CAL STATE FULLERTON CAMPUS

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing. Having first offered classes in 1959, the university has grown to 23,000 students and achieved national distinction.

In 1984, the university will host team handball competition at the Summer Olympics. It also will begin its 25th anniversary observance with the theme "Honoring the Past—Creating the Future."

The university's students come primarily from Southern California with many from other states and other nations. Most students commute each day to and from classes: many come to classes only in the evening.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 750-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The university enjoys full accreditation for its overall program. In addition, national recognition has been accorded to programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, education, engineering, communications, music, nursing, speech and hearing, and theater. All told there are 82 degree programs—40 of them at the graduate level.

Reinforcing classroom instruction is the largest university level internship and cooperative education program on the West Coast. The program allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies.

Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours on a year-round basis. Extended education offerings are open to the community without the formalities of regular admission to the university.

Still another strong point is the university's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally known professional artists to the campus for residencies as well as public performances and the Cabaret Repertory Theater Company, which performs regularly in Brea.

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students but also open to community members is another highlight, as is the 7,000-person network of community support organizations. The Titan Athletic Foundation is one of these support groups.

Further examples of community outreach are the Fullerton Arboretum and Tucker Wildlife Sanctuary. Opened in 1979, the Arboretum is a 25-acre on-campus preserve that was established jointly by the university and the City of Fullerton. Tucker Wildlife Sanctuary is a half-hour from campus in a canyon of the Santa Ana Mountains.

To reinforce the university's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State has embarked on an ambitious campaign called "Commitment to Mind-power." Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great university.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, President

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb was appointed the third president of Cal State Fullerton on July 8, 1981. Her selection was the culmination of a nationwide search begun in November, 1980 to replace Dr. L. Donald Shields, who had resigned after a ten-year term to accept the presidency of Southern Methodist University.

Dr. Cobb had served as Dean of Douglass College at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, since 1976. There she also held the rank of Professor of Biological Sciences. Prior to her Douglass appointment she was Dean of Connecticut College and professor of Zoology for seven years. Previously, she was Professor of Biology at Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

Born in January, 1924, Dr. Cobb is known for her work in cell physiology, her promotion of the advancement of women in scientific fields and her activities on behalf of minorities. She is the first black woman to head a major public university on the west coast.

Cobb earned her bachelor's degree in 1944 from Talladega College in Alabama and her M.S. and Ph.D. in cell physiology from New York University in 1947 and 1950, respectively. She is the mother of a son, Jonathan, who is a student in the Cornell University Medical School.

TITAN ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

(714) 773-3480

Buck McCleneghan
Executive Director

The Titan Athletic Foundation is a non-profit organization that exists solely to aid the athletic program at Cal State Fullerton. It is a group of individuals with a genuine interest in athletics, the University and the community.

The foundation supports athletics by providing funds for scholarships that insure an effective recruiting program which attracts the best athletes available. The 1983 drive totaled nearly $150,000.

The TAF was founded in January, 1973 and the initial 150 members raised approximately $30,000. Membership today totals more than 800.

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Lynn Eilefson, Athletic Director

Lynn Eilefson brought a background of fund-raising, marketing and stadium construction to Cal State Fullerton and his expertise in those areas already has shone brightly in his first 18 months in the athletic director's chair.

Long dorman plans for a joint venture by the University and the city of Fullerton to erect a Youth Sports Complex featuring football/soccer and baseball stadiums have been revitalized with funding arranged and a 1985 completion date targeted. An "Orange Crush" theme for Orange County's largest intercollegiate sports program has been adopted and the most ambitious fund-raising goals in Titan Athletic Foundation history have been set.

"Cal State Fullerton has a great amount of untapped potential for an excellent program of intercollegiate athletics woven within an outstanding academic framework," said Eilefson upon his Apr. 1, 1982 appointment.

"I have no doubt that, with a proper perspective, we can strike a balance between academic and athletic excellence while building a most successful sports program."

