Vol. 36 No. 6

An Active Senior Community

Santa Rosa Road, Camarillo, California

June 5, 2015

Meet the board candidates

A Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP)-sponsored free Bone Building class has been meeting for the last four years in Leisure Village. The Tuft University- designed exercises are specifically geared for the seniors to improve balance and increase bone density. There are few openings available. Registration will be on a first-come first-serve basis. See CLASSES page 6

One resident's journey over the past year has led her to share her story so that others may learn from her experiences. See THEN AND NOW page 8

The ladies of the Women's Club strut their stuff. See page 16

And don't forget to vote!

Hopefully, most homeowners attended Candidates Night last month and got an opportunity to listen and question the Board of Director hopefuls as they stated their qualifications and their vision for the future of Leisure Village. Each candidate's information sheet appears in the glass cases in the atrium.

Below is a brief resume of each can-

LV resident works her magic

By Patty Ecker

She sounds a bit like a magician. Recently in Leisure Village, she turned two leftover cupcakes into a bidding war that yielded $20 each for the Musicians Club. Several years ago in the Bay Area, she turned an unwanted skein of yarn into more than one million knit caps for needy children. Villager Bonnie Greene laughs when it's suggested that she has a magic touch. "I taught my kids that first you figure out what you're good at. Then go for it and have fun!" she says. "I'm still going for it and having fun."

Bonnie's fun list is a long one. It includes raising six children and five foster children (one at a time, she's quick to add) as a young mother whose husband's job moved the family often. "It

Joyce Baker withdraws

When the slate of candidates for the upcoming Board election was announced on May 4, it contained six names. However, on Candidates Night, one of those running, Joyce Baker withdrew her name.

"I had unexpected heart surgery a month ago - a quadruple bypass," she explained, "And after talking to my doctors and my family, I have decided that I should take more time to heal. Running for the Board is a bigger commitment than I can take

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I want to thank everyone who expressed their kind thoughts and support during my illness. It is very much appreciated.

—Dori Prosen, V. 41

Thank you all for honoring my father, Jerry Knopf, Friday night. I can't imagine going through these past 2-½ years without being surrounded by such a caring, supportive, and fun group of people. What could have been a very isolating time in my life, was instead rich with love and laughter. You are lucky to have each other and I am grateful to be a part of this community.

— Diane Knopf, V. 6

On May 6, I walked into the Rec. Office to greet the ladies and to comment on their attires. To my dismay, they were wearing dark gray uniforms. I was in the business world for many years and never heard of office workers wearing uniforms. In the morning, when the office worker awakens, her first thought is on what to wear to the office. The last thing she does before leaving the house is to check her overall appearance. She is now confident and ready for whatever tasks she is required to complete during the day. A drab uniform will do nothing for her. However, perhaps this was a trial run, and each office worker will again be allowed to wear clothes of her choice.

Good news for homeowners who want to sell their home this spring. A new study indicates that homes in California are moving faster than anywhere else in the nation, and the market shows no signs of slowing down - good news if you are looking to sell. Anyone looking to buy this year has likely already encountered some of the pitfalls which the California housing market has to offer -- light inventory and high prices to name a few.

According to Trulia, a popular real estate website, California is home to eight of the top ten fastest-moving housing markets in the nation, with all of the top residing in our Golden State. The list includes San Francisco, San Jose, Oakland, San Diego, Orange County, Sacramento, Los Angeles and our very own Ventura County.

What's causing the high turnaround in California housing? The answer is simple, supply and demand. Inventory and new supply is quite light. The rate at which homes are selling is only getting faster. According to Trulia, three-fourths of the nation's top 100 housing markets have fewer homes for sale after two months of being listed than one year ago. This includes all of the top ten fastest-selling markets.

If buyers want to buy a house this spring, they'll have to be prepared to move quickly!

Gratitude

LV resident reflects on a year's journey

Where do I begin? A year ago I was diagnosed with cancer, fourth stage. While writing and sharing information with others is important to me, this was one journey I chose not to share. I did however post an article for ILV with what I thought was useful suggestions about how they might handle a similar situation. I hope some residents found it of value and have kept the Emergency phone number accessible. I chose to remain anonymous.

It is a year later and I am doing pretty well. If you've seen someone walking with a cane and a baseball hat (or wig) ... it might have been me. My intent today is to express my gratitude to everyone that has supported me through this experience. I was told to wait two months before driving again. My chemo treatment center was in Ventura. How to get there? Not a day went by that some (more than one some times) neighbor or friend didn't call and ask what day they could drive me to my appointment. Besides the drive, it meant they would sit in a waiting room reading People magazine waiting for my treatment to end. We celebrated with lunch.

