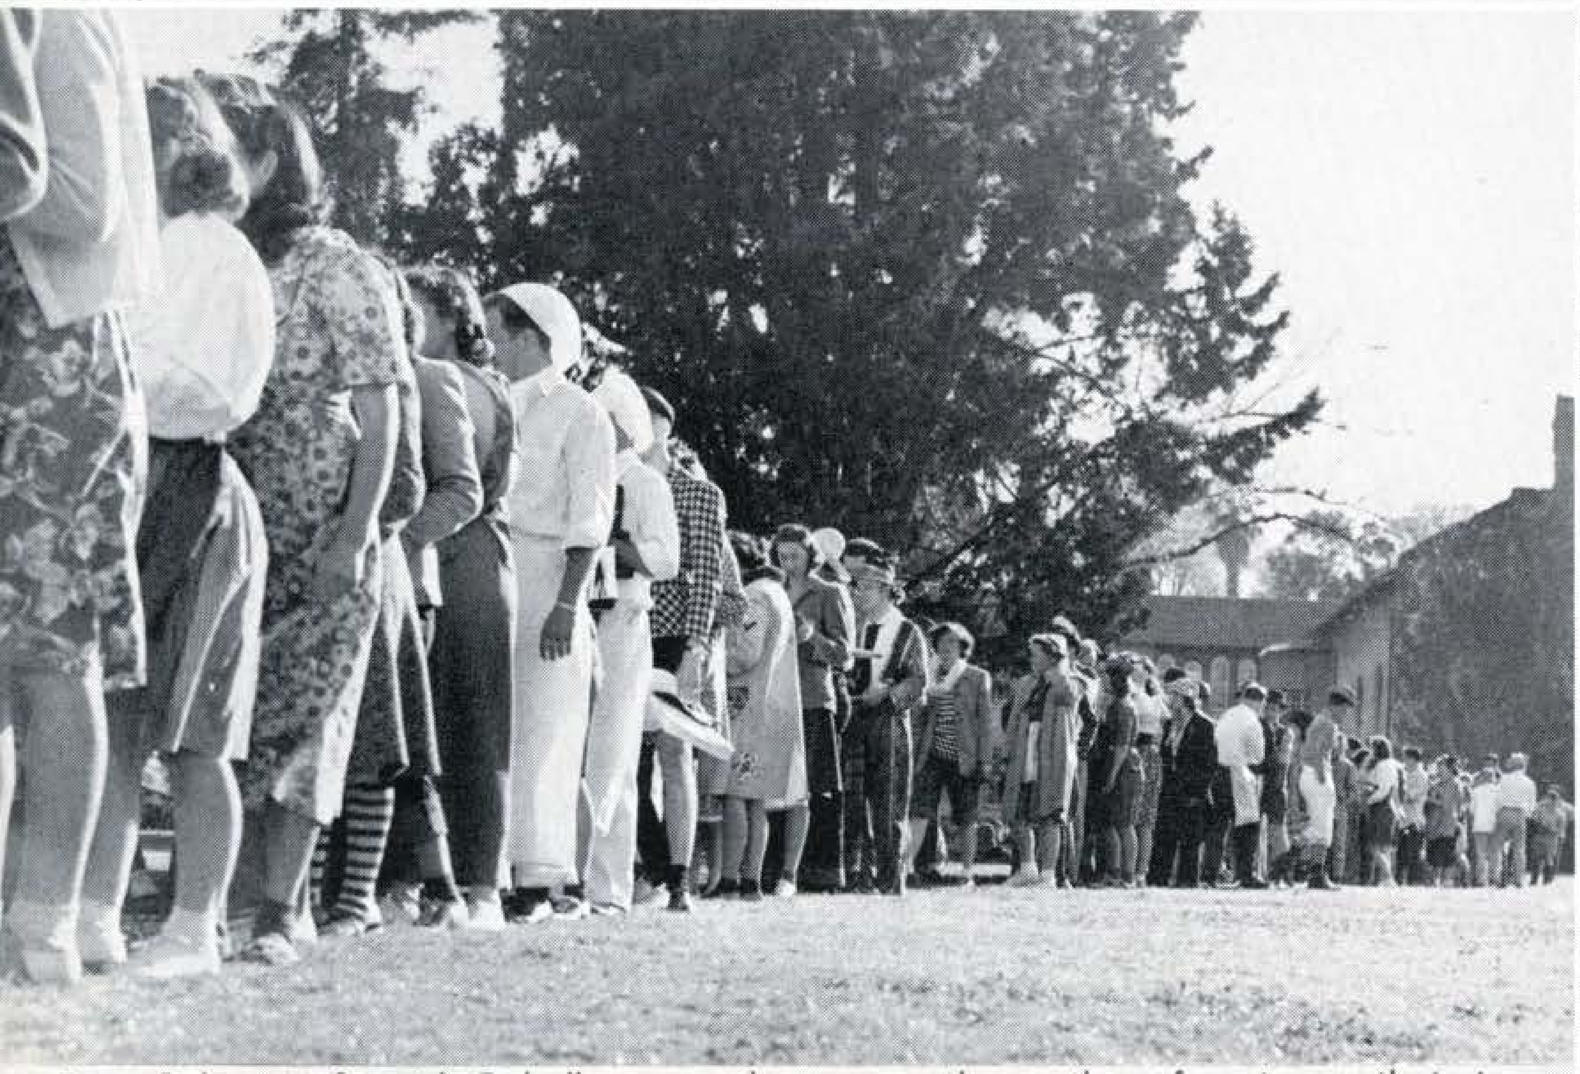
Faculty judges and students chuckle as pie-eating contestants Bob Gager, John Hill, Paul Wheat, Bob Hepler, and David Corrington struggle on.

