Cal State Fullerton Campus

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing.

Classes were offered for the first time in 1959 and the first commencement—for five students—took place in 1960.

The university's 23,500 students come primarily from Southern California with many from other states and other nations. Most students commute each day to and from classes: many come to classes only in the evening.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 750-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The university enjoys full accreditation for its overall program. In addition, national recognition has been accorded to programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, education, engineering, communications, music, nursing, speech and hearing, and theater. All told there are 85 degree programs—41 of them at the graduate level.

Reinforcing classroom instruction is an internship and cooperative education program that allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies.

Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours without the formalities of regular admission to the university.

Still another strong point is the university's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally-known professional artists to the campus for residencies as well as public performances and the Cabaret Repertory Theater Company, which performs regularly in Brea.

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students but also open to community members is another highlight, as is the network of community support groups. Another is Continuing Learning Experience, which has spearheaded the fund-raising campaign to build a gerontology center on campus.

Further examples of community outreach are joint ventures with the City of Fullerton. One resulted in the Fullerton Arboretum, which opened on campus in 1979. Another produced lighting for the baseball field and adjoining soccer fields, while a third yielded two lighted softball fields.

To reinforce the university's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State has embarked on a comprehensive fund-raising campaign. Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great university.

History of Titan Athletics

Obstacles and adversity. Grass-roots support and coaches with "sandwich-board" signs. Stunning upsets and courageous performances. All have been a part of Cal State Fullerton athletics as "Titan Pride" has taken limited resources to athletic successes disproportionate to such a young institution.

How many universities can claim national championships in six different sports, a star major league third baseman, men and women basketball players in the Olympics, a rookie in the Super Bowl and the subject matter of a Walt Disney feature film?

The tenor was set by the first Titan intercollegiate team—men's basketball. In only their second season, the Titans of coach Alex Omalev advanced five rounds into the NIAA national playoffs in 1961-62.

Sixteen seasons later, the entire nation watched another "cinderella" Titan five advance to within one victory of the final four as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association post-season tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the Western Regional.

The basketball tradition, which included coach Billie Moore and star Nancy Dunkle on the women's 1976 Olympic team, continued into the George McQuarn era. The Titans were the nation's most improved team in 1981-82 and the following season received their first NIT bid. Guard Leon Wood helped the U.S. men to a gold medal in the 1984 Olympics before he and center Ozell Jones made the successful jump into the National Basketball Association.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton more fame. Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division national titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and has had recent Titan teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished fifth or better in the nation every year including the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and the star of the Disney film "Lefty."

Baseball exploded on the national scene with the arrival of coach Augie Garrido. He broke the USC monopoly in the western regionals in 1975 and won the national title in 1979 behind the play of Tim Wallach, now of the Montreal Expos. And he won the College World Series again in 1984 with players soon to be seen in the majors.

Women have sparkled on Fullerton diamonds, too. Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and the Titans have been a powerhouse, making five trips to the College World Series in six tries with a pair of second-place finishes to their credit.

There have been national titles in men's cross country and women's fencing and individual standouts like golfer Martha Wilkerson and runner Mark Covert.

Football was the last major sport to arrive on the Fullerton campus. Dick Coury was the inaugural coach and he built an instant winner at the Division II level. The Titans were 27-16-1 over the first four years under Coury and successor Pete Yoder before the growing pains of moving up to Division I were endured.

But the program came of age under the guidance of coach Gene Murphy as the Titans won back-to-back PCAA championships in 1983 and 1984 and appeared in the California Bowl behind record-shattering quarterback Damon Allen, now of the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League.

Administration

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, President

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb was appointed the third president of Cal State Fullerton on July 8, 1981. Her selection was the culmination of a nationwide search begun in November, 1980.

Dr. Cobb had served as dean of Douglass College at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, since 1976. There she also held the rank of professor of biological sciences. Prior to her Douglass appointment she was dean of Connecticut College and professor of zoology for seven years. Previously, she was professor of biology at Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

Born in January, 1924, Dr. Cobb is known for her work in cell physiology, her promotion of the advancement of women in scientific fields and her activities on behalf of minorities. She is the first black woman to head a major public university on the West Coast.

Cobb earned her bachelor's degree from Talladega College in Alabama and her M.S. and Ph.D. in cell physiology from New York University. She also holds 14 honorary doctorates. She is the mother of a son, Jonathan, who is a graduate of the Cornell University Medical School.

Titan Athletic Foundation

The Titan Athletic Foundation is a non-profit organization that exists solely to aid the athletic program at Cal State Fullerton. It is a group of individuals with a genuine interest in athletics, the University and the community and it responds by providing funds for scholarships to attract the best student-athletes available.

The 1985 fund drive was the most productive ever with more than $228,000 in cash raised for 1985-86 scholarship aid. The telephone number is (714) 773-3480.

Athletic Department

Ed Carroll, Athletic Director

Ed Carroll completed a rapid climb through the ranks of the Cal State Fullerton athletic department when he became director of athletics on July 1.

University President Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb made the appointment on May 28 after a nationwide search and Carroll, 34, immediately ushered in an era of "positive thinking" for Titan athletics.

"One of my top priorities will be to enhance the image of our athletic program by stressing positives," says Carroll. "We must use the power of positive thinking to overcome our limitations and build our program to greater heights."

Carroll began his Fullerton athletic career as a wrestler. In 1972 he served as team captain and was selected the "Most Outstanding Wrestler" in the California Collegiate Athletic Association championship meet. He later served as an assistant to former head coach Don Matson.

Carroll earned bachelor's degrees in history and physical education from Fullerton as well as a secondary teaching credential. He taught physical education classes at Fullerton and earned a master's degree in recreation administration from Long Beach State.

After serving in various capacities for the Fullerton recreation program, Carroll left briefly in mid-1980 to serve as a recreational sports programmer and doctoral intern at Indiana University. He returned to Fullerton in November, 1980 as an assistant athletic director. From October, 1981 to April, 1982 he was acting athletic director and also acting director of the Titan Athletic Foundation. He then served as an associate athletic director for business affairs under athletic director Lynn Eilefson, who left in January, 1985 for a similar post at San Jose State.

Ed and his wife Connie live in Fullerton with their infant son Brandon.

Coach George McQuarn

George McQuarn made his mark on Cal State Fullerton basketball by returning the Titans to a competitive posture in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in the 1981-1982 season and he has embellished that accomplishment by maintaining the winning tradition. The Titans have strung four consecutive winning seasons, averaging better than 18 victories.

During his five-year tenure, McQuarn twice has taken Fullerton into the PCAA Championship Game; earned the Titans their first-ever National Invitation Tournament bid and has gained national Top 20 rankings while more than doubling attendance in the Titan Gym.

"Each year brings new challenges and it doesn't get any easier, but I think we have sustained the program at a high level," said McQuarn, 44. "If you look at the PCAA standings over the past four years, I think you will see that we have been one of the top three programs in the conference.

