YNCG Flu Shot Clinic Set For October 6

By Sandy Okum

YNCG., in cooperation with Livingston Memorial Visiting Nurses Association, will sponsor the annual LV flu program.

It will be held in the AR on Wednesday, October 6 for 9 a.m. to noon.

To alleviate crowding and long waiting periods, come according to these rules: if your last name begins O thru Z come at 8:45., H thru N at 9:45 a.m.; A thru G at 10:45 a.m.

There will be no charge to you if you bring a valid Medicare card. If you belong to an HMO and want your shot given here it will cost you $10.00. All others not possessing a Medicare card will also be charged $10.00.

Please do not forget your Medicare card. Cash or check will be accepted.

Your Y.N.C.G. membership fee of $1.00 was due July 1. Please sign up at the clinic.

LV Patrolman Merits Award

Randolph Watkins General Manager and Security Chief Cody Madison are shown presenting an award September 7 at the LV Open Board meeting, from all the Villagers to Joel Rackerby, far right, for meritorious service in rescuing a disoriented resident from her smoke filled house the previous month. Rackerby was treated for smoke inhalation at a local hospital. Also Camarillo Mayor Kevin Kildree and Cmdr. Dave Tennessen in a brief ceremony at the police station gave Rackerby a certificate naming him Citizen of the Month. Watkins said the security guards are usually the first to arrive in an emergency "We're proud of what he did. He deserves the recognition," said Watkins.

Arts & Crafts Show to Display Local Talent October 17 in AR

By Ruth W. Miller

It is almost time for the annual Art Show again. The Village Painters will sponsor the Art and Crafts Show in the Assembly Room on Sunday October 17, from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.. For those who have not attended these shows in previous years, the time will be well spent as you enjoy the creative expressions of our talented Villagers. For those of you who have attended previously, this show will be better than ever!

In addition to the display of paintings by the Village Painters, other Village clubs have been invited to display their arts also. Participating clubs will show their photography, ceramics, woodwork, gem and minerals, needlework, and more. It is always amazing and gratifying to see how much talent there is in our Village.

The date is October 17; and the time, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.; and the place - the AR! Everyone is encouraged to attend and bring guests. No admission charge.

INSIDE LEISURE VILLAGE

They Are All Heroes

At the September Open Board Meeting LV residents were treated to the presentation of a plaque to Security Officer Joel Rackerby for meritorious service in assisting a resident to escape from a fire in her home. This is not the first time a Security person has participated in act of saving a life nor, unfortunately, will it be the last time. The Village is fortunate to have a Security Department staff capable of performing these life-saving acts. Less spectacular are their day-to-day tasks which involve traffic control, servicing lockouts, catching stray animals, etc. Probably the second most demanding activity is that of dealing with motorists who complain "You can't do this to me, I pay your salary" or "I was not doing 40 mph you stupid (you fill in the blanks)" Indeed, the level of behavior of some drivers has fallen so low that all traffic stops are now tape recorded. When the tapes are played back they display the professional behavior of the Security staff and traffic citations are rarely dismissed.

The level of professionalism and courtesy extended to motorists by the Security staff during a traffic stop, in the face of the vile behavior shown by some drivers, is also a form of heroism.

Think about it, the Security person you berate may be the one you may some day thank for saving your life.

I was pleased to see the rapid and efficient response to my suggestion to trim the flowers in front of the entrance to the Village, in order to improve visibility of cars on Santa Rosa Road.

Many residents are unaware of the accident a few years ago when a truck plowed through the red light at the corner. It struck the car of a female resident just leaving the Village and then knocked down some of the wall at the entrance to the Village.

Arthur Shainhouse,

To all our friends and neighbors I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation for your expression of love and sympathy for the passing of my dear husband, Howard. You have been a source of comfort and strength to me and my family during this very difficult time.

Tess Kueffer, V 20
and family

It is difficult to put into words the comfort and blessings I felt when I arrived home from my sister's funeral and found an abundance of cards from all my friends in Leisure Village. Thank you for your thoughtfulness and for caring — it is so appreciated.

Sally Weiss, V. 33

Dear Leisure Village Pet Lover,

I moved into the Village 20 years ago. It has been a location my husband and I have truly enjoyed.