And cards! People sent me cards. The thought of someone taking the time to go up and down the card aisle looking for the perfect card for me, buying it, posting a stamp and mailing it to me, moves my very soul.

— Marian Green, V. 1

Would you know what to do?

The following article appeared in the June 2014 issue of ILV, when Marian wished to not be identified.

I've often thought when hearing the unsettling noise of the fire engines coming through Leisure Village that somehow it is a really jarring sound we hear way too often.

And when we hear it, we silently hope and pray that blaring sound will not wind up at someone's home near and dear to us. On Tuesday, April 22 at about 4:15 p.m., that sound, that fire engine noise stopped at my house. What happened to me after I had taken a shower and was casually watching afternoon TV, was a numbness/tingling on my left side beginning at my face and leading down to my foot, all on one side.

I live alone and without someone to call, I quickly decided this was something serious. I managed to get to my phone and speed dial and because I had previously preset it, the LV emergency staff promptly answered. I identified myself and described my situation. While talking to them, the numbness and tingling stopped. I thought I was fine and maybe it wasn't necessary for them to follow up with me; they decided differently and said they would be there immediately. They were.

Talking to me and realizing I may or may not have had a stroke they suggested calling 911. Admittedly, I was scared and agreed to that call. Paramedics arrived quickly and after putting a blood pressure cuff on my arm, determined my blood pressure was a whooping 190. They recommended I be taken to Pleasant Valley Hospital.

Hopping on the gurney, because I could, I was whisked off to the hospital. A doctor reviewed what had occurred to me and planned a series of tests. With my first free moment, I got out my cell phone to call my kids. Guess what...battery was dead. Where was my charger? One was at home; one was in my car (logical places I thought). I didn't even know my kids' phone numbers, used to just speed-dialing. What was I to do? Explaining my dilemma to the first person I saw, I was offered their universal charger.

“Hopping on the gurney, because I could, I was whisked off to the hospital.”

Whew! Within a short time, my Smart Phone was charging and I was able to email my kids.

The Paramedics shut and locked my front door as we left. They weren't aware that my house keys were on a hook in my kitchen. Fortunately, I had a key hidden outside so I was able to get in when I returned home.

The following is very important and the purpose of this is to remind all residents this is something that could happen to you. I am using my experience to share some hints to help in the event you suffer a similar emergency. Are you prepared?

1. Do you have the emergency number for LV in your speed dial? It is 388-3636.
 2. Do you have a list of your medications (and dosage) readily available (in your wallet)?
 3. Do you have the phone numbers of your immediate family and close friends written down?
 4. Do you have the phone number of the CAT should you be in a situation where you might need a ride home?
 5. Do you have a house key with a neighbor or hidden somewhere outside?
 6. If it is possible, you may choose to get the names of the emergency personnel who assist you, perhaps to later send a thank you note?
 7. Be proactive! I was so eager to leave the hospital that I didn't pay much attention to the exit papers I signed. I did not notice the hospital personnel had failed to complete the doctor's name nor the phone number I was supposed to call for a follow-up appointment.
 8. And specifically for women, don't forget to have your eyeliner in your purse!
- I am back home, following doctor's orders, taking my meds and hoping I never have to repeat my recent episode, but I am prepared now, are you?

As Chair of the Exercise Science Department at Cal Lutheran University, Dr. Steven Hawkins has studied senior fitness extensively and advises that regular exercise is crucial for good health, no matter how old we are.

A fitness center for everyone

As Dr. Steven Hawkins walks into the gym at Cal Lutheran University, he repeats his mantra. "No matter how old we are, exercise is always beneficial. The goal is to improve our health, not run a 5K," he said, and the new Leisure Village Fitness Center can help all residents meet that goal. He emphasizes "all residents."

Dr. Hawkins is the Chair of the Exercise Science Department at CLU, a position he's held since 2007. He earned his PhD at USC and has published scholarly papers reporting his studies on the effects of a variety of exercises on older people.

Academically and personally, he believes most Villagers should become more physically active. He advises "Five days a week, thirty minutes a day - which don't have to be continuous. Walking to the fridge doesn't count. Household chores might. But a brisk five-minute walk is better," he said with a smile, "because it will raise your heart rate, and that's what we want."

