

The background image is a photograph of a modern building with a grid-like facade, likely a university building, taken at night. The building is illuminated from within, and its architectural details like rectangular panels and circular motifs are visible. A tall, thin light pole stands in the foreground. The entire image is overlaid with a semi-transparent orange filter. A dense field of white stars and a bright nebula are superimposed on the sky portion of the image, creating a celestial theme.

Fresno State

---

Reach for the Stars