Village has its own Roller Derby queen

By Patty Ecker

What we see today is a lively, friendly Villager who plays ping pong frequently, is on a bowling team, enjoys her grandchildren and parties with friends — all fairly standard for a healthy and contented woman.

What we can't see, but what has defined Phyllis Jacobson for most of her life, is a career that began in 1954 that was rugged, dangerous, athletic and thrilling.

Back then, she was known as Phyllis "Matzo Ball" Wittenberg, a member of the Brooklyn Red Devils and the San Francisco Bay Bombers, a Roller Derby team that drew thousands

2015-16 budget will be explained on Jan. 8

Will Association fees go up in the next fiscal year? What will landscaping cost the Village in 2015? Answers to these and other questions regarding the proposed 2015-2016 budget for LV's Homeowners Association will be the subject of an open budget presentation meeting on Thursday, Jan. 8, at 7 p.m. in the AR.

Presenting a line-by-line explanation of the proposal will be Ted Lansing, LV's treasurer and Board member. The suggested budget is a compilation of costs and income from all departments and revenue sources.

Lansing smiles as he reports that the PowerPoint presentation will explain every line item "up, down and sideways. So if anyone has a question, this will be the time to ask," he says. The "budget book," the raw material for the meeting, contains more than 300 pages.

"That includes the details to back up the budget entries," he adds, estimating that the explanation will last about an hour, and questions from the audience will be welcomed.

The budget meeting is open to all Village residents; it also will be broadcast live by LTVT and then replayed several times during the month. A final vote by the Board of Directors on the 2015-16 budget will occur during the regular Board meeting on Monday, Feb. 2, at 10 a.m. in the AR.

The ILV staff wishes everyone a Happy and Healthy New Year!

Good Samaritans can now be paid for driving seniors

Seniors who rely on neighbors, friends or family to drive them to doctors' appointments or shopping or meetings can now pay those good Samaritans for those trips, thanks to federal funding available for older adults in Ventura County.

The Mileage Reimbursement Program (MRP) seeks to provide seniors with an additional transportation option for everyday trips within the county and for out-of-county medical trips.

Through this new program, a senior can apply to receive 35 cents a mile to reimburse the helpful driver — up to a total of 100 miles a month within the county and 300 miles outside the county. The payment covers a wide range of travel anywhere in Ventura County, ranging from a medical appointment to a trip to the movies.

The goal is to make it easy for seniors to get around the county without relying on public transportation. The Car crashes into wall bordering Village

By Joseph Benti

Shortly before 9 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 11, an unexpected visitor crashed through the stone wall that borders the intersection of Santa Rosa and Woodcreek roads behind Villages 5 and 7.

According to Village Security's Incident Report, a car driven by an unidentified woman failed to negotiate the intersection.

Plowing through a brand new wooden fence installed by Verizon only days before, the vehicle ripped through the Village's perimeter on Santa Rosa, taking out approximately 10 feet of the block wall before coming to rest near the bottom of the hill inside the Village.

The woman was removed from the wreckage by Ventura County fire and emergency personnel and taken to Los Robles Medical Center. The extent of her injuries and the various and obvious questions raised by the accident could not be verified at the time of this writing.

LV General Manager Bob Scheaffer says, "Because of the liability issues that have to be resolved, it is possible the damaged wall may not be replaced until early February."

He estimates it will cost between $3,500 and $5,000, which will, most likely, be recovered through insurance.

Love of skating led to career as a professional roller skater of fans in person in a sport that attracted millions on television.

"I was the only Jewish girl on the team; that's how I got the nickname," she laughs.

Phyllis was very athletic as a child, but there were no real sports for girls in those post-war years. When her widowed mother moved the family to LA, Phyllis, then 15, answered an ad for a Roller Derby training program. Dozens of girls tried out; two made it. Phyllis was one of them. But her mother said she couldn't skate on TV until she graduated from high school. So she trained until her 1954 commencement at Fairfax High, and from then on, it was "game on."

