Time Of Use Plan Can Save On Home Electric Bills

By Phil Belsky

There is still no cost advantage to replace Southern California Edison Company with an alternate electrical service provider until the year 2002. At that time certain additional charges on our present So. Cal. Edison Co. electrical bills mandated by the California Electric Utility Commission will be eliminated. This will not only reduce our electrical costs about 15% in addition to the 10% we now receive, but also make our residential electrical service load attractive to alternate service providers.

In the meantime there is another way to reduce your present electrical energy costs if you are willing to schedule the time of use for the major electrical loads in your home. Most Leisure Village residents are billed by So. Cal. Edison on an electrical energy rate schedule known as Domestic or D schedule at about 12 cents per KWH (Kilowatt Hour).

There is an alternate So. Cal. Edison rate schedule available for residential service known as Time of Use or TOU-D1 or TOU-D2 at a lower cost during certain hours and months of the year but with definite user time restrictions.

Time of Use schedule is suitable for those who can schedule most of their daily electrical power usage from 6 p.m. to 10 a.m. This is known as the Off Peak period when normal demand and cost for So. Cal. Edison electrical power is at its lowest. Your Off Peak electricity will cost about 8 cents

Senior Memory Project Seeks Volunteers

By Lillian Hawthorne

The Board of Directors has approved a proposal for a research project by the Andrus Gerontology Center of the University of Southern California to study possible effects of mood on memory in older people. The project will be conducted by Dr. Bob Knight, of the Andrus Center, with the assistance of graduate students at the University, and will be coordinated with Education/Recreation Committee.

Participants in the project will meet here at Leisure Village in small assigned groups of 5-10 people. They will first fill out a basic questionnaire and a preliminary mood and memory test. Then they will view selected visual material and read selected written material designed to create reactions of pleasure or sadness. Finally they will complete another memory test to determine possible effects of these different emotions. The entire procedure will take approximately 90 minutes.

The purpose of this research is to better understand whether particular feelings can effect memory

Grand Opening Ceremonies Launch Rec Annex

By Lois Atz

The big day was Monday, May 24 for the ribbon cutting ceremony and grand opening of the Recreation Center Annex. After 6 months of planning and construction, villagers have additional rooms for their activities.

This event was announced and promoted on Channel 8 for a week prior to the opening. Among those attending were Randy Watkins, General Manager, who opened the short ceremony. Board President Bo Humphrey then cut the ribbon and Milan Weiss, project coordinator, handed the drawings used on the project to Susan Rockwell, Recreation Center Manager. Also attending were Chief Cody Madison and Lieutenant Randy Haumann of the Security Department. Debra McAdams and the staff of the Recreation Center provided refreshments.

The new computer lab was a favorite spot to visit. This room is equipped with both PC and Macintosh computers arranged along the walls with chairs in the center for class instruction. Many also viewed the Hospitality Room which was furnished with several sofas for conversational groups, a large screen television set, an old time player piano with music rolls, a game table, a puzzle table and a small kitchen equipped with a refrigerator, sink, disposal, microwave and a coffee pot. Much of these furnishings were donated by residents and the Single Active Seniors Group.

and, if so, in what ways. This information can then be used in the future in prevention or treatment of memory loss among older people.

The group meetings will take place during the months of July and August. The exact dates, times and places in Leisure Village will be announced on Channel 8. Volunteers are being sought to participate in the study. The only re-

INSIDE LEISURE VILLAGE

It's OK To Buy Green Bananas

With the election behind us, a new Board of Directors in charge and a new budget in place, it is time to look ahead to see what is in store for the Village in the coming year.

There are several programs in place, such as the second year of the five year street rehabilitation project, the ongoing dwelling painting program, the continuing replacement of roofs, the tree removal and replacement project and revised pruning and landscaping practices.

The major capital improvement planned for this year includes renovation of the pool and its supporting systems. The Building Code has become stricter over the years and the 25-year old pool needs a lot of work. The pool will be out of service for a couple of months, so the reconstruction will be done this Fall, after the summer season.

All of these activities relate to maintenance of the Village, tasks that must be accomplished to keep the Village as attractive as it was when we purchased homes here and, most importantly, make it appealing to future homeowners.