One of our greatest enjoyment is walking our dog Lady everyday. We meet so many wonderful residents with their pet dogs also walking. We are truly very angry at the people that walk their pets and never clean up after them. We are sure many of the newer residents are not informed and don't take care of the common area by keeping it clean.

Please make sure the Rules and Regulations regarding walking pets is told to all residents. Looking forward to a clean Village again.

Sylvia Schwartz, V. 39

"My family and I want to thank our many friends in Leisure Village for their outpouring of love and thoughtfulness. It helped to fill an empty space in our hearts, left with the passing of our beloved husband and father, Joseph Scheck. Thank you very much.

Vicki Scheck, V 17

Our sincere thanks for all the cards and calls received wishing Ceil a speedy and complete recovery from her recent surgery. They were greatly appreciated.

I Have Noticed

Everything is farther away than is used to be. It is even twice as far to the corner, and they have added a hill.

I have given up running for the bus; it leaves earlier than it used to.

It seems to me they are making the stairs steeper than in the old days. And have you noticed the smaller print they use in the newspapers?

There is no sense in asking anyone to read aloud anymore, as everybody speaks in such a low voice I can hardly hear them.

The material in dresses is so skimpy now, especially around the hips and waist, that it is almost impossible to reach one's shoelaces. And the sizes don't run the way they used to. The 12s and 14s are so much smaller.

Even people are changing. They are so much younger than they use to be when I was their age. On the other hand, people my own age are so much older than I am.

I ran into an old classmate the other day, and she has aged so much that she didn't recognize me.

I got to thinking about the poor dear while I was combing my hair this morning, and in so doing I glanced at my own reflection. Really now, they don't even make good mirrors like they used to.

Lucy Fiore of Building & Grounds Committee

By Bill Himstreet

The Buildings and Grounds (B&G) Committee began this fiscal year with some enthusiastic members under the leadership of Chairperson Lucy Fiore and with a goal of creating a helpful, friendly relationship with homeowners as they work to maintain the pleasing appearance of the Village.

Articles VI and VII of the Rules and Regulations as detailed in the LVA telephone directory describe and list the primary concerns of the B&G Committee. Members are assigned the task of monitoring individual villages to assure that maintenance crews and residents abide by those guides. To orient members to the monitoring process, a recent field trip to Village 38 was conducted by Fiore and a supervisor of the maintenance grounds staff.

Of some concern to residents and committee members is the classification of white-, yellow-, and red-stake garden areas which establishes homeowner and LVA maintenance responsibilities as described also in Article VII. The field trip helped acquaint members with this important topic.

The B&G is aware of maintenance and renovation needs as the Village grows older. To do the monitoring job properly, additional members are needed to spread the work among volunteers.

If you have an interest in Village beautification and can devote one or two hours a month to monitoring a village, not your own, Lucy Fiore would like to hear from you.

To quote Winston Churchill, "We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give." If you can give some time to keeping this a lovely place to live, you should attend the next B&G monthly meeting at 9 a.m. in the Multi-purpose Room on Thursday, October 7. These meetings on the first Thursday of the month are guaranteed by Committee agreement to last not more than an hour and a half.

55 Alive Classes

By Naomi Balfour

On October 21 and 22 Leisure Village drivers will have another opportunity to take the 55 Alive defensive driving class. The 2 day course is offered from 1-5 p.m. in the Multi-purpose Room. It is brought to the Village by the Education and Recreation Committee under the sponsorship of the A.A.R.P.

The course is designed to help seniors deal with age related changes so they may continue safe driving. All insurance companies give an insurance discount for 3 years to those who complete the course.

Those who have taken the class more than 3 years ago may wish to repeat it in order to continue the discount. The cost is $8.00 per person. Class size is limited so all must be pre-registered and prepaid. Call Naomi Balfour 987-9851 to take care of this or for more information.

LV Memory Project Completed

By Lillian Hawthorne

During the month of August, the Andrus Gerontology Center of the University of Southern California completed a special research project to study the possible effects of mood on memory in older people. Almost 90 Leisure Village residents volunteered to participate in this study which was conducted in a series of small group sessions during the month. The researchers were greatly appreciative of the number of volunteers and impressed by their responses.