Eilefson came to Fullerton after 17 months as senior assistant athletic director at UCLA where he was responsible for alumni and booster liaison, marketing, promotions and sports information. He previously served for eight and a half years at Fresno State University in a variety of positions including associate athletic director, coordinator of the stadium development fund and six years as executive director of the Bulldog Foundation. Prior to that he held posts at Lawrence University and Montana State University.

At Fresno State he drew up a capital fund campaign to build its 30,000 seat on-campus stadium. He raised cash contributions from $30,000 to more than $500,000 during his term and also launched the "Red Wave" mania that has captured the San Joaquin Valley.

Eilefson is a 1957 graduate of the University of Montana with a degree in Business Marketing Management. He and wife Bev live in Placentia. His children are all graduates of Fresno State University, and make their home in Fresno.

ANAHEIM STADIUM

The Titans return in 1983 to their original home—Anaheim Stadium, which has grown by about 26,000 seats since Cal State Fullerton played its last home game there in 1973.

Perhaps the foremost multi-purpose stadium in America, the "Bigger-A" serves as home of the California Angels of the American League and the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League as well as a variety of special events including rock concerts, exhibits and festivals.

Located at 2000 S. State College Boulevard, about six miles south of the Fullerton campus, Anaheim Stadium seats 69,000 fans for football and has parking for 13,500 autos and 400 buses. It originally was opened in 1966 at a cost of $24 million with a capacity of more than 43,000. It was enlarged in 1980 at a cost of $30 million to accommodate the Rams with new sound and lighting systems, a new football press box, 108 luxury suites and a $2 million scoreboard.

In the event of inclement weather, the games of Sept. 10 and Oct. 1 could be moved to an alternate site to prevent damage to the playing surface.

YOUTH SPORTS COMPLEX

The long-awaited dream of a permanent on-campus football facility for Cal State Fullerton is nearing reality with recent developments involving the State of California, the City of Fullerton and the Hilton Hotel chain. Private funding in the approximate amount of $750,000 and the removal of a few legal barriers are all that stand in the way of the start of construction of a football, soccer and baseball complex that also will house athletic offices.

State land will be used to build a Hilton Hotel with the land-lease funds being used to maintain the facility, which will be built primarily with funds from the City of Fullerton. Much as the recently lighted Titan baseball field is used by other community teams, the facility would also host local high school and junior college games.

HOME STADIUM HISTORY

The Titans' return to Anaheim Stadium for the 1983 season brings the program full circle since a five-site odyssey began in the 1970 inaugural season. All home games were played at Anaheim that year but in 1971 the Santa Ana Bowl and the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum also served as home fields. Santa Ana served as the home field with the exception of one game from 1972 through 1975 before the program switched to Cerritos College for the 1976 through 1979 seasons, a span which featured only 13 home games.

Coach Gene Murphy and his staff instituted the erection of "Titan Field" on campus from 1980 through 1982 with portable bleachers providing a taste of true on-campus football. Home field records:

Anaheim Stadium (1970-1973)	5-4-1*	Cerritos Stadium (1976-1979)	6-7
Santa Ana Bowl (1971-1975)	11-9	L.A. Memorial Coliseum (1971)	0-1
		Titan Field (1980-1982)	5-6

The phenomenal growth pattern of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association continues in 1983 with the addition of New Mexico State University to the 10-institution organization.

The Lobos from Las Cruces won't begin playing a PCAA football schedule until 1984 but their presence since July 1 gives the conference a four-state spread of the west—California, Nevada, Utah and now New Mexico—as it enters its 15th year of existence as one of the eight Division I alignments in the nation.

Schedules include more and more Division I powers and the PCAA has had good success in recent years against the Pac 10 among others. With three of the Top 20 total offense leaders in the nation returning for 1983, it looks like another exciting year for the aerial-minded conference, which has led the nation in passing for the last several seasons.

Only two years old, the California Bowl already is developing a reputation for having the most exciting post-season contests in the nation.

The long-awaited inaugural game in 1981 found Mid-American Conference champion Toledo upsetting PCAA champion San Jose State with a last-minute field goal, 27-25. Last year the tables turned as Fresno State scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter including the game winner with 11 seconds to go for a 29-28 victory over Bowling Green.