"We have built a solid base and have the potential to continue at the same level. We have had four players drafted by the National Basketball Association and have brought in more players with that potential.

"We had to play as close to our potential last year as any team I have ever coached to remain competitive in the league. It will take that kind of effort again this season. We are very inexperienced with new starters and young players who have not been tested at the Division I college level."

Team and individual honors have been plentiful during the McQuarn era. The 1981-82 team was the nation's most improved squad and the 1982-83 team set a school record with 21 regular-season victories while gaining the school's initial NIT bid and also ruining the unbeaten season of the nation's number one-ranked team.

McQuarn was selected District 15 Coach of the Year in 1982-83 by the National Association of Basketball Coaches. In 1984, he coached the West squad to the championship of the annual Aloha Classic in Honolulu, Hawaii.

While coaching and recruiting abilities are the most visible of McQuarn's attributes, equally critical to his success at Fullerton have been his attention to discipline and academic progress.

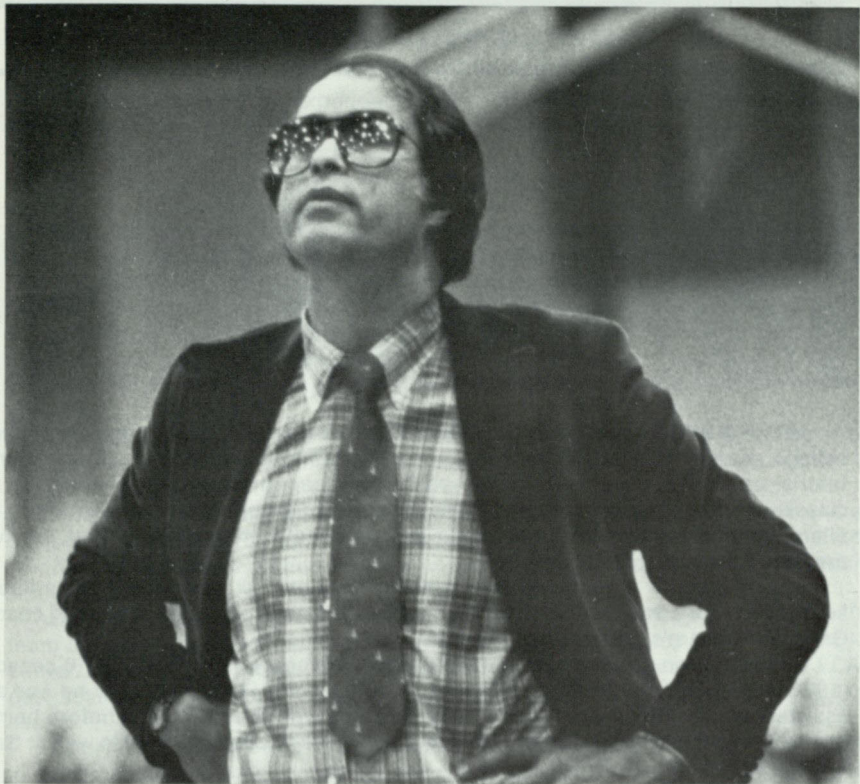

"We are a goal-oriented program and the graduation of our players is an important goal to me," said McQuarn. "While I believe an athlete is responsible for his academic progress, I also believe it is the responsibility of a coach to create an atmosphere and environment conducive to academic success."

The theme of Titan basketball under McQuarn has been "We Play Hard!" Mental toughness and total concentration are the cornerstones as he wants his players to play at the level of intensity that overcomes outside elements over which they have no control. He seeks players who are willing to accept that concept.

"Our offensive philosophy starts at the defensive end and each year we have become more and more aggressive on defense," McQuarn said. "To play an 'up-tempo' game you have to get the ball away from the opposition. If they score you can't run."

McQuarn graduated from Long Beach State in 1966 with a degree in physical education. An All-CIF performer in high school in basketball and baseball, he earlier attended UCLA on a baseball scholarship and earned All-West Coast honors as the Bruins' catcher.

McQuarn's coaching career began with a phenomenal tenure at Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles. Between 1969 and 1973 he guided the varsity to four consecutive CIF championships and had an overall record of 123-8 (.939).

His collegiate career began at Nevada-Las Vegas where he spent four years as an assistant to Jerry Tarkanian. The Rebels were 93-28 (.769) during his four-year tenure including trips to the NCAA "Final Four" and NIT semifinals.

At both Verbum Dei and UNLV, McQuarn coached numerous players who went on to play in the NBA. His Fullerton program has produced four NBA draft picks in Ricky Mixon (Los Angeles-1983), Ozell Jones (San Antonio-1984), Tony Neal (Los Angeles-1985) and Leon Wood (Philadelphia-1984). Wood also won gold medals with the United States' teams in the 1983 Pan-American Games and the 1984 Olympic Games.

Assistant Coaches

John Sneed

Ed Goorjian

JOHN SNEED—assumes the responsibility for recruiting high school and junior college prospects this season as well as coordinating the academics program and tutorial services for members of the basketball team including the monitoring of classes. He also has made a major contribution toward the promotion and marketing of Titan basketball, which has more than doubled home attendance during his five previous seasons at Fullerton.

Sneed brought experience with winning Division I programs and remarkably successful high school teams to Fullerton when he became a member of head coach George McQuarn's original staff in 1980.

Sneed was an assistant for one year at the University of Arizona, a 21-6 season (1976-77) which took the Wildcats to the NCAA playoffs. During 1977-78 he was an assistant at San Diego State and the 19-8 Aztecs won the PCAA title before being eliminated in the post-season tournament by Cal State Fullerton. He also was at San Diego in 1978-79.

Sneed succeeded McQuarn at Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles in 1974 and won the CIF 4A title and CIF Coach of the Year honors with a 30-2 record. His Eagles won two more Camino Real League titles with 28-1 and 23-5 seasons and three times he was league coach of the year. His career prep mark was 81-8 (.910) and the 1974 team was recognized as national champion by the National Sport News Service.

A Long Beach State graduate, Sneed served two years as an assistant to McQuarn at Verbum Dei. He is a native of Gastonia, North Carolina.

ED GOORJIAN—joins the staff this year and will be in charge of scouting the opposition and coordinating game scheduling for head coach George McQuarn. He will also coordinate promotions for the basketball program.

Goorjian brings a remarkably broad range of experience in Southern California basketball to the Fullerton program. He most recently served as head coach for five seasons at Loyola-Marymount University after a one-year term there as assistant. He also has been a head coach at the junior college level, winning 19 games in his only year at Glendale College, and prior to that had a tremendous 19-year career at Crescenta Valley High School.

Goorjian's overall record was 427-103 and included seven league championships and a 29-game winning streak in 1971. In 1977 he was selected California High School Coach of the Year. He coached five high school All-Americans included his youngest of three sons, Greg, who also played for him for one season at Loyola.

A 1951 graduate of Cal State Los Angeles, Goorjian and his wife, Joyce, reside in La Crescenta.