Getting that heart rate up is an important first step to better health for seniors. The best exercise for that? "The one that you'll do," Dr. Hawkins said. "If I suggest running, and you hate running, that's a no go." The LV Fitness Center offers several exercise options for residents, from those who use wheelchairs to those who play tennis.

The new weight machines and sets of free weights in the center are a good place to begin. "Start with the lowest weight and follow the posted instructions," he says. These exercises improve muscle tone and strength relatively quickly. Free weights are good because they help improve balance, too. Here, Dr. Hawkins adds a warning: Avoid lifting free weights over your head at first. He estimates 'reconditioning' begins to emerge in about two weeks; you'll feel it and begin to see improvement in the ability to lift things at home or to easily get out of a chair.

A second step to improved health and physical function is aerobic exercise. "Don't jump on the treadmill right away," advises Dr. Hawkins. Start with an outside walk, a stationary bike, or, follow his mother's example by dancing to a lively beat. "Moving!" he adds, "The benefits of moderate exercise generally outweigh the risks." The Village's new Center also has space for floor exercises and stretching on mats. Dr. Hawkins calls those "fabulous" for improving our mobility.

"Just keep moving" is his message. Villagers headed for the Fitness Center are moving in the right direction.

Civil War history is coming to Leisure Village

"The Surrender At Appomattox," a special presentation describing the end of the Civil War, will be held in Leisure Village on June 22.

The dramatic conclusion of that historic conflict will be described in word and visuals by Don Marquardt, the Village's own raconteur and student of the War between the States. Marking the 150th anniversary of the end of the hostilities, Don's presentation begins in the AR at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, June 22. This will be his third presentation about the Civil War for Village residents.

"My fascination with the War began about seven years ago when I went to Gettysburg for the first time," Don explains. "I taught history at UCLA for 30 years, so obviously I was familiar with the events. But when I stood on that battlefield – the pinnacle of the Civil War, I was stunned."

Since that experience, he has visited at least 25 battlefields in Virginia. He attended surrender ceremonies at Appomattox in Virginia on April 9, 2015, exactly 150 years after the actual event.

Don traditionally brings the Civil War alive in costume and beard with the distinctive accent of his Kentucky character.

His first Leisure Village Civil War presentation was in 2013 and focused on the Battle of Gettysburg.

The 2014 spotlight was on the Battle of Cold Harbor. Don admits to some melancholy because this will be his last Civil War presentation.

"I really enjoy doing these for Leisure Village," Marquardt said. "Some Californians don't know a lot about the War history. Last year, the audience asked questions for nearly an hour after the presentation," he recalls. "It was a great evening!"

Personifying a Confederate officer, Villager and Civil War buff Don Marquardt brings drama and history together in "Surrender at Appomattox" on June 22 in the AR.

meant that I had to work out of my home; I got into sewing and knitting," Bonnie recalls.

In 1967, the family was living in Oregon when she was asked to compete in the Mrs. Oregon contest.

It was a good fit. The contestants didn't compete in swimsuits or playing a piano concerto.

They faced off in cooking contests, ironing shirts, putting on a kid's party. "This was really a Mrs. Contest," Bonnie explains. "I made the clothes I wore, including the formal gown." And she won!

Mrs. Oregon went on to the Mrs. America contest.

"It was wonderful because it was held in San Diego where my parents lived," Bonnie says, "So they got to see the competition." And their daughter did well; she made it to the finals. Mrs. Kansas won, and Mrs. Oregon was first runner-up."

It was not a defeat for Bonnie. "I did some public speaking during that year, and I loved it," she says. And that opened many doors. The knitter-pattern maker-seamstress started her own business. It began as a complete needlework store in Colorado and, as her family moved, morphed into several stores called Yarn Country in the Bay Area.

Her life took another turn when a customer got testy as she was told she couldn't return a skein of yarn she'd had for several years. Bonnie saw an opportunity.

She suggested that customers could knit caps for needy children with yarn scraps and donate them.

Caps for Kids was born; soon they were giving away thousands through a network of non-profits.

"Caps for Kids distributed a million caps in four years, and we stopped counting," Bonnie said with a smile. Awards and honors to Bonnie followed, as did a whole new career in business consulting, producing seminars titled "Cash, Check, or Charge," as a columnist for a needlework magazine, MCing, and auctioneering.

Bonnie as MC of the Musicians Club's Cabaret Night was her first on-stage work in Leisure Village. (Remember the $20 cupcakes?) "I had fun with that," she laughs. She plans to volunteer more this year, in between visits with her kids, 18 grandchildren, and 5 great grandchildren.