"All I ever wanted to do was skate," she declares. And skate she did: Round and round the elevated track to build endurance, at speeds up to 30 mph. During practice, the coaches would fling folded chairs into her path to perfect her ability to jump out of the way and keep skating. Her skates had wooden wheels with well-oiled ball bearings inside. The girls practiced leg lifts endlessly so they could skate fast, turn, jump and "whip" a teammate ahead of the pack.

As rigorous as it was, Phyllis calls it "heaven." The teams developed an affinity, like a family, she says.

"There was no racism, no prejudice. We were tough and competitive, but also warm and close. We lived together, traveled all over the world, got paid well ($50 a week), were treated like celebrities, and we made friendships that have lasted a lifetime," she explains.

Before Phyllis moved to Leisure Village last year, she lived in a community in Riverside County where four of her skating "sisters" lived nearby. More than 100 Roller Derby alumni attend reunions every year.

The memories are thrilling and funny. Her mother came to watch her once. She closed her eyes for the entire game and never came back. Phyllis' team skated in Japan in a sold-out stadium of 80,000 fans. The teams flew to Korea in a C-24 cargo plane. Phyllis got hurt once in her career — a dislocated shoulder that landed her in the hospital for one day. The next day, she was on the track.

Marriage and four children ended her career. But when her husband died when Phyllis was 34, her Roller Derby ethos kicked in: "You get down, you get up, and keep going," she says. She learned the art business and owned a gallery for many years. Now she's retired. But she talks to or visits Roller Derby friends at least monthly.

She smiles, "We always say 'I love you' when we part. That will never change."

A DOG'S LIFE

Arlo says: Take down those lights!

By Arlo Amerikaner

I am Arlo Amerikaner, part Schnauzer, part Yorkie — call me a "Schnorkie." I live in Village 17. I love it here. It's so quiet, except for when I bark. I bark at the mail truck, the UPS truck, the gardeners and everything and anyone that goes by. This is my way of protecting the Village from unwanted intruders. My guardians repeatedly tell me that the UPS truck is not a military tank; however, I believe any vehicle that is painted the color of steak is clearing asking for trouble.

When not barking or sleeping, I have taken up writing. My subject today is the holidays. Guess what? They're over! I loved walking by the lights and trees. (OK, I have to admit the moving reindeer freaked me out.)

According to LV Rules & Regulations (Article 19.25 on Page 128 of your Leisure Village Directory) all holiday decorations and lights must be removed no later than Jan. 13. So, it's time to bring down the bling!

What about those naked Christmas trees? Harrison Trash makes two pickups: on Saturday, Jan. 3, and on Friday, Jan. 9. Please put your tree out on the curb on those dates. (I promise to try not to relieve myself on the branches when I pass by, but sometimes that pine smells too darn delicious...).

Happy New Year from Arlo Amerikaner!

My driveway may be longer than most,
but I still pick up my Star every day.

"Keeping with the tradition of my ranching predecessors, Rocky Esparza and Toots Jauregui, for the past thirty years on any given day you can find me near the entrance of the ranch off Foothill Road with a cup of coffee and The Star.

"Our cattle company has been a steward of the hillsides above Ventura for generations. As principal of an environmental consulting firm, it's important for us to stay connected through The Star with local, state and national issues as well as our urban neighbors."

CONTINUATIONS

Drivers can now be reimbursed

MRP program is rider-centered, not driver-centered. Seniors can learn about the details and apply for the reimbursement plan at a "How to Participate" Workshop in Leisure Village on Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 2 p.m. in the MPR. Staff from Mobility Management Partners, which administers the program, will be here to explain the details and take applications.

MRP is based on an honor system. The person being driven applies for the reimbursement, and the money comes back to that senior, who is expected to pass it along to the driver.

Reimbursements began in Oxnard and Simi Valley in December.

"Leisure Village is exactly our audience. We're eager to get the program rolling here," said Nicole Cavalino of Mobility Management. "It broadens the travel possibilities, is convenient and personal, and strengthens friendships with the drivers."

The qualifications are simple: Riders must be at least 65 and live in Ventura County.

Camarillo surveys seniors about services

By Paul Herman

The Camarillo Counsel on Aging (CCOA) is participating with the Ventura County Area Agency on Aging (VCAAA) in a community survey of seniors to collect data on the current services provided to seniors and to identify future needs.

