

CONTINUING EDUCATION AND SUMMER SESSIONS

Note: Students enrolling in summer session or extension are not required to be officially admitted to the university. Graduate students see also School of Graduate Studies.

EXTENSION CLASSES

The university offers a wide variety of extension courses to assist in meeting the educational needs of the four-county service area. Courses are arranged in an area when the student demand is adequate to finance the instruction. Matriculation is not required for enrollment.

Unit Restrictions

Baccalaureate degree: Extension and correspondence credit limited to 24 units. Up to 24 semester units of extension credit may be transferred from accredited institutions, provided the credit would have been acceptable toward a baccalaureate degree had it been earned as residence credit, and provided it would be acceptable toward a degree offered by the institution where it was earned.

Master's degree: Extension, transfer, and correspondence credit limited to a maximum of 6 units of the 30 units required for the degree. (Consult the Graduate Office for information concerning the use of specific courses.)

The university permanent records will show extension work only at the request of the matriculated student. For information regarding courses, course fees, and instructional costs, write to the Dean of Continuing Education and Summer Sessions, California State University, Fresno.

SUMMER SESSIONS

Summer sessions are conducted at CSUF beginning at the close of the spring semester. The second session includes classes held on the Fresno campus, at Visalia, and at other valley locations. Completion of a maximum of eleven weeks is possible in a single summer.

Summer session students are permitted to carry a maximum of seven units for credit during the six-week session. In the second sessions, scheduled for the Fresno Campus and the College of the Sequoias Campus in Visalia, students are permitted to carry a maximum of six units for credit during the five-week sessions. Second session students are cautioned that if they expect to earn six units of credit, they must use the full five weeks for classes.

Students attending a combination of the Fresno first session and either of the second sessions may earn a total of 13 units of credit during the summer toward a degree or credential.

The courses offered are planned to meet the requirements of baccalaureate and master's degree program, credential programs, the needs of in-service professional people, and to provide for intensive practical work in areas such as music, drama, and fields of education.

A Summer Session Bulletin is published each March. For information, write to the Dean of Continuing Education and Summer Sessions, California State University, Fresno.