Fabulous fashion show

Women's Club shows off their fashionable side

By Chitose Chun

Attendees at the LV Women's Club Fashion Show on May 14 were treated to a fabulous afternoon. Aptly called "Fabulous Fashions with Flair," the show was declared the best by many. It was well organized and fun, tables looked perfect, food and wine was great, the fashions were lovely. Thank Coordinator Susan Rockwell.

Shearon Millar chose the idea of making bearded key holders as favors and taught the workshop how to make them. Jackie Nelson and her workshop showed their creativity and Jackie and Louise Romero did the table decorations.

Dressbarn brought the fashions, and casual and dressier wear was presented by Sheila Kahn. A fashion show needs models and Betty Dean was in charge.

Every major event requires the expertise of many: Thank you to Rita Linsey, Jerry Spector, Joyce Belcher, Jeff Perkins, Mark Smith and John Wirtz. And to Geri DeSimone and the Box Office, which sold 230 tickets. And finally, to the fine gentlemen who served, the employees who took care of the set-up, to all who attended, Women's Club extends a special "Thank You."

Photos by Jerry Spector and Bob Kaplan

LV residents turned out in record numbers for the Health Faire.

Annual Health Fair sets a record

When Mary Jane Porter and the Neighbor's Care Group took over the annual Health Fair 11 years ago, 12 health-care related vendors had participated in the prior year's fair. On May 22 this year, 55 vendors participated. A wide variety of providers were present, including a chiropractor and a pain-management specialist. Five hundred villagers attended last year's fair and it is estimated at least that number were in attendance this year.

The Health Fair was a chance for residents to get their blood pressure checked.

Fresh strawberries, pastries and double fudge brownies were served for all to enjoy.

Isabell Blau took a chance on winning a prize.

Jonathan Monroy from Camarillo Health-care Center performed a Balance Assessments for seniors.

We were very happy to see a few new beautiful people attend our monthly dinner at Ottavio's. Last month was an exceptionally lively evening and I really urge the singles out there to take the plunge and call Lee Edwards at 484-3289 for your reservation to attend our next "Dinner Out" at Ottavio's Italian Restaurant. It will take place on Tuesday, June 9, at 5 p.m. at the restaurant. If you are already on Lee's list and are unable to attend, we would appreciate it if you would call Lee to cancel for that evening. Thanks to you all. See you on June 9.

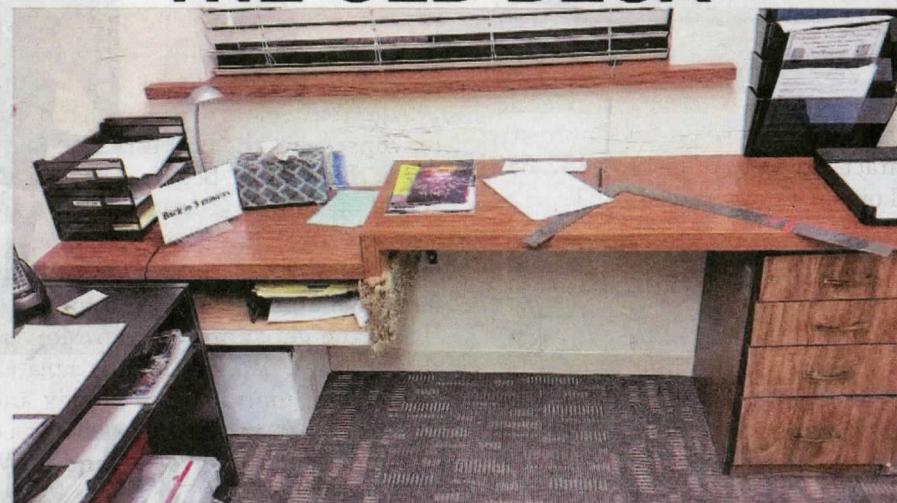

LV Woodshop

By Chuck Russell

The Woodshop is one of many recreation facilities in Leisure Village. Members volunteer their expertise and time to repair items for residents and do projects for the village. Residents are welcome to bring items for repair to the Woodshop in the Recreation Center Tuesday and Wednesday mornings between 10 a.m. and Noon. While there is no guarantee that all damaged items can be fixed, the volunteers will try to restore them to the best of their ability. There is no charge for this service. Donations are accepted for materials and supplies.

