

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

4B. Vocabulary Building (1)

Acquiring greater sensitivity to the literal and implied meanings of words, developing an awareness of the processes of word formation in English, and expanding the active vocabulary.

4C. Sentence Structure (1)

Developing skill in writing clear, mature sentences. The focus of the course is on structure—that is, on the alternative ways of phrasing the same idea and the consequences of choosing one alternative and not another. Sentence and phrase expansion, reduction, combination and rearrangement are emphasized, not traditional grammar.

4D. Punctuation (1)

Learning to use punctuation marks so that readers readily understand the writer's ideas. Particular attention to the use of commas, semicolons, apostrophes, and dashes. A minimum number of unvarying rules will be emphasized.

4E. Paragraph and Essay Organization (1)

Developing skills in identifying the sub-topics which make up the central idea of a paragraph or essay, in expanding and supporting ideas, and in arranging them so that the author's purpose is carried out as effectively as possible.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

110 The university offers an interdisciplinary major leading to the Bachelor of Science Degree in Child Development. The major is appropriate for students interested in vocational opportunities based on children. It may lead to employment in the areas of preschool, child center, private nursery, special programs for disadvantaged children, and other child-related vocations.