The California Bowl, like only the Rose Bowl among major bowl games, regularly matches the champions of two conferences—the PCAA and the Mid-American. The Greater San Joaquin Valley Sports Association sponsors the game with the beneficiary being the Valley Children's Hospital and Guidance Clinic. Seating capacity in Bulldog Stadium in Fresno is 30,000.

Head Coach Gene Murphy

Gene Murphy has laid the foundation for a competitive total football program at Cal State Fullerton and appears to have the Titans poised at the brink of the kind of success that everyone can understand—in the victory column.

Murphy and a young, enthusiastic coaching staff have spent the past three years collecting the raw materials and developing the resources necessary to build a launching pad for a young Division I program that will take off in some new directions in 1983:

- the erection of an "instant" on-campus "stadium" help spur the push for a soon to be built Youth Sports Complex and until the new facility is ready, the Titans will move into beautiful Anaheim Stadium.

- the impact the football staff had in bringing overall fund-raising in the community to record levels will be extended to a new football booster group.

- a freshman-oriented recruiting program will finally bring balance of the classes to the playing roster.

- there will be significant changes among the assistant coaches for the first time in Murphy's tenure with all four departees "stepping up" in responsibilities.

"Our progress has been slow (10-24) but steady and that's what we expected here," says Murphy, 44, who came to Fullerton following two very productive years as the head coach at his alma mater, the University of North Dakota.

"We had to go back to square one—the stadium, fund-raising, recruiting, building a weight room, creating office space, housing a true fall camp, everything—to build a broad base. This program still is in its infancy and has needed time to develop.

"Physically, we're just about there in terms of being competitive in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, especially in the line. We've got only 14 seniors on this year's roster and five of them are recent transfers. Starting next year we will have that ideal balance of classes and not have such a drastic turnover in personnel every two years."

Despite his background as a quarterback and offensive coordinator, Murphy's Fullerton teams have developed a penchant for strong defense. Last year's unit was ranked in the Top Twenty in the nation in overall and rushing defense until the final two weeks of the season.

"I came to California to throw the football," admits Murphy. "But to throw the ball you've got to have it and it's up to the defense to get it for you. A good defense also enables you to gamble more on offense. We may have gotten too conservative offensively last year, trying not to let a young team beat itself."

Playing primarily "smash-mouth" (three yards and a cloud of dust) football at North Dakota, Murphy guided the Fighting Sioux to a 15-7 record in his two years as head man. They climbed as high as No. 3 in the Division II national rankings in 1979 when they were 10-2. He spent a total of 16 years at UND including three as a player, one as a graduate assistant and 10 as offensive coordinator.

"I was very comfortable at North Dakota, too comfortable," says Murphy, who served a four-month term as interim athletic director in 1981. "I needed a challenge and came to California to see the sun. I've had more fun coaching at Fullerton than ever before."

Murphy initiated his "squirrel derby" offense in 1980 when the Titans' attack often featured fake punts, false huddles, naked reverses and passes to every receiver. An aerial circus? Murphy's team have thrown the ball 363, 425 and 446 times in the past three seasons.

"We will be striving for more balance in 1983," he says.

Born August 6, 1939 in Jersey City, New Jersey, Murphy was an all-sports star at St. Peter's High School in New Brunswick and earned all-state honors in football and baseball (shortstop). He was recruited to the University of Minnesota by Ray Malavasi, then an assistant coach to Murray Warmath. After finding himself on the bench behind Gopher star Sandy Stephens, Murphy transferred to North Dakota and as a senior was the All-North Central Conference quarterback.

After attaining his bachelor's degree (physical education) in 1962, Murphy served one year as a graduate assistant and then coached football, baseball and swimming at North St. Paul High School before returning to UND. While he was offensive coordinator, the Sioux won six conference championships and participated in three post-season bowl games (1966, 1972 and 1975). As head coach, he won the conference title in 1979 and was named conference coach of the year. He also spent five summers (1967-71) as an assistant "guest" coach with the Saskatchewan Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League.

