Vote for library's photo and worldwide recognition

Help Fresno State's Henry Madden Library win the American International Education Foundation's cover photo contest by voting through Monday, Feb. 11. A photo of the library was selected as one of the top six finalists and the entry with the most online votes will be featured on the cover of the foundation's international student magazine, "US Campus Guide." The photos and voting are available at AIEF's Facebook page: www.facebook.com/aief.usa. Selecting a school counts as one vote. "Liking" the photo does not count as a vote. Mobile devices may not be used for voting. "Winning this contest will position Fresno State globally and provide recognition for our campus while enhancing student recruitment efforts," said Lisa C. James, international admissions specialist in the Office of International Student Services and Programs at Fresno State.