Last year's Board of Directors elected to embark on these programs realizing that they would be costly. It was necessary to "bite the bullet" and initiate the programs because we could not allow the Village to deteriorate further. We urge the new Board, and the ones that will follow, to complete these projects.

The matter of earthquake insurance, and how the residents wish to handle it, is of great importance to many. The insurance policy was renewed this month. Now the new Board is charged with calling a Town Hall meeting in the AR to discuss a possible change to self-insurance. If that direction is of interest to many, the Board must draft measures to alter the Village CC&Rs and have all homeowners vote on them. This process will take months to accomplish. Meanwhile, the retiring Board has paid our earthquake propection for another calendar year, while we debate future plans.

Hey, You!

I'm going to depart from my usual critical observations and address a subject of a personal nature that has troubled me for some time. My subject is memory, one of the great attributes of us humans.

Like many of you, my memory is not what it used to be. I have a problem that I'm sure is not mine alone. I remember a great many people here in the Village by sight. But much too often names escape me. Recently I said to one of my friends, a retired doctor, "Hey, Doc, tell me how do I overcome the problem of being unable to recall peoples' names?" He rested his hand on my shoulder, smiled and said, "Join the club. I'm the chairman."

I decided to reach out for help, and invested in a book, "Mastering Your Memory," but it didn't do me much good. After reading the introduction, I put it down and went to bed. That was a month ago, and I haven't found it yet because I can't remember where I put

In recent days I've had a problem at home, but fortunately I was able to solve it by getting my wife's attention with a loud "Hey, you." That works at home, but it's not so good out around the Village. How many people can you name "Hey, you."

So now I have a suggestion. We all have name badges. If you don't have one, they can be had free just for the asking at the Association office. Why don't we have a crusade and determine never to leave the house without pinning that badge to our chest for all the world to see? That way we'll save ourselves and our fellow villagers the embarrassment of trying to figure out how to get past that "Hey, you" moment, and for our own enlightenment, in case we should get disoriented, we can always refer to the badge and clue ourselves in as to who WE are. And, if we're out walking it might be a good idea to take along a few crackers to hold us over in case we lose ourselves in the maze of Villages. It's bad enough to get lost without the added discomfort of being hungry.

I just talked to "Hey, you," and she said my name and address is

To all my friends at Leisure Village, I can't begin to tell you how wonderful it felt to receive all those cards, tributes, telephone calls and goodies, all wishing me well. Thank you one and all from the bottom of my heart.

To all of you who sent cards, gave tributes, made phone calls and came to visit Joe Kremer during his recent hospital stay, we say "thank you." Joe's knee surgery went well and he's looking forward to seeing all of you both on the golf course and at the bowling alley real soon. Thanks again.

I want to thank all our friends and neighbors for their good wishes, cards and calls during Al Law's illness. He's trying very hard to get back to the real Al that loves his motor home, dancing and paddle tennis. Thanks, for your caring and concern.

To Club Reporters

Unfortunately ILV is still in flux over how to handle the club and group news. This issue displays a mixture of approaches.

ILV put a notice on channel 8 for a week prior to the deadline, which some reporters saw, but many did not. The gist of the announcement was that we want news for FUTURE dates and events, and that material on PAST dates would seldom be used. This issue has some of both. Generally, April & May dated material was cut, but some June dates are printed. These club reports are NOT to be the same as MINUTES of your meetings. April meetings are old, old news by the end of June!

Much work went in to setting up an ILV Club Directory. Please check the listing of your group and let us know if corrections are needed. Special FUTURE events, such as outside speakers or election of new officers, will merit an additional story.

Let's work together to evolve to a reasonable plan for handling the clubs and groups.

ABOUT NEXT MONTH

Deadline for the July 30, 1999 issue will be Monday, July 12, 1999 at 5:00 p.m. To arrange for a photographer, call coordinator at least 3 days in advance. Do not call photographer. Type copy double space or submit hand written material early to allow for typing.

Library

By Marilyn Holthouse
LIBRARY FACTS YOU MAY NOT KNOW —

Do you know that the Leisure Village Library has magazines to share? After last month's article on books, I received a phone call reminding me that it also has many magazines.