Chinese (Ero), Raggedy Anns (Allenian), and Savages (Garden City Club) await the judges' decision for prizes.

The Quad is crowded as gaily costumed students visited the concessions in true carnival spirit.



Climaxing a day of fun and frolic, Sparta's Lads and Lassies trek to Maurice Anger's music.



From Bakers to Spanish Caballeros . . . these were the motley of costumes that students of Sparta donned on Spardi Gras.

Shocking isn't it! Rina Biasetti gets the "hot seat" by the Police Students.

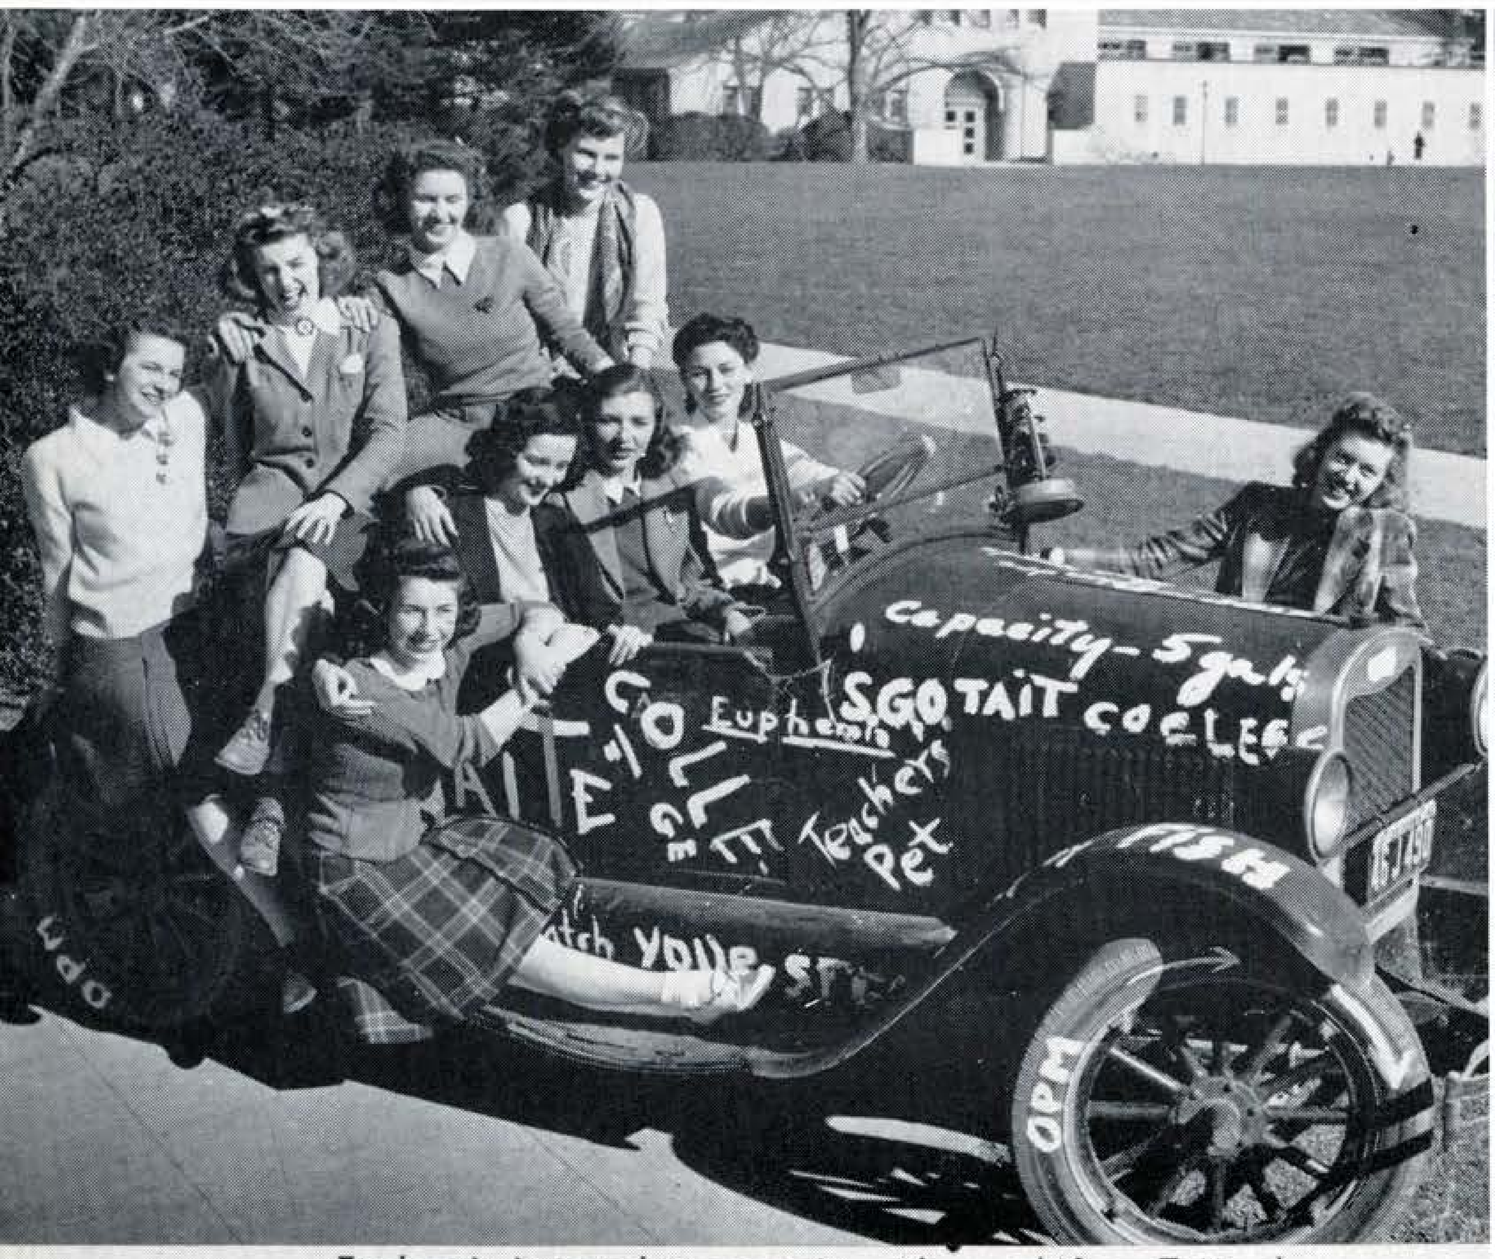
REVELRIES

The complete cast of "Good News of 1942" comes back on stage for a curtain call.

Sam Zones, the campus drunk, goes romantic and kisses the hand of "Oswald." The coonskin coat is Dee Portal's.

Several of the dancers smile prettily for the cameraman.

Clyde Appleby and his orchestra move on stage for a jive session after a late rehearsal of musical numbers for the show.



Euphemia is taxed to capacity with co-eds from Tait college out for a jaunt on the campus.

Jittering professor of Astronomy bobbles across stage. No one would ever guess that it is Tommy Taylor.

