

California State University, Fresno brings together a myriad of people from diverse backgrounds and interests, integrating them into a dynamic university system that is dedicated to serving the individual. The following profiles offer you an opportunity to "meet" some of the individuals who make the university experience unique.