Yes, the Library has a good supply of the classic magazines: National Geographic, The New Yorker and Smithsonian. Also, current copies of travel, business, sports, computers and news magazines.

As with books, the Library is dependent on donations for the magazine shelves. Current magazines are welcome and are considered "current" for two months.

Come into the Library, relax in the pleasant surroundings, and browse your favorite donated magazine.

per KWH in the Winter period, October to May, and about 9 cents per KWH in the Summer period, June through September. However, On Peak electricity, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., costs about 12 1/2 cents per KWH in the Winter period, and about 43 cents per KWH in the Summer period. Weekends and Holidays are considered Off Peak all year.

You can see that On Peak electricity during the summer months from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. is very expensive. There is, in addition, a monthly charge for the special meter So. Cal. Edison installs on your home for TOU recording.

The heavy electrical loads in your all electric home which create the major charges on your electrical bill and which you need to shift for use between 6 p.m. and 10 a.m., if possible, are as follows:

- Air Conditioner
- Home Heating System

- Stove
- Clothes washer
- Clothes dryer
- Hot water heater

If you make extensive use of your air conditioner during the daytime summer months TOU schedule may not be for you. Otherwise, if you presently use up to 500 KWHRS per month or less, TOU-D1 is the appropriate schedule to try. For loads above 500 KWHRS use TOU-D2. Your summer month bills will be higher on the TOU schedule than your present 'D' schedule, but winter months can be considerably less, more than offsetting your summer charges.

Our own home has been on TOU schedule for several years. We estimate savings varying from 10% to 15% per year. The amount you save will vary from year to year depending on how you schedule the use of your electricity.

Know Your Community Resources: AREA AGENCY ON AGING

By Lillian Hawthorne

Approximately 20 years ago, the federal government passed the Older Americans Act which mandated that each state set up special area agencies to provide services and resources for seniors, defined as people age 60 and over. There are now 33 such agencies throughout the state of California, including the Ventura Area Agency on Aging which serves this county.

Through this legislation, the federal government provides funds to the states which, in turn, disburse them to the various areas to support certain mandated services for seniors. These include the following: senior nutrition and home delivered meals; elder abuse assistance; training for gainful employment; legal services; Medicare counseling; Ombudsman assistance; Alzheimer's day care programs. The specific programs may vary in different communities or counties because of the different needs of the senior populations. However, the general and underlying purpose of all these services is to maintain and support for as long as possible, independent living for seniors.

The Ventura Area Agency on Aging is administered by Executive Director Colleen House; and it is composed of senior volunteers representing all 10 cities in the county. There are two representatives for each city, one delegate and one, who may be either supervisorial appointees or city council representatives. In either case, it is the function of these members to represent the needs and resources of their particular communities.

The Area Agency on Aging meets once per month and, at these meetings, performs the following activities: hears comments from community councils, hears reports from the California Senior Legislature and other senior organizations, reviews pending legislation related to seniors, reviews reports from designated task forces, hears applications for funding for new proposals for senior services) and listens to comments or requests from the public. The Agency also publishes a senior resource directory, and it monitors and reviews all the programs which it funds.

During the past year, the Area Agency has considered requests for 13 new senior programs, and has approved the following: temporary safe shelters for victims of elder abuse, resources for caretaker respite, "shop at home" assistance for home-bound seniors, and funding to increase multi-purpose resources at senior centers.

