Editor's policy repeated

By The Editor

When I took over as editor of Inside Leisure Village, I clearly stated my position on letters to the editor. That statement is repeated in the box on Page 14.

However, a letter from Ethel Ann Pemberton that we published in last month's issue has drawn some criticism from her and Gerry Robinson and Ed Evans, who support her and the matter she addressed. (See their letters at the end of this story, beginning on Page 14).

The core of their complaint is that I chose to seek out and publish a different interpretation of the issues, and that I sought the interpretation from Caroline Pratt, who chaired the ad hoc committee that formulated the changes Ms. Pemberton opposes.

Somehow, mainly, it appears the writers believe that some historical precedent supports their idea that anything can be said unchallenged in a letter to the editor. And if a Villager does disagree, the disagreement should appear in a later issue, by at least a month.

I disagree.

My sense of obligation to our readers and to the Village is not to publish one-sided allegations of improper behavior if there is a clear and obvious counterpoint. To ignore the other side, to trust chance or passion

General Manager resigns

Randy Watkins, the General Manager of Leisure Village, has resigned. We are sorry to see him leave. He has served the Village well during the eight years in the General Manager position, and his expertise will be missed. We wish him all the best in his new endeavors.

More details will be presented in the next issue.

Jim Thurmond's 1955 Chevy was just one of many dazzlers at the Village's first car show, held July 8. For more photos and a story, see Pages 5 and 6.

Comedian Shelley Berman coming to LV

Shelley Berman is coming to the Village August 20.

By Jim Brown

Four years ago, when helping Showtyme President Ed Williams book shows for the Leisure Village folks, I contacted the famous comedian, Mr. Shelley Berman, to see if he could spare a date to entertain here in the Village. I knew if I was successful, he would surely sell it out and provide us with one of his most memorable shows. As luck would have it, we couldn't reach an agreement at that time.

Well! Then was then, and now is now! After some calls, and help from my longtime friend, comic Jim MacGeorge, we were able to book Shelley to appear here on August 20, Sunday, at 2 p.m. in the AR!

MacGeorge is also coming along to be master of ceremonies, piano accompaniment, and some of his friends — George C. Scott, Humphrey Bogart, Stan Laurel, and other personalities — to augment this unique comedy afternoon.

To list Shelley's credentials would take too much space. Suffice it to say that Shelley is a product of the stage, screen, television and, of course, Las Vegas, where he works twice a year, and the endless corporate appearances each year to lecture, read his poetry, act and do his schtick with the telephone calls.

Thanks to cable television, Shelley has a recurring role as the father to Larry David in the HBO sitcom "Curb Your Enthusiasm" ev-

The CC&Rs have passed, and it is time to move on with life.

The 1st Annual Car Show was a big success. Please see the photo on this page and the photo and story package on Pages 6 and 7.

Lois Keeler reminds us of the history of Olvera Street on Page 9.

The lighting in the AR is fantastic. Go behind the scenes with Milan Weiss. See Page 8.

It is sad to say goodbye to Phil Woodward. He has served the Village well as a member of the Board. Hopefully, all will go well with the Woodward family. See Page 10.

Our Camera Club has a number of entries in this year's Ventura County Fair. We wish them the best of luck. See Page 10.

LETTERS

On July 4, 1943, just after a stay on the Pacific Ocean, I witnessed a parade on Market Street in San Francisco — bands playing, people cheering, flags waving.

When the four branches of the military marched by, I found myself shedding a tear or two. It was the first time I realized that I was an integral part of the U.S.A., as a barely 18-year-old sailor in the Navy.

My brother was on the USS Pennsylvania at Pearl Harbor on December 7, but the parade seemed to be a bit more personal.

On July 4, 2006, in Leisure Village, I saw and enjoyed many examples of the Stars and Stripes waving their message for all to see. I wanted more.

I went by every home in the Village and found myself counting the larger-than-miniature U.S. flags. The most flags waving were in Villages 20, 15, 24, 17, 18, all in all a good showing with one exception. Yes, one flag was faded around the edges, tattered a little by the ocean breezes. Someone was certainly not showing proper respect for the Stars and Stripes. Who? I'll never tell because I'll take the Fifth (amendment) on the Fourth (of July). It won't happen again. Promise!

