GRADUATE PROGRAMS

The Advanced Studies Department offers programs leading to Master of Arts Degrees in Counseling, Education with a concentration in Administration, and Special Education. Candidates who qualify for a preliminary teaching credential with completion of a bachelor's degree program may, with prior approval, use a master's degree program to satisfy the fifth-year requirements for a clear teaching credential.

MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE IN COUNSELING

300

The Master of Arts degree program in Counseling is designed for persons who desire to practice in the field of Counseling. Persons completing this degree may qualify to work with public schools, social agencies, community colleges, four-year colleges and universities and in vocational settings, marriage and family counseling, and related areas.

Prerequisites: Evidence of satisfactory academic background in (1) human growth and development, (2) social and cultural foundations, (3) statistics, (4) oral and written communication, and (5) introduction to counseling. The student must file an autobiography, three letters of recommendation, a health clearance, satisfactory scores on the GRE Aptitude and Advanced Tests in Education, and transcripts of all college work. Students entering the program should go to EdP 131 for appropriate forms; admission to the program is recommended by a departmental committee. Students may apply during fall and spring semesters. Those seeking admission for the fall semester should submit applications during the preceding spring semester.

Requirements: Under the direction of a graduate adviser, each student prepares and submits an individually designed program within the following framework:

|                                   | Units |
