

EDITOR'S CORNER

The lead ILV article gives you information about a candidate forum being held in October. Our residents in Leisure Village tend to get comfortable with our community, effectively run by our Board of Directors and full-time staff. We seem to be a city unto itself, protected by our very effective security force. It is easy to forget that we are part of the City of Camarillo and are governed by its ordinances and policies. The governing body, the Camarillo City Council makes decisions that affect the entire city, of which Leisure Village is a part. That is why it is important to know the candidates for election to the city council and understand the important issues they will be considering. Attend the forum – it will be worth your time.

Another item of interest: Jerry Sortomme, Chairperson of our Residential Landscape Committee, has begun a series of articles about the flowers, plants and trees that adorn the Village. As a retired professor of Environmental Horticulture, his articles explain why our leafy neighbors add so much to the community. Enjoy his insights!

Pre-Election Forums Set For Leisure Village

As the November elections approach, residents will have the opportunity to get information first-hand about several upcoming contests. Candidates for the Camarillo City Council will participate in an open forum in the Village on Thursday, October 11 at 7:00 p.m. in the AR. Nine candidates are running for three seats on the Council. Each will have the opportunity to make opening and closing statements and answer questions from the audience. Villager Dick Guttman will be the moderator. The candidates are Charlotte Craven, Bev Dransfeldt, Susan Santagelo, Jessica Romero, Shawn Mulchay, Mike Morgan, Jan McDONald, Daniel Goldberg, and Angus Simmons.

Also on the agenda that night will be explanations of two proposals regarding term limits for

City Council members, an issue that is also on the November ballot. Resolution 2018-54 would impose a lifetime limit of “two four-year terms.” Resolution 2018-21 would limit members to “no more than three consecutive four-year terms.”

Later in October, Steven Z. Perren, former Associate Justice on the California Court of Appeals, will present to Villagers a non-partisan explanation of the eleven statewide propositions on the ballot. The subjects of the propositions range from a bond to support more affordable housing statewide to a question about implementing daylight savings time year-round to reconsidering the gas tax. Check eNews and LVTv for the exact date and time of that forum.

‘Heard any Good Books Lately?’

■ Audiobook narrations keep Villager busy.

By Patty Ecker

It sounds like a routine question: “Read any good books lately?” The answer by Villager John Mayer is anything but routine. John responds with a laugh, “Yes, nearly fifty!”

What he describes as the “latest lap” of his decades-long career as a performer and voiceover commercial actor is John’s work as a narrator of audiobooks. He’s recorded forty-nine so far, giving voice to subjects ranging from important figures in American history, contemporary journalism about Middle East terrorism, some fiction, even “Og the Frog” for younger readers. John says, “I found something I love, and I’m happy to still be working.”

John began his career in film work (behind the scenes and on screen) after graduating from UCLA’s Theatre Arts School. It wasn’t long before his voice attracted attention. He recorded the in-flight tapes for Air Force One during the Clinton years. Film narration and commercials followed, along with a stint with the Groundlings, LA’s well-known improvisation group. “I knew I was getting older, which affects the jobs available. But fortunately, my voice didn’t age,” John explains. “And I was always open to work a new opportunity.”

And so began his “latest lap.” John auditioned for and got his first job as the narrator for an audio book. “I got the job for being real,” he recalls. “I narrate like someone telling a story to a friend; I do not act out each character.” He admits it’s not easy work. He records in a studio for five to six hours at a time. He familiarizes himself with the book, not necessarily reading every word before he goes into the booth, but getting the sense of what and how the author writes.

LV Security Fleet Begins a Makeover

The Village's fleet of security vehicles took on a new look recently with the addition of this Ford pickup truck. The 2018 F150 replaces an aging Dodge sedan and has been welcomed enthusiastically by the Safety and Security officers. "They sit higher in the cab than they do in the cars," explains Chief Manny Segovia. "So they have a much better field of vision." Eventually, all the old sedans will be replaced by trucks, an economical as well as functional decision, because the trucks can be 'retired' for further use by LV's maintenance crew.

A Special Sight - The Africa Tulip Tree

By Jerry Sortomme

LV Residential Landscape Committee,
Chairperson

There is a relatively newly planted boulevard tree that just began blooming in late August, this year. Most years it is an eye-catcher because this tree's early autumn flamboyant scarlet flowers are showing off, right now.

Your attention is directed to this lone LV species tree, the African Tulip tree. It is located along Leisure Village Drive, across the street from the south facing Village 13 roadside sitting bench. Very few ornamental trees in our Camarillo growing zones realm (Sunset Zones 21 & 23) have such a spectacular late growing season floral presentation. The tropical dark green compound leaves may be semi-deciduous in our Camarillo winters.