The results of this countywide survey will be broken down by ZIP code, allowing them to analyze the data specific to the Camarillo area. They will use the analysis to strategize along with our local partners (e.g. City Council, Camarillo Health Care District, Pleasant Valley Recreation and Parks District) on meeting the needs of our community.

Seniors will be able to complete the survey online by Jan. 15. The online survey address is: <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/VCAAACommunitySurvey>

By Zelda Greentree

Congratulations to Lee Edwards, our fearless leader, for keeping SAS going for the past few years. We all appreciate her! Thank you, Lee.

Our next "Dinner Out" will be on the second Tuesday in 2015, Jan. 13, at 5 p.m., at Ottavio's Italian Restaurant. Lee will be waiting for your call at 484-3289. Remember to call for your reservation. See you there.

Saturday Nite Dance Party

By Andrea I. Moran

Happy New Year, everyone. The holidays are past and we need to shed a few extra pounds. What better way than to dance? Our Saturday Nite Dance Party is just the ticket: 2.5

hours of pleasurable dancing with a live professional music group.

What a wonderful dinner the volunteers were treated to for their help in putting on the weekly dances. Please contact Marge Moran if you wish to be part of the dance party.

Our schedule has a great line up with four dances this month: Jan. 3, no dance; Jan. 10, Time Machine (they were lots of fun last time); Jan. 17, Tropic Starr; Jan. 24, Dick Parent; and Jan. 31, Rhythm Kings.

Please come and join us for a great evening of dancing or just listening to music with friends. See you there.

Wii Bowling

By Muriel Bannatz

Congratulations to all the winners of the first Handicap Tournament in November. Results are posted in the Wii Room (Ventura Room). It was such a success we are having another one Jan. 20, 21 and 22 during our regular bowling schedule. The entry fee is $1. Deadline for entering the competition is Jan. 13.

We are also collecting $5 dues for 2015. You may pay when you bowl. New members are always welcome and may contact Joan Levy at 482-6871 or Lois O'Connor at 844-2763. Please check with Ann Zuliani regarding your scheduled time to bowl.

Amateur Radio Club

By Jonathan Fox

Our holiday meeting in December had an election of officers for 2015 and a raffle for prizes. The officers for the coming year are: president, Jonathan Fox; vice president, Darrell Bevan; treasurer, Ted Lansing; secretary, Sheldon Hayutin.

Plans for the 2015 meetings were discussed, along with some trips to various technical facilities related to amateur radio. Various improvements to the Emergency Operations Center have been done, and more are planned for the coming year.

Next month's meeting would normally fall on New Year's Day. Consequently, our meeting will be held the following day, on Jan. 2, at 2 p.m. in the MPR. Join us as we discuss the activities for the New Year.

If you are curious about becoming a member of the club, please join us at one of our meetings. You do not have to be a licensed amateur radio operator to join. We will provide help in getting your license, and it's now easier than ever since Morse code is no longer required. Meetings are held the first Thursday of the month in the MPR at 2 p.m. For more information contact Jonathan Fox at 805-377-3697 or KJ6LV@yahoo.com.

Betty Herrmann of Village 40 went all out this holiday season.

Oh what a season 'twas!

By Dick Guttman

Santa Claus, warm cookies, fresh popcorn, yummy chili, holiday songs, a tap-dancing chorus line and a visit by Ebenezer Scrooge ushered in the start of the holiday season in Leisure Village. LV's annual Tree Trim party hosted more than 150 Villagers who joined the fun in the AR on Dec. 2.

Partygoers munched freshly baked cookies served by General Manager Bob Scheaffer, enjoyed chili prepared by an enthusiastic kitchen crew and were invited to help decorate LV's 10-foot tree. The event included a sing-along of seasonal songs with Karen Raso at the grand piano, and some attendees took photos with Santa Claus, aka Jeff McElerry, who annually swaps his brightly colored Hawaiian shirt and shorts for a red suit and boots.

During the afternoon, stage, radio and film actor Keith Hurt, whose wife, Mary Hurt, is LV's assistant general manager, entertained the audience with his convincing portrayal of Ebenezer Scrooge from Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

Many thanks to Shelly Runge, Danel Stites and the Rec Center staff for hosting and organizing this fun event.