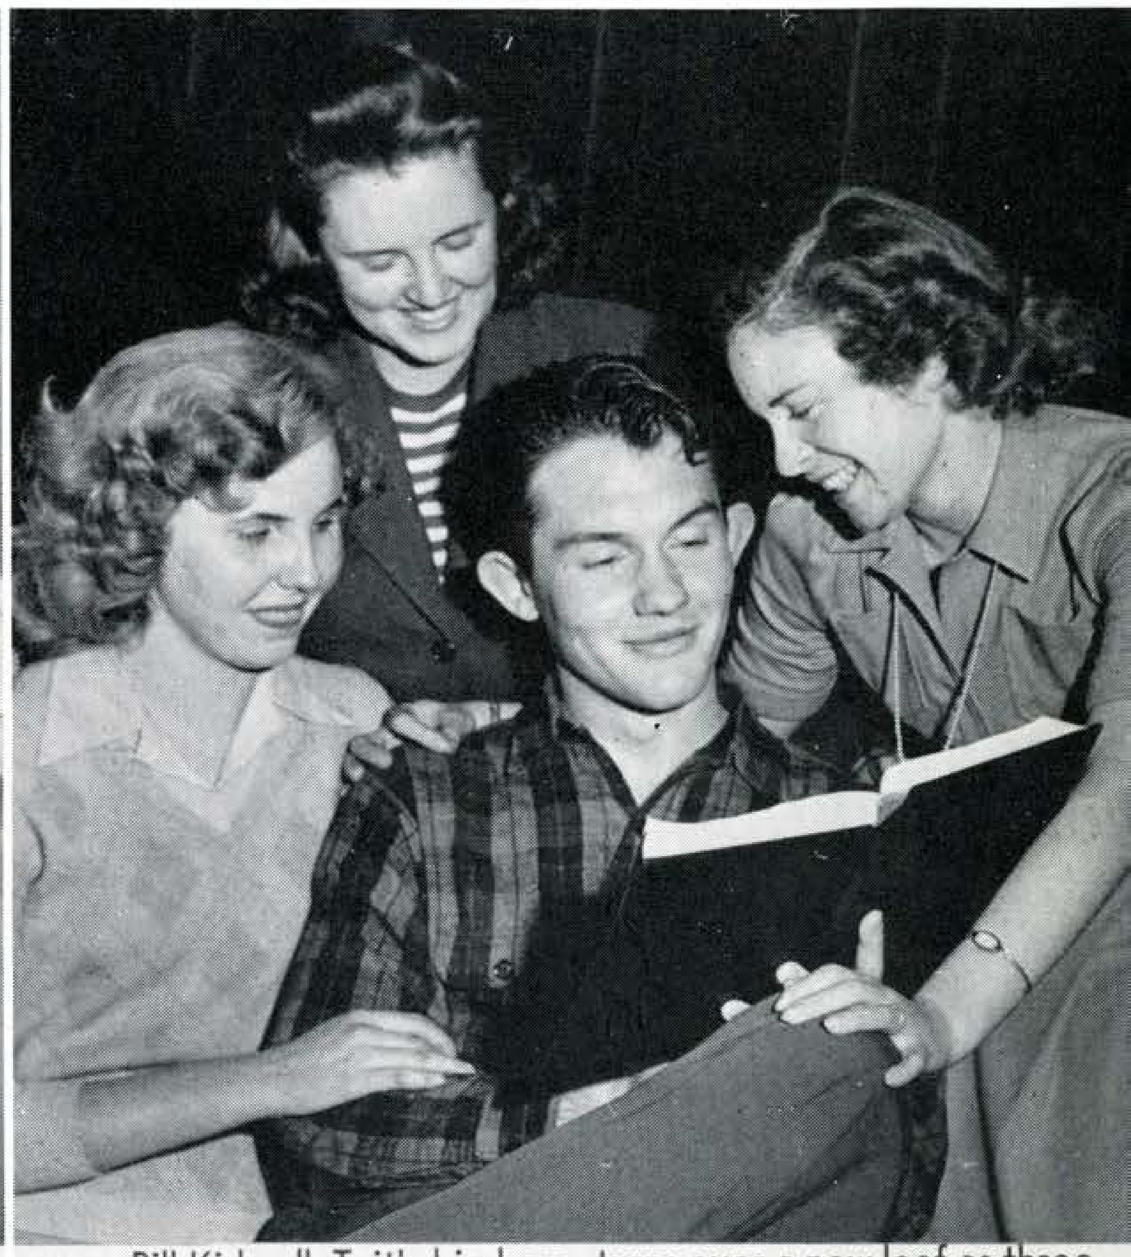
Cute Mary Virginia Bristow cranks up Euphemia in preparation for a tour of the campus. Her passengers are members of the Revelries dance line.

