

A black and white photograph of a university campus. In the background, a tall, modern building with a grid-like facade of windows and balconies stands prominently. In the foreground, a paved walkway curves through a landscaped area with low-lying plants and flowers. A person is walking along this path, carrying a bag. In the middle ground, a large courtyard is filled with many people, some sitting on benches or the ground, others standing. A large umbrella is visible in the courtyard. To the right, another building is partially visible. The sky is clear.

1982-83 SPORTS REVIEW

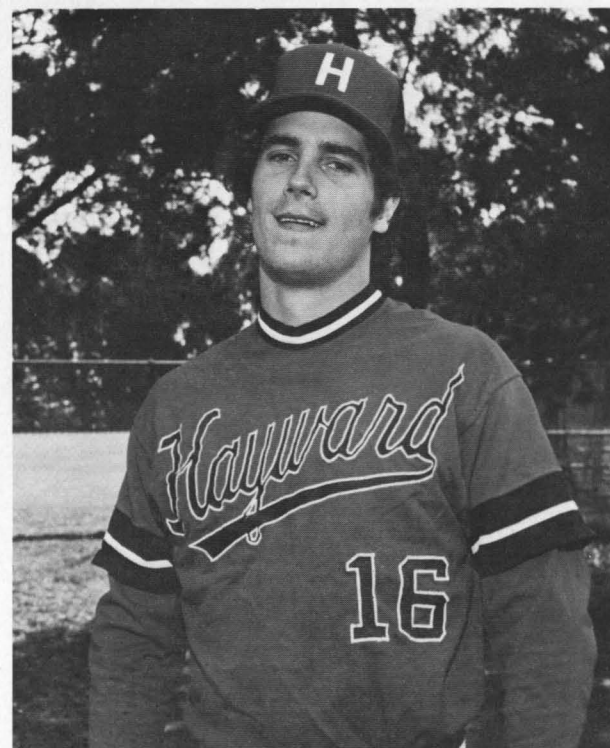

In track and field competition, both the CSUH men's and women's teams captured conference titles. This year's win was the 14th consecutive title for the men.

And for the eighth consecutive year, the Pioneer tennis team has grabbed the conference championship. Rolf Wiedenmeyer and Jeff Southwick teamed up to win All-America honors at the nationals.

In swimming Mary Patten became the first Cal State swimmer to win a national championship. She did it in the 100 breaststroke event. In addition to Patten, Brad Gothberg also won All America honors at the nationals. He did it in the 1650 free.

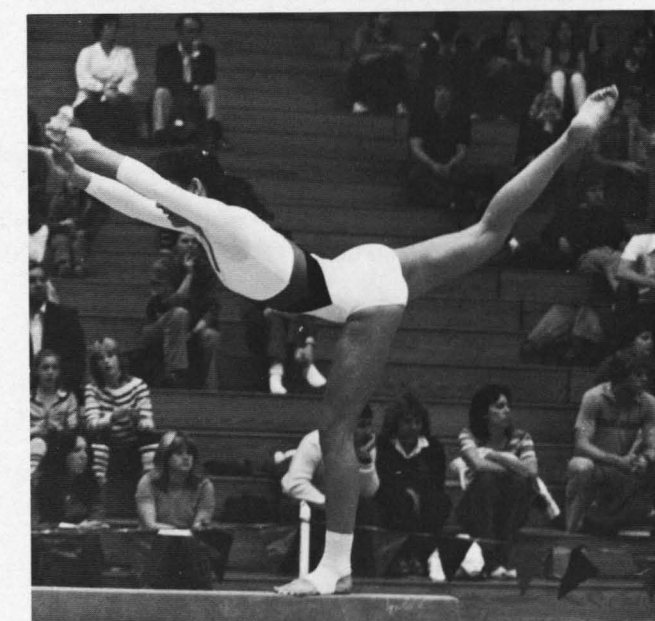

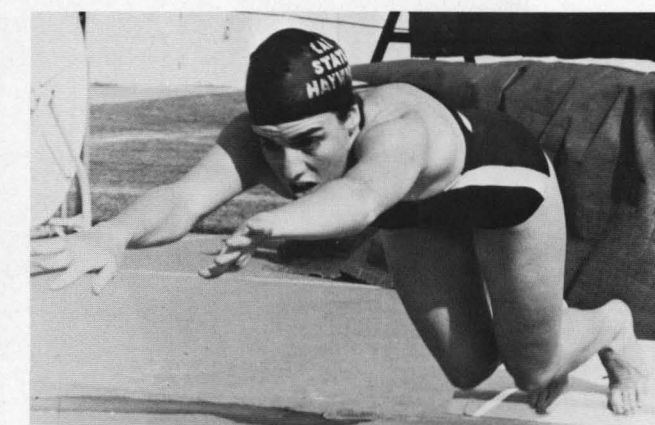

The men's soccer team earned a tie for the NCAC crown this year. George Fernandez led the team in scoring for the season with 23 points.