Murphy, who received a master's degree in physical education in 1963 and secondary administration in 1977, was married to the former Kathy Fischer on September 25, 1964. They honeymooned at a Minnesota Vikings game. They have two sons—Tim (17) and Michael (13)—and live in Anaheim.

A Glossary of Murphisms

As a native of New Jersey, nurtured in the upper midwest, employed in Canada and now working and living in Southern California, coach Gene Murphy has developed a language all his own. In the interest of better communication, here is a glossary of often-used words and phrases:

Bruiser, the —his wife Kathy

Hail damage in the attic—questionable mentality or lack of common sense

Joisey—his native state of New Jersey

Jordanians—his kickers, either punters or placekickers

Norp—someone from North Dakota

Snuse—smokeless tobacco

Sorp—someone from South Dakota

Spudbutt—physical description of a football player, typically big but slow and indigenous to the upper midwest

Squirrel derby—his offense, featuring lots of motion and passes to all receivers along with end arounds, flea flickers and other trick plays

Stallion—a notch above a keeper

Yewper—someone from northern Michigan

SEASON PREVIEW

If the offense can be brought up to the standards of last year's defensive unit, Cal State Fullerton should have a very successful 1983 season as it moves into a spacious new home at Anaheim Stadium.

A veteran unit minus three key players returns on defense where the Titans were ranked in the Top Twenty in the nation until the final two games of the 1982 campaign. Offensively, virtually the entire starting lineup returns with a bigger and stronger line holding the key to the expected improvement despite the loss of two underclassmen quarterbacks.

"We have plenty of starters back on offense and it's a matter of building upon that experience and eliminating those youthful mistakes," said coach Gene Murphy, entering his fourth season at Fullerton. "We're just about there in terms of being physically competitive in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, especially in the line.

"Defensively, Rick Senteno, Rodney Weber and Mike Kennedy are gone but we still have an outstanding nucleus. We need to develop some depth among the new faces so we won't wear down as we did at the end of last season."

Eight starters return on both the offensive and defensive units among 36 returning lettermen. Standouts on defense are All-PCAA middle guard Joe Aguilar, three-year lettermen Terry Hubbard, linebacker, and Al Clark, defensive end, and 1981 All-PCAA cornerback Lee Miller. Offensively, junior Damon Allen is the undisputed signal caller who will be operating behind 1981 All-PCAA tackle Larry Baker, who has moved to guard, and in front of All-PCAA return specialist Roy Lewis, the starting tailback.

"On the Road Again" will be the Titans' theme song once more with eight games scheduled away from their new home, Anaheim Stadium. Four changes in Murphy's coaching staff are sure to turn up some new wrinkles as the season progresses.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK—There is no quarterback controversy this year with Damon Allen ("the best athlete we've had at quarterback since I've been here"—Murphy) lined up as No. 1. The opening day starter in 1982, the younger brother of Heisman Trophy winner Marcus injured an ankle and never reasserted himself ahead of Bob Caffrey, who has quit football to concentrate on baseball, nor Alex Espinoza, who transferred to another school. Allen has a strong arm and is a breakaway threat as a runner but he lacks experience. He suffered a broken collarbone in the spring alumni game but is 100 per cent. Yale Keckin, who broke five passing records last year at Santa Monica City College, moved into the No. 2 QB spot during spring drills. Behind him there is a scramble among at least six candidates including squad member Bob Murvin, JC transfers Andy DeLuca, Whit Brown and Kevin Jan and freshmen Jim Thornton from Analy High in northern California and Roger Reynoso from Mater Dei High in Santa Ana.

RUNNING BACK—The top five running backs of a year ago all return. Versatile Roy Lewis (3.5 yards per carry) has the edge at the "tailback" spot while Jimmy Render (3.7) and Todd Gerhart (4.1) battle at the fullback slot. Backing up Lewis are Terry Whaley (4.3) and Van Campfield (2.2). Lewis was the No. 1 receiver a year ago with 45 catches for 351 yards. Freshmen speedsters Darnell Wheeler and Steve Morford have the natural ability to make contributions.