Get those pumpkins ready

Are you all ready for another fun-filled day in the AR? On Monday, October 30, Leisure Village will hold its 2nd Annual Pumpkin Carving/Decorating Chili Cookoff contest sponsored by the LV Farmers Club.

This year, it will be bigger and better than last year, along with nice prizes. It is not too early to start thinking about your entry.

We are looking for any size pumpkin carved or decorated in any shape or fashion, but you cannot repeat the same pumpkin design you had last year.

The judging will be just a little bit different this year. We are going to have four categories — Best Carved, Funniest, Scariest and Most Original — plus the Peoples Choice. You must enter your pumpkin in only one of the four categories, and the Peoples Choice Award will go to the one single pumpkin voted on by all those in attendance. Each resident will be allowed one vote for the Peoples Choice.

There will also be a Chili Cookoff. The chili must be prepared at your home and brought to the AR in a container, hot and ready to be eaten. Please name your chili and identify if it is mild, spicy or hot and whether or not it has meat or if it is a vegetarian chili.

There will be two new additional contests this year:

1. Best Costume in the Women's Division and Best Costume in the Men's Division. The judging for the best costumes will be done as each resident in a costume will walk across the stage so everyone in attendance will be able to get a good view.

2. Best Pumpkin Dish. This can be any eatable dish made with the main ingredient being pumpkin. We are looking for cakes, pies, cookies, salads, casseroles or anything you would like to enter. The winners will be judged on appearance and taste.

There will be more information available on Channel 25 and posters at the Recreation Center. Please join us in participating in a great event.

For more information, please contact Jerry Spector at 384-9039.

55 ALIVE

By Claudia Roberts

The next 55 Alive Safe Driving Class will be offered Thursday, August 17, from 1 to 5 p.m., and Friday, August 18, from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room for the benefit of licensed drivers of all ages who are residents of Leisure Village. This is a two-day, afternoons-only class.

Everyone who takes the class will be entitled to a discount on your auto insurance for the next three years, according to California law. If you took the class more than three years ago, it must be repeated to continue the discount.

You will learn the current rules and restrictions of the DMV Code, be a safer and more cautious driver, and be better prepared to pass the written exam required by the DMV for license renewal if you are 70 or older.

The cost is $10 per person. You must be pre-registered and prepaid by check. To do this, call Claudia Roberts at 482-9904 or Naomi Balfour at 987-9851.

Disney classic 'Snow White' to be shown Aug. 13

By Bob Koster

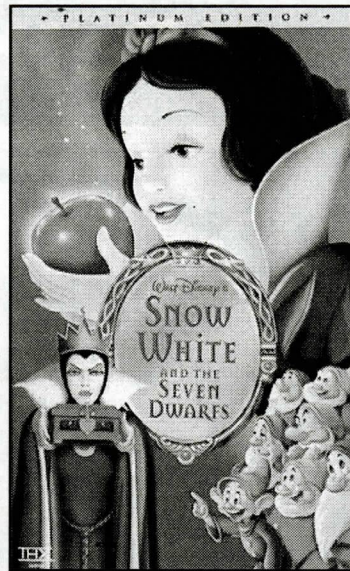

In 1937, movies were moving from the mundane to the spectacular. It was the era of "The Wizard of Oz" and "Gone With The Wind." The camera had been freed from the old "sweat box" soundproofing device that had limited its movement for so many years. Color was becoming more and more prevalent. Black and white films would dwindle away during the '40s and '50s and exist only in a few idiosyncratic works today, such as "Good Night and Good Luck."

Walt Disney was not resting on his laurels or on any other part of his anatomy for that matter. He virtually overwhelmed the cartoon market.

Warners had not yet begun to make the famous "Merrie Melodies" cartoons. In fact, Warner was distributing cartoons made by Bob Clampett, Leon Schlesinger, and others, but the great Bugs Bunny had not yet come on the scene. Bob Clampett would later gain fame for founding a landmark TV series for kids in Los Angeles, "Time for Beanie," with the irrepressible Stan Freberg.

Everyone told Walt Disney that making a feature-length animated film was just impossible. After all, every single frame had to be drawn by hand, colored and inked, photographed, and eventually edited together to make a cohesive whole. It took months to make even a short animated cartoon. A feature-length picture would take years, and, according to the experts, even the children would be too bored to sit through an hour and a half of animated action.

