

Assemblyman O'Connell to speak here today

Assemblyman John O'Connell, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Sixth District-SF State Congressional District, will speak in the Gallery Lounge today at 1:30 p.m.

O'Connell will speak on "How We Can Be Effective Toward Peace" at the Young Democrats and Forensics Union-sponsored event.

Prior to the gathering in the Lounge, O'Connell will receive the Freedom Award from the American Federation of Teachers at a luncheon on campus. The award, presented by Local 1352, is representative of a stand taken for freedom in the public affairs of a community.

Assemblyman O'Connell has voiced opposition to the necessity for teachers to sign a loyalty oath. He has also expressed dissatisfaction with some practices of the House Un-American Activities Committee in their investigations of teachers. He believes that teachers should not be liable to indiscriminate accusation and investigation. Students should also be free from such practices," he said.

Last year's recipient, George Johns, Secretary-Treasurer of the San Francisco Labor Council, opposed the Coro Foundation's attempts to deny a student a scholarship because of political activities.

Ole Miss editor speaks out

Special to the Gater

"It started out in a kind of cheerleading action in a pep rally atmosphere," was the way Sidna Brower, editor of the Ole Miss paper, described the riot which erupted Sunday on the Oxford campus in a telephone interview to Gater editor Terry Link.

"Actually, the students had very little part in the rioting — when the trouble started, they returned to the dormitories and sorority and fraternity houses," she added in a Southern drawl.

"As soon as the rioting started, most of the students left campus . . . of the more than 200 arrested, only 24 were students," she said. There are approximately 4,000 enrolled at the Oxford campus, she said.

As far as she knew, most of the students who left the campus are only away for a few days, until the trouble quiets down.

"Students were surprised at the number of outsiders who came in," she said, but didn't know student or faculty opinion on former Major General Edwin Walker's activities. "I really don't know. I haven't been able to associate with them much."

In an issue of the Mississippian published during the riot, Miss Brower appealed to all participants to consider their actions. "Not only do the students chance forfeiting their education by participating in the riots, but they are bringing dishonor and shame to the university and to the State of Mississippi," she wrote.

Student majority for Foundation?

By JACK HUBBARD

A student majority on the SF State Foundation Board of Governors has been proposed by AS president Jay Folberg.

In a late afternoon meeting Tuesday, Folberg asked the executive committee of the board to consider two additional representatives from the residence halls as voting members of the Board of Governors.

"The residence students are the prime customers of the Foundation," said Folberg. "So far they (Residence halls) have felt left out, and that there is nothing in the Foundation for them."

A reapportionment giving two residence reps voting power would shift the board voting strength to the students by a majority of one.

Dean Ferd Reddell commented that representation from the residence halls was needed, but not necessarily two representatives. Reddell also noted that voting on issues has been divided between students and faculty.

"I can't think of a single situation where there has been a student-faculty split. Simply having a majority for itself is meaningless," he said.

Folberg replied that there is still a need for a student majority on the board. "A move of this sort would improve the relationship between the Foundation and the students," he said.

A resolution will be submitted by Folberg to a full board meeting.

Another highlight of the committee meeting was a unanimous vote to allocate another $1000 dollars to the United Student Loan Fund, making available a total of $37,500 in unrestricted student loan funds. ($12,500 is made available at the loaning institution for each $1000 paid in. This is paid back at a 6 per cent interest rate by the student beginning four months after graduation.)

Reddell hailed the program as a "business-like loan program." Information about the United Student Aid program can be had at the Scholarships Office, AD 166.

Nixon dubbed 'ouija board operator'

By MAHMOUD ABOUZEID
Managing Editor

"Mr. Nixon is the greatest ouija board operator that ever entered American politics," reported State Senator Eugene McAteer when asked to comment on gubernatorial candidate Richard Nixon's plan to cut California's budget by 50 million dollars, if elected.

Speaking to an assembled crowd of approximately 45 students in the Gallery Lounge at 11 a.m. yesterday, McAteer said that, "I would be the first to tell you that probably we could reduce government expenditures by 50 million dollars," but not without dissolving some of the attorney general's present duties as well as discontinuing a number of agencies now in operation.

"Regardless of who will become governor, the Legislature will be Democratic," McAteer said, adding that California voters should be aware of the fact and should be influenced in their voting plans by it. He emphasized that a Republican governor will face great difficulty if he has to work with a predominantly Democratic Legislature.

If Nixon is elected and "if the Republicans want to pass a bill, they will have to compromise. Unless you have cooperation between the governor's office and the Legislature, you will not have the successful legislation of the past four years."

The fundamental difference between the Democratic and Republican parties, according to McAteer, is that his party is "more interested in the people of California and humanism."

Turning to education, the

SENATOR McATEER
... a slap at Nixon

State Senator said that "41 per cent of the budget (more than one billion dollars) goes to education," and that, "one out of four people in the State of California will be in school this year."

"We have 15 State colleges — there are 74 junior colleges in California," McAteer continued. "The State of California gives each school $120 per student per year on an average daily attendance (ADA) basis."