Season Preview

A young and relatively inexperienced squad will try to stretch Cal State Fullerton's current string of winning basketball seasons to five in 1985-86.

With only two returning starters, Coach George McQuarn will attempt to blend a potentially explosive perimeter attack with a thin but physically promising inside game.

Team leadership must come from the two seniors and returning starters—point guard Kevin Henderson and wing player Kerry Boagni. Henderson burst upon the Pacific Coast Athletic Association scene last January with a mid-season switch from a wing position to point. The 6-foot-4 southpaw developed into the team's leading scorer with a 17.3 average (fifth best in school history) and earned first-team All-PCAA honors. The 6-foot-8 Boagni joined the team in mid-December because of his transfer from the University of Kansas and he became the team's number three scorer with an 11.7 average.

Four sophomores who earned varsity letters as freshmen will be joined by three junior college transfers, two incoming freshmen and one four-year college transfer to comprise the balance of the Titans' 12-man roster.

Wing player Richard Morton and center Vincent Blow are the sophomores gaining the majority of the spotlight. The 6-foot-3 Morton developed into a dependable "sixth man" last season as he averaged 7.1 points in PCAA play and 5.7 on the entire season. He is a probable starter at a wing position.

Blow, a 6-foot-8, 215-pounder, blossomed late last season and could give the team a tremendous boost in 1985-86 if he continues to develop into a solid PCAA center. He started slowly last year but was at his best in the pressure-packed PCAA post-season tournament. He is the active, mobile interior defender McQuarn seeks.

Henry Turner and Eugene Jackson are the other young Titan veterans. Turner, like Blow, came on strong at season's end and he is expected to compete with Boagni for the other wing position where his 6-foot-7 frame and outstanding leaping ability could help the Titans' inside game. Jackson gained valuable experience as the starting point guard before McQuarn moved Henderson to the position because of his superior acceleration in advancing the ball up the floor. With added maturity and experience, Jackson should be ready to handle a most demanding position and make a major contribution all season.

The most prominent newcomers are interior player Carl Pitts and swingman Alexander Hamilton. Pitts, a 6-foot-7, 225-pounder, is a transfer from Los Angeles Trade Tech where he averaged 24 points and 15 rebounds. Hamilton will be a swing player, challenging Morton and Boagni and giving the Titans an excellent rebounder from the perimeter. The 6-foot-3½ southpaw led his Saddleback College team in rebounding at 6.9 per game last year while averaging 14 points.

Redshirt Tee Williamson is eligible this season after sitting out a year after his transfer from Arizona State. The 6-foot-7, 190-pounder product of Palm Springs High School figures to become a regular part of the interior rotation but his progress has been slowed by an off-court foot injury.

The other candidates for duty inside are San Diego Mesa College transfer Herman Webster and incoming freshman David Moody from Central High in Omaha, Nebraska. Webster is a 6-foot-6, 220-pounder who sat out last season to concentrate on attaining his associate arts degree. Moody is a 6-foot-8, 215-pounder who averaged 12.5 points and six rebounds for one of the Top Ten teams in Nebraska. Also challenging for playing time on the wing is incoming freshman Chris Ceballos, a 6-foot-5, 190-pounder who averaged 13 points and six rebounds for Dominguez High School in Compton.

"Our goal is to reach the NCAA Tournament," McQuarn said. "We've been one win away on a couple of occasions and will continue to strive for that opportunity.

"We've been very competitive the past few seasons and should be so again this year. It's hard to get to that level and even harder to sustain it. But we want to shoot even higher with our goals."

Key losses from last year's squad are All-PCAA forward Tony Neal and four-year letterman Gary Davis. Neal was the nation's number nine rebounder last year and he completed his Titan career as the PCAA's all-time leading rebounder and the school's number three all-time scorer. Davis finished up as the number five scorer and the number four assist man. Also lost was the center tandem of DeWayne Shepard and Gary Moeller and back-up point guard George Yezbak.

"You don't replace a Tony Neal," McQuarn said. "However, we feel we have the potential to receive comparable play inside if you combine Neal's spot with the other inside players we had last year.

"Depth could be a problem inside. I'm happy with the quantity of players if we can avoid major injuries but the quality is untested—there are no proven Division I players. You never know how players will react to the switch from high school or junior college to major college basketball.

"Traditionally, we have been a strong perimeter team and that should continue this season. We have good competition for the spots and should get good point production and defense."

Kerry Boagni is being counted upon to blossom into a team leader for his senior year at Cal State Fullerton in 1985-86 ... has the physical tools to be a tremendous scorer but must play other roles as well to help Titan cause ... prolific outside shooter despite his 6-foot-8 height ... shoots well off the break and can handle the ball in traffic ... a year's experience in the Fullerton system and the opportunity to practice with the first unit from day one of fall practice should prove extremely beneficial this season.

LAST YEAR: Had to sit out team's first six games after mid-year transfer from the University of Kansas ... broke in with a bang, scoring 18 points in relief role as Titans defeated eventual WCAC champion Pepperdine on Dec. 22 ... hit 8 of 15 field goals ... started remainder of the season ... had two other better games ... scored 22 points on 11 of 22 shooting in win at UC Irvine on Jan. 17 ... two games later scored 20 on 9 of 17 shooting (2 of 4 at line) in home win over UC Santa Barbara on Jan. 24 ... had two strong games in the PCAA tournament ... scored 16 against UCI on 8 of 15 shooting and came back with 19 in semi-final win over Fresno State when he was 8 of 15 overall, 3 of 6 from 3-point range ... had game-winning bucket on two occasions ... at Wolf Pack Classic in Reno on Dec. 28, hit both ends of a one-plus-one with five seconds remaining to give Fullerton a 66-64 overtime win over Colorado State ... made

"miracle" tip shot at the buzzer on Feb. 4 to beat Fresno State 52-51 ... had season-high 10 rebounds along with 18 points in Jan. 26 51-46 victory at San Jose State, in which his field goal put Titans ahead to stay, 46-44.

SOPHOMORE YEAR: Started six of first 10 games and averaged 8.6 points and 4.0 rebounds before transferring from Kansas ... shot 56.1 percent from the floor (37 of 66) and 75 percent from the line (12 of 16) ... averaged 21 minutes per game.

FRESHMAN YEAR: Was named to the Big Eight's All-Freshman squad and was a third-team Basketball Weekly All-American freshman selection ... was second on team in scoring with 14.1 average ... averaged 4.7 rebounds ... one of only four players to play in all 29 games, starting 23 of them ... was team's leading scorer in nine games and was in double figures in 23 games ... selected to play on the United States' Junior National Team during the summer of 1983.

HIGH SCHOOL: Selected to The Sporting News' top-ten high school players' list ... made Parade Magazine's first-team All-America; McDonald's All-America; Basketball Court Times' first team; Louisville Courier-Journal's fifth team; Basketball Times' fifth team and Basketball Weekly's seventh team ... averaged 24 points per game as a senior ... averaged 17.0 rebounds per game and set school record by shooting 61 percent from the floor in each of his last two seasons at Serra High ... team was 25-5 his junior year but only 14-12 his senior season ... played on the West squad in the 1982 McDonald's Classic at the Rosemont Horizon in Chicago.

