

Brooklyn. N.Y.

Dec 12. 1878

Dear Boy.

Your letter and the enclosed Draft. arrived safely last evening - I found the letter very interesting and will comment when I have more leisure than I have at present - I was and am very much disgusted with you for sending me a draft when I wrote you particularly not to. I don't see how you can be so careless of my wishes and embarrass me so shamefully. I wanted the money most desperately to settle Gann's School Bill which I've been in fear everytime the bell rang it would be someone to collect it and now I'm shut up here and can't get out and they won't give me the money and I think you are very mean to treat me so -

If you can't send me the money in a money order or in greenbacks ten dollars at a time in your letters as I asked you - you can keep the money yourself - Crying mad is no idea of how mad I am -

India is no worse - yesterday she had rhumatism in her arms and the doctor feared it might lead to heart disease which is a symptom of Barlet fever - but today is better.
I watch her as well as I can -

Deanie had the cramp very bad - but is better - she said yes today - "Uncle Charlie lives in Oakland - I will send him a blocking" so Julia went out and bought what she calls "Deanie's blocking" and I've mailed it to you to keep for Christmas - I have also mailed a few things that we send you for Christmas and hope you will have a nice time.

Mother is not at all well. she does not like her nurse and I cannot be with her much and she has Emma and Arny with her so much it tires her very much.
she sends her love to you -

Emma looks like she'd be sick soon. It's hardly time yet. just a week today since Father was taken. Parn is enjoying himself in Cousin Julia's best spare room and is reported very well.
I not seen or heard anything of any of your relations -

I did intend sending you a picture of Arny but I cannot go near him - so I will have to defer it until some future time I've no more time at present all send love

Yours

Will.

#23 Rec'd Dec 21/78
Ans'd " 22

Mrs L B Morgan.

Care W W Montague Sts.

San Francisco.

Cal.