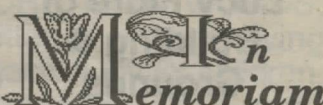

The purpose of the project was not to measure individual memory but to learn whether, and in what ways, memory may be affected by strong positive or negative emotions. Similar studies have previously been conducted with other age groups in the community.

The project was headed by Dr. Bob Knight of the Andrus Center faculty assisted by three Ph.D. graduate students. During the next few months, the research team will be organizing, reviewing and interpreting the data collected. When that is completed, there will be a meeting for Leisure Village at which Dr. Knight will report back on the findings. At that time, he will discuss the following questions:

1) What were the results of this study regarding our senior participants? 2) How do these results compare with other age groups? 3) What is the significance of these findings? 4) How can this information be used professionally and personally?

All participants are urged to attend that meeting; other interested resi-

Water Aerobics Group Fetes Teacher

By Maxine Chapman

Celebrating Marie Hergenroeder's birthday, and recognizing her 16 years of teaching the LV Water Aerobics class three days a week, a catered luncheon was held in the AR, August 23.

Bernice Knebel, Ruth Miller and Phyllis Pattison, with the help of other members of the aerobics class, staged a catered Chinese buffet luncheon. The AR was festive with decorations, flowers and good feelings.

Jules Nayfack played background organ music. A humorous reminder of Marie directing the class, sung to a familiar tune included:

You say it loud & clear

Committee Seeks New Updates on Rules For Election, Nominations

The Board of Directors has appointed the following homeowners to an Ad Hoc, Committee on Nominating, Campaign, and Election. Larry Coleman, V37; Vern Kiep, V44; Nancy Kuebel, V9; Gloria Page, V44 and Bernie Solway, V33 staff the Committee.

At their first meeting the committee decided to ask village residents for their suggestions for changes and/or additions to the procedures used for Board of Directors' nominations, campaigns and elections. These suggestions could be provided in the form of letters. The committee must report its findings and recommendations to the Board of Directors by November 30. The deadline for submitting letters is Monday, October 4.

The committee is interested in constructive suggestions and is not seeking criticisms of past practices or actions. The Board of Directors has specifically stated that the committee is not an oversight committee. Although the committee has not endorsed or adopted any specific suggestions it suggests that contributors note the form and tone of Bill Stubbs' letter to the editor entitled Election Reform in the July 30, 1999 issue of ILV.

Any suggestions submitted in this manner will be considered by the committee along with all other information obtained from other sources and no preferential treatment should be inferred. Please submit letters to:

Now That I'm Older, Here's What I've Discovered

The Leisure Village Exercise Group's Annual Potluck Dinner Celebration will be held this year on Friday, October 29 at 5:30 p.m. in the AR. The theme will be Halloween and members are invited to attend in costume. Judging will be held for the most original get-ups.

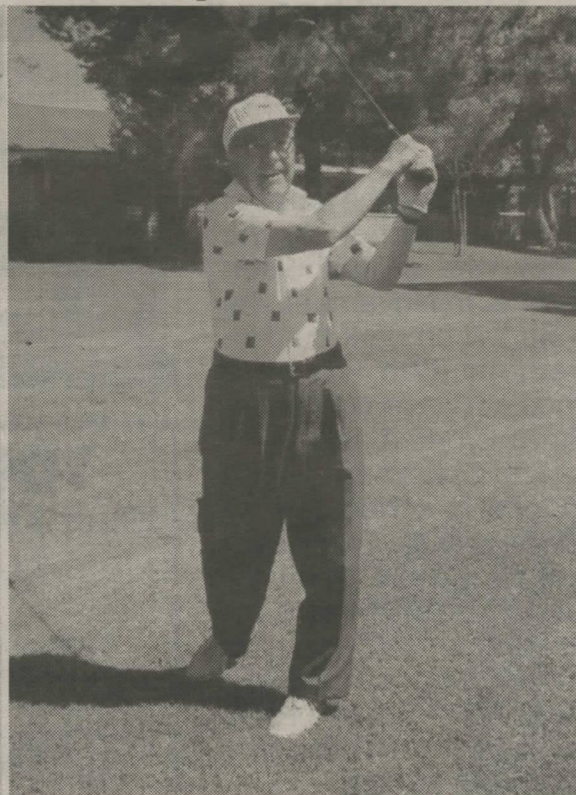

Attendees will make up their own tables of 10 or 12 and plan the menu for their table. Coffee and tea will be provided. To make sure of a place at a table, contact Shiphrah Maller or Lorraine Kaplan now.

