Dear Friend:

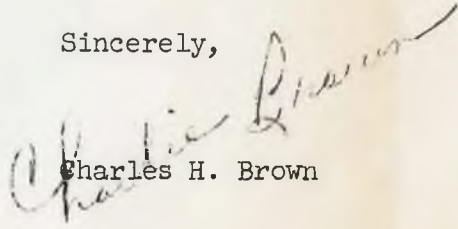

Knowing of your interest in the issues of the 1960 campaign, attached herewith is the full text of a talk Senator Symington is delivering today before the American Society of Newspaper Editors here in Washington.

As you will note, Senator Symington points out this is the first in a series of talks in which he plans to spell out his position and proposals in detail.

I am sure Senator Symington would be glad to have your comments and suggestions with respect to this talk.

It will always be good to hear from you here at the Symington for President Headquarters.

Sincerely,

Charles H. Brown