Clif Farina (right) was top hitter for the Pioneer baseball team this year with a 3.38 batting average and 33 RBI's.

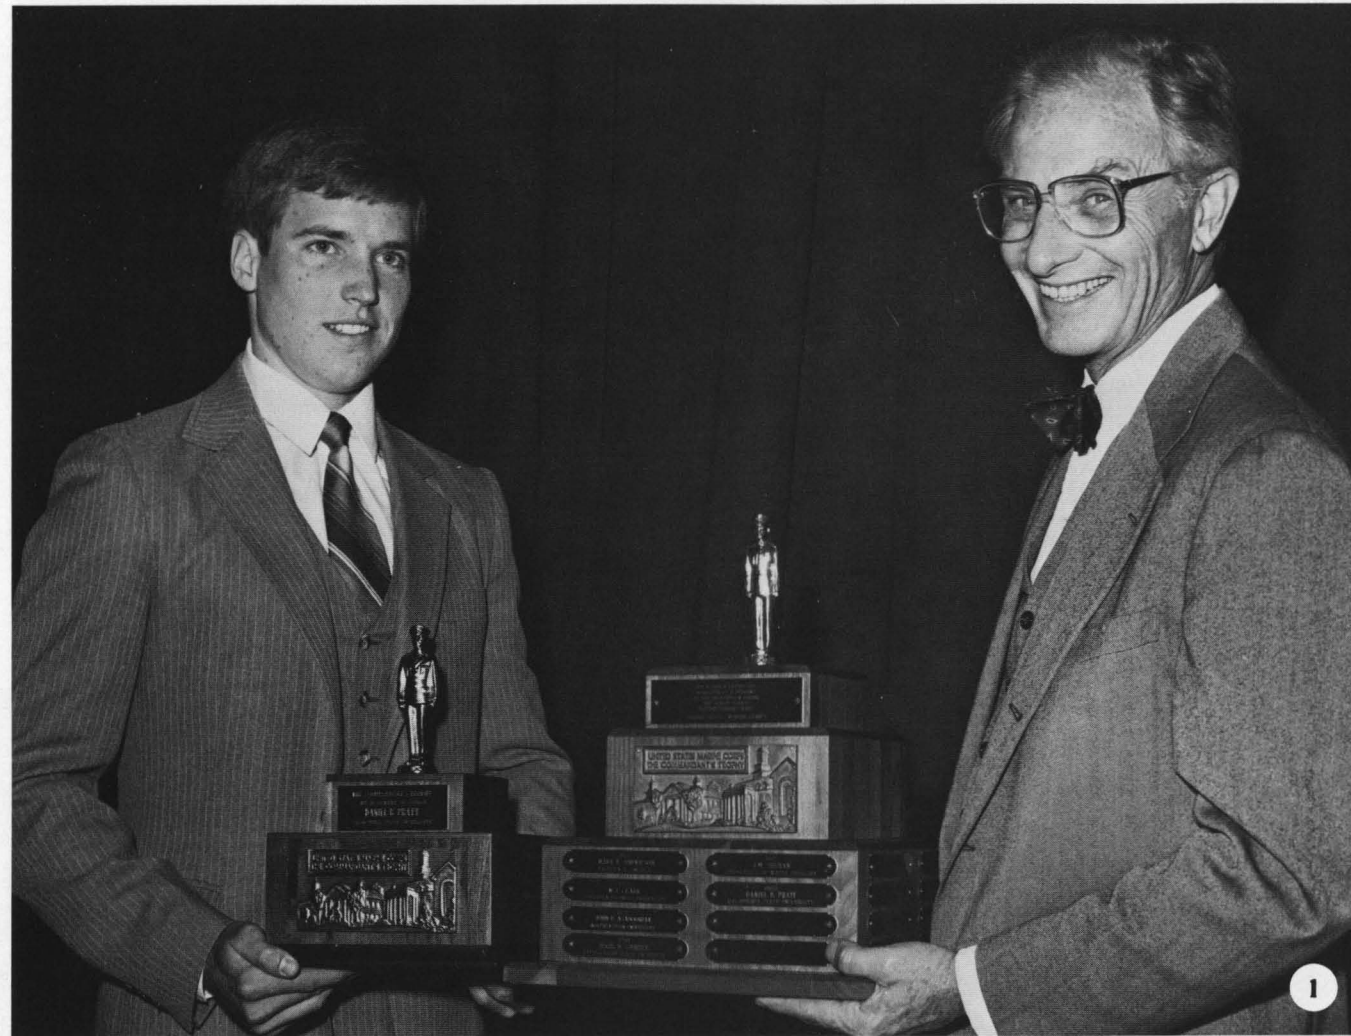

Top Athletes
