REGALIA

The academic regalia worn at Commencement continues a tradition which began in twelfth century Western universities when robes and hoods were the standard garments of the day. This tradition was revived in the United States during the seventeenth century by students who felt the robes not only added dignity to the commencement ceremony, but also provided uniform dress for rich and poor graduates alike.

All candidates for degrees wear plain black gowns and black mortarboard hats. For the faculty, the type of gown and the color of the hood designate the field in which the individual received his or her highest degree. In some cases the color of the gown also indicates the institution from which that degree was granted. Bachelor's and master's gowns have pointed sleeves. Doctoral gowns have rounded, open sleeves. There are no trimmings on the gown for bachelor's and master's degree recipients. Doctoral gowns are trimmed down the front with black velvet and have three velvet bars across the sleeve. In some cases, the gown is trimmed in a color designating the field of study rather than in black.

Hoods are worn around the neck and over the gown. Cal State hoods are lined with the University's colors: red, white and black. The outside of the hood is trimmed in a color representing the discipline in which the graduate earned the degree.

The doctoral cap is worn with a gold tassel. Exceptions to the mortarboard may be present.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

Honors at graduation are awarded to undergraduate students in the three classifications below:

- cum laude signifies "with praise" and goes to students with grade point averages of 3.60 to 3.74,

- ✧ magna cum laude means "with great praise" and goes to students with grade point averages of 3.75 to 3.89,

- † summa cum laude means "with highest praise" and goes to students with grade point averages of 3.90 to 4.00.

Graduates who have achieved the above designations were awarded the Honors Medallion at a separate ceremony on May 20. The medallion depicts a laurel wreath surrounding the seal of California State University, Hayward. Our honors graduates wear their medallions today as a demonstration of the University's commitment to academic excellence.

Honors notations for Winter, Spring and Summer Quarter graduates are based upon student records as of the end of the Winter Quarter. Official designations are dependent upon the complete student record.

Twenty-Ninth Commencement

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome to Cal State's commencement pageant. I say pageant, because of the many traditional elements of the ceremony--the procession of faculty in their robes, the music, the banners--but also because of the spirit of this event. Commencement is one of the most joyous occasions of the year.

The formal program is frequently upstaged--and rightfully so--by the enthusiasm, spontaneity and, in some cases, theatrical flare of our graduates. The smiles, tears, shouts and laughter of each commencement remind us of how precious a goal has been achieved.

Even though the pride that unites us today cannot be bottled, or conveyed with a few words or photographs, we can spread the message of Cal State Hayward.

How does a university grow and excel? In large part on the testimony of its alumni, their family and friends. Your words and actions are the seeds of the campus' future. We have much to accomplish as we expand our role as a major educational institution. But without the support of our graduates, Cal State cannot fulfill the goals set out three decades ago at its founding.

On this special day I want to say directly to graduates, the diploma that will soon be yours is a symbol of your commitment and effort. It is also a symbol of the bond you share with this University and with the people whose dream became Cal State Hayward. Your talents have brought you this far and I ask for a continuing portion of those talents in service to your university and your community.

Sincerely,

Ellis E. McCune
President

NOTES

 The closest restrooms and water fountains are located in Robinson Hall, the Music and Business Building and the Arts and Education Building.*

 Disabled Student Services provides assistance to guests and graduates. Wheelchairs are available in Parking Lot K. Special seating, where the Commencement exercises are interpreted in sign language, is available for the deaf and hearing impaired.*

 For emergency purposes, personnel are on duty at the Student Health Center.*

 For those who wish to photograph graduates, there is a photography area in front of the stage. Please do not linger in the photography area as the space is limited. A photographer will photograph all graduates, individually, as they are congratulated by the President. These photographs can be ordered at the photography information tables.*

 A personalized videotape (VHS) of Commencement is available for $30. To place an order, call University Relations and Development at (415) 881-3724.*

 The Pioneer Bookstore is open today from 7:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. for problems with caps and gowns. Film is available for purchase.*

Pattern on cover and interior pages is from the manuscript "Works" by Geoffrey Chaucer, 1896