Donna DeMahy is a hula hit with her dance of the Islands. She did one of the specialty acts in Sparta's annual show.

Derril Bond sleeps soundly as Bill Kidwell awakes and surprisingly finds that it is 5:20 o'clock in the morning.

Kay Walton steps before the microphone to sing one of the hits of "Good News of 1942."

Wes Young, Clyde Appleby, Dave Atkinson, John Caro, Len Baskin, Jeanette Owen, and Izzy Gold check the programs.



Bill Kidwell, Tait's big hero, turns over a new leaf as three of his co-ed friends (Margaret Smitherum, Betty Stuhlman and Audrey Tracy) lend a helping hand.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

"Remember Pearl Harbor" will live long in the minds of the football team and Coach Ben Winkelman. They were eating breakfast in a Honolulu hotel on that fateful morning of December 7 when Japanese airmen dropped their first loads of bombs on the city and nearby Pearl Harbor. The team had just arrived in Honolulu and were practicing for games with University of Hawaii and Willamette university. These games were never played.

Coach Winkelman and the boys hustled down to the Honolulu police station to volunteer for police duty. They were sworn in immediately and worked until they boarded ship for the trip home.

Parents and friends were pleasantly surprised on Christmas afternoon when the Lurline, with the team on board, docked in San Francisco. Here again the team showed that they were real Spartans by taking care of the many wounded on board. For this service Colonel Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, wrote a personal letter of commendation to Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie praising the team.

This was not the only excitement offered by the gridders. On November 15 the Golden Raiders came out on a fog-soaked field to battle Fresno State for the C.C.A.A. championship. The game ended in a tie score and thus both schools share the championship. San Jose has never lost the conference title since its founding four years ago.

The curtain went up on the 1941 season September 20 against the barnstorming team from Texas A. & I. Two Spartan drives down the field proved the undoing for the Texans, however, and the game went to State. Final score was 14-0.

The Elks charity encounter with Utah State came next. The Utah team was no match for San Jose; final score 34-0.

With two wins to their credit, the Spartans entrained for Southern California to engage San Diego State in the first conference game of the year. Although the Aztecs had a rugged squad, the Spartans came back to Washington Square with a 20-0 win.

Texans have the reputation for being rangy and tough and that was just what the "Cowboys" from Hardin-Simmons University proved to be. Although San Jose had the edge in yardage gained, the score book read 6-6 at the end of the game.

Next came the game students and team had anticipated since the opening of the season. This was the skirmish with College of Pacific. By train, automobile, bus, airplane and thumb, fans descended on Stockton 1500 strong. For three quarters rooters and team saw a bunch of plucky Tigers fight back desperately. Early in the last quarter San Jose pushed the ball into pay dirt and the lone score of the game was made. It has been twelve years since C.O.P. has been able to win a game from our Spartans.

To Reno went the team on November 8 to meet the University of Nevada. Still unbeaten, the Spartans lined up for the opening kickoff with the great Negro back, Marion Motley, the only thorn in their side. Motley ran wild and put the Wolfpack ahead 20-6. San Jose mustered a passing attack as the only means of winning. This attack fell short by one point and the Wolves won 20-19 in the most exciting game of the year. The Spartan football team had not tasted the pangs of defeat since the opening game of the 1940 season.

Hallowe'en was celebrated as the Spartans played host to Santa Barbara State, the other member of the C.C.A.A. The Gauchos were completely mystified by State's passing and running attack; San Jose 33, Santa Barbara 13.

Sparta was really blitzed by University of San Francisco in the last mainland game of the year. State was bombed from all sides with long passes. Before the Golden Raiders could get started Senor Don has scored two touchdowns; they were able to stop the Spartan offensive. The Kezar scoreboard read U.S.F. 20, S.J.S. 0.

San Jose's phenomenal record for the last five years should not be overlooked. State has won 55, lost 7 and tied 4 games. This is a record that few college teams in the nation can equal.

FROSH FOOTBALL

Followers of Freshman football at State unanimously agreed that the 1941 season was the most successful ever staged by the Spartlets. Many of the top-ranking junior college teams in California were scheduled.

However, this did not discourage the new coach, Lloyd "Bud" Winter, as he issued the first call for Frosh gridders. Over half a hundred former high school stars reported on the opening day of school for practice.