PERSONAL: Parents are Eddie and Jean Boagni.

Vincent Blow is a pivotal man in the Titans' 1985-86 basketball fortunes . . . was brought along very gradually last season as a freshman but seemed to thrive in the pressure of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association post-season tournament and could become a regular member of the rotation at the interior positions...big and mobile defender with a year's experience in coach McQuarn's system but has only limited game experience.

LAST YEAR: Played in 21 games, starting three of them . . . started season opener at St. Mary's, at New Mexico State on Jan. 3 and at Pacific on Feb. 25 . . . in the latter game played 24 minutes and grabbed a season-high nine rebounds while scoring four points . . . that also began fine play down the stretch, in which he averaged almost 20 minutes, 4.6 rebounds and 3.8

points over last five games ... in PCAA Tournament had four steals and two blocked shots ... hit 3 of 4 free throws in closing minutes of tense, last-second victory over Fresno State ... in the tournament was 4 of 6 from the floor and 5 of 8 from the line with 11 rebounds ... scored season-high seven points vs. UNLV in championship game ... also had seven points vs. UC Riverside on Dec. 12.

HIGH SCHOOL: Was the CIF AA Player of the Year after leading Workman High School of La Puente to the CIF AA championship ... averaged 23 points, 14 rebounds and 8 blocked shots ... All-CIF junior as well ... All-San Gabriel Valley and All-League for two years ... league's MVP two times ... All-State and San Gabriel Valley Tribune Player of the Year ... three-year letterman ... biggest sports thrill was winning the CIF southern section title and playing in the final four of the state tournament.

PERSONAL: Parents are Jean and Matthew Blow ... has one brother and one sister ... enjoys fishing, ping pong and playing pool ... favorite player is Julius Erving ... also considered Oregon, Brigham Young, San Jose State and Hawaii.

Eugene Jackson should again make a major contribution to the success of Titan basketball in 1985-86 ... added maturity and experience over freshman year should better prepare him for demanding role of point guard in the Titans' system ... was forced into starting role last year and did commendable job before being replaced by Kevin Henderson and his superior acceleration in advancing the ball up the floor.

LAST YEAR: Started the first 10 games of the season—nine non-conference games and the PCAA opener at New Mexico State—in the immediate shadow of graduated All-American point guard Leon Wood ... averaged 5.3 points and 4.4 assists in non-league play but team was struggling with its fast break and the change was made ... best all-around game came against eventual WCAC champion Pepperdine on Dec. 22 in Titan Gym ... hit 4 of 5 shots from the floor while scoring nine points and dishing out season high nine assists in 36 minutes of action ... also had four rebounds ... had season high of 11 points on Dec. 12 vs. UC Riverside, hitting 4 of 6 field goals ... proved his mettle in the clutch during the Wolf Pack Classic in Reno, Nevada ... three times in the final three minutes he went to the line with a bonus opportunity and the Titans clinging to a one-point lead ... three times he sank both free throws as Fullerton eventually won the game in overtime ... his best play in the PCAA came against Long Beach State as he hit all three field goal attempts and all four free throw attempts for 10 points in 19 minutes of action that included four assists.

HIGH SCHOOL: The Los Angeles City AAA Player of the Year at Reseda High School. ... led team into the City playoffs and an overall 25-2 record ... school and league's Most Valuable Player ... twice an All-San Fernando Valley selection ... third-team All-West Coast pick ... averaged 25.9 points and 8 assists as a senior ... three-year letterman ... shot 67 percent from the floor ... biggest thrill was dunking in the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

PERSONAL: Has two sisters ... enjoys bike riding and watching television ... also recruited by Pepperdine, Washington and Texas.

Richard Morton should break into the Titans' starting lineup this year after developing into a valuable "sixth man" last year as a freshman . . . displayed his multiple talents last year playing wing positions . . . has great court sense and poise for a youngster . . . selected the "outstanding player" in San Francisco summer league play in 1985 . . . has physical tools to play professional basketball . . . excellent free-throw shooter.

LAST YEAR: Started season slowly but came on during PCAA play to contribute significantly, primarily as a "sixth man" . . . averaged 5.7 points, 1.7 rebounds and 1.7 assists for the season but in PCAA play raised those statistics to 7.1 points, 2.1 rebounds and 1.8 assists . . . started two games: Jan. 5 at Long Beach and Feb. 25 at Pacific . . . best game came in Feb. 9 loss at UC Santa Barbara ... played season-high 32 minutes and scored 20 points on 8 of 13 from the floor (1 3-pointer) and 3 of 4 at the line ... also sparked in defeat at Utah State on Feb. 14 ... hit 9 of 11 field goal tries and only free throw attempt for 19-point effort in 30 minutes of play ... had high of seven rebounds on Feb. 11 vs. Pacific ... had best free-throw percentage on team at .813 (24 of 29) and was top 3-point field goal shooter at .750—hitting 6 of 8 overall, 4 of 5 in PCAA play.

HIGH SCHOOL: Player of the Year in the San Francisco Bay Area ... three-times All-Northern California and All-City ... twice honorable mention All-American ... twice league MVP ... MVP of the Bay Area High School Tournament ... averaged 29 points, 10 rebounds, 10 assists and 4 steals for his senior year ... four-year letterman ... biggest thrill was a 30-point effort that snapped a four-year unbeaten streak for Drake High School.

PERSONAL: Enjoys tennis, movies, parties and the beach ... has two brothers and one sister ... parents are Gloria Stamps and Richard Morton, Sr., ... also recruited by Oregon State, Arizona State, Texas and St. Mary's ... chose Fullerton because of its growing program and his desire to help continue it in that direction ... favorite players are Larry Bird and Bernard King.

Henry Turner provides great flexibility for coach George McQuarn heading into the 1985-86 Titan basketball season... the sophomore gained valuable experience last year in a reserve role at both the wing and power forward positions... when playing the wing, he gives the Titans a great leaper and more board strength... has grown more than an inch since last year... came on strong late in season and should make a major contribution from the beginning this year.

LAST YEAR: Averaged 2.5 points and 2.1 rebounds while playing in 25 of the team's 30 games... best game of the year was Feb. 11 in Titan Gym vs. Pacific when he scored season-high 12 points and grabbed season-high 11 rebounds in only 20 minutes of action... also at his best in the PCAA post-season tournament... scored 8 points in win over UC Irvine and had 7 points vs. UNLV in finals, hitting 2 of 3 from the floor and 3 of 3 at the line while grabbing a team-high five rebounds ... twice had four field goals in a game—4 of 5 vs. New Mexico State on Jan. 30 and a perfect 4 for 4 at Nevada-Las Vegas on Jan. 21 when he got the last three baskets of the game in the final 50 seconds.

