Hello everyone!

This is just to let you know we had our first public screening of the documentary on April 4th at the Phoenix Film Festival. We were not in competition and not inviting reviews this time out. It was a little "trial run" for us to test audience response. We felt very privileged to be invited because they only saw the trailer which is on our website <iknowawomanlikethat.com> and invited us on just that alone. The response was very enthusiastic and gratifying. There is still work to do and a score to be composed, and we do not yet have a distributor. We hope our next stop will be some of the big Fall Festivals. We'll keep you informed of every step along the way. Our dream is to have all of us, every one of you together to see it with us on a future occasion.
