

Thus, excluding costs that relate to capital outlay (i.e., building amortization), the average cost of education per FTE student is $7,568. Of this amount, the average student fee support per FTE is $1,106. The calculation for this latter amount includes the amount paid by nonresident students.

<sup>b</sup> The total cost of education does not include the amount related to lottery and the capital investment of the CSU. The estimated replacement cost of all the system's permanent facilities and equipment on the 20 campuses is currently valued at $6.5 billion, excluding the cost of land.

<sup>d</sup> The average costs paid by a student include the state university fee, application fee and nonresident tuition. Individual students may pay less than $1,106 depending on whether they are part-time, full-time, resident or nonresident students.

Debts Owed to the Institution

Should a student or former student fail to pay a debt owed to the institution, the institution may "withhold permission to register, to use facilities for which a fee is authorized to be charged, to receive services, materials, food or merchandise, or any combination of the above from any person owing a debt" until the debt is paid (see Title 5, California Code of Regulations, Sections 42380 and 42381). For example, the institution may withhold permission to receive official transcripts of grades from any person owing a debt. If a student believes that he or she does not owe all or part of an unpaid obligation, the student should contact the campus business office. The business office, or another office on campus to which the student may be referred by the business office, reviews the pertinent information, including information the student may wish to present, and advises the student of its conclusions with respect to the debt.