HIGH SCHOOL: Street and Smith Magazine All-American ... All-Oakland and All-East Bay after averaging 24.9 points and 8.6 rebounds at Fremont High ... is school's all-time leading scorer with 955 points ... was first player at Fremont to average 20 points for his career ... averaged 17.2 with 7.9 rebounds as a junior ... scored 47 points with 15 rebounds and 8 assists in a victory over Bishop O'Dowd High for coach Leo Allamano.

PERSONAL: Hopes to become a business executive ... likes to build show cars and has installed auto stereos ... also recruited by UCLA, USC, California and Oregon ... parents are Henry and Ora Turner.

Plenty of Stars Back This Year

Following a "changeover" season in 1984-85, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association again boasts a bevy of proven, top-flight players who are primed to excite and entertain college basketball fans in the western United States.

After 15 players from the class of 1983-84 were selected in the National Basketball Association draft (only the Southeastern Conference had more), young and experienced newcomers were force-fed major college experience last year. Now they have matured and look for more success this season with most teams returning their leading scorers and/or rebounders. Top returning scorers include Fullerton's Kevin Henderson, New Mexico State's Gilbert Wilburn, UC Irvine's Johnny Rogers, UC Santa Barbara's Scott Fisher and Pacific's Domingo Rosario. Top rebounders back include San Jose State's Reggie Owens, Irvine's Tod Murphy, Fisher and Utah State's Greg Grant.

Post-Season Tournament No. 4 at The Forum

The PCAA post-season tournament will be held March 7-9 at The Forum in Inglewood for the fourth consecutive season. Earlier staged at various home sites and at the Anaheim Convention Center, the tournament has enjoyed great success at the home of the Los Angeles Lakers with total attendance of more than 30,000 per year.

Last year's tournament saw the first non-Fresno State-UNLV match-up at the Forum as the Titans upset the Bulldogs to earn a shot at UNLV and the league's automatic berth into the NCAA playoffs. The complete history of the PCAA post-season tournament follows on next page.

Titans In The N.B.A.

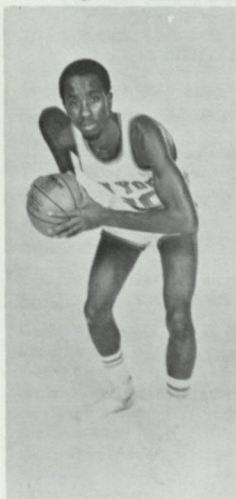

Cal State Fullerton has been well represented at the professional level despite the youth of the athletic program.

The Titans hit it big last year when two players made National Basketball Association rosters as rookies: guard Leon Wood with the Philadelphia 76ers and forward-center Ozell Jones with the San Antonio Spurs.

Earlier, two products of the 1970s struck "paydirt" as Greg Bunch played with the New York Knicks for parts of two seasons and Mike Niles did the same with the Phoenix Suns.

Recent graduates Ricky Mixon (1983) and Tony Neal (1985) were drafted by the Los Angeles Lakers but were unable to make the roster.

Television Package

The Pacific Coast Athletic Association begins an agreement with Raycom in 1986 for the television syndication rights of the conference's regular season basketball games and the championship game of the post-season tournament.

The "PCAA Game of the Week" will be seen throughout the western United States on a network of stations to be announced.

Of the nine regular season games, Fullerton is featured four times, more than any other conference member. Nevada-Las Vegas, Fresno State and San Jose State will each be seen three times with the remaining six schools sharing the other five possible exposures.

The Raycom broadcast schedule of PCAA contests:

Sat. Jan. 4 Long Beach at Fullerton, 1 p.m.
Sat. Jan. 11 Fullerton at San Jose St., 1 p.m.
Sat. Jan. 18 UNLV at Fullerton, 1 p.m.
Sat. Jan. 25 San Jose St. at Fresno St., 1 p.m.
Sat. Feb. 1 UNLV at Utah St., 1:00 p.m.
Sun. Feb. 2 UCI at San Jose St., 1:30 p.m.
Sat. Feb. 8 Fresno St. at Fullerton, 1 p.m.
Sat. Feb. 22 Fresno St. at UNLV, 1 p.m.
Sat. Mar. 1 Utah St. at New Mexico St., 1 p.m.

Titan Radio

Wayne Welk debuts as play-by-play announcer for Cal State Fullerton basketball in 1985-86 with all home and road games to be carried live on powerful KWOW (1600 AM).

Welk and partner Bob Olson of ROWW Enterprises are packaging Titan football and men's basketball this school year. Pomona-based KWOW's signal can be heard throughout Southern California.

For the past nine years, Welk had served as the voice of St. Cloud State University in St. Cloud, Minnesota. Previously he served in a variety of roles in California as the sports information director of Long Beach State and UC Irvine and the broadcaster for Cal Poly San Luis Obispo (1972-74) and the University of the Pacific (1974-75).

Welk and his wife, Sharon, and children Tom, 22, and Sherri, 19, live in Palm Desert.

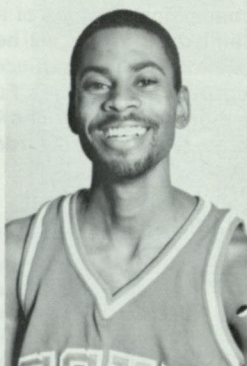

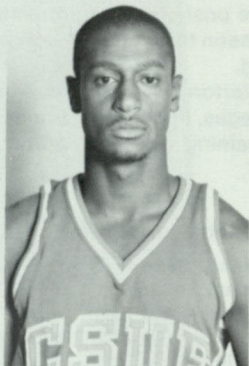

KWOW plays "all oldies all the time" over a 5,000 watt signal that extends west to downtown Los Angeles, north to the San Bernardino mountains and east beyond Chino.

The 1984-85 season opener was a harbinger of things to come as the Titans quickly erased the memories of numerous losses the prior year due to faulty free-throw shooting down the stretch.

After watching a 49-44 lead dwindle to a 49-48 margin, the Titans clinched the game when Kevin Henderson dropped in both halves of a "one-plus-one" with seven seconds remaining for a 51-48 advantage that survived a St. Mary's field goal with one second to go.

Ironically, Henderson had missed four out of four free throws prior to his game winners. The Titans as a team had hit only three of 10.

The first half was nip and tuck. The Titans' biggest lead was three points at 15-12 while the Gaels' biggest margin was four at 25-21, which was the intermission score.

Fullerton took the lead for the first time in the second half at the 17:41 mark on a Richard Morton jumper and Titans never trailed again, although St. Mary's forged ties at 38-38 and 40-40.

Fullerton had to settle for a split of its season-opening road trip when the Titans lost at the free-throw line in their initial trip to San Antonio to take on the UT Roadrunners.

The hosts jumped out to a 7-5 advantage and then ran off a 10-0 burst for a commanding 17-5 lead and the Titans had to play catch up all night. Fullerton went from a Gary Davis jumper at 16:52 to a DeWayne Shepard layup at 9:50 without a field goal. The Titans closed the gap to 25-21 but then saw the Roadrunners score the final eight points of the first half for a comfortable 33-21 margin.