The American Red Cross establishes itself in the AR.

Helping hands: LV becomes evacuation center during slides

The evacuation order was mandatory as the rain pounded Camarillo Springs on Friday, Dec. 12. Residents had to leave; the mountainside behind their homes was too precarious. It was 2 a.m. Firefighters, Roadrunner buses, and paramedic units rolled in to provide transportation out of the danger zone and into Leisure Village.

The Red Cross and Village volunteers were ready for the evacuees with welcome shelter. The AR was set up with cots, blankets, warm drinks, food and trained Red Cross volunteers to register and evaluate the wellness of the men and women forced to leave their homes.

At the peak of evacuation, 45 Camarillo Springs residents were brought to safety in the Rec Center. Our EPO (Emergency Preparedness Organization) volunteers were alerted to their arrival.

Terry and Paul Doebler described the torrential rain as "an avalanche roaring down the hill, knocking over the 8,000 pound K-rails set up for protection," said Terry. "But at the last moment, the 12-foot flow of rocks and mud diverted away from our house. I think all we have is water in our garage."

A Roadrunner van whisked them out of the danger zone.

Everything was ready for them and their neighbors because the Red Cross had contacted Leisure Village's general manager, Bob Scheaffer, well in advance. Jason Karpf, a Red Cross manager, said that his organization had been working since the last storm in anticipation of another deluge.

"We started knocking on doors alerting residents at Thanksgiving," he said.

Many evacuees quietly sat around the television set in the AR watching live coverage of the effects of the storm on their neighborhood. Evelyn Stevens said her home was not damaged when authorities picked her up. She was anxious to get back because she had to leave her cat in the house.

EPO volunteers passed out coffee in the AR. Breakfast was available in the Garden Room.

As the morning progressed, family and friends arrived to take the evacuees to homes in areas not devastated by the storm.

Millie Freesdorff was happy to see her son arrive.

"I didn't sleep at all; the flashing lights around our homes never stopped," she said as he helped her to his car.

By 3 p.m., the shelter was empty, and Red Cross workers packed up.

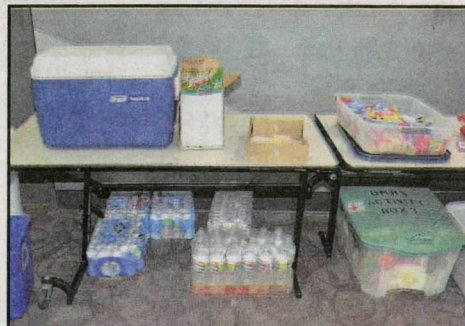

Sharon Loney, EPO Committee chair, was in the AR shelter at dawn. She noted that Leisure Village has 100 cots, blankets and emergency meals in case of emergency. And she said, "If there was an emergency here, I'm pretty sure that Camarillo Springs would shelter us."

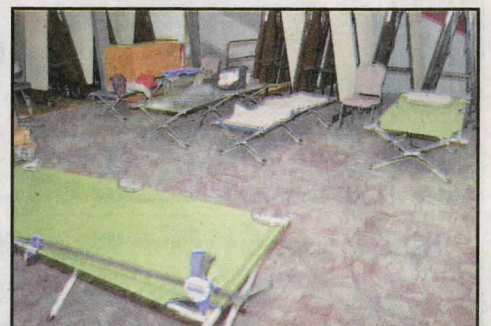

Sharon Loney, center, talks with Stacey and Bill Leach as their dog, Morgan, waits quietly.

Jason Karpf, a Red Cross manager, talks to Camarillo Springs evacuees in the AR.

Water, food and other supplies were made available for the Camarillo Springs evacuees. Breakfast was served in the Garden Room.

Cots were set up in the AR for long-term stays if necessary. At the peak of evacuation, 45 Camarillo Springs residents were brought to LV.

LV Pet Club

By Susan Amerikaner

The Pet Club Holiday Dinner on Dec. 15 was a howling success. In addition to delicious food, games and prizes, LV resident Hank Koval, a former television writer and producer, provided a delightful presentation of pet-themed holiday stories. Koval also read one his own compositions: a wonderful "pet parody" of the classic "Night Before Christmas."