INTERIOR LINE—The return to health of 1981 second-team All-PCAA pick Larry Baker fills the only hole caused by graduation to the physically larger line. Baker still goes 250 pounds but everyone else has grown over the past year. Durable Bill Smith (220-235) is at center with last year's Most Valuable Lineman Darryl Titsworth (245-250) and Baker on his flanks at the guard spots. A better muscled captain Al Krueger (260) and Daren Gilbert (255-275) are the probable starting tackles but in the wings are John Parke (250-280) and Hank Goebel (230-258). Junior college transfers David Sii (250) and Larry Waldo (240) could provide help at guard.

TIGHT END—Could be the most improved position on the squad with newcomers Marvin Williams (230) and converted linebacker Russ Maybury (210) battling for the job along with former UC Irvine basketball player Curtis Crossley (6-5, 235). Williams has speed and hands while Maybury is an explosive blocker and improving pass catcher. Crossley has been out of the game a while and it shows but he has superior physical ability.

WIDE RECEIVER—A mid-season injury last year to Jeff York forced three freshmen into action and that force-fed experience should lead to great improvement in 1983. James Pruitt was the No. 2 receiver with 20 catches for 264 yards but he will be challenged by junior Terry Smoot (13 for 107). On the other side, sophomore speedster Wade Lockett (14 for 212) will be challenged by Allen Pitts, who sat out last year, and Cornelius Redick, who averaged 31.3 yards the four times he touched the ball in 1982.

DEFENSE

ENDS—Three men rotated in the two starting spots last year and all return. Senior Al Clark has the experience, junior Eric Emery the deceptive strength and quickness and sophomore Sean Foy the aggressiveness and toughness to handle the difficult spot. Mark Chisom, the Defensive Scout Player of the Year in 1982, could see some playing time along with Rio Hondo JC transfer Scott Douglass.

TACKLES—This position started out strong in 1982 but disintegrated as returning lettermen Andre Pinesett (pre-season grades), Mike Kennedy (knee surgery in game 5) and Jed Henning (knee surgery in game 11) all went out. Pinesett is back on one side to be joined by San Francisco City College transfer Paul Taeleifi, an agile 280-pounder. Second-year freshmen Gil Barber (240) and Ron McLean (235) are small but quick in reserve. Don Cool (260) from Santa Rosa JC is questionable because of surgery to both knees in the spring. A sleeper could be found among Kelvin Shingleton (265) from Purdue or Randall Marve (235) from San Bernardino JC.

MIDDLE GUARD—If Joe Aguilar was three or four inches taller he would be a prime professional prospect. Tremendously strong captain who handles the usual double team as well as possible. Following in the footsteps of brother Richard, who won All-PCAA laurels on quickness. Second-year freshman Jim Baioa, a former linebacker, is the probable back-up ahead of former wrestler John Cross.

LINEBACKER—Should be little drop-off despite loss of All-PCAA pick Rick Senteno. Junior John Nevens is back from a gunshot wound to team with steady Terry Hubbard, the No. 2 tackler the past two years. Letterman John West is back in reserve along with Long Beach City College transfer Prentis Walker. Touted freshman Gil Ogden could be a factor.

CORNERBACKS—Lee Miller was an All-PCAA pick in 1981 but opponents stayed away from him last year so the development of sophomore Mark Collins on the other side will be a key to the Titans' success in 1983. Former starter Steve Belardi is back from a broken foot to back up Collins along with squad member Wayne Allums. Behind Miller are squad member Irv Teeboom, a converted wide receiver, and two blue chip freshmen from Orange County in Reggie Pendleton and Kevin Olson.

SAFETY—Graduate student Rodney Weber stepped from Fullerton into the Los Angeles Express lineup and young veterans Duane Henson, Dale Thompson and Mark Pembroke will be asked to share the load. All three have started at one time but now face the pressure of carrying the load. Former quarterback Craig Austin has made the switch for insurance along with freshmen Tom Phillips and Randy Gonzalez.