The tree's Latin binomial name is Spathodea campanulata. This is a tender, subtropical climate species that successfully adapts to our Village Mediterranean climate. Its origin is tropical Africa, and is commonly seen growing in Hawaiian rain forests. This species tree is a bit of a rarity in mild climate, coastal southern California.

Now, there is a weather boogie man that sometimes cuts the blooming duration of the tree in Camarillo. Fierce autumn season Santa Ana winds can assault and wither its large clusters of orange-red, four inch cupped blossoms. But if nature is kind, a month or more of stunning flowers are a gift to behold. It can grow 40 feet or more, with a width of 20 feet or more. It is a well behaved tree, but is an uncommon sight hereabouts.

Come glimpse this lovely tree.

This tree was purchased for the Boulevard Tree Program, that was paid for by Villagers' donations.

New Official Golf Rules Simplified

By Patrick Moore

It took a half-dozen years of planning and discussion, but the Royal and Ancient, and the United States Golf Association, have finally crafted what is touted as the new, modern rules of golf.

Thomas Pagel, USGA's senior director of rules and amateur status, said with over 30 years of tinkering, the rule book has become far too complex, "...in trying to make the rules more fair, they have become too complicated," Pagel said, "and that's not good for the game".

As a result, new rules will go into effect nation-wide beginning officially on January 1, 2019. There is, however, a caveat here for Leisure Village golfers; the LV Mens Golf Association voted at its July monthly meeting to adopt immediately the revised 2019 rules, both on the home course and regulation courses played once monthly outside the Village.

Patricia Turner, president of LV Womens' Golf Association, said WGA members also play under the new rules. So, Village players can now drop from knee-high rather than shoulder- high; will suffer no penalty if a club should touch the sand in a hazard, or if a ball hits an un-attended flagstick or accidentally moves while on the green.

Lowering the ball-drop to knee-high is intended to keep the ball from bouncing away from the expected drop location, yet maintain some element of randomness. The flagstick rule will allow players to lag-putt or finish a tap-in hole without having to wait for someone to first extract the stick.

Bunker rules changes are a considerable factor. A "general" touching sand with club or hand, without intentionally grounding the club-head, is permitted under the new rules, as is the removal of loose natural impediments such as rocks. Players can also declare a ball as unplayable in a bunker, take a two shot penalty and drop and play from outside the bunker.

Also on the rules modification list are such items as: eliminating penalties for accidentally moving a ball on the green or while searching for a lost ball, allowing three rather than five minutes time to search for a lost ball, and players can now repair spike marks or shoe prints on the putting green. Lost ball/out-of-bounds rules have changed as well. "It's the skill we are testing," Pagel said, "We're not testing whether you can navigate around a shoe print."

Judged the most comprehensive change in golf regulations since 1744, when the first book of golf rules was published, it is the only case in history when the rulebook actually got smaller with its creation. There are now 24 rules, down from 34, and replacing about 1,300 Decisions (Ed. note, cap D intentional.) in "The Official Guide to the Rules of Golf" for 2019.

Oh, and one more thing; this from the golf oddity department to address one of those rare and pesky accuracies when a ball flips back after being struck, and hits the club a second time. The double-hit, one-stroke penalty is no longer. "About damn time, Sergio!"

Included here is not a complete list of forthcoming new rules, but encompasses most at our LV course. A complete list can be found at www.usga.org/rules.

Realtor John Baker says “I always make it a point to show people the Fitness Center, and their reactions are very positive. The response we hear most is ‘Now I don’t have to leave the Village to workout!’”

However, Shelly and the team of volunteers don't want residents to become complacent and forget the workout rules and precaution. Here are some reminders.

This Villager illustrates LV's Fitness Center Rules. He is wearing proper shoes, using the treadmill's safety clip, and using correct hand grips.

- 1. When using the treadmill, always make sure the safety clip is attached to your clothing. Always!
- 2. Do not drop or slam the free weights.
- 3. No street shoes, sandals, or flip flops should be worn in the Fitness Center.
- 4. Don't drop or abruptly release the bars on the exercise machines. The value of the exercise includes the rigorous lift and the slow return.
- 5. Wipe down your hands and the equipment with sanitizing wipes.
- 6. Don't bring food or drinks other than water in the Center.
- 7. Don't be reluctant to ask questions about the proper use of the machines; the Recreation Office is a good place to inquire.
- 8. If you feel uncomfortable, don't use the machine.
- 9. Caregivers and guests (who must be over 18) must receive a safety orientation and can use the Fitness Center only when the resident is present.