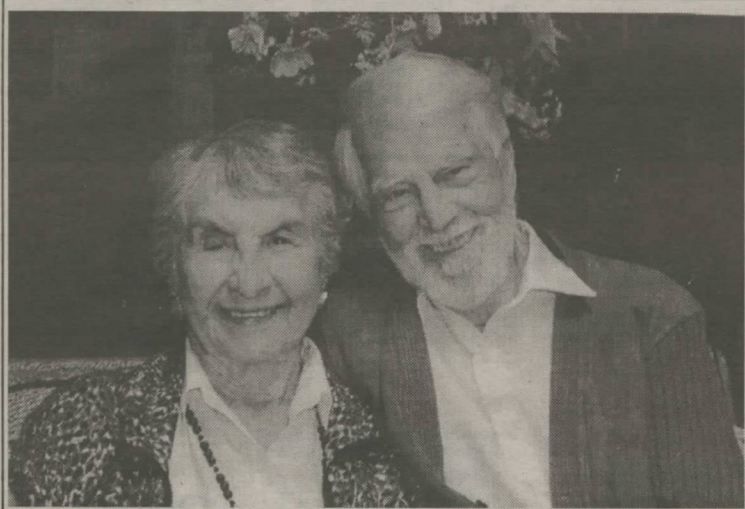

Darlene Benz, who is a coordinator at the Camarillo Health Care District, serves as Camarillo delegate to the Ventura Area Agency on Aging. She has been active in the Area Agency for six years, moving up from observer status to alternate to delegate, and currently serves as chairperson. Ms. Benz described the work of the Area Agency as making possible through approving, funding and supporting programs that enhance the lives of seniors in Ventura County.

She stated that the Agency is looking for new members, and encouraged interested seniors to apply because, in her words, "this is a way you can make a difference." If you are interested in applying for, or learning further about, the Area Agency on Aging, please call (805) 641-4420 or (800) 510-2020.

Profile: Bud Maron, V 3

By Jack Whalen

When he says most single men in Leisure Village "have lost their flirting skills" he's shooting straight from the hip. Meet Bud Maron of Village 3 who hopes in time to change the thinking of many of his peers.

A native of New Jersey, Bud saw brief military service, then graduated from Rutgers University with a BS in education, followed by a year at Columbia where he earned a MA in education.

He left the East Coast, traveled to Oxnard where, in 1949 he taught history and was a counselor for one year at Oxnard High School.

"There was really no challenge to teaching," he reports, and became owner and manager of a lithograph business in Oxnard.

That was a 40-year operation and in 1991 he ventured into the commercial real estate field and continues it to this day, on a small scale.

"Locating and living here is the very best thing that ever happened to me," he says with a broad smile. "I am divorced, in good health, physically active and constantly seek challenges."

Very active in the Single Active Seniors group, he believes the Village should have a social director and an ombudsperson to give direction to the well over a thousand single people.

"Men especially," he says, "are often shy, lonely and alone. They do not have the relationships with other men the way ladies meet and enjoy common interests."

He has two sons, one an ER surgeon on a hospital staff, the other a computer specialist.

Bud is a self starter. He cycles daily, uses the pool, does much walking and spends time in the library. When asked if he likes to travel, his answer is, "What and miss all the fun here? This is paradise with a capital P."

More about the Annex! Single Active Seniors are very proud of and wish to congratulate Bobby Comer, who, almost single handedly, obtained donations of furniture, pictures, a refrigerator, microwave, and other necessary items to enhance the Social Room in the new Annex. In addition, all the proceeds from the club's table at the recent Spring Cleaning Sale are earmarked for furnishing the Social Room.

Thanks to the following for their very generous donations: Sylvia Tockerman, Matt Macchio, Harold and Yetta Brodsky, Kelly and Rob Heller, the estate of Seymour Fisher, and of course Single Active Seniors!

Lee Edwards To Retire

By Jack Whalen

She has been a fixture on Channel 8 for so-o many years and has decided it's time to take a break. And who can blame Lee Edwards? For the past 6 or 7 years, regular as clock work she has given 3 movie reviews the second Monday at 5 p.m. on Channel 8.

She would give her views (as well as husband Jimmy's) in great details, never with notes, always speaking extemporaneously and with great animation. Then, with a wave of the arms stating, "Now for the ending and if you don't want to know how it comes out, turn down your TV, and when I wave my arms again, you may turn-up the volume."

Some of her truly memorable film reviews included "Evita," "The Horse Whisperer," and "Titanic."

Lee made her decision to cancel her reviews for a while so she can enjoy films without having to make mental notes of dozens upon dozens of situations.

Lee Edwards will also be remembered for her series "Shopping in the Leisure Village Mall." This program involved reading the For Sale items from the LV bulletin board. This program was appreciated by those who had difficulty getting to the Rec. Center. Here "Lost and found" brought laughs and, on occasion, the return of lost items.

She will also be remembered for her on-camera series "Voice of the Village" for the sight-impaired. Her audience will miss Lee and her enthusiasm, her spirited manner and her winning way of telling us the way it is!

are occupied by the Village Room, to be used as a general meeting room, and space for playing table tennis, which also can be used by the Players Guild to build sets.