The most recent project for the village was replacing the outdated desk/counter in the Travel Committee office. The photos show before and after. The original desk had a drop down space to hold a typewriter, which was somewhat out of date. The new desk provides a larger work area and revised drawer/cabinet, which is helpful to the travel coordinators who meet prospective travelers at the travel office window.

The use of the woodshop is available to Leisure Village residents with woodworking experience, provided that they can demonstrate the ability to operate the power equipment safely. Residents with questions or those interested in having key access to the shop should contact Chuck Russell at 383-3043 for an appointment to be checked out on the equipment.

Men's Golf Club

By Rob Sollett

It began generations ago when, by candlelight, a recipe was created and stored in an old wooden box that once housed tiny garlic cloves. As time evolved, so did the sacred family parchment that aged like a fine wine. When the family crossed the great ocean from Italy, the wooden box was carried ever so gingerly to Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn then westward to the Todt Hill community of Staten Island, NYC. It was said the famous Italian chef Mama Leone once offered to purchase the secret recipe. The family declined to share. On April 21, Bob Michna introduced his sacred family lasagna to the guests of the Leisure Village Tee Timers Golf Luncheon. After consuming the first fork full, raves from the guests began. Diets were abandoned, unattended plates were scavenged clean. "It was delicious, I stole from the plate next to me," admitted one guest seeking anonymity. "I saw the ghost of Old Tom Morris," said another. "He was holding a plate." Earlier, the morning was cloudy and downcast, but the enthusiasm shined as members of the LVMGA and LVWGA took part in the Tee Timers Tournament.

Mannie Abbate, long-time advocate of Regulation Golf competitions, which he refers to as "Big Boy Golf," played with the Nine Hole Golfers after years of inactivity on the LV Course. "I played in a Regulation Tournament the day before, and was physically tired. I don't see my participation with the Niner's as something I'll continue with," he confessed. Mannie did state that he was disappointed with the slowness of the greens, which may have contributed to his score of 35. During lunch Abbate's frown turned into a smile of enlightenment. Yes, Bob Michna's family lasagna is that good!

Bob Hochstadter won the Grand Championship at Regulation Golf's Tournament of Champions played on May 14 at Elkins Ranch. Way to go.

We'd like to thank all the contributors that made our participation in the Annual Garage Sale held on May 9 a success. This writer wishes to thank Helene Sollett for her dedicated assistance. Norm Chapman is seeking volunteers to assist in the tabulation of handicaps.

Mention, John Kingsley for Grand Teton Sunrise.

Congratulations to all our winners! Many thanks to Sharon Forkner for downloading and processing and for her yummy home baked chocolate cupcakes; and to Hemu Kalle, as well, for his scrumptious home-baked chocolate brownies.

The surrounding table area was permeated with the scent of the delicious chocolates.

And thank you to Florence Gillman, as always, for doing a great job announcing and to our wonderful volunteers for doing such a great job with getting the winning photos up in the halls, and MPR room, etc., to be viewed and enjoyed.

Racquet Club

By Leslie Fox

Attention Racquet Club members! In case you did not receive the phone tree message from Merle, the barbecue dinner and meeting has a new start time. It will begin at 5 p.m. in the picnic area. The club will be providing a dinner of hamburgers, hot dogs, dessert, water and sodas. If you are a vegetarian, please bring something of your own choosing to eat, and if you would prefer something else to drink, feel free to bring your own.

We hope that you have been checking the bulletin board or you would have missed the sign-up sheet for another luncheon. It was May 26 at the Malibu Racquet Club.

Merle was considerate to do the phone tree for these last two messages but we are putting out a "desperate plea" for someone to assume this position. Please!

John Peterson, who has been vital to paddle tennis, pickle ball, and ping pong has recently undergone treatment and is now going through his recovery.

We want to wish him a speedy and full recovery. Love and blessings to you John, you are missed!

The schedule is as follows:

- Round Robin begins at 3 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday
- Group play Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday 8 to 9 a.m.
- Open play Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 11 a.m.,
- Spring/summer social mixer Friday night at 4 p.m. until dark
- Advanced players are late afternoon on Tuesday, Saturday, and Sunday
- Pickle Ball has regularly scheduled times on Monday and Wednesday from 9 to 10:30 a.m.

The courts are usually free and clear all other times for both pickle ball and paddle tennis.

Any new players interested in paddle tennis or tennis call, Diane Carroll at 419-4325.

Have a great month for summer is finally arriving, ENJOY!

LV Pet Club

By Ruth Stubba

The Pet Club has monthly meetings to educate and entertain members about our pets, pet ownership and animal behavior. Experts in the pet industry are invited to speak or give a presentation. The club also plans special events for entertainment, fund raisers and/or events that include our pets.