He narrates an average of five books a year. John admits that narration can be “intense” sometimes, like the Mid-East terrorism book by Lawrence Wright. “The subject was tough; so were many of the names and places,” John says. “I could have a degree in history from all the non-fiction books.” But then he smiles at how much he’s learned. Just ask him anything about

John and Christina have lived happily in the Village for twelve years, and both are active in LV life. John served on the Board of Directors for six (non-consecutive) years. Happily, he only has to drive to the San Fernando Valley for recording sessions. So he's eager to find out what his next read will be, "It's great to still be active in a profession I enjoy so much."

CLUB IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Indeed, Vita, Harvey Is Real At the Players Guild

"Hm? What? Did you say something, Harvey?"

A famous line, that; It is from Mary Chase's 1944 Pulitzer Prize winning comedy depicting the wacky life and times of one Elwood P. Dowd and his imaginary nine-foot-tall lapin chum by the same name. "Harvey"-- immortalized in B&W celluloid by the incomparable Jimmy Stewart -- arguably the 20th Century's most beloved film actor -- is alive and ready for prime time in all its furry glory as next year's Leisure Village Players Guild feature, directed by Paul Newman, come next April.

Spring's big bunny notwithstanding, it is a cold, hard truth that Players Guild members are a category 5 force in the village any time of the year. Joyce Belcher, LV Players Guild president, said resident talent performs monthly -- every third Thursday evening -- in productions Guild members call workshops that are open to residents. "Each workshop can run 40 minutes to an hour and is free to Players Guild members." PG member/supporters, Belcher explained, are those who have paid a $10 membership fee to support the Guild for a year, and any Village resident can join. Non-members pay $10 per performance.

Every October, monthly workshop directors are selected by the PG board of directors. Production subject - comedy, musical, drama, etc. - and cast members are chosen by that month's director, and then, "they work hard for a month and a half in rehearsal before they open," Belcher said.

Set for Thursday, November 18, is "The Latin Show", Belcher said, a musical review directed by Vivian Hollander. The production features 23 singers and dancers performing familiar Latin music.

Production cast members are selected most frequently from among Village talent previously known by directors, Belcher said, but occasionally auditions are conducted for some parts. New performers are oft-times chosen from a Player's Guild Actors Class conducted by Helene Cohen. Any LV resident can enroll in the Actor's Class, Belcher said, but there is a 12-student limit to facilitate time management requirements.

Nevertheless, full auditions are always conducted each December to cast the major Players Guild April production. "It gives residents a chance to be on stage doing something they never thought they could do," Belcher said.

For those attending the April show, a $10 admission is charged for any one of the four day performances.

THE AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

By Jonathan Fox

At our September meeting, one of our members, Mike D'Amore, gave a presentation on a new digital mode that is being used to make distant shortwave contacts. What makes it better than those before is that it makes radio contacts quickly and can do so under the worst-case atmospheric conditions. We then moved the meeting from the MPR to the ham shack by the community garden to see a live demonstration. Continuing our focus on DX at our October 10 meeting, we will have two special guest speakers. DX is shorthand for making a two way radio contact with a distant station. Our guest speakers are Skip and Marilyn Bolnick from Woodland Hills. They will talk about trips to Curacao and Prince Edward Island where they used amateur radio to

BILLIARDS CLUB

By Patrick Price

Well, we're almost at the end of 2018 and I'm sure you'll agree, it was a great one. The 8 ball – 1 & 15 tournament is being played now and will continue until the 11th. Cheer on your favorite shooter.

Then, that leads up to the last membership meeting this year. It's on Thursday, October 25 at 5:30 p.m. in the AR. This will be a pot luck affair, so start planning those favorite dishes.

Also, at the meeting we will be collecting the $7 dues for the 2019 Billiards Club year. Exact change is appreciated, if paying cash. Checks accepted.

IN OTHER WORDS

By Frank Seiden

The October meeting dates for In Other Words will be on the tenth and 24th of October.

The lessons will discuss using unique language and how to make the opening of a poem or prose ear-catching for the reader. Unique word combinations add interest and make the reader think about what is said.

The lead to a prose piece or poem is what makes the reader what to continue reading; it excites interest.

We discuss the writing techniques of the items read and enjoy the varied subjects for people who have lived in different places and have had unusual experiences. It might be worth visiting a meeting to experience our dynamics.

We meet the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Some fine hand brings joy and order to men's eyes before we will likely mess it up again."