One of the marks of genius is that conventional wisdom is no deterrent to attempting something entirely new, and that is exactly what Walt Disney did. He put his animators to work for his vision of "Snow White." He had 23 original songs written, of which eight ended up in the film. He eventually pared down a list of 50 names — including Shifty, Awful, Biggy, Blabby, Dirty and Gabby — to the seven we know so well: Sneezy, Happy, Sleepy, Grumpy, Bashful, Dopey, and Doc. Models were hired to pose for the characters' actions.

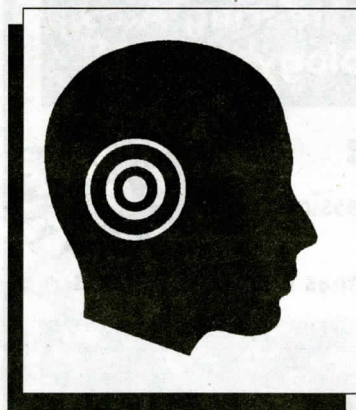

The voice of Snow White was recorded by an 18-year-old girl, Andrea Caselotti. Walt Disney himself chose her. He had rejected the 14-year-old Deanna Durbin, claiming that her voice sounded "too mature."

The film was released in Los Angeles in December 1937. From day one it made money hand over fist. Once again, the Disney magic had proven to hold true. It became a worldwide hit and remains so to this day. It cost about $1,490,000 to make, and to date it has grossed $184,925,000, a profit of approximately 12,400 percent. And growing.

Many legends have grown around the production. One is that the animators grew tired of the story. At the point where Snow White awakens in the dwarves' cabin, the movie was already twice as long as the average cartoon, and the animators were fed up with it. The legend is that at that point, the animators, out of sheer boredom, made a very nasty piece of film in which the dwarves all entered the cabin and raped poor Snow White, each in character. Disney supposedly spent millions of dollars trying to buy up every copy of this addendum to his film, and, of course, he fired everyone who had worked on the film up to that point and hired an entirely new staff. This is probably pure balderdash, the kind of thing naughty schoolboys make up in their off hours.

Another legend is that Disney bet the barn on this film, and if it hadn't made money, the studio would have gone belly-up. There's not a shred of truth to this either. The studio was already making plenty of income on the short cartoons and, of course, on the merchandising. Most studios made a great income out of the sheets and pillowcases, the lunchboxes and the Halloween costumes featuring their most popular characters. If the movie had flopped, Disney would have survived in fine shape.

Another legend is that this was the first feature-length animated film. Bosh. The very first feature-length animated film was "El Apostol," made in Argentina in 1917. It was 70 minutes long. The first feature-length animated film that survives to this day is "Die Abenteuer des Prinzen Achmed," in Germany, 1926. This film was restored in 1999 and can be seen today.

But "Snow White" is impressive enough without all the nonsense surrounding it. It is still arguably the most exciting, impressive piece of animation ever made, with the possible exception of "Fantasia," 1940. The characters leap off the screen at you. The minor characters all have individual character traits. The animation of Snow White herself is so graceful so riveting, that you would swear she is a real girl, down to the tiniest expressive movements of her fingers. And the evil witch? None eviler. And how about the mirror, mirror on the wall?

After the break, we will see some historical footage surrounding the making of "Snow White."

In September I will be teaching a course at California State University, Channel Islands, on the history of the movie musical, part of the Osher project. I will probably draw a musical from that class for our screening on September 10 — maybe another of those great old Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers masterpieces.

In the meantime, I leave you with these thoughts. Sarah and I just saw "An Inconvenient Truth," with Albert Gore. Every man, woman and child in the United States should see this film. It is entertaining, fascinating, well-produced and directed, impeccably filmed and absolutely chilling in its depiction of what we are doing to our Mother Earth. It also suggests ways to correct the damage. This is not so much for our benefit but for the world we are leaving for our children and grandchildren.

As always, our screenings are in the AR on Sunday evening, the second Sunday of the month, at 7 p.m. The screenings are free, as are the popcorn, coffee and punch. What a deal! Bring your friends and relatives. See you at the movies.

Better breathing helps with life

By Lorraine Comer

Let's get together on Wednesday, August 9, and discuss how to avoid getting into breathing trouble during the rest of the summer and this fall.