SPECIAL TEAMS

KICKING GAME—Junior Greg Steinke is in the process of re-writing the Titan record book with his placekicking exploits despite limited calls last year. The punting game was a disappointment last year in the shadow of 1981 standout Scott Vernoy. Foothill College transfer Marc Wilkins will make a serious run at returnees Brian Fordon and Ken Andrews.

SPECIAL TEAMS—Consistency was a problem in 1982. The kick-off receiving team thrust Roy Lewis into the nation's Top 15 again and Lee Miller did an excellent job of returning punts. Coverage was adequate but long snapping problems contributed mightily to losses to Utah State and Hawaii.

NORTHERN ARIZONA

Sept. 4 at Titan Stadium

Northern Arizona 0 9 0 6 — 15
Fullerton 0 3 7 9 — 19

- 2nd: CSF — Steinke 35 FG 11:09
NAU — Safety-Maybury snap out of end zone 8:47

4th: CSF — Safety-Jergo recovers blocked punt 12:52
CSF — Campfield 1 run (Steinke) 11:46
NAU — Mandley 60 pass from Stanley (run failed) 0:23

Fullerton staggered through the first half and then had to hold on for a 19-15 win as the visiting Lumberjacks rallied in the final minute.

The Titans could manage only a Greg Steinke field goal in the first half and an errant snap on a punt gave Northern Arizona not only a safety but positioned it for a 58-yard touchdown drive and a 9-3 halftime lead.

Quarterback Bob Caffrey, who replaced the injured Damon Allen early in the second quarter, put Fullerton ahead to stay when he scrambled 18 yards on a broken play midway through the third quarter to cap an 88-yard drive. The Titans padded the lead on their own "9-point play" as Joe Aguilar blocked a punt for a safety and Van Campfield capped the resultant 55-yard scoring drive with a one-yard plunge after a 45-yard pass play from Caffrey to Jeff York.

NAU scored against reserves with 23 seconds to play and then recovered an on-side kick and got off two desperation passes before the gun.

BOISE STATE

BSU — Jensen 21 FG 2:47
4th: BSU — Jensen 27 FG 0:01

Fullerton managed only six points out of three early turnovers by Boise State deep in Bronco territory and the hosts came back for a 20-9 victory.

Greg Steinke booted a 30-yard field goal after Boise fumbled the opening kick-off at the 16-yard line. A Rod Weber pass interception produced nothing and Steinke had to kick a 32-yarder after Eric Emery's fumble recovery set up a drive that stalled at the Boise 8.

Short Fullerton punts set up Boise touchdown drives of 45 and 25 yards for a 14-6 Bronco halftime lead. Fullerton drove 65 yards before stalling with the second-half kickoff and Steinke's 38-yarder was the final Titan score. Boise drove 60 yards for a game-winning 21-yard field goal late in the third quarter and then called time-out with one second to play to tack on a meaningless 27-yarder.

UTAH STATE

Sept. 25 at Titan Stadium

Fullerton 7 7 0 0 — 14
Cal Poly SLO 7 0 0 3 — 10

- 1st: CSF — Carpenter 26 pass from Caffrey (Steinke) 14:16
CP — Cramer 1 run (Brenneman) 1:41
2nd: CSF — Campfield 3 run (Steinke) 2:38
4th: CP — Croteau 44 FG 8:51

The Titans made it two wins in a row at San Luis Obispo and just as in their inaugural win in 1980, they were holding on for dear life when the gun ended a 14-10 victory.

Fullerton took an immediate 7-0 lead when Bob Caffrey hit John Carpenter with a 26-yard scoring pass after Lee Miller recovered an SLO fumble on the game's second play from scrimmage. Cal Poly tied it later in the period with a 62-yard drive aided by a questionable third-down pass interference call.

A methodical 78-yard, 10-play march climaxed by Van Campfield's three-yard run just before the half was to be the final Fullerton offensive thrust as Caffrey was hurt and Damon Allen played at less than 100 per cent in relief.

