GEORGE DEUKMEJIAN
GOVERNOR

State of California

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, CA 95814

TELEPHONE
(916) 445-2841

July 24, 1985

On behalf of the State of California, I am pleased to congratulate you upon your successful completion of the California Maritime Academy curriculum. Your scholastic achievements and practical experience will greatly contribute to California's prospering maritime industry. May your personal dedication and genuine commitment serve to bring further goals within reach.

Please accept my best wishes:

Most cordially,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "George Deukmejian".

George Deukmejian

To The Graduating Class of 1985:

As you leave CMA, I know you do so with great joy at having completed a demanding program and put that behind you. I also know that some of you look to the future with eagerness and confidence and others with anxiety. For the eager, enthusiastic and confident, the world is your oyster!

Though you graduate at a time when the jobs where you want them - at sea - are at an all time low, and with no near term improvement in sight, I'm convinced that each of you will find your earned and rightful place in due course. I urge you to appreciate that not only has your education at CMA specifically prepared you for work in the Maritime Industry, it has also prepared you to compete favorably for any job open to new college graduates.

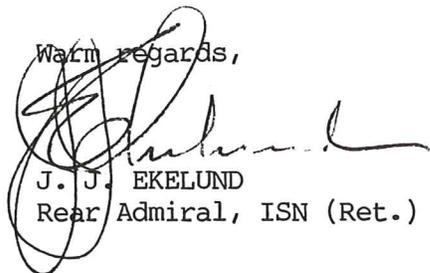

It is my view and certainly my hope, that you will see a rejuvenation of U.S. flag lines, as well as the expansion of U.S. trade and a growth in the Maritime Industry in California taking place in the next several years. These changes, along with the inevitable continuing march of technology into industry, and the broadening of responsibilities as ship crews continue to grow smaller and ships and systems become more automated, will cause an increasing demand for educated people who are able to master technological innovations, who are good managers, and who are skilled seafarers. I am confident that you have those qualities and that they will be sought; not only at sea, but in the full array of jobs that are occurring in this technological revolution that is happening around us.

I believe that for those with imagination and the ability to recognize opportunities, and who are responsible, self-disciplined team players, with the special qualifications CMA has provided, the future is bright. You have a tremendous lot going for you and have a right to be proud of your accomplishments.

We who remain at CMA are charged with serving the citizens of California and the Maritime Industry during these changing times, we are eager to hear from our alumni about ways we can better meet the needs of our graduates. Please stay in touch and give us your advise as you gain experience and new perspectives.

Best wishes for your every success. May you experience fair winds and following seas!

Warm regards,

An extra thanks to the athletics dept, Joyce Daley, and to every one who didn't throw me on for parking in the admin lot. I hope for the present & future students that the maritime industry will improve (it can't get much worse) for the preservation of the school.

Only another breath will I breath in this still air, only another look cast backward,

And then I shall stand among you,

A seafarer among seafarers.

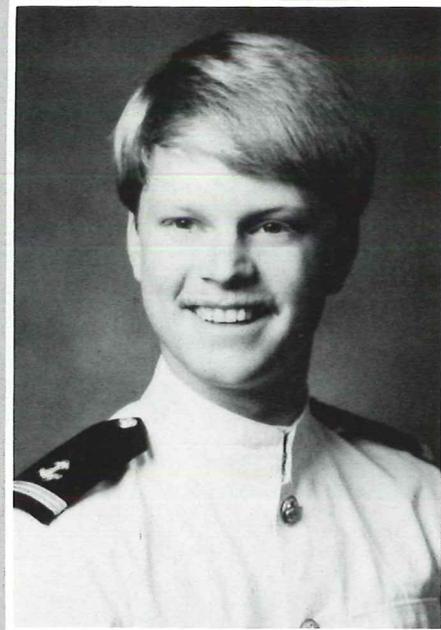

And you, vast sea, sleepless mother,

Who alone are peace and freedom to the river and stream,

Only another winding will this stream make, only another murmur in this glade,

And then shall I come to you, a boundless drop to a boundless ocean.