The Leisure Village Exercise Group program meets Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 9 a.m. at the Pool Pavilion. All residents are welcome to join.

"Golf The Greatest Game Of All"

By Jack Whalen

Baseball great, Ted Williams, watching Sam Snead for the first time, said, "You golfers sure have it easy. You smack a ball that's just sitting still on the ground while I have to hit a pitch that's coming at me at 90 miles per hour."

"Yeah," drawled Sam, "but you get three strikes."

Golf's more than just a sport. It requires self-reliance, independence, responsibility, integrity and trust. No extenuation is granted misfortune, mistake or incompetence. There are no second chances. Like life, it is often unfair and unjust.

A golfer is his own creator, his own destroyer. He plays his own ball. It is a contest against Nature, by, and yet against, himself. How elegantly one performs is irrelevant. No A's for effort --- only for results.

Perhaps the greatest scrambler of all time, Walter Hagen, arriving for a tournament in a tux after a full night of partying, hit his tee shot far to the right. His second shot crossed the fairway to the left and a miracle third shot landed on the fringe of the green. He calmly chipped it in for a par 4.

"You sure didn't look too good on that hole," someone remarked. "It's not how," replied the Haig, "it's how many."

No scapegoat can be found in golf. No opponent's or partner's skill or clumsiness affects his performance. Tennis has an opponent on whom one can rely for aid or error. Football, with many partners and many opponents, is light years removed.

Home Run King Babe Ruth, going to a driving range for the first time, proclaimed, "I'll murder that ball. After missing it completely on his first two swings, the King of Swat was overheard saying, "Guess I'll have to stick with that bigger baseball."

Golf balls often roll into a divot mark, take a really bad bounce and/or roll into a shoe print in a bunker. It's all part of the game and there's even a name for it: "the rub of the green."

Like illness or disaster it is to be borne without relief. Some risks and hazards are foreseeable.

Bunkers, trees, lakes and wind cunningly offer a rewarding or disastrous gamble or test resistance to temptation. There are no second chances in golf. Every stroke counts. In most other activities, second and even third chances are given. Two serves in tennis, two free throws to make one in basketball, three strikes in baseball and four downs in football.

Most of us enjoy watching players "who come to play" and hit shots with dispatch. Lannie Wadkins is a great example. He plans his fairway shots as he approaches the ball, selects his club and "hits away." And that's the way Chi Chi Rodriguez is on the putting green. Someone once said, "Chi Chi, why do you putt so fast?" He replied, "I like to miss 'em quick."

Golf is a conservative game. Rules change slowly; some never. But equipment has greatly improved as have the quality and quantity of golf courses. Bobby Jones, easily the greatest golfer in his time, in later years, watching Jack Nicklaus make booming drives, stated, "He plays a game I'm not familiar with."

The reward for good performance — by real skill or good luck — is insecure. To do better — always better — is the goal.

In 1956, while having lunch at Duke Zeibert's Washington, D.C. restaurant, my host introduced me to Jim Hagerty, the presidential spokesman, who was at a nearby table.

I inquired as to the health of President Eisenhower and Hagerty replied, "The chief's in a bad mood today. He three-putted four greens at Congressional Country Club yesterday."

"Good heavens," I replied, "hopefully he won't have to make any major decisions today. Is the fate of our nation in peril?"

"No problem," was the response, "he'll get rid of those putting 'yips' on the practice green behind the White House and be back to his usual good game real soon."

Honor and integrity are always at stake. A golfer monitors himself with no possibility for a stroke to be uncounted. Any temptation to dishonesty is thwarted by the impossibility of lying to one's self successfully.

You live with what you do, not with what you might say you did. No umpire calls errors; no umpire judges performance. The game is purely objective. A stroke was taken or it wasn't; the ball is out of bounds or it isn't; and it's in the cup or it isn't.

Occasionally we hear of golfers having temper tantrums. They tell the story (believe it or not) of "terrible" Tommy Bolt, during a match when everything went bad and he started breaking clubs and throwing some in the lake.

