Dear Mrs. Tolmach :

It has been quite a while since I last spoke with you, and I thought that today would be a good day to get caught up on my correspondence. As you can see, I'm now into a new career, and am no longer in law school.

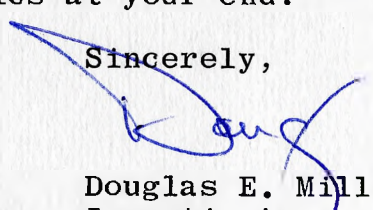

Mr. Belli has taken me onto his staff as an investigator for his S.F. and L.A. offices, with my principle base being here in the Bay Area. For the past 8 - 10 weeks I've been all over the West handling the most varied and challenging assignments.

Incidentally, I believe that I mentioned to you that I was to have been married last summer. Well, shortly prior to the wedding we called the entire thing off, so this job fits nicely into the life of a bachelor.

With my man Jesse now officially into the race I suppose things are really jumping down your way. Here's a little item I think you might be more than casually interested in, and I pass in on to you in confidence: a close working companion of mine is deeply involved in the Alioto investigation, and it appears conclusively that Look was extremely factual in its article, and for sure Mr. Alioto has very little if any legal case against them. In my friends words, "they (Look) have him cold". How 'bout that!!

If you have a minute, I'd love to hear what's going on in local and statewide politics at your end.

Sincerely,

Douglas E. Millham