We now have 90 members, but the more the merrier. We meet on the second Monday of the month. Come to our next meeting on Monday, Jan. 12, at 7 p.m. in the MPR and help us plan what's in store for LV animal lovers in 2015. No pets allowed at the meetings, but we do have refreshments!

Writers Club

By Harvey S. Brosler

The Writers Club meets every Monday at 1 p.m. in the MPR. On Dec. 8, the club held its Annual Party. The guest speaker was bestselling author Margaret Brownley. The elections for calendar year 2015 were held. The results were: President Harvey Brosler; First Vice President Larry Kalisher; and Second Vice President Larry Brown.

The suggested topic for Jan. 5 is "Will 2015 Be A Good Year?" For Jan. 12 it's "If I Wanted To Be Famous, What Would It Be For?" For Jan. 19 it's "My Hobby," and for Jan. 26 it is "The Most Interesting Person I Met." Contact: Harvey S. Brosler at 465-0006 or at hsbros@roadrunner.com.

Camera Club

By Jackie Fishman

President Marlene Votion reviewed all of what was accomplished and occurred this past year, under her presidency. The list was long, and mighty, to save the club with her leadership and hard work.

President Marlene handed the meeting over to our new incoming president, Ken Lauchner and the bringing-in of the new board followed, with Rebecca Paniagua as treasurer and Jackie Fishman as secretary.

President Ken continued presiding over club business, after which he introduced Greg Cooper as the judge for this month's competition.

And the winners are:

• Assigned Category of Reflections in Glass: first place, Sharon Forkner; second place, Doug Demers; third place, Larry Forkner; honorable mention, Jackie Fishman; honorable mention, Jean Kohut.

• Open Category: first place, Frank DeSimone; second place, Jean Kohut; third place, Don Treadwell; honorable mention, Lorraine Friedman; honorable mention, Verna Cryder.

• Creative Category: first place, Jean Kohut; second place, Frank DeSimone; third place, Marlene Votion; honorable mention, John Kingsley; honorable mention, Lorraine Friedman.

Congratulations to all of our winners!

Nov. 5 was a regular meeting and Sarah Tuttle demonstrated the ancient art of the Mandala. Her talent and enthusiasm inspired us all, and many of our members are already painting beautiful Mandalas.

Dec. 3, on our regular meeting day, we celebrated our annual holiday luncheon at Marie Callender's. Every member received a beautiful mug, and many shared in the Secret Santa Exchange. Thanks to all the members who helped make this day a memorable one.

Our president, Pat McGregor, will be retiring this year. Thank you, Pat, for your two years of service and a job well done! Pat's last official duty for 2014 was to install the new board members.

The new board members are: David Keifer, president; Patti Crichton; vice president, Marge Currie, secretary; and Aurelie Zachary, treasurer. Lindie Stein swore in the new board.

Last but not least, special thanks to Aurelie Zachary for her years of teaching the Tuesday classes and to Fred Vadja for teaching the Friday classes.

LV Woodshop

By Chuck Russell

The Woodshop is one of many recreation facilities in Leisure Village. More than 70 key holders utilized the shop in 2014. The members volunteer their expertise and time to repair items for residents and do projects for the Village. More than 350 projects were done in 2014.

Most, but not all, of the repairs are wood-related, so Leisure Village residents are welcome to bring any broken item for repair to the Woodshop in the Rec Center Tuesday and Wednesday mornings between 10 a.m. and noon. There is no guarantee that all damaged items can be fixed, only that the volunteers will try to restore them to the best of their ability. There is no charge for this service. Donations are accepted for materials and supplies.

The use of the woodshop is available to Leisure Village residents with woodworking experience, provided that they can demonstrate the ability to operate the power equipment safely. Residents with questions or those interested in having key access to the shop should contact Chuck Russell at 805-383-3043 for an appointment to be checked out on the equipment.