On the 17th hole, after a good drive, he asked his caddie for his 5-iron. "Mr. Bolt," said his caddie, "you better hit your 3-iron."

"What are you talking about," shouted Bolt. "I can easily get there with my 5. Give it to me."

Back came the response, "Mr. Bolt, all you got left is your 3-iron."

Some may say that golf is a game played by intelligent people stupidly. One U.S. President, who shall remain nameless, said many years ago, "I have far more important things to do than chase a little white ball around."

How true it is that golf is not for all. Then there's the extreme, ultimate golfer. No one practiced harder or worked more hours on his game than shot maker extraordinary Ben Hogan. And he was tightlipped.

One of Snead's friends once said, "Sam, you've played against Hogan in a number of matches. Did he ever talk to you?"

"Shucks," said Sam, "the only thing he'd ever say was 'You're away Sam.'"

Golfers are courteous to other golfers. They don't distract others from their best play. A golfer does not gain -- and more important -- does not lose by success, or failure, of others.

In an important championship, Gary Player found himself in a sandtrap with a most difficult shot to execute. He positioned himself perfectly, his swing took just the right amount of sand and the ball hit and held just inches from the flag.

"What a lucky shot," someone boldly exclaimed. "Yes," replied the spunky South African, "the more I practice, the luckier I get."

What makes many of us say "Golf is a game we truly love." Is it the golf course, in all its natural beauty, waiting there to test our skills?

Is it the companionship and serenity, the walk in the fresh air, lovely trees, manicured greens, the sweet moments of solitude, the feeling that all's well in this wide, wonderful world?

It's all that and lots, lots more. So what are we waiting for? Let's go out and "hit the ball."

VILLAGE SWINGERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

By Sig Jaffe

October promises to be a colorful month for the Square Dance club when the square dancers bring out their various costumes to enliven the dances. On October 5, the costume will be leis, flowers, and exotic print dresses and shirts to celebrate Hawaiian night.

During the general meeting dance on October 12, dancers will wear club dress to produce a picturesque scene. October 19 will be badge night.

Club members will wear the various badges and pins that they have accumulated during visits to other clubs. The host clubs have awarded LV dancers these pins and badges as souvenirs of participation in their dances.

On October 26, the assembly room will be haunted with ghosts, goblins and other mischievous spirits to celebrate Halloween.

Villagers are invited to come for fun and exercise, with the calls of Bill Kramer and the round dance music of Norman Fuller. All dances are held in the AR from 7-10 p.m.

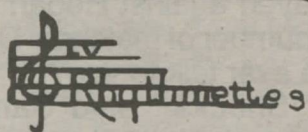

SATURDAY NIGHT BALLROOM DANCE

By Anne Janoff

Coming up for the Saturday Night Ballroom Dance will be the dates of October 9 and 23, the later with a Halloween theme. In November, the 13th will be dark but November 27th will be a regular dance with popular recorded music.

The Christmas Holiday Dance is scheduled for December 11. Some seasonal goodies will be added to the refreshments of coffee, tea, punch, and ice. BYOB. Dancing is from 8 to 10:30 p.m. in the AR for fifty cents per person.

There will be no dance on December 25. January 8 will be the first Saturday Night Ballroom Dance in the year 2000.

By Jeanette Ventura

The Rhythmette Club's annual summer picnic on August 20th, was a great success and everyone had a very enjoyable time. Good food, beverages, and desserts were served to a large group of members and friends. The highlight of the evening was the performance by "The Goldenairs". We wish to thank Ginny Naspo and all the other Goldenairs for the great entertainment of Country Western songs, performed in their own special way.

Newcomers are welcome to join the Rhythmette band. Meetings are on every Tuesday in the AR from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m. Come and join in the fun.

HAPPY HOOFERS

By Dorothy Karlin

The Happy Hoofers continue to enjoy dancing with guidance from Beverly Lawrence, the regular instructor. The group rehearses new steps and old dances under direction of Helen Gold.

A holiday potluck is planned for November. The group also has a monthly luncheon.

If you are interested in joining call president Ida Zeller, or Helen Gold for information.

