Dear Michelle -

I'm not much of a leader, but I thoroughly enjoyed your book, "How to Become a Chicana Role Model". I feel a little "behind the times" as you are probably no longer promoting your book so it will be awhile before I can meet you in person. I am anxiously awaiting your next book!

I can relate so well to your stories, it was a fun journey! I married a white guy named "Dana" so you can just imagine! To top it off, we eloped & married in Las Vegas (no, I wasn't pregnant at the time!)

I hope you are doing well and I wish you much more success!

Sincerely -

Jesse Martinez