With only four days of practice behind them, the squad went down to Salinas to battle the J. C. there. It was the Freshmen all the way and the final score was 26-6.

Other teams were as easily vanquished. They included the Moffett "B" team (20-0), Marin Junior College (26-6), and Hollister Junior College (20-0).

The Freshmen met defeat at the hands of Modesto J. C. in one of the most thrilling games of the year. Modesto went home the winner, 14-13. Sagging spirit at the end of the season was as responsible as any other factor for the defeat handed the team by the Saint Mary's Frosh in the season's closing game.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

San Jose's 1942 basketball record was not the best ever made by the Spartans, and it was not the worst either. In the 20 game season 12 games were won and 8 lost. In the California Collegiate Athletic Association conference the State five wound up in third place just behind Santa Barbara State. San Jose won six and lost six conference games. However, it was not until the third of a four game series with San Diego State that the Spartans were definitely put out of the running.

Coach McPherson's team played non-conference foes including the Universities of San Francisco, Nevada, and Stanford.

For the first half of the Stanford game the Spartans were able to play on even terms and at half time San Jose led the Indians. As the game progressed into the third quarter State weakened and the Indians went on to win by a small margin.

Stu Carter, a senior and first string forward, was elected captain.

Don (Dutch) Boysen led the team scoring with 234 points. He was followed by Bill Helbush and Bert Robinson, guards, who scored 195 and 143 points respectively.

FROSH BASKETBALL

The last freshman basketball team to perform during the emergency proved to be one of the best aggregations put out by Coach Frank Carroll during his mentorship on Washington Square.

Teams beaten by the San Jose State college freshmen were Menlo, Placer, Salinas and Hollister junior colleges and Washington, Hollister, and San Jose high schools. Frank Carroll, a San Jose State college graduate with the class of 1939 and freshman basketball mentor for two years, followed several other faculty members into the armed forces. He was inducted April 1.

According to a ruling made early in 1942 by officials of the California Collegiate Athletic Association, freshmen and varsity teams will be combined during the emergency. Thus with the 1942 team, freshmen athletics bowed out until the Axis is beaten.

TRACK

The 1942 edition of the San Jose State College track team under the guidance of Lloyd C. "Bud" Winter, in his first year of coaching at San Jose, gained the reputation of being the greatest track and field squad ever assembled at Sparta.

Undefeated in a full season of dual meets, San Jose went on to win the C. C. A. A. title in San Diego and in doing so scored more points than the rest of the conference teams combined.

The Spartans gained recognition as one of the most powerful track teams on the coast by never finishing worse than third in such large meets as the San Francisco Olympic Club Indoor Championships, The Pacific Athletic Association senior championships, the West Coast Relays, the Southern Pacific A. A. U. meet and the Northern California Relays.

The greatest exhibition of San Jose's strength was in placing second in three meets, the Southern Pacific A. A. U. and both the open and freshmen divisions of the Northern California Relays.

Five school records were shattered, three of them by Bill Smith who was the largest point gainer on the squad. Smith lifted the broadjump mark to 25 feet and soared to 6 feet 5 inches in the high jump. He lowered the 100-yard dash mark to 9.5 seconds and finished less than a foot behind Hal Davis in a 9.4 century.

The other marks were broken by Frank Minini who tossed the 16 pound shot 50 feet 8⅜ inches and Thelno Knowles who ran the half mile in 1:53.9.

BASEBALL

Varsity baseballers really didn't have a chance this year as Jupiter Pluvius batted 1000 on game days. Of 20 games scheduled, San Jose State's horsehiders were able to complete only 10. Of this number the diamondmen won 3 and lost 7, winding up third in conference standing.

Catcher Lew Boitano receives the ball an instant to late to keep a San Francisco State man from scoring.

San Jose's three wins included a doubleheader from Fresno State's Bulldogs, 10 to 6 and 5 to 1. Sparta's only other win was at the expense of San Francisco State college.

Losses by one run included games with Fresno, 8 to 7 and 6 to 5, and San Francisco State, 8 to 7.

Loss of Cyril Taylor, the only veteran to return to the 1941 squad, early in the season surely didn't boost State's baseball stock to any degree. Most of the pitching assignments were carried by Jack Gottschang and Bill Payne. Lew Boitano and Bob Justus handled the other end of the battery.