Cal Poly got a long field goal with nine minutes to play and the Mustangs were driving at the Fullerton 29-yard line when time expired.

4th: USU — Fernandez 5 pass from Canales (Beecher) 11:19
USU — Safety- Campfield accidentally downs returned kickoff in own end zone 11:19

The Fullerton offense set records for futility as the Titans returned home to lay a goose-egg in a 19-0 loss to Utah State.

Neither Damon Allen nor Bob Caffrey could consistently move the team in the opening half as the Titans managed only 101 yards of total offense. The Aggies, meanwhile, drove 62 yards to set up a 37-yard field goal and then took advantage of a Caffrey interception at the Fullerton 20 for a game-clinching touchdown.

Freshman Alex Espinoza got the call in the second half and the youngster fared no better, hitting 9 of 21 passes but producing a net of only 79 yards of total offense. A pass interception at the Fullerton 29 set up the last Aggie touchdown and the visitors got two more points when Van Campfield stepped back into the end zone after receiving the ensuing kick-off.

LONG BEACH STATE

Oct. 1 at Long Beach

Fullerton	0	0	3	0	—	3
Long Beach St.	0	0	0	7	—	7

3rd: CSF — Steinke 35 FG 11:02

4th: LBS — Stokes 11 pass from Dillon (G. Johnson) 4:15

Todd Dillon would go on to lead the nation in total offense but the Long Beach State star didn't do it at the expense of the Titan defense. He could produce only one touchdown, but it was good enough for a 7-3 49ers win.

In dimly-lit Veterans Stadium, the two teams battled through a scoreless first half. Long Beach got close enough to try 51 and 40-yard field goals as the teams combined for only 158 yards of offense.

A pass interception by Rod Weber set up Fullerton's score, a 35-yard field goal by Greg Steinke but the Fullerton offense never again crossed mid-field.

The Titan defense held Dillon and Company to a missed 37-yard field goal attempt until the final seven minutes when Dillon engineered a 99-yard, nine-play drive to a touchdown.

4th: CSF — Lockett 38 pass from D. Allen (Steinke) 13:17

SJS — Sullivan 42 pass from Clarkson (Berg) 9:25

The offense came alive against San Jose State but its early mistakes and the explosive Spartans were too much for the defense to handle in a 38-15 Fullerton defeat at Titan Field.

A blitzing John Nevens gave Fullerton a quick 2-0 lead with a safety before a pass interception set up a seven-yard touchdown "drive" and a fumble positioned the Spartans for a 44-yard field goal and a 10-2 lead.

Freshman Alex Espinoza relieved Bob Caffrey and drove the Titans 70 yards for a score late in the half and the momentum seemed to be going Fullerton's way.

But San Jose quarterback Steve Clarkson engineered two long scoring drives and Espinoza had an interception run back for a touchdown as the Spartans exploded for 21 points and a commanding 31-8 lead after three periods.

Fullerton's defense regrouped in a hurry to score one of the biggest athletic victories in school history as the Titans upset Wyoming, 20-16, in the high altitude and charged atmosphere of Laramie.

Lee Miller's 27-yard pass interception return for a touchdown in the opening minutes set the stage and freshman Alex Espinoza took the cue. After the Cowboys rallied for a 10-7 advantage, Espinoza drove the Titans 57 yards in eight plays just before halftime and got the go-ahead points on a 31-yard toss to James Pruitt.

Two short Greg Steinke field goals were all Fullerton could get out of total domination in the third quarter and the 20-10 lead was tenuous entering the final period when teams often wilt at Laramie. The offense did sputter but the defense held on just long enough. They stopped a two-point conversion try at 20-16 and then held the Cowboys on downs after they had marched to the Fullerton 8-yard line. Rick Senteno's quarterback sack was the big play.

Fullerton fell back into old habits in its final home game of 1983 as the defense couldn't overcome the mistakes of the offense in a 17-7 loss to the University of Nevada-Reno.

