

February 25, 1922.

Dear Miss Morgan :

I think this would be a good bench to put below "C" where the wall makes a corresponding curve.

(See large photograph marked -1-)

What I would like to know is how big should the figures be made to go there properly?

I imagine the figures in this photograph are almost life size if not quite so. Would we want ours any smaller?

2. I am sending you diagrams of another house. I do not think this house I am sending is very good and I have, in accordance with your telegram, ordered the Yorkshire stone Jacobean house, and asked Mr. McPeake in London to find other windows, doorframes, etc. for its embellishment.

Sincerely,

J W R Hearst