So far this year, the Pet Club speaker series has included an author who entertained us with stories from her humorous book about pet ailments, a local veterinarian who fascinated us with his explanation of the importance of caring for our pets' teeth and gums, and a representative from Ventura County Animal Services (formerly called Animal Control), who impressed us with details about their commitment to protect and promote the health and well-being of animals, including keeping pets safely 'on hold' if they are called upon to take a pet in a temporary emergency situation (such as hospitalization) of a pet owner.

At our next meeting on Monday, June 8, at 7 p.m., Ventura County K-9 Search and Rescue Dogs are coming to Leisure Village to show us how they track missing persons and lots more. The event will be held in The Pavilion. Everyone is invited to watch this special group of dedicated men and women with their dogs.

The Pet Club continues to track coyote sightings reported to security by residents to see any patterns of movement, increase or decrease in activity, or other behavior. Security personnel are recording date, time and location. Please call them when you see coyotes so that we can gather as much information as possible. If a coyote ever approaches you while walking your dog,

LV Bowling

By Bob Cohen

The 2014-2015 Season is history. As reported last month, Team 1 took first place. Team 3, consisting of Dyane Reider, Nancy Owens, Sharon Lubracki and Alan Singer, won the second place trophies. High Average Bowlers for the Season were Danny Coleman (199) and Sybil Moore (154). Most Improved players were Wilma Hutson (101 to 131) and Art Titen (162 to 171).

Seven 200 games were bowled during the last 2 weeks. Only Danny Coleman (208 and 265) and Art Titen (232 and 234) managed 2. The other 3 games were bowled by Sybil Moore (210), Bob McQuivey (207) and Dennis Durand (214).

Side Pot winners for week 31 were Bobi Shmerling/ Sybil Moore (tie) Carolyn Sherman and Helen Hartman for the ladies and Danny Coleman, Art Matter and John Albany for the men.

Side Pot winners for Week 32 were Leslie Fox/Ginny Cordell (Tie), Gerry Leibowitz and Nancy Guirell for the ladies and Alan Singer, Art Titen and Ted Ryan for the men.

Sign-ups for next year will begin soon. New members must establish a handicap by bowling 9 games before mid-August. Three free games, courtesy of Harley's Camarillo Bowl, are available for new members. Contact Bob for information at 419-4682.

Women's Club

By Chitose Chun

The Women's Club has been working and playing hard! We've gone from the Spring Cleaning Sales to the Fashion Show with on-going workshops and Boutiques in between. All the time and effort spent are rewarded by the funds we raise for worthy causes and for personal fulfillment. Being involved in Women's Club or any other club is the best way to make friends or meet people and to keep your body, mind and spirit active.

Don't let the hours of the Boutique confuse you. The workshop is open every single Tuesday morning from 9 - 11. Boutique displays and sales are on the second and third Tuesdays — in addition to the on-going workshop. However, you can purchase items any time upon request. See's candy is always on sale. In other words - just drop by any Tuesday. We may be working on projects you could do or you can bring in your ideas.

A great new item is the "walker bag" which hangs over the walker handles. It keeps everything you need in the large bag and convenient pockets. Compact bags could also be made, convenient for men as well as women.

Contact Jackie Nelson with any questions at 340-9513.

The next General Meeting is BINGO on Thursday, June 11, 1:30 p.m. in the AR.

How can you tell when you will need an In Home Care Assistant?

The use of in home care assistants is becoming more popular because it allows seniors to be safe and independent in the comfort of their home.

How do you know if you or your loved ones needs an in home care assistant.

If you answer "YES" to one of more of the following questions, in home care services can help your family:

- Have you noticed your loved one wearing the same clothing daily?
- Is your loved one not appropriately grooming or bathing themselves?
- Have you noticed that your loved one's weight is declining?
- Are you seeing signs of increased skin tearing, bruising or falls on your loved one?
- Is there a lack of healthy foods in the home?
- Have you noticed that your loved one is showing signs of becoming withdrawn?
- Have you noticed medications that are not being taken appropriately?

Another main concern is how to find the right Home Care Agency. Loving Arms Family Care is fully insured and will provide the best caregiver for your needs. Locally based, Loving Arms Family Care provides a free in home safety assessment by a licensed Registered Nurse Case Manager. Loving Arms Family Care performs thorough background checks on their caregivers.