Other points McAteer made were:

- "I am in favor of capital punishment — I have always been—I voted for it and I would vote for it again."

- "I am against Proposition 23 (calling for reapportionment). If you surrender to Los Angeles County, you can kiss the bicameral system of government in California goodbye. Never forget that California's number one industry is agriculture." (Reapportionment would give southern California, which is predominantly concerned with heavy industry, a deciding vote in the Legislature).

- "People are coming to California because of the climate, opportunity and employment. They come because they want to get out of places like Mississippi."

Sponsored by the Students for Brown, McAteer is running for re-election to the State Senate from San Francisco County.

Anderson services

Funeral services for Dr. Albert T. Anderson, associate professor of English, were held Monday with interment on Tuesday in Golden Gate Cemetery.

Dr. Anderson died suddenly Friday afternoon after suffering a heart attack.

Dr. Anderson was coordinator of the remedial writing program here. This year he completed "Focus on Rebellion," a collection of writings on student movements, which he co-authored with Dr. Bernice Biggs, his office-mate. He was also co-author of "Processes in Writing," second edition.

The English professor was a member of the executive council of 1352, American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO. He was associate editor of Union Review, a quarterly, and was active in many activities related to civil liberties.

Dr. Anderson joined the SF State staff in August, 1956. He previously taught at Jacksonville JC in Florida and Teachers College at Columbia University where he received his doctorate in education.

He lived in Parkmerced with his wife, Mary Elizabeth, and two children, Megan Leslie, 10 and Timothy Hugh, 6.

Art movies to feature the works of Picasso

Art Movies will launch a new series on campus today in the Main Auditorium of the Creative Arts building with showings at 12 noon and 7:30 p.m. The showings will be free.

The first show will include the pen-and-ink drawings by Pablo Picasso, "Picasso Do-mancero du Picador," bullfight vignettes.

"Hamlet," made by the legendary Danish actress Asta Nielsen will also be a featured film. Other novelties include "Two Bagatelles" by the Canadian animator, Norman McLaren; the prize-winning "Violinist" by Ernest Pintoff, and "Magic Bottles."

Elections Today

Associated Student elections will be held today and tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. in front of the Commons.

Jeff Poland and Mel Wexler are running for rep-at-large, the only contested post.

Segregation is not a pleasant thing

MISSISSIPPI, the state and the people, has disgraced this nation. Any time men must fight and die to enroll one qualified student in a state university, all our talk of freedom and liberty and equality is drowned in the grim laughter always raised by hypocrisy.

Indeed, what meaning can the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights and other constitutional amendments mean, when at this stage of our history, such actions occur? What meaning can the wars of this century have, what meaning can the deaths of the men who died in them (some of them Mississippi Negroes) have, when a US citizen needs an army to help him enroll in a public school?

SEGREGATION on a basis of race is a dirty situation in Little Rock, New Orleans, or San Francisco. But to defend it with a shotgun rather than a picket, is carrying prejudice from irrationality to insanity.

WE don't know at this point exactly what can be done to change people to enable them to accept a man as a man and not a skin color. We would definitely urge the students of this school to make some attempt to inform the students of Mississippi of the pleasant environment we have on this campus, whether through private letters to acquaintances, action by the Associated Students, or however. We would urge the faculty to take some action also.

BUT the questions we asked above are still unanswered. We're not sure there is an answer, but if one is to be found, perhaps the best place to begin looking would be the Fillmore district and adjacent areas here in San Francisco. Perhaps if we can solve our own segregation problems—and they are real problems—the knowledge will help others where the problems are more open, if not less degrading.

Commission discusses discrimination -- 26 show

By FRED FAJARDO

Only 26 of SF State's 14,000 students showed enough interest to attend the first meeting of the AS Human Relations Commission last Friday.

The Commission was appointed by AS President Jay Folberg to deal with problems that involve discrimination against SF State students and faculty.

The three major proponents of the Commission, Folberg, AS Treasurer Tom Ramsey, and social science major Tom Rose, emphasized that the Commission must make it clear that it is not a club, or a do-good body that deals in exposes or righteous sensationalism. The Commission, they agreed, is to serve an educational function by sponsoring programs that will make the student body better aware of the discrimination problems which face the college and community.

It was expressed at the meeting that the Commission must take on a mature attitude that will lead to constructive progress in dealing with discrimination. Some seemed disappointed with what was termed a lack of student interest in the Commission.

Though permanent members were not appointed at the meeting, Rose the temporary chairman, assigned three projects to various students which are to be completed by the next meeting on October 12:

- The Commission's official statement of purpose is to be drawn up.

- A study is to be made on the legal aspects of state and local housing as a preliminary to dealing with discrimination in this area.

- Attempts will be made to solicit experts in the field of race relations to speak at the next meeting.

Gater briefs...

- The Business Club will hold an organizational meeting tomorrow at 1 p.m. in AD 162. Some events planned for this semester are: a talk by Mr. Thomas Webster, employment representative for Standard Oil, and field trip to study management practices at the Zellerbach paper warehouse.

