Dear Miss Morgan:

In answer to your telegram I think it would be better if you would not come down until the end of next week, when you will have practically all the plans that we need.

I don't know where to locate the bunk house. I am only sure of one thing, that I don't want it where it is. I think that whole section where the house is should be graded and laid out in grounds for the house and whatever immediately belongs to the house.

I think we should have the approach from the bay as we have planned it and I think we should have the out-buildings where they will not only not be objectionable, but will be interesting in the landscape proposed.

When you come down we will have to decide whether we want the ranch establishment and farm house together or whether we want them separate, as we had formerly thought.

I think Parks is so much more amenable than Lee that we don't have to take into consideration the difficulties that we would have had with Lee, and possibly we can put the whole institution into one rather imposing community.

Sincerely yours,

W. R. Hearst