The Titans never got closer than seven points after intermission as their 10 for 24 free-throw shooting for the game cost them opportunities. In fact, the difference in the game was at the line as San Antonio hit 18 of 23 free throws while each team had 27 field goals.

The home opener proved disappointing when Loyola Marymount used the brilliant play of guards Keith Smith and Steve Haney to engineer a 73-69 victory.

After a close first half, the Titans appeared to take command of the game midway through the second half. George Yezbak blocked a shot and went the length of the court for a layup and a three-point play when he was fouled for a 58-53 lead. But the Lions scored the next nine points—seven out of seven at the free-throw line—to tie at 59 and then a three-point play by Haney forged a 62-59 lead with 6:01 to play.

Kevin Henderson's fourth of four consecutive field goals gained a tie at 67-67, but the Lions scored the game's next six points beginning with Haney's jumper from the right side. Henry Turner scored for Fullerton with four seconds to play for the final score.

For the third consecutive meeting between Fullerton and the University of Portland, the game went down to a last-second shot and again the visiting team came out the winner.

Chris Fulton hit a 15-foot jumper from the left side of the key with eight seconds remaining to rally Portland to victory. Leon Wood had beaten Portland in Portland in 1982 after Moby Oliver's last-second 25-footer had beaten the Titans in Fullerton in 1981.

It was a game of streaks after Portland edged out to a 26-23 halftime lead. Portland turned a 31-31 tie into a 37-31 advantage but then the Titans scored 10 unanswered points to turn a 41-34 deficit into a 44-41 advantage with 9:57 to play.

Portland went on a 9-2 spurge to take command, 50-46 and still led, 52-48 with 3:14 to go. But George Yezbak hit a jumper and Tony Neal followed with a free throw and a bucket to put Fullerton ahead, 53-52, with 50 seconds to play.

Fullerton ended a rare two-game home losing streak by trouncing the visiting Highlanders from UC Riverside.

The Titans put the game away early, bolting from a 4-4 tie to a 21-4 lead with 17 unanswered points. The visitors went nearly six minutes without scoring while Tony Neal scored seven of the Titans' 17 in that span.

Riverside cut the lead to as little as 10 points on a couple of occasions later in the first half and once after intermission at 43-33 with 12:29 to play. But the Titans responded with a 10-0 burst as they got their fast-break rolling for a 53-33 lead. Neal ended up with a career high 27 points as he hit 11 of 19 field goal tries and five of eight free throws while grabbing 18 rebounds.

The University of Montana brought a big, physical team into Titan Gym and it survived a total of 21 turnovers to hold off Fullerton in a bizarre game.

The Titans took the early lead and extended it to as many as seven points at 20-13 at the 12:00 mark of the first half. But from that point on, the sharpshooting Grizzlies took command and outscored Fullerton, 25-13, to take a 38-33 halftime advantage.

The Grizzlies continued to build their lead after intermission and had the game apparently locked up with a 58-47 lead with only six and a half minutes to play.

Three unanswered Fullerton field goals cut it to 58-53 but a Larry Krystkowiak dunk at the 2:50 mark upped it to 60-53. That proved to be the final Montana score, but, after cutting the margin to 60-59 on a Tony Neal bank shot at the 1:46 mark, the Titans couldn't score either. Each team had the ball on more than one occasion but violations and turnovers left the scoreboard unchanged.

Playing one of their most impressive games of the year, the Titans bounced back from their frustrating loss to Montana to beat eventual West Coast Athletic Association champion Pepperdine.

The visiting Waves led most of the first half and by as many as nine points at 35-26 before the Titans rallied before intermission to narrow the gap to 37-34 entering the second half.

Fullerton surged ahead with a 6-0 spurt boosting a 46-45 lead into a 52-45 advantage with 14:07 to play. The Titans had the margin up to 10 at 73-63 with 5:07 to go before the Waves scored the next seven points to make it interesting again. Two baskets by Kerry Boagni stemmed the tide even though the Titans managed only two points out of four one-and-one situations in the final minute.

The Titans snapped a string of four consecutive losses in overtime games in bizarre fashion in the opening game of the Wolf Pack Classic in Reno, Nevada against Colorado State.

The Rams had the final shot in overtime and got the ball in the hands of game leading scorer Rich Strong. But he missed the jumper and on the rebound attempt, Colorado State center Mike Gray was cited for going over the back of Fullerton's Kerry Boagni. With 0:05 on the clock, Boagni dropped in both halves of the one-and-one situation for the 66-64 victory.

The Titans had to survive a "hail mary" type basket attempt by the Rams at the end of regulation. With the score tied, 60-60, the Titans missed a potential game winner and the Rams rebounded and called time out with two seconds to go. A length of the court pass bounced off the rim and Strong got the carom and missed a two-footer. He rebounded and did score but after the buzzer and the Titans had a reprieve.

Host Nevada-Reno won its own tournament by cruising to a comfortable win over the foul-plagued Titans in the championship game.

Guard Mike Parillo came off the bench to spark the Wolf Pack with 14 points including a pair of critical three-point field goals. Tony Neal had 17 points and 15 rebounds but got little help from Kevin Henderson and Kerry Boagni, who each picked up three first-half fouls.

Reno took the lead for good at 8-6 and gradually pulled away, leading by 25-21 at the half. An 11-2 spurt midway through the second half turned a 37-30 edge into a commanding 48-32 advantage. Neal earned a spot on the all-tournament team.

The Titans opened PCAA play at New Mexico State and although the immediate results were not successful, a change in strategy proved most beneficial. Coach George McQuarn moved Kevin Henderson to point guard as an experiment and he began what would become an All-PCAA first team season.

After falling behind 5-0 at the outset, Fullerton scored seven unanswered points to set the tone for a nip and tuck affair. In the second half, the Aggies led by as many as six only to have the Titans rally for a 45-43 lead. Back came New Mexico State for a 57-42 margin only for Fullerton to tie it at 52-52. The Aggies went up, 56-52, but baskets by Richard Morton, Henderson and Morton again made it 58-56 Fullerton with 3:15 to go.

Then the Aggies took over with Gilbert Wilburn's ill-advised but successful three-pointer putting the Aggies ahead for good at 60-58.

It wasn't very pretty, but the Titans evened their PCAA record at 1-1 with a road victory at Long Beach State.

The Titans took almost one half to get inspired against the struggling young 49ers as they remained deadlocked at 27-27 with 2:40 to go before intermission. But a pair of baskets by Kerry Boagni and one each by Gary Moeller and Kevin Henderson made it a 35-27 bulge at the half with Long Beach hitting only 33 percent from the field.

The 49ers made a run at the lead in the second half, trimming it to 39-37 in three and a half minutes. But then came a 22-4 run by Fullerton to put the game away at 61-41. The Titans ended up shooting 61 percent from the floor in the second half.

The Titans' PCAA home opener had to be seen to be believed, but even then not everyone in the building knew what was going on.