A number of services will be offered to members, including a business newsletter and a used book brokerage that will list texts at a savings.

- The Student Peace Union will hold final elections of officers tomorrow in HL 342 at 12:30 p.m.

The group will also make final decision on major projects for the school year.

- A Coffee Hour for foreign and American students to meet will be held today in the Gallery Lounge from noon to 2 p.m.

The event is sponsored by People to People.

State grad opens one man show

SF State graduate Roy De Forest opened his one-man art show earlier this week in the gallery of the San Francisco Art Institute, 800 Chestnut St.

De Forest, winner of the 1962 Nealie Sullivan Award, received a $1000 grant to exhibit his array of construction and paintings.

Since receiving both his bachelor's and master's of arts degrees at SF State, he has conducted one-man shows at East and West Gallery, San Francisco, and the Dilexi Galleries in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Prop. 1-A sets 3 million for SF State

To SF State college the passage of Proposition 1-A this November would mean $3,068,000 worth of buildings, facilities, equipment and rooms. This is approximately one-third of the $9,170,200 that San Francisco County would get if the bond issue is passed.

SF State already has the money to build a new psychology building between the Health Center and the Gymnasium. According to Glenn Smith, assistant to the president, the building would be worthless without equipment. Proposition 1-A would make available $250,000 to equip this new building and the air science division.

The BSS building has classrooms that have been partitioned into faculty offices; $368,000 of the $3 million would be used for building a third floor on the BSS building. The third floor would be used for classrooms and faculty offices. There would be enough faculty offices on the new third floor so that the partitioned classrooms on the other two floors could be used for classrooms. This would help meet the growing demand for classroom space, according to Smith.

A $1,490,000 wing addition to the HLL building would also be used for classrooms and faculty offices. The wing would be built on the north side of the present HLL building.

According to registration personnel, over 700 students that were qualified to enter SF State were turned away at the beginning of this semester.

This, said Smith, is merely an indication of the growing numbers of students that this college must deal with in the foreseeable future.

TD -- Valois to Richardson

Gator wingback Don Richardson, a junior from Soledad, tallies the only SF State touchdown in Saturday's 12-9 loss to Cal Poly's snorting Mustangs. Richardson's score came on a 20-yard pass from Dick Valois in the second quarter, giving the Gators a 9-0 lead. Golden Gator photo by Rod Jolliffe.

Rowen -- no alibis for losing

By DICK KRECK

Head football coach Vic Rowen, whose team lost its first game of the year over the week-end, had no alibis or complaints.

"They were just a better team," said Rowen. "Their line chewed us up."

Defensive coach Tom Morgan had only praise for the Cal Poly linebackers, Cliff Yoshida and Niaz Mohamed. "That guy (Yoshida) was all over, inside and outside."

The Gator defense has now given up 27 points in three games for a nine-point average.

The Gators had plenty of chances to win the game. They kissed off a touchdown early in the contest when a long gainer, which put the Gators on the Cal Poly 14 yard line, was nullified by one of four 15-yard penalties SF suffered in the first half.

Another deciding factor was D. L. Hurd's erratic field goal kicking. He made one to give the Gators a 3-0 lead, but missed a conversion kick and two more three-point tries. The wonderment of it all was that Bobby Baird, who had won a game at Santa Barbara with a 17-yard boot, was not given a chance to show his stuff.

But what's done is done and the Gators must now prepare for their Far Western Conference opener at Humboldt State on Saturday.

"We hear," said Rowen, "that they have their best team ever this season."

Gator JV gridgers 'finally' open year -- at Stockton JC

By KEN EASTLACK

An untried but anxious Blue Raider squad will finally get their season underway at Stockton JC tomorrow night.

Two weeks back, head JV football coach Jim Sochor was notified—a couple of days before—that the Cal Ramblers were unable to go through with the planned season opener.

Last week the opening of the Blue Raider season was again thwarted by the Stanford frosh, because the planned scrimmage was viewed by officials as a game — which would be one more than Stanford rules allow.

Now it's Stockton, which has not been having such problems and brandishes a 1-1 record. This includes a 22-6 win over Coalinga JC and a 22-42 loss to San Mateo.

In view of the Blue Raider's inactivity, coach Sochor feels this will prove to be a defensive battle. Sochor's men will have their work cut out for them in trying to stop the Stockton aerial attack led by ace quarterback Bob Rosso.

Gater Sports Briefs

• Recuperating from their 24-31 defeat at Saturday's meet with Chico State, SF State's cross-country team will travel to Berkeley for the first time Saturday.

Despite the strength of the UC squad, the team is optimistic about meeting Cal, said Tom Skinner, cross-country coach.

SF State's NCAA small college three mile record holder, Craig Spilman, will set the pace for the Gators. He won the race against Chico in 17:09, his best time to date.

• Sacramento State will invade the Gator pool Wednesday for a 4 p.m. water polo match with SF State.

Yesterday the Gator erred when it announced that Wednesday's water polo game would be against Stanford.

Coach Walt Hanson stated that Sacramento State is beginning its first water polo season.