Bowling League

By Bob Cohen

In a holiday-shortened reporting period of only two days, there were only a few 200-plus games. Sharon Lubracki (202), Bob Christy (210), Danny Coleman (216), Art Matter (267) and Bob McQuivey (202) each had one game.

Side pot winners for week 13 were Vi Guzman, Gail Singer and Wilma Hutson for the ladies and John Albany

Bill Kirkpatrick and Don Christy for the men.

Side pot winners for week 14 were Bobbi Shmerling, Sandy Rosenthal and Leslie Fox for the ladies and Art Matter, Fred Diehl and Danny Coleman for the men.

The first half is almost over and we will be starting the second half in January — a great time for new people to join the league. For more information, contact Bob at 419-4682.

Past President Mary Beil was thanked for all her hard work this past year in reviving the club and dealing with the RV Lot issues. Thank you, Mary!

As mentioned in last month's LVRV Club article, campouts have already been scheduled for January, February, March and April of 2015. March will find us heading up the coast to Monterey; dates and campground to be determined. April is the So Cal Good Sam Club Samboree at Golden Village Palms in Hemet; dates are April 16-18.

For more information on these campouts and other information about the Leisure Village RV Club, contact President Jack Miller at 233-

The Booster Club

By Lin Grant

The success of the Booster Club is measured in fundraising and goodwill. In 2014, the club fared well in both areas. Over the last few years, tens of thousands of dollars have been donated back to the Village. Planning for 2015 events will take place at our next meeting, the third Monday in January at 7 p.m. in the MPR. If your club or committee needs financial support, please let us help you raise the money. Also, Walk of Celebration bricks will again be sold, beginning in February. We look forward to a few more Village Feud game shows with surveys taken from our own residents. We need new members and we hope you'll join us Help us make 2015 our best year ever.

LV New York Club

By Frank Seiden

The New York Club presents a double whammy in February. First is our regular meeting on Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m., which will be a good time to enroll for 2015 membership at $10 per member. Entertainment will be the Tweedle Dee Divas, vocalists presenting lively songs.

A special event will be on Sunday, Feb. 5, at 3 p.m. in the AR, when we shall offer the outstanding Sandy Hackett Family Show. Sandy and his vocalist wife, Lisa Dawn Miller, will have you laughing at unique humor and swaying to lively rhythms. Sandy, being Buddy Hackett's son, brings his own brand of humor sprinkled with his father's and anecdotes about his father. Tickets for the Sandy Hackett show are $10 for everyone (a change from $12 for non-members) and are available at the LV Box Office in the

Players Guild

By Joyce Belcher

Hope everyone had a happy holiday. On Jan. 15 we will start our year with a very special show. After a short meeting we will present a musical vignette of one of the longest running off-Broadway shows, "I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change." It's directed by Diane Carroll, and Joyce Schifanelli is the musical director. It is a hysterical and sometimes poignant show about relationships that everyone can relate to. Please don't miss this show. Of course, refreshments always follow. Oh, and don't forget membership dues are due in January — only $10 for 2015. For

LV Women's Golf

By Patti Crichton

December has flown by. We celebrated the season on Dec. 10 with our annual holiday luncheon and gift exchange.

The weather has been rainy and wet, which has meant less golf, but green fairways. We feel fortunate to be able to play on such a lovely golf course. Thank you to Mike Udem and his crew for all of their diligence in maintaining the course.

Our first scheduled tournament is Wednesday, Jan. 7, at 8:30 a.m. Jan. 14 is morning golf and meeting at 2 p.m. in the MPR. Jan. 21 is regular golf, and Jan. 28 is a Special Tournament.

Please remember to mark your calendars for the Chili Bowl mixed tournament and luncheon on Sunday, Jan. 25, hosted by the women.

Women's Club

By Chitose Chun

The Women's Club starts the year with a visit from the "Royals." Queen Elizabeth I ruled during the Golden Age of English history and remains one of the most admired monarchs of all times. She will appear on stage as portrayed by Val Rains. Val has extraordinary talent and expertise, not just researching facts and history but delving into the personality and allowing us to get to know Queen Elizabeth as a woman.

Do not miss this great performance and bring your friends to the AR on Jan. 8 at 1:30 p.m. Many of you will remember Val Rains from the Eleanor Roosevelt show. Everyone is invited.