The pivotal play came with 1:02 to go in the fourth overtime period. San Jose apparently failed to beat the 45-second shot clock but when Matt Fleming rebounded a desperate shot and scored, the officials allowed the basket. The game was stopped when coach George McQuarn ran onto the floor for a clarification, which boiled down to the officials not hearing the shot clock buzzer nor honoring the clock operator's contention that the desperation shot did in fact come after the time expired.

Fleming's basket was allowed for a 93-89 San Jose lead that couldn't be overcome by the Titans, who had scored last to tie the game in regulation and the first and second overtime periods.

Remarkably, the Titans had enough physical strength and mental tenacity to bounce back from the heart-breaking loss to San Jose State and beat Utah State, a team which was still recovering from a traumatic and record-shattering 142-140 triple overtime loss to Nevada-Las Vegas.

Fullerton built a lead as large as 10 points late in the first half before the Aggies rallied to cut it to 32-28 at intermission. The Titans appeared to put the game away when they came out at the break and ran off the first 11 points for a 43-28 lead. But the Aggies responded with a 13-0 spurt to make it 43-41.

Gradually, Fullerton built its lead to nine at 62-53 with 6:38 to play but back came the Aggies, who were not denied until Kevin Henderson hit two free throws with 10 seconds to play for a 73-69 margin.

The Titans invaded troublesome Crawford Hall and scored a rare victory there to start what would become a 3-sweep of their Orange County rivals in 1985.

With Anteater star Johnny Rogers scoring only two first half points, Fullerton was able to jump to a 42-39 advantage in a free-scoring affair. Five quick points by Gary Davis offset a Rogers jumper for a 47-41 Fullerton lead and the Titans would never trail in the second half.

UCI made a couple of runs at Fullerton, getting as close as 80-76 with 1:29 to play on Troy Carmon's tip-in. But Davis and Kevin Henderson combined to hit five of six free throw tries to deny the Anteaters.

For the first time in Fullerton Division I history, three Titans scored 20 or more points—Henderson, 24, Kerry Boagni 22 and Tony Neal 21.

After a series of tense, exciting close contests over the past years of the UNLV-CSF series, this one was a lemon. It took the Titans almost six minutes to get a field goal (Tony Neal) but by then the Rebels had a 13-4 lead. Successive baskets by Richard Morton and two by Neal made it 13-10 but UNLV pulled away again and led by 12 at the half, 38-26. Neal had more than half the Titans rebounds (9 of 17) and 11 of the Titans' 26 points.

Neal continued to play well in the second half but he got little help and UNLV pulled away to leads as big as 55-36 and 80-57 before a late Fullerton surge. Henry Turner scored the last three buckets of the game in the final 50 seconds.

Morton with nine and Turner with eight points off the bench helped Neal (25) and Henderson (18) but starters Kerry Boagni (4), Gary Davis (1) and Gary Moeller (0) totaled only five points among them.

A vastly improved UC Santa Barbara team visited Titan Gym but they found Kerry Boagni and Gary Davis much hotter than they were in Las Vegas. Both Boagni and Davis scored 20 points and Kevin Henderson added 18 points and Tony Neal contributed 13 rebounds as the Titans pulled this game out in the final seven minutes.

Neither team led by more than four points in a close first half that ended with two Davis buckets for a 38-37 Fullerton lead. The Titans pulled out after intermission to lead by as many as seven points on several occasions but a three-point field goal by Conner Henry pulled the Gauchos even at 60-60 and they went ahead at 62-60 on Scott Fisher's basket with 8:06 to play.

Fullerton went on a 9-1 spurt to take the lead for good but it took four points by Boagni in the next to last minute to secure the lead.

Probably better Fullerton teams from past seasons had found ways to lose games in unfriendly Civic Auditorium in San Jose, but the 1984-85 Titans found the winning formula.

Fullerton set the tone in the first half as the Titans led most of the way after a Kerry Boagni jumper gave them the lead at 9-8. The lead was as large as nine points at 30-21 before the Spartans scored six unanswered points in the final 1:42 of the half to draw within 30-27.

San Jose came out hot in the second half and patiently worked its way into the lead at 37-34 on a pair of buckets by Stoney Evans. But back came the Titans with Richard Morton getting six points in a 10-2 spurt that put them up, 44-39 with 10:03 to go.

San Jose tied the game at 44-44 before a Boagni field goal and a Gary Davis 3-pointer made it 49-44 with 2:42 to play and each team could add only two free throws the rest of the way.

Fullerton had failed in its first three tries to beat New Mexico State but when the Titans found the formula, it was ridiculously easy. The 84-53 rout was the most lopsided Pacific Coast Athletic Association win ever for Fullerton.

The game's outset hardly was a clue. New Mexico State jumped out to a 10-4 lead after five minutes before the Titans ran off nine straight points for a 13-10 lead that grew to 30-26 and then exploded to 38-26 in the final 2:16 of the first half.

Fullerton gradually built the lead up in the second half to as many as 21 points at 68-47 and then the Titans went crazy, scoring 16 of the game's final 20 points for the one-sided victory.

The long standing rivalry between Long Beach and Fullerton took a backseat this night to police drama. Forward Tony Neal failed to show up for the game and his whereabouts didn't become known until after Fullerton took advantage of a stone cold 49er team for a relatively easy victory.

Investigations later learned that Neal had been kidnapped at gunpoint by an unknown assailant in his hometown Santa Ana and he was forced to drive around most of the evening before being released physically unharmed in Santa Fe Springs.

With Long Beach hitting only 4 of 17 shots in the first half, the Titans bolted from a 2-2 tie to an 18-6 lead and survived 49er rallies for a 14-point halftime advantage. The lead was as large as 19 points in the second half before the 49ers could cut it to 10 on a couple of occasions. The final nine-point margin was as close as they would get despite shooting 58 percent in the second half.

The intensity and drama of the recent Fresno State-Fullerton series was augmented by the reappearance of Tony Neal in a game that will go down in the annals as one of the most memorable ever in Titan Gym.

With Richard Morton coming off the bench to supply the spark, Fullerton went on an 11-0 spurt midway through the first half to turn an 11-8 deficit into a 19-11 lead. The Bulldogs inched back, however, and by half time had cut it to 29-27.

Relentlessly, Fresno State pulled away to lead 46-38 with 8:26 to play. Slowly, back came Fullerton on four Kevin Henderson free throws and then a Henderson jumper and Neal bank shot to offset a Jos Kuipers basket to leave it 48-47 Fresno.

When Kuipers scored on an offensive rebound at 0:32, it was Fresno, 51-50. The Titans went to Neal for what would be a storybook finish. Neal missed the shot but Kerry Boagni made a desperation tap at the rebound and it went high in the air, kissed off the glass and swished through the net as the buzzer sounded for a 52-51 Titan win.

The combination of a Fullerton emotional letdown and a near flawless performance by the hosting Gauchos gave UC Santa Barbara only its third and easily most lopsided victory in the 18 game series.