Claros awed the niner's group with her hole-in-one on Hole 10 to kick off the tournament. Sue DaVanzo sunk her ball on Hole 16 with a perfect drive. Congratulations, girls! The second round of the tournament was on May 27 (after the ILV deadline), and winners will be determined.

The LVWGA Installation and Awards Luncheon will be held on June 24 after open play. The executive board will be formally announced and sworn in. Golf accomplishments for the past year will be celebrated. The new 2015-2016 LVWGA handbooks will be distributed to members. Thank you to Leslie Rawlings for planning the luncheon event. Tickets will be on sale at the regular June weekly tournaments on June 3, June 10, and June 17. President Linda Gaffney (300-1421), has offered to provide a ticket and a ride to members who are not active players, but would like to attend.

High scores submitted for an eight frame game in April were: March 25, Cela Foster, 147; April 1, both Milt Krapes and Keith Murchland, 105; April 8, Milt Krapes, 158; and April 15, Milt Krapes, 97.

High scores submitted for an eight frame game in May were: April 22, Cela Foster, 126; April 29, Milt Krapes, 169; May 6, Keith Murchland, 147; May 13, Milt Krapes, 166; and May 20, Milt Krapes, 174.

We regularly play shuffleboard on Wednesdays at 9:30. Villagers are invited to join. We will teach you if you don't know how. There are no dues. You can practice at any time. Come and join the fun.

Village Arts

By Gwen Zimring

Hello artists. Our club enjoyed a very busy month of May beginning with our annual tour of the Arts Club members' studios on May 16.

We were treated to see, close up, paintings, sculptures, photography and mixed media. The tour ended with a visit to the home of David Kiefer where we were able to buy frames and mats at bargain prices. This is an ongoing opportunity so give David a call.

On Monday, May 11 a large group of artists visited Phyllis Doyen's studio, and Phyllis showed us how to paint a watercolor collage. This was a fascinating workshop!

Wednesday June 3 will be our annual summer pot luck picnic in the Pavilion.

On Monday June 8, Judith Crowe is scheduled to teach us how to paint with pastels. Judith is a very well-known pastel artist. This will be a great learning experience for our members. All who are interested, please sign up ASAP.

Please don't forget July is blacked out for Village Arts.

The Amateur Radio Club

By Jonathan Fox

We have a special guest speaker for Thursday meeting, July 2 at 2 p.m. in the MPR. Dr. Jeff Wolf will talk about a "DX-expedition for the Rest of Catalina Island."

A DX-Expedition is a journey to a specific location, organized and undertaken by amateur radio operators.

Communications equipment is brought along for the purpose of proving world-wide hams the opportunity to make radio contact with someone from the expedition location.

These locations can be exotic, sparsely inhabited locations for which access is extremely difficult and there is little or no ham radio activity.

In fact, some are very much like the classical expeditions of early explorers, in which not only equipment, but shelters, generators, food and other supplies must be transported at great personal cost and risk.

But what if you wanted to try doing a DX-expedition on a smaller scale? Dr. Wolf will take us on his journey to Catalina Island with members of the Palos Verdes Amateur Radio club. Via his presentation, he will explain the planning and work involved on a project like this, along with photos of his group on a remote part of the island. So plan on joining us.

If you are curious about becoming a member of the club, please join us at one of our regular meetings. You do not have to be a licensed amateur radio operator to join.

We will provide help in getting your license, if you choose to get one. It's now easier than ever since Morse code is no longer required. Meetings are held the first Thursday of the month in the MPR at 2 p.m. For more information contact Jonathan Fox at 377-3697 or KJ6LV@yahoo.com.

Musicians Club

By Roy Badger

Last month, the AR was transformed into a French Cabaret for LV's "Evening in Paris," complete with trays of cheeses and crackers, an open wine bar and French pastries to accompany the entertainment that included a young vocalist singing in Sinatra's style and a variety of musical instruments. Each performer received a standing ovation.

The evening was planned for about 64 people. Over 165 actually attended, and, as a result, club membership increased by 38 that evening. Thanks to the LV employees who worked fast to add tables and chairs for the unexpected crowd.

Club President Roy Badger declared the evening a huge success, and announced the next Cabaret Night, "La Dolce Vita" will be held on the first Friday in September. The Club's membership drive is still open.

Players Guild

By Stan Reshes

Howdee! Get out your fanciest western apparel for the big hoedown Thursday evening, June 18 in the AR. Players Guild will be presenting "LV Grand Ole Opry" with Johnny Cash, Minnie Pearl, and a host of familiar performers from the "Opry," as interpreted by our own LV residents. A hilarious evening of fun and laughter, country style. Beginning 7:30 p.m. in the AR. All this and mouth-watering goodies after the show.