MEN'S GOLF

By Joseph Benti

For fifteen years, with rare exception, our club has had two forlorn-looking bulletin boards, usually tired, dull, worn, ignored, un-tended—in short, UGH!

Not being used to checking them out for anything more than handicaps and schedules, it was a shocking surprise to come across two show-stoppers, head-turners, and so much more. Some bulletin board genie had granted us an aesthetic wish, transforming our boards from cluttered chaos into exquisite feasts for the eyes. Now, someone made them as attractive, informative and as appealing as those of the nearby Women's Golf Club.

Clearly there, a miracle worker had joined us. Ray Craig, the only member of our thumb-heavy roster I recall, who once made an effort to spiff up the offerings, assured me he was out of that business. I soon learned that the mystery genie was not one of us. Rather, it is the good lady who has been doing the Women's Club Boards for months now, Mary Flosi (Tom's wife). One day, as she was beautifying the Women's Boards, she was filled with pity, along with the sense of order and decorating skill denied most men, she decided to do the same for us. The proof of Mary's kindness and beauteous eye for detail speaks for itself.

WOMEN'S GOLF

September was all about the Ringers Tournament for four weeks. Please check the Women's Golf bulletin board at the Clubhouse for results.

The Men's Golf Association hosted the mixed Harvest Tournament on September 25th followed by a Luncheon. Thank you!

The next Women's Golf meeting is October 10 in the Garden Room at 2pm. Come early at 1:30 for refreshments and buy your 50/50 tickets. Also, make sure you have put your dollar into the Hole in One pot. You never know!

WOODSHOP

By Bud Bradley

The Woodshop welcomes residents who are interested in joining our group of woodworkers. If you have interest and can demonstrate basic safety skills with equipment you wish to use, such as a sander, scroll saw, chops saw, band saw and drill press, please call Ron Quick at 805-603-8456. The Woodshop will be changing keys in the near future. Watch for important notifications.

Our Woodshop Committee members are available every Tuesday and Wednesday between 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 Noon to repair most wood items for Villagers. We gratefully accept donations to help defray the cost of normal materials and supplies. In that light, the Woodshop will be holding its Annual Yard Sale on October 20 and will gladly accept tools and other materials as donations to this worthy cause. Please contact project coordinator Bob Zarit at rmzarit3@yahoo.com for any questions or clarifications.

Through August 2018, the completed Jobs are as follows:

Resident Projects	167
LV/Club projects	29
Quickie projects	46

The Annex is set up with basic power tools and continues to add and update equipment and supplies. If you are a skilled craftsperson and can demonstrate those skills, you can gain access to more complex tools and equipment in the Main Wood Shop. Finally, a reminder to current key-holders: should you have completed a project that you would like to highlight, we will post a photo of it on the bulletin board outside the shop. Email your photo to Bud Bradley at Hipbud2@gmail.com, or bring a photo to the woodshop Tuesday or Wednesday a.m.

SATURDAY NIGHT DANCE PARTY

By Andrea Moran

Fall is around the corner and the leaves will be changing soon. We had great response to our dance lessons, which we take prior to the dance. Steve, our instructor, will be teaching different dance steps each dance. The instruction is included with admission from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m. We also have four hosts dancing with all the ladies.

Our schedule for October: 10/13 - John & John (Fall Festival) and 10/27 - Tropic Starr (Halloween). Our bands play great music and the dance floor is the best in Ventura County.

So, come with a smile and have fun dancing or just socializing with friends. 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. in the A.R. $10 per person includes a wine raffle, coffee, punch, refreshments and fresh popcorn. Bring your dancing shoes and kick up your feet. See you there!

VETERAN'S CLUB

By Lou Cappadona

Our Veteran's Club meetings are free and open to all residents of Leisure Village. We meet on the 4th Thursday of the month at 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. in the MPR, except in November and December. We schedule speakers on a wide variety of subjects. Past speakers have included one of our residents who, as a young bride, lived in Saigon at the height of the war in Vietnam with her war correspondent husband. Another speaker spoke of the current concerns we all have about what America is doing now to defend us from both nuclear and cyber weapons threats. We plan to have a future speaker from So. Cal. Edison whose program will be of special interest to an electricity dependent community like L.V.

Snacks and light beverages are served at the meetings. Whether you are a veteran, related to a veteran or just want to keep up on subjects of interest, it's a great way to meet new people and share experiences.

Bonnie is coming to LV on October 8th and 15th to share her expertise on color and design. We have a full class. If you signed up, please mark it on your calendar to come to the Santa Rosa Room at 1:00 p.m. on those dates. Should you not be able make it, please let Patti know. If you didn't bring a painting to contribute to the Village Arts Calendar 2019 at the October meeting, please call Patti at 805-760-7673 ASAP. We would like everyone to be a part of this project.