Fullerton missed its first five shots—one by each of the starters—and four and a half minutes into the game it was 11-0 Gauchos. The teams traded baskets until just before intermission when the Gauchos hit the final two for a 40-23 lead at the half. UCSB shot 69 percent in the half (11 of 16) to Fullerton's 33 percent (11 of 33) while hitting 16 of 20 free throws to Fullerton's 1 of 3.

The Titans tried to rally, cutting the margin to 47-36, but Richard Townsend and Conner Henry knocked in consecutive three-point field goals for a 53-36 lead and the outcome was sealed. UCSB finished with 33 of 40 free throw shooting and 24 of 36 from the floor.

Fullerton got its first look of the year at the Pacific Tigers and liked what it saw as the Titans rolled to an 18-point victory.

The Titans fell behind, 9-6, but then went on a 20-6 streak for a 26-15 advantage. The Tigers cut it to a six-point margin at the half and got as close as four points right after intermission, but their rally had been spent.

A DeWayne Shepard free throw, a three-pointer by Kevin Henderson and a basket by Kerry Boagni made it 39-29 with 17:13 to play. The decision was sealed nine minutes later when Fullerton went on a 10-0 run to turn a 55-43 lead into a 65-43 bulge.

Henry Turner came off the bench to score a career high 12 points and lead all rebounders in the game with 11 caroms, also a career high.

For the second time in three games, Tony Neal had an off night and the Titans couldn't overcome that handicap in a 10-point loss at Logan, Utah.

Neal, who was only 1 for 9 for a career low two points at UC Santa Barbara one week earlier, hit only 2 of 13 field goal attempts before fouling out with both four points.

Still, the Titans were in the game until the final minute.

The Aggies led by only two at the half, 39-37, and the Titans took a brief lead at 43-41. Utah State tried to take command when it went ahead 53-46, but the Titans rebounded with eight unanswered points—six by Richard Morton—for a 54-53 lead.

Greg Grant put Utah State ahead to stay at the 9:39 mark at 55-54 but the Aggies couldn't shake Fullerton. It was still only 63-60 when Gary Davis hit an 18-footer with 4:28 to go but Utah State then hit the game's next 10 points—including six of six at the line—for a 73-60 lead.

Nevada-Las Vegas attracted another full house to Titan Gym and for a little over 20 minutes, it looked like Fullerton would pull another major upset of the Rebels.

With Kevin Henderson playing one of the greatest halves of all time, the Titans grabbed a 37-28 halftime lead. Henderson was 7 of 8 from the field including 2 for 2 from three-point range and also had four rebounds in a 19-point, 3-assist opening period.

The Rebels' strategy of rotating defenders on Henderson slowed him down in the second half and Richie Adams went to work inside as the Rebels quickly restored order after intermission. A 7-0 spurt out of the gate made it a 2-point ball game and UNLV caught Fullerton at 40-40 and took the lead for good moments later on a sky lob to Armand Gilliam. The lead grew to as many as 15 points before Gary Davis led a late Titan surge that got Fullerton as close as eight points.

An unbelievably fast start turned the Titans' struggle at Pacific into a cakewalk as Fullerton wrapped up PCAA road play in Stockton.

The Tigers were stone cold and that stoked the Titans' fast break as Fullerton jumped out to leads of 6-0, 8-1, 19-3 and 21-4 before the Tigers could manage consecutive scores. They cut the gap to as little as eight points only to have DeWayne Shepard and Kevin Henderson respond with six quick points.

In the second half, a three-point field goal by Domingo Rosario cut the margin to eight at 46-38 but Henderson, Shepard, Gary Davis and Henderson again reeled off an 8-0 run that restored order at 54-38.

The important victory clinched a share of third place in the PCAA and guaranteed the Titans a non-losing season.

Fullerton staged its own "Seniors Day" in Titan Gym as it closed out the home portion of the 1984-85 season with rival UC Irvine.

While all the Fullerton seniors played, it was junior Kevin Henderson stealing the show with a career high of 31 points in the come-from-behind victory over the Anteaters.

UCI led by as many as eight points in the first half at 23-15 but it lost the lead at 31-31 and had to settle for a 36-33 lead at intermission. The Anteaters led most of the second half, twice by as many as seven points, but Fullerton took the lead for good at the 5:40 mark on a Henderson breakaway dunk for a 67-66 advantage. A 7-0 spurt by the Titans turned a narrow 69-68 lead into a comfortable 76-68 margin with 1:50 to play as Henderson, Neal and Henry Turner knocked down clutch free throws.

The victory gave Fullerton undisputed possession of third place in the PCAA standings and gave the Titans the No. 3 seed in the Tournament—against UCI again.

Beating a team three out of three meetings in the same season is a difficult feat but the Titans were up to the task. As in their previous meetings with UCI, the Titans came out on top by a comfortable margin but this was the easiest win of the three.

After John Rogers hit a 12-foot jumper for a 2-2 tie, the Titans led the entire way. The lead was as big as nine points in the first half, which ended at 35-30, and the Ant-eaters made only one serious run.

After Fullerton had gone ahead, 41-34, UCI scored the next six points to make it 41-40 with 15:34 to play. But with Kevin Henderson scoring five points, the Titans went on an 11-0 spurt for a 52-40 lead and UCI had to call time out.

Two UCI free throws broke the string but Fullerton got a jumper from Richard Morton and four out of four free throws by Henry Turner to go comfortably ahead 58-42 with 11:34 still to go.

Tony Neal played one of the greatest games of his illustrious Fullerton career and the Titans needed every bit of that effort to beat Fresno State and advance to the championship game of the PCAA Tournament for the second time in four seasons.

But the hero's role also was shared by Kevin Henderson, who grabbed his own missed shot and tossed in a 15-foot jump shot as the buzzer sounded for the 56-54 victory.

Fullerton had the advantage late in the game, breaking a 45-45 knot on free throws by Neal (2) and Vincent Blow (1) for a 48-45 lead. Two free throws by Henderson extended the margin to five at 52-47 but back came the Bulldogs. Blow hit both ends of a one-and-one at 3:05 for a 54-50 lead but Fresno tied it on two Jos Kuipers free throws at 2:42 and then a 15-foot jumper by Mitch Arnold with 12 seconds to play.

The emotional victory over Fresno State earned Fullerton a shot at the NCAA tournament but it also robbed them of the physical and mental stamina necessary to challenge the talented UNLV Runnin' Rebels.

It would take another nearly flawless game by the Titans to rekindle the memories of the 1977-78 Cinderella season and there just wasn't anything left on a Saturday afternoon after the late Friday night victory.

The game was over almost as soon as it began. The Rebels scored the game's first six points and with Richie Adams and Armand Gilliam dominating the offensive backboards, it was soon a 16-4 UNLV lead. Fullerton could get only as close as nine points and it became a rout later in the period when UNLV went up by as many as 23 points.

The teams merely went through the motions in the second half, with the lead fluctuating between 15 and 23 points.