As you know, we discuss improving our breathing patterns so that shortness of breath does not become a problem. Let's get together to practice good breathing techniques so that daily chores become easier to accomplish, leaving more time for fun.

During each of the Better Breathing sessions, we discuss how to conserve energy when doing daily activities, which will allow us to perform many of the things that make life here in Leisure Village so good. Proper breathing techniques will give us the added benefit of making tasks and/or fun times easier to participate in during the day. We discuss any special problem you might have, either with all of those in attendance or privately at the end of the session.

Hope to see all of you looking to improve your everyday life the second Wednesday of the month at 10 a.m. in the Sun Room.

Village's first car show a success

By Tom Appleford

As I stated in the June issue of Inside Leisure Village, "When I asked about having a Village car show at a recent Education & Recreation Committee meeting, guess who got the job?"

I was hoping we could find enough vintage, classic, new, unusual or unique vehicles to put on an interesting event. As it turned out, I think we found — by cruising the Village and word-of-mouth — a wonderful assortment of vehicles.

The car show was held on July 8.

For the rod and custom fans, we found a 1932 Ford, a 1955 Chevy, a 1958 Buick and a 1999 Chevy truck that were all spectacular.

Our two- and three-wheel friends enjoyed some outstanding show-quality prepared motorcycles.

If you're a classic or vintage buff, we found a sampling of foreign and domestics that must have knocked your socks off, including a pair of Avantis and a fabulous 1966 Mercedes that had a Hollywood pedigree.

Ford fans should have liked our pair of T-birds and Mustangs, and, yes, we also had one very purple VW.

Representing the current state of technology, we displayed hybrids, electrics, a desert buggy and even a gyrocopter.

We were very pleased when Village Security and the Camarillo Police Department each agreed to bring a cruiser to the show. You didn't have to look very hard to see the Hummer, and I'm told that it wouldn't be a car show in California if it didn't have a Woody, so we found one in Village 42.

The morning of the show, I found myself a bit apprehensive due to some last-minute cancellations. But as it turned out, we picked up some unexpected entrants which brought the count up to 36 vehicles. With all the flags, banners, signs and props in place, the real stars of the show started to arrive, and my apprehension gave way to excitement.

It's hard to pick out the highlights of the show, as each entry was special, the setting was perfect, the food was great and all who attended seemed to enjoy the event with comments like, "I never thought we had so many unique vehicles in

The two men behind the scenes

By Milan Weiss

Many times we don't know what goes on behind the scenes. Hopefully, this article will shed a little light on a subject unknown to many people.

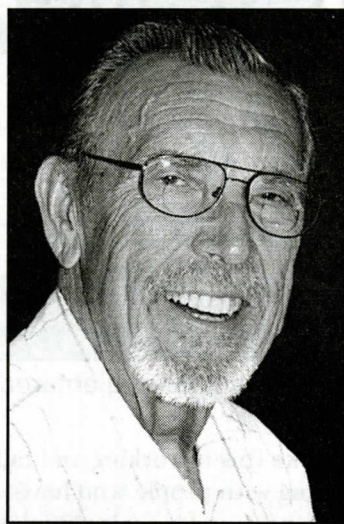

We are fortunate to have two men willing to spend their time setting up and operating the lights in the AR. They spend this time generously on an "on demand" schedule.

Art Thomson has spent eight years learning, revising and "working the lights" at this volunteer job. He has done a very first-rate job and is respected by those who work with him.

Along came Bill Foeller, a volunteer out of the blue! Bill has past experience with lighting due to working on many homes in the Camarillo area.

These two men work together and get along working together very well — a really good team!

Their work is exclusively done in the AR, which includes the stage lighting, spot lighting for entertainers, the seating area, the walls, the ceiling, the main entry and the projection room, which is the hub of most of the main lighting controls. They operate and program these controls, including their on, off, move or fade instructions as given to them by the production managers in charge. Their timing, most of the time, has to be exact! It's not child's play!

As far as set-up goes, it's time-consuming.

They have provided their services to the Players Guild, the New York Club, Showtime, the Saturday Night Dance Party and for events put on by the Leisure Village Recreation Center such as the Fourth of July, New Year's and other special events.

A special request by the

two men for the directors or person(s) in charge of an AR event: Please give them advance notice of the date(s) and time of your event, the lighting requirement and the contact in your club, including the phone number of the person who knows what the lighting requirement will be. They will help you with lighting arrangements and work with you on lighting timing.