It was also Lew Boitano who led the batting averages, knocking the apple to the tune of .487. He was followed closely by Hank Ruiz with a .476 average. Ruiz also had a perfect fielding average in the outfield. Third-sacker Angelo Columbo was the only other Spartan to bat over .300. His average was .361.

WRESTLING

San Jose State's wrestling team met only one superior foe this season. This was the University of California team which beat the Spartans in a dual meet and the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tournament. Each time both teams won an equal number of matches but the Bears had enough power to win on points.

Two men, Captain Dave Hines and Ivan Olsen, were entered in the National Tournament in Lansing, Michigan. Hines was unable to participate as he was interned with a case of measles during the meet. Olsen was eliminated in the semi-finals.

Beaten by the Spartans in dual competition during the year were San Francisco State, U. C. L. A., Sherman Institute, Alhambra A. C., and Cal Aggies.

P. C. I. champions for 1942 are Dave Hines, Fred Albright, Hans Wiedenhofer, and Ivan Olson. Other team members are Bill Fawcett, Lew Raiche, John Dahl, and Ken Bailey.

Both Miyagawa and Charlie Townsend, colored sophomore lightweight, won coast titles in the divisions, and the former went on to take his N. C. A. A. crown at the nationals in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Another standout for the Spartans was Frank Minini, heavyweight, whose first year of boxing under Portal brought him to the finals at Sacramento, where he lost a very close match to Idaho's Vito Berllus.

Gordon Maybury, ex-Spartan soccer player, was placed at the head of the team and despite the fact he had few veterans they went on to win the title, being undefeated for the second straight year. However, the Spartans were victims of three ties this year with Stanford university, University of California and San Francisco State.

Captain Art Tindall was again the league leading scorer and was selected on the all-conference team for the second straight year. Others to make the conference team were Ted Andrews, Roy Diedrichsen, Ernest Figone, and John Peebles. Diedrichsen also made the team last year.

GOLF

Led by sophomore star Jack Bariteau Sparta's golf team won all five matches during the past season. The short schedule was due to lack of teams around the Bay Area. The Spartans defeated Menlo Junior college twice, the University of San Francisco twice and the Spartan Faculty team. The latter squad was properly handicapped. But it proved to be just another case of youth versus age. The Menlo scores were 5 to 4 and 8 to 4, while the Dons of U. S. F. were buried under by scores of 17½ to ½ and 18 to 0. The faculty were downed by 19 to 17 count.

Highlight of the dual season was the annual meet with California university in which the Bears came out on top with the final relay by a 40-35 score.

Not content with winning the California Collegiate Athletic association championship the Spartan tennis team came back and immediately defeated the University of San Francisco to take the Northern California Intercollegiate also. Women's Sports

Sparta's sportswomen enjoy a physical education program that competes in variety with the foremost colleges and universities of the nation.

Trophies and awards are not carried from the field, and hero worship is a thing saved for masculine objectives. The basis of the San Jose State college woman's sports code lies in equality of opportunity and participation.

Orchesis, women's honorary dance society, opened its entertainment program on campus this year by being host to seven colleges at the Northern California Dance Symposium. In the Spring, Orchesis presented its annual program in the Little Theater, and two off-campus programs at the San Jose Women's Club and Stockton High School respectively.

Junior Orchesis is the apprentice shop for Senior Orchesis, and is open to all campus women.

The Women's Swimming club cast fifty talented members in the annual swim extravaganza, "Americana." The production ran for two nights in the college pool, and was re-enacted as a benefit for the San Jose Day Nursery at the John D. Crummey Estate in San Jose.

Badminton scores highest in popularity on the women's sports program.

Beginning golfers swing college-loaned clubs at cotton balls on the San Carlos turf, and the more experienced intermediates trek to the Hillview Golf Course for longer range.

More than 300 women have entered the Robin Hood sport this year, and let fly their arrows at the campus targets. A Columbia Round archery tournament concludes each quarter's practice.

Tennis remains an old standby, and is played off campus at the San Jose Tennis club.

The only personal combat activity in women's sports is practiced on Washington Square in the fencing classes. Those masked beings of the quick and pointed touch are not warriors from Mars, but co-eds dueling Italian style with French foils.

Throwing down the gauntlet to non-co-educational practice in sports two co-recreational night classes enroll both men and women for social and country dancing.

Women swimmers step to the platform in the Pool to begin one of the acts in "Americana," the annual swimming extravaganza.
