These thirty-four photos were snapped sporadically between June of 2002 and January of 2004. They trace my summer adventures starting in Jersey City with the final drunken Souse House basement show/BBQ and ending with my first travels across America as Dirt Bike Annie's roadie/photographer. I've jabbed thousands of words about that tour. Twenty-three of these pages belong to the visual document.

After tour I schooled and snapped when bodies were in town. Then shot off on a short fall tour with DBA and, for the final four pages, a winter tour with The Ergs!.

Looking back it would be nice to have more photos of the deserts of Arizona and mountains of Oregon instead of DBA jumping in fourteen different cities. But those wild, soul-shifting, feet-floating moments were short. The mountains will be there forever.

Huge, huge thanks to Dirt Bike Annie for twelve thousand miles, thirty rolls of film and copious smiles; The Ergs! for stuffing me in the mini-van; and the rest for giving me something to snap at.