As setting lights and doing lighting programs takes time, they need one-week advance notice. Coming to them two days before a production may not do it, and it causes stress (with a double S)!

They also need some new equipment, as much of the existing equipment is aged. There is a list of equipment that has been submitted for purchase and hopefully will be approved for purchase in the near future. This purchase, when received, will help improve the stage lighting considerably and will be for the benefit of all Villagers.

Lighting and those who operate the equipment is a necessary, important integral of productions, as you know. So, unbuckle your seatbelts, stand up and give a hand to those who, in part, work to see that you enjoy the events in the AR.

As the old saying goes, "The show must go on!"

Desperation

Submitted by Bob Browne

A little lady is sitting on a park bench. A man walks over and sits down on the other end of the same bench.

After a few moments, the lady asks, "Are you a stranger here?"

He replies, "I used to live here years ago."

"So, where were you all these years?"

"In prison," he replies.

She asks, "What did they put you in prison for?"

He looks at her, and very quietly says, "I killed my wife."

"Oh!" says the little lady. "So you're single."

Olvera Street is a stroll down Memory Lane

By Lois Keeler

As promised, here is a history of Olvera Street.

It started out as Wine Street. In 1877 it was extended and a name change was made to its present name.

Some say Los Angeles was born here. In 1781, 44 settlers of mixed Spanish, Indian and African descent staked out a turf for a pueblo that would become Los Angeles.

Today, Olvera Street is an open air market reminiscent of a 19th century Mexican plaza. It is the site of the oldest residence, The Avila Adobe, which is now a museum, the city's first Mexican restaurant called the La Golondrina Café, and many stores run by descendents of the original owners.

History is everywhere, from wonderful cream-filled pastries at Mr. Cheirro's Bakery and Restaurant to wonderful Mexican candy. All manner of goods can be purchased, most very authentic. One whiff of Cielito Lindo's famous taquitos with guacamole and you are hooked. They're still made from the 1934 recipe of founder Aurora Guerrero.

The street fell into decline for several years and was restored around 1926. Money was provided by a number of wealthy and influential men interested in keeping its history alive. It was spearheaded by Christine Sterling, a wealthy socialite. It is now a part of El Pueblo de Los Angeles

Historical Monument.

Now, some names of early famous movie palaces. Do you recall The Belasco, Orpheum, Rialto, downtown Los Angeles? Originally a Nickelodeon, Globe, originally a legitimate theater, Million Dollar which is currently empty, was a Protestant church for a long while.

Roxy, Wiltern, El Capitan, originally a legitimate theater and renamed Paramount in the early 1940s. Of course, we all remember and still love Grauman's, Egyptian and Pantages.

Last, here is the history of Gilmore Speedway and Stadium. E.B. Gilmore, son of A.F. Gilmore of Gilmore Oil fame, built the first race-track specifically for midget racecars in 1934. I'm sure many of you spent many nights watching these races. I know I did. Gilmore Stadium was the home of the Bulldogs, the first professional football team in Los Angeles. The site was also used for boxing matches, rodeos, wrestling matches and even swimming meets. Golden Boy, Art Aragon, fought here.

From this in 1938 came Gilmore Field, where the Hollywood Stars played. They were the first minor league baseball team in the area and were owned by Bing Crosby, Barbara Stanwyck and Cecil B. DeMille, thus bringing baseball to Los Angeles.

That's all for now. Call me at 383-0651.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

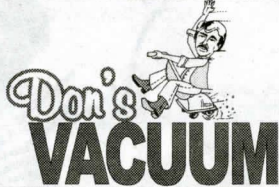

A very self-important college freshman at a recent football game took it upon himself to explain to a senior citizen sitting next to him why it was impossible for the older generation to understand his own.

"You grew up in a different, actually almost primitive, world," the student said loud enough for the whole crowd to hear. "We young people today grew up with television, jet planes, space travel, man walking on the moon. Our spaceships have visited Mars. We even have nuclear energy, electric and hydrogen cars, computers with light-speed processing, and uh...."

Taking advantage of a pause for breath in the student's litany, the "wizened" one said, "You're right, Son. We didn't have those things when we were young — so we invented them, you arrogant little %#@!"

"Now, what are you doing for the next generation?"

