Dearest Patricia:

First, my appreciation for both yesterday and today! I have much enjoyed both the dinner at Spivey's yesterday and the one at the Interlude tonight. You are always such good company. I feel that I never experience a single dull moment with you!

Next, I enclose a little memento of our trip on the tramway from Palm Springs up to the crest of the San Jacinto mts. I've been carrying it since you found it on our little hike, intending each day to give it to you and each day finding that I still had it in my pocket. So it is best now that I get it to you before it gets lost.

I've been looking over the calendar with the Grand Canyon in mind and I note that Memorial Day comes on Monday. If we were to go that week-end we could either stretch the trip one day or we could delay our start until Friday, May 27 so you wouldn't have to cut any classes on Thursday. However you may think the end of May is getting a bit too close to the end of the semester. In that case we could go a week or two earlier. Think it over + decide what would be best for you. As soon as you can decide, though, I should make reservations. I'll check on flying times tomorrow.

Also if there's some event scheduled on the sheet of events that I put in your mail box that you specially want to include, you might want to take that into account in deciding when to fly to the Grand Canyon. To me, however, the Canyon trip would outclass any of the stage events that are listed.

I suppose I'll just be lucky if I see you at all tomorrow (Thursday) but I'll be on hand Friday for your trip to the Clinic as usual — at 3:30. Next week, also, and the week following I can take you to the Clinic every day (except Thurs. of course) and except on the 29th. I've already agreed to go with Dr. Art. Smith of Hayward State to Davis to see the woman who probably will illustrate the book on insects that I'm to write for the U.C. Series. That (the 29th) is about the only day that we both can get away on to go to Davis.

So, as I see it now, I'll be available to take you to the clinic this Friday (22nd), the 25th, 26th, ^{and} 27th next week, and the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 6th the following week if you continue your plan, as I think it wise to do, to continue therapy for two additional weeks.

For my trip to Indiana I'll pick whatever period is free in middle or late May, so long as it doesn't include our Wednesday dinner date.

Again, it was a joy to have dinner with you tonight. Enjoyed every minute of it. Don't stay up too late tonight or you'll get to be like the fellow who said "It's so late before I get home that when I go up the stairs to go to bed, I meet myself coming down the stairs to breakfast."

All of which reminds me that my latch string is still out and if you want to sleep a few minutes more any morning & drop by for breakfast, just let me know!

Love - Carl.