The Wolf Pack's record-setting placekicker Tony Zendejas injured himself on the opening kick-off but came back to boot a 32-yarder for a 3-0 Reno lead midway through the first quarter. The Wolf Pack then got a freak touchdown shortly before halftime when Brian Fordon's rushed, line-drive punt went directly to a lingering lineman who jogged down the sideline a mere 36 yards for a touchdown.

Zendejas, who would miss three of four kicks on the day, came up short on a 51-yard attempt just before intermission but UNR drove the length of the field with the second-half kickoff for a clinching touchdown.

The Titans avoided a shutout when Damon Allen engineered an 80-yard advance in the fourth quarter. It was aided by 30 yards of Reno penalties and capped by Todd Gerhart's one-yard dive.

Another tremendous defensive effort came up short on the scoreboard as the Titans and Rainbow Warriors staged a battle of field goals in Aloha Stadium as host Hawaii won, 9-3.

Greg Steinke booted a 40-yarder just before halftime for the Titans but missed an earlier 26-yarder and had a 51-yard attempt aborted due to low snaps from center. Meanwhile, Lee Larson of Hawaii made three of four attempts for the margin of victory.

Two unusual calls went against the Titans when it appeared they were going to rally in the fourth quarter. First, they recovered a fumbled punt only to have the play negated by an unnecessary roughness call against Fullerton punter Brian Fordon. They recovered another fumble inside the Hawaii 15-yard line but a quick whistle caused one official to overrule his colleagues.

The good news was that for the first time in three years, the Titans did not have a quarterback injured in Honolulu.

Fullerton's attempt at a three-game winning streak over the California Bowl-bound Fresno State Bulldogs evaporated in a cloud of dust at the feet of Henry Ellard as the PCAA Co-Player of the Year rallied the hosts for a 31-14 victory.

Fullerton took an early lead after Mark Pembrook's pass interception and long return set up a Todd Gerhart score and a Rod Weber fumble recovery stopped a Fresno drive inside the Fullerton 10. Ellard first struck on a 67-yard scoring play and after the Titans went ahead again he scored from 73 yards out on another pass from Jeff Tedford. Twenty-one seconds later Fresno scored again on a pass interception and Ellard made a 24-yard pass reception to set up the final Fresno State touchdown.

Ellard totaled six pass receptions for 221 yards and also rushed one time for 38 yards before fumbling.

University of the Pacific coach Bob Toledo announced his retirement the week of the Fullerton game, the Tigers' season finale, and his inspired ball club sent him out a winner with a resounding 31-0 defeat of the Titans.

The teary-eyed Tigers were in control from the moment they took the rain-soaked field and Fullerton never had a chance.

UOP quarterback Paul Berner threw early and often as he put the ball up 51 times, completing 25 passes for 313 yards and four touchdowns.

Fullerton was trapped inside its own 10-yard line most of the first quarter and the farthest they could advance until the final minutes was the Pacific 29, where Brian Allen fumbled after a pass reception. They got to the UOP 27 with two minutes to play but Damon Allen was sacked and fumbled on fourth down.

Defensive tackle Jed Henning suffered a knee injury that may have ended his football career.

An exciting, wide-open season finale restored confidence in the offense and provided optimism for the 1983 campaign despite a 42-23 loss at Las Vegas.

Coach Gene Murphy played this one loose and two of the game's plays ended up on CBS Sports season highlight film. The first was the "swinging gate" or "phantom huddle" play where the team huddles away from the ball and a lateral snap is made to catch the huddled defense unprepared. Terry Whaley ran 53 yards to set up Alex Espinoza's touchdown that gave Fullerton a 10-7 lead.

The Rebels built their lead to 28-10 before Roy Lewis went 41 yards for a score on a pass from Espinoza and then came play No. 2. Greg Steinke fell down approaching the ball on the ensuing kick-off, drawing a roar from the crowd and relaxation from the UNLV front line, which was caught napping when Joe Aguilar squibbed a kick that the Titans recovered.

Randall Cunningham threw for 413 yards for UNLV but the Titans managed a season high 515 yards of total offense as the young offensive line came of age.
