

Time traveler: What year is it?

Me: 2020

A few memes that have made me laugh during these uncertain times...

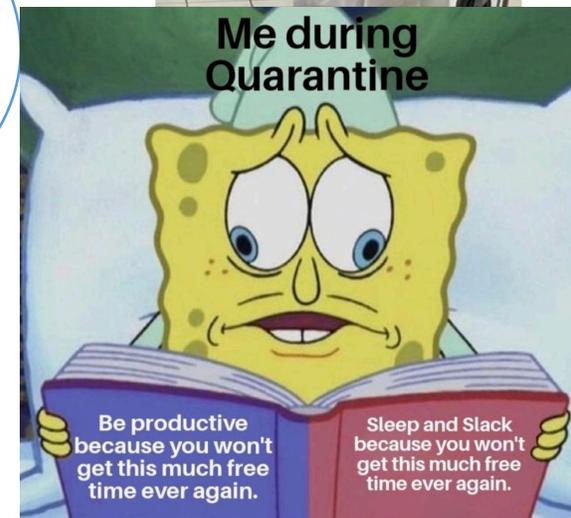

Me leaving my bed to go to the couch

For me, the hardest part about this whole thing is that there are so little answers to our questions. There is so much that is unknown, which can make it difficult to stay positive and not assume the worst. Although the internet is a place that can spread negativity or false info, it has also been a place that allows people to stay in touch with one another and bring a bit of light and laughter to the situation. It reminds us that we are all sharing very similar experiences and emotions, which can be very comforting at times when we feel lonely. There is not much I can control right now, but what I can do is try to find reasons to laugh or smile, even at the little things.