Belles of Harmony

By Billie Pachter

The second fall meeting of the Belles of Harmony will be held on Wednesday, September 29, at 10 a.m. in the MPR. The Belles' first and second sopranos and the altos will be expressing themselves in song, rendering melody in rhythmic patterns, knowing that their professional director, Lois Bello, will be at the helm. For further information call the president, Elaine Shainhouse, at 987-2354.

COMPUTER CLUB

By Mort Marcovitz

Have you visited the computer center in the Annex? The Center is for the use of Village residents. Eight Windows and three MAC computers are operational and used for classes and meetings. A 32"-TV serves as a computer monitor at the instructor's computer and is visible to everyone in the room.

Internet Service and E-mail service are provided through the GTE cable TV network. Communication speeds are up to 100 times faster than using the telephone line. Pictures, photographs, and text documents can be transmitted using the new Center Scanner.

Use the Internet to send and receive E-mail anywhere in the world, to send and receive pictures of your family, plan your next trip, find a lost relative or friend, research your family tree, find out what's doing at the Getty, get the latest news from your home town, and track your Investments.

Use a computer to compose letters and memoranda, keep secure legal and financial records, and create greeting cards

The Computer Club, of close to 300 members, has as its primary objective: "to help Village residents use computers." Classes and meetings are held to achieve this objective and club members give personal assistance to Village residents.

Visit the club meetings and classes. The schedule is posted on Channel 8, the Bulletin Board in the Atrium, and on the door of Computer Center. The Club General Meeting is held the second Friday of every month in the Multi-Purpose Room at 10:00 a.m.

The Village Painters

By Ruth W. Miller

The Village Painters are gearing up for the annual Leisure Village Art Show on Sunday October 17. In preparation for this, Marion Jayne gave her very helpful critique of works in progress. This informative session was enjoyed by all at the September meeting.

For the October meeting, there will be the election of officers for the year 2000. In addition, there will be a showing of a wonderful video on the artist, Alexander Calder, who is especially known for his mobiles and stables. Everyone is welcome to partake of this program on October 6 in the MPR at 1:00 p.m.

INDOOR OUTDOOR GARDEN CLUB

By Louise Coddington

The Leisure Village Garden Club will meet Thursday, October 14, and the guest lecturer will be Onalee Ames. She is from the "Once Upon A Time" shop which is located in the Somis Nut House. Her speciality is in floral arrangements as used in home decor, and she will demonstrate how to utilize items most of the club members will have around the house.

The Garden Club Marathon Bridge luncheon will be November 3 in the AR at 12:00 noon and each participant is to bring a salad to serve six, and the tickets are $2.50 each. For more information, phone Ruth Smith at 482-3644.

Inside their garage in Village 29, Pat and Ed Holly put grocery items into one large bag and fresh vegetables into another. Each participant receives this help weekly, thanks to many volunteers who make this the LV Food Distribution Program.

Food Assistance For Villagers Clarified By Ed Holly

100% of funds contributed to LV Food Distribution are utilized in acquiring food and grocery items, mostly from Food Share Inc. of Oxnard, for qualified recipients as explained in the August issue of Inside Leisure Village.

Contributions made to Food Share Inc. are retained 100% by Food Share Inc. Both organizations depend on contributions but there is no sharing of funds between the two organizations. Leisure Village Food Distribution currently services 10 clients weekly and Food Share currently serves several thousand clients weekly. Both organizations depend on voluntary contributions.

Contributions to LV Food Distribution should be sent to Ed Holly at 29204 Village 29. Contributions to Food Share Inc. should be sent to 4156 N. Southbank, Oxnard, CA 93030.

55 Alive Classes By Naomi Balfour

On October 21 and 22 Leisure Village drivers will have another opportunity to take the 55 Alive defensive driving class. The 2 day course is offered from 1-5 p.m. in the Multi-purpose Room. It is brought to the Village by the Education and Recreation Committee under the sponsorship of the A.A.R.P.

The course is designed to help seniors deal with age related changes so they may continue safe driving. All insurance companies give an insurance discount for 3 years to those who complete the class.

Those who have taken the class more than 3 years ago may wish to repeat it in order to continue the discount. The cost is $8.00 per person.

DANCE WORKSHOP

By Ida Kubica

The Country Line Dance Workshop will be celebrating Halloween at the October 26 dance. That's the time to show another side of your personality in costume, and be creative. Casual dress is also acceptable. Refreshments will be served. More details at the October 5 dance/meeting. Want to learn the line dances which they do at the Saturday Night Dances? We know them all. We will review them upon request. See you Tuesdays at 3 p.m. in the AR.