The building was originally constructed by Leisure Technology, developer of the Village, as a shuffleboard court. The original twelve courts proved to be excessive so the Village put a roof over half of the space and used the area for storage. To convert this space to the current use, many features had to be added. Air conditioning, heating and lighting were added, a sprinkler system was installed and the restrooms were converted to unisex capability to conform to ADA requirements. New walls were put in place to define the areas and much of the floor was carpeted.

Even if you missed the opening ceremony, you should go to see and use this new facility. It is located south of the pool, west of the picnic area and bounded by the golf course on the other two sides. All rooms are open to residents except the computer lab which is accessible when classes are offered. Otherwise Computer Club members will be issued keys to the locked room. This control system is similar to that used for the Exercise Room.

It was necessary to bring in a water line from Village 8 to provide water for the fire sprinkler system. A major change in the main electrical panel was required to supply electrical power for the air conditioning. The gas line from the pool heater was extended to bring gas to the heating system.

Six months ago the Board of Directors accepted, with great pleasure, the offer of Milan Weiss, V.38, to serve as the volunteer Project Coordinator to oversee the performance of the various subcontractors who made the changes to the building. LV Resident Services furnished additional labor to install the drywall and paint the rooms. Phil Belsky, V.44, volunteered to design the electrical system, including the constant voltage power supply for the computer room.

On May 16, Milan Weiss submitted to the Board of Directors a report on the final job cost of $118,893 which was $35,512 under the budgeted figure.

Villagers who enjoy the new facilities should join in thanking the talented residents who donated so many hours to this project to enhance the retirement time of everyone.

Resident Services crew spent hours on dry walling the annex and painting.

The Village Painters

By Ruth Miller

The Village Painters usually meet on the first Wednesday of each month. After May's meeting, with an informative presentation on Art Therapy by Ruth Miller, M.A., CET (Creative Expressive Therapist), and June's meeting with a fantastic demonstration of woodwork and painting by Les Merchant, the Painters are going to play in July. This will involve a picnic lunch and games, and will take place in the picnic area.

An open invitation is hereby extended to those who have any interest in art at all. The club presents various demonstrations of different art media and is the moving force behind the Leisure Village Arts and Crafts Show in the Fall. The Village Painters also are the sponsor of the Art Class which meets every Monday from 1 to 3 in the Lanai Room. This class is open to all Villagers, experienced artists and beginners alike. For information about the class or the club, call Ruth Miller, 482-3471.

Do join the art lovers of the Village at its annual summer picnic, July 7, in the picnic area at 1:00 p.m.

The Hoofers would welcome new dancers with some tap background. Lessons are Thursday 9:30 a.m. and practice is Monday and Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the AR.

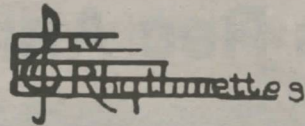

Call Ida Zeller 484-9882 or Helen Gold 987-2494 for further information.

Villager's Granddaughter In Women's Softball
By Jack Whalen

Marty Gregory of V. 32 has to be the happiest grandmother in LV these days as granddaughter, Stacey Nuveman and the UCLA women's softball team were again crowned national champions.

Stacey, catcher of the champion Bruins, won the semi-final game with a mighty double in the first overtime inning during a thrilling game against DePaul, a close 2-1 ballgame. The next day they played the U of Washington for the title and won a closely fought game 3-2.

Both games were telecast over ESPN2 and the announcers stated that Stacey is easily the nation's top woman softball star. Marty was back in Oklahoma City for both games, of course.

Listen to a comment from one of our satisfied clients:

A heartfelt note of thanks to you for the incredible service you provided Dan and me when we sold my parents' home in Leisure Village. Your extensive knowledge of the Village coupled with your skill and expertise in real estate took the burden of selling their home off our shoulders and allowed us to focus on my mom and her needs. Please know how much we appreciated your help, kindness, and hard work. You were never too busy to answer our questions or take care of "one more thing," you always returned our calls promptly, and you became an extra source of support for us during a most difficult time. Our thanks also goes to your daughter, Corrine. She, too, was as delightful to work with as you were.
