

the University of Granada, Spain; Tel Aviv University and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel; Waseda University, Japan. In the United Kingdom, cooperating universities, which may vary from year to year, include Dundee, Leicester, London, Oxford, and Sheffield. In addition, California State University and Colleges students may attend a special program in Taiwan, Republic of China, or an architectural program in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Eligibility is limited to students who will have upper division or graduate standing during their year of participation, who have a B (3.0) average or better in at least 30 semester or 45 quarter units in any two previous consecutive years; show ability to adapt to a new environment; and, in the case of France, Germany, Mexico, and Spain, are proficient in the language of instruction at the foreign university. Selection is made by a faculty committee on the student's home campus and by a statewide faculty committee.

The International Programs are supported by state funds to the extent that such funds would have been expended had the student concerned continued to study in California. Students assume costs for predeparture orientation, insurance, transportation, housing and meals. Home campus registration fees, tuition on the home campus for out-of-state students (if the student is not a California resident) and personal incidental expenses or vacation travel costs while abroad are also paid for by the student. The Office of International Programs collects and administers funds for those items which the program must arrange or can negotiate more effectively: typical are home campus fees, orientation costs, insurance, outbound transportation, and housing in some centers. Students accepted in the International Programs may apply for any financial aid available at their home campus.

Application for the 1974-75 academic year must be submitted before February 4, 1974 (except for United Kingdom applicants who must submit applications by January 7, 1974). Applicants are notified of acceptance by April 1, 1974. Detailed information may be obtained from the International Students Office or by writing to the California State University and Colleges International Programs, 5670 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, California 90036.

Average expenses for the entire year—including round-trip transportation between California and the study centers, room and board, health and accident insurance, home campus fees, moderate vacation traveling, textbooks, and personal expenses—range from $2,650 to $3,225. Students ordinarily remain eligible for any financial aids for which they otherwise would qualify on their home campus.