By Sally Yale

The Chorale will start rehearsals Monday, September 27 in the MPR at 12:30 p.m. Members will receive new music and dues of $35 per year are payable at this time. All prospective members are invited to join.

Returning will be accompanist Dorothy Weiss and director and teacher Marcine Jardine. For more information call Sally at 482-2554.

Class size is limited so all must be pre-registered and prepaid. Call Naomi Balfour 987-9851 to take care of this or for more information.

CAMERA CLUB

By Jerry Cohen

The Leisure Village Camera Club will hold a meeting Wednesday, October 6 in the MPR. Awards will be given to winners of the previous competition; the Landscape/Seascape category winning slides were submitted by Jerry Cohen, Barbara Simons, and Larry Coleman. Honorable mention ribbons will be presented to Betty Murray and Ben Smithkin. In the category of Dominant Color, awards will be presented to Ed Pollaine, Jerry Cohen, and Ben Smithkin. The honorable mention ribbons will be awarded to Sam Weinstein and Imogene Gregory. The judge was Dan Murphy, a professional photographer. The next competition will be held on October 20 at 7:30 p.m. and the assigned category is Travel. All villagers are invited to view these outstanding slide competitions. A program night which promises to be both informative and interesting is scheduled for October 20. Refreshment will be served.

BILLIARD

By Phyl & Sid Yablun

The Billiard Club Tournament will begin on October 6 and will be followed by a Tournafest. If you have not yet signed up for it please do so as quickly as possible. The next regular meeting is on October 26 in the MPR at 7:30 p.m.

Mark your calendar for June 6, 2000 - the date of the Club's annual picnic. There will be food, games and prizes. It is a lot of fun and the cost is a mere $7.

As a final thought, remember that if at first you don't succeed, skydiving is not for you.

Single Active Seniors By Zelda Greentree

Coming in October the Single Active Seniors will have a speaker from the Ventura, County Alzheimer's Association speak on "Someone to Stand by You."

In the next few months, we plan to have a physician speak on "Holistic Medicine" and we are also planning a great holiday party. In preparation for the party, start collecting as many "jokes" as you can.

Watch for the posters and notices on Channel 8 and for more info call: Zelda, 389-9694.

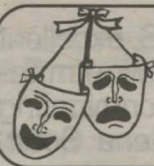

THE LEISURE VILLAGE WOMEN'S CLUB

By Genevieve M. Leventhal

L.V. Womens' Club invites you to attend an exciting afternoon Thursday, October 7 at 1:30 p.m. in the AR. Entertainment will be Bingo.

Bingo cards are $1.00 each. Members will be given two free cards. There will be prizes and refreshments. Everyone welcome.

PLAYERS GUILD

By Anne Wolfson

At the Players Guild meeting on October 21, at 7:30 p.m. the program will be given by "The players Guild Drama Workshop," directed by Joe Lorand. This is a special group

THE CERAMIC PLUS CLUB

By Don Holmes

The Ceramics Plus Club will have items for sale at the Annual Leisure Village sale on October 17. Watch for the table spread with all kinds of "goodies", largely among, them will be ear-rings and probably, belt buckles. These are all made by the Club members. Most, if not all, will be signed by the Club member who made it, which adds a "personal touch" to the item.

The club meets every fourth Thursday at 10:00 a.m. in the Ceramics Room; all are welcome. If you have something to show off, bring it.

which is being taught by our professional coach, Joe Lorand. They will put on a series of skits that you will enjoy.

I am all settled in my new home and I am very happy to be here with no more shopping and no more cooking! I want to thank you for all your good work on my behalf. You sold my home for a great price and you treated me like royalty. I want you to know I really appreciate it.
Zelda Robinson

Just a note to thank you for doing such a great job in selling Rob's mom's Leisure Village property. I don't even think the paint was dry when we received and accepted an offer! WOW! We appreciated all the little things you have done along the way to make this ordeal a little easier. It is so refreshing to deal with a Realtor who actually does more than just show us where to sign on the dotted line. You all handled every detail so pleasantly and professionally and always went the extra mile.
