

Feb

February 14, 1922.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst,
137 Riverside Drive,
New York City, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Hearst;

As agreed, the Cupid and Scroll design was carried out for the frieze in Mrs. Hearst's room, and is a beautiful piece of work--but in spite of using heads on the cupids of the type of those on the window trim, it does not do its work as a "transition" member between the ceiling of "Italian~~Empire~~ quality" and the purely spanish window heads.

It has not been shipped down yet, as I was holding it for your opinion.

We could use it for one of the small bed rooms, and make a frieze with foliated cupids on the order of the ones on the window trim, treated in Italian frieze style as per attached interiors. I think it would do the work.

Yours very truly,

JM-dem
Enclo.