COOKING WITH LARRY

What's the Wurst That Could Happen?

By Larry Swartz

My son, the biologist, and I were having a chat the other day at the sushi bar and I asked him why an eel was shaped the way it was. He replied "Form follows function" which was a phrase coined by an architect but fits living things as well as buildings, he said.

I was reminded of this during my visit with Gudrun (pronounced good-roon with the accent on the 2nd syllable) from Village 32. It just seemed like the way she moved about her life fit that phrase - "form follows function" - and that's a big compliment. She was born in Czechoslovakia (into an affluent family) to an Austrian mother and a German father in the early 40s. So, when I asked her if she had any memories of being in the kitchen as a child cooking with her mom or dad, she responded that she wasn't allowed in the kitchen; the servants did the cooking.

Me: "So how did you learn to cook?" Gudrun: "Long story short; my family was eventually expelled from Czechoslovakia into Germany where my grandmother showed me around the kitchen; soon after my mother met an American Army officer whom she married, and we immigrated to the States. As a 9-year-old in a new country, with no English skills and a funny sounding name, my teacher had the foresight to tell my mother that I would have a much easier time integrating, if I learned English as soon as possible. That was October 24, 1948."

Me: "You remember the exact date???" Gudrun: "Yes, and I was very motivated ... I wanted to know what the other kids were saying about me. So, I sat down and learned English with my family's help." By Christmas of that year, a mere two months later, she could recite "T'was the Night before Christmas" - perfectly.

Whereas her mom didn't really show her how to cook native Austrian or Czech dishes because she wanted to assimilate into this country, Gudrun now does it her way. What else would you expect from this very well-spoken, independent and efficient lady? So, without further ado, here is

Gudrun's Sausage with Potatoes and Sauerkraut

- 1 turkey Kielbasa sausage ring
- 2 big Idaho potatoes, steamed
- 1 jar German sauerkraut
- Olive oil • Butter • Rye Bread
- Parsley flakes

■ Wurst, kartoffele, und kraut mit dem Koch

Pretty simple: slice sausage on angle, place in a saucepan with a few drops of olive oil and brown. Meanwhile, chunk the potatoes and brown in a tablespoon of butter, sprinkle parsley. When golden brown, add to the sausage pan; stir. Warm the sauerkraut and serve separately. A slice of a good honest Rye Bread would be nice to sop up all the wonderful flavors.

Keep Your Driver's License!!

Did you know that the DMV has the power to permanently take away your driver's license if they:

Receive information that you have a medical condition, or have had an accident, or that you are an unsafe driver.

A loss of your driver's license results in a loss of independence & freedom

I have handled many Reexaminations over the past 17 years and have a very high success rate. Don't try to face the DMV alone - call me and together we will devise a plan to get your license back.

KEY FACTS

YES ON PROPOSITION 5 AND NO ON PROPOSITION 10

Homeownership and private property rights are on the California ballot this November and the election outcome will determine our state's housing future. REALTORS® throughout the state are committed to protecting homeownership and are urging our clients, colleagues and fellow Californians to look closely at this year's ballot. The state's housing future depends on it.

YES ON PROP 5

The Property Tax Fairness Initiative (Prop 5) removes the unfair moving penalty for seniors, the severely disabled and disaster victims across the entire state while still ensuring they pay their fair share of property taxes.

- Seniors will have the freedom to downsize or move closer to family.
- The severely disabled will be able to move to more practical homes.
- Many disaster victims will now have the opportunity to move without being penalized.

Too many Californians feel like they will never be able to become homeowners. Eliminating the moving penalty for seniors, disaster victims and the severely disabled will create more opportunities for homeownership for first time buyers and young families.

NO ON PROP 10

Prop 10 will make California's housing crisis worse. It's the wrong solution for a state that desperately needs to create more affordable housing for middle class families. Seniors, veterans, both gubernatorial candidates – Democrat Gavin Newsom and Republican John Cox – and affordable housing experts all oppose Prop 10 because it will make housing less available and less affordable.

Prop 10 will:

- Let government dictate rental pricing for privately owned single-family homes.
- Reduce home values by more than 10%, according to MIT researchers; an average loss of approximately $39,000 per California homeowner.
- Significantly restrict what single-family homeowners can do with their homes.
- Could allow bureaucrats to charge homeowners a fee for taking their home off the rental market.

The facts are clear: Prop 10 will reduce affordable and middle-class housing in California and drive down existing home values. For more information, please visit www.housingforCalifornia.com.