Technology means getting a fair sweep

Since the Village bought its own street sweeper, that lumbering visitor has become a familiar sight and sound as it makes its rounds. Its initial roll-out brought some resident complaints from people who didn't get the message (or forgot) that they can't park on their streets on sweeper days. But now this relatively new clean-up system has brought 21st century technology to the job, and that has quieted protests.

The street sweeper now is equipped with a camera mounted on the dash, a continuously recording eye on the route and the parked vehicles that block its way. The camera picks up the car or truck parked on its route, videos the license plate, the location, and the time. This 'eye' on the sweeper has brought a fairness to the process and is saving money for LV's security system.

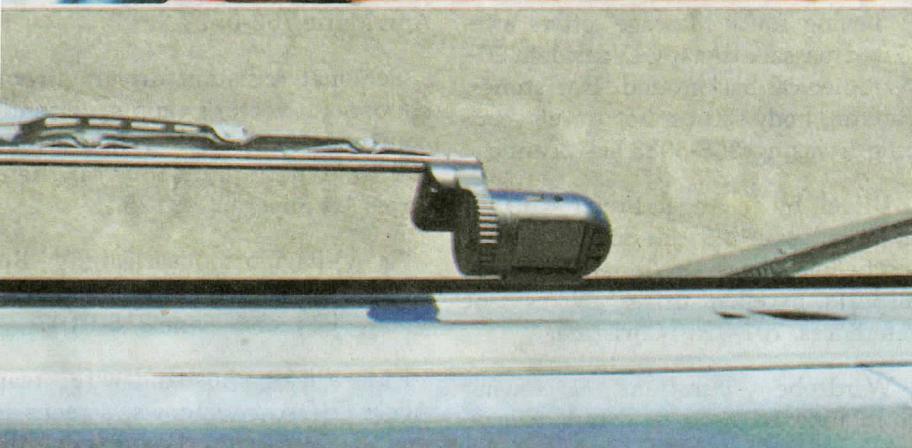

"Before we got the camera, we assigned several security officers to follow the sweeper," explains Security Chief Manny Segovia. The officers would follow the machine, "playing leapfrog," to use the Chief's description. When a car obstructed the curbside route of the sweeper, an officer would stop, take down information about the car, and write a citation. Meanwhile, another officer continued on behind the moving street sweeper until the next violation.

"It was not a good system. Our officers also must respond to medical and emergency calls; we get more than 800 a year," explains Chief Segovia. "And those are more important. So often they'd have to leave the route." The sweeper was on its own, and violators were missed.

The Village got complaints; one neighbor got a ticket, while someone on the other side of the street did not. The Security Team agreed that it was not equitable. The dash camera has brought the solution.

The driver of the sweeper has nothing to do with the camera. It is calibrated each morning and records continuously. At the end of a day, a supervisor reviews the recording, notes the violations, and notifies the residents by mail. "Now we're getting compliments saying it's fair for everyone," adds the Chief. And it's saving money: on gas, on manpower, and on paperwork.

Leisure Village is Popping!

Are you thinking of selling your home? The Barlows are professional and knowledgeable. Here is what a few clients have recently expressed:

"Time just flies by—you and all your office are so special to me. I am so grateful for the support, great help, patience and many 'extras' I received right from the start. I sincerely appreciate everything. My prayers for my future have been more than answered. Love to you all for making my hopes and dreams a reality." -Barbara

"Thank you, we were very pleased with the listing and completed sale of my property in Leisure Village. The Barlows in my opinion are very very professional in the way they presented our house. They were instrumental in saving my sister and I several thousand dollars. Before we listed the home they also managed the property for us and did an excellent job. 'A very professional family team.'" -Janice

"I just wanted to let you know how much I appreciated your support and efforts in selling our family home recently in Leisure Village. These efforts and attention to details throughout the past 6 months made this house selling experience so much easier for [us]. I would and will recommend the Barlow Realty as great people to work with and willing to go the extra mile to get the job done." — Doug

My brother and I want to thank you once again for your very professional representation and sale of my mother's home in Leisure Village. We appreciated your timely updates on showings and comments by potential buyers. This helped us in moving forward with the renovations you recommended to make the property more marketable. Your continuous communication with us during the whole process was greatly appreciated. We will certainly recommend Barlow Realty to others in the future. -Diane