For more information, contact Shearon Millar, president, at 603-2773.

Showtyme

By Joyce Schifanelli

On Friday, Dec. 12, more than 400 people were in attendance in the AR for Showtyme's "Holiday Surprise" show. Of course, no one but Producer/Director Paul Schifanelli and Associate Producer Jennifer Stein and a very few (need to know) people were privy to the theme of the show: special recognition of Phil Kamens and his wife Libby, for serving more than a decade as producer of Showtyme's monthly shows.

Santa Claus, our very own Jeffrey McElderry, and two full grown elves, Michael Stein and Chuck Kiskaden, delivered Phil's favorite vocalist, Bonnie Bowden, whom Phil first introduced to the Leisure Village stage several years ago. Bonnie was joined by vocalists Kelli Kay and Rick Jarrett and guitarist Paul S. Schifanelli. The show featured an eclectic mix of holiday, popular and classical music. During the show, Phil held Bonnie's hand and said, "This is the best surprise I've ever had."

Billiards Club

By Patrick Price

Attention members: It's time to renew your membership for 2015. You can drop your check for $7 in the box on the Billiards Club bulletin board. Member information should also be entered or updated at this time to make our new directory accurate. Membership cards are near the check box and can also be deposited there. Or, see any Billiards Club board member about any of this.

Congratulations to new Billiards Club president, Chuck Kiskaden.

There is a 14-1 tournament scheduled in February. Sign-up sheets will be in the billiards room in mid-January. Stay tuned for more information.

The next meeting is Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 7:30 p.m. Snack donations are always welcome at the "after meeting" in the Garden Room. Come join our popular Thursday night challenge. Be there about 6 p.m. to sign up.

Also, there is the fun LCR game in the Lanai Room for those not playing pool.

Racquet Club

By Leslie Fox

The Dec. 17 meeting was indeed a special one, with a special guest: Lane's mother, Ernie Petersen (V. 6) joining us. The tribute to Lane was a pictorial review of his life, beginning with Ernie holding Lane as a toddler, continuing through his childhood, his teen marriage to our Marq, all the way to being grandparents, and of course many pictures of Lane's times on the paddle court. At the conclusion, President Diane Carroll read a beautiful and fitting poem in Lane's honor. This was truly wonderful, and we know Lane enjoyed it too!

During the meeting, plans for our second annual New Year's Eve potluck were decided. Paddle tennis for those wanting to play will begin at 2:30 p.m., followed by the potluck at 5:30 p.m. in the Santa Rosa Room. A sign-up sheet for attendance and the dish you wish to bring is posted on the bulletin board.

Trish announced that the paddle tennis league will begin the week of Jan. 5 and run until Feb. 28, with rescheduling for any rainy days (and we do hope there are some).

The schedule for play remains the same:

- Round Robin begins at 3 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday.
- Easy play Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday 8 to 9 a.m.
- Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 11 a.m., and Friday

On the lighter side

Here are some impossibilities in the world:

1. You can't count your hair.

nights at 3 p.m. is open to all.

- Advanced players are late afternoon on Saturday and Sunday.
- Pickle Ball has regularly scheduled times on Monday and Wednesday from 9 to 11 a.m.

This leaves all of us with a lot of open hours for both pickle ball and paddle tennis, so if you are so inclined, call your fellow players and have fun!

New players interested in paddle tennis or tennis call Diane Carroll at 419-4325 and for pickle ball, call John Peterson at 388-1230.

Dear Christine

Bondholder and Rising Interest Rates
 By Christine Sztukowski

Dear Christine,
 Is it true that when interest rates go up bond prices go down?

Bondholder

Dear Bondholder,

It is true that a rise in either interest rates or inflation rate will tend to cause the price of existing bonds and bond funds to drop. If and when the Federal Reserve Board does start raising the interest rates it would not only impact housing loan rates but it could impact the market value of your existing bonds and bond funds.

Why is this so?

As interest rate raise and new bonds are issued they pay a higher interest rate making newly issued bonds more desirable while leaving existing bonds paying lower interest rates less valuable causing the price to go down.