Gotta love those senior citizens.

VILLAGE HAPPENINGS

LV Board member, wife moving

By Char and Phil Woodward

Dear friends and neighbors,

It is with heavy hearts that we inform you that we are selling our home and moving to Carson City, Nev. The move is dictated by a family member's health issues that make it the necessary and appropriate action for us to take.

In 1993, Char bought our house in the Village when a job transfer from Chicago to Ventura presented itself. She never regretted the move and recalls being asked by a co-worker in her Chicago office, "Where is Ventura, California?"

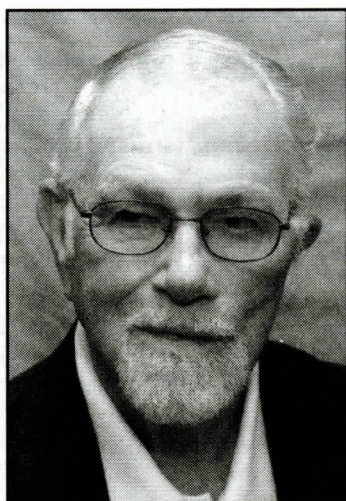

She replied, "I don't really know but it's the other side of the Mississippi and it doesn't snow there."

In 1997, Char met Phil, who was residing in Port Hueneme and they eventually married.

Phil says that he and his late wife always wanted to live in a place like Leisure Village — maybe that's why he married Char. He recalls that his move to Leisure Village was something that he had envisioned for a long time because it was a place that had everything he wanted and needed to be comfortable — security, lots of amenities and friendly folks.

In 2005, he ran for and was elected to the Village Board of Directors, where he served as Treasurer for the past year. He wants all the Villagers to know he is thankful for their support and votes, which led to an experience he'll carry with him forever.

Both of us will miss the many delightful friends we have made in what has truly been for us akin to living in paradise. We are trading this for desert-like, summer days and beautiful, snow-filled winters. If there are any avid skiers, snowboarders, winter-lovers reading this, you'll be welcome at our house any time. After all, we'll be just minutes away from Lake Tahoe.

If Las Vegas is no longer your "cup of tea" when it comes to contributing to the economy of Nevada, come to Carson City. We'll be 30 miles from Reno with its myriad casinos to entice your patronage.

Thank you, Leisure Village, for welcoming us into your embrace. We'll never find another location as desirable as this. We leave you with heavy hearts and lasting memories.

Camera Club enters 83 photos in VC Fair

By Jerry Cohen

Once again, the Leisure Village Camera Club is displaying their beautiful photographs at the Ventura County Fair.

The Camera Club has 15 members submitting a total of 83 pictures to be judged this year. There were five black and white photographs and 18 color photographs entered, with at least one color photograph in 23 of the 26 classifications.

The photography exhibit at the Ventura County Fair will exhibit 2,000 county-wide pictures this year, and the Camera Club has many beautiful pictures that should be winners. Last year the Camera Club entered 104 images and had one first-place winner, one second-place winner and 11 honorable mentions. I am very proud of all of our Camera Club members and hope that they all have a winner this year.

The Ventura County Fair runs through Sunday, August 13. The hours are weekdays, 11 a.m. until 10 p.m., and weekends from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. Tuesday, August 8, is Senior Day, with everyone 62 and older admitted free. If you have the time, please stop by the photography exhibit and view 2,000 great pictures!

Day brightener

A nursery school teacher was delivering a station wagon full of kids home one day when a fire truck zoomed past. Sitting in the front seat of the fire truck was a Dalmatian.

The children discussed the dog's duties.

"They use him to keep crowds back," said one. "No," said another, "he's just for good luck."

A third child ended the argument. "They use the dogs," she said firmly, "to find the fire hydrant."

It's time for another San Andreas quake

By Joe Foraker

Earth scientists monitoring the southern half of the San Andreas fault recently released an alert that the strain of the two opposing tectonic plates, which created the fault, has significantly increased. Areas of concern include 350 miles of the fault that begins in Mexico and ends about 100 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

Seismologists believe that the epicenter of the next great (magnitude 7.8-8.3) earthquake in California is likely to be in San Bernardino County. The quake could hit while you are reading this article or be delayed up to 10 years. Excavations near the fault have provided evidence that eight earthquakes have occurred on this fault over the past 1,250 years. The median time between these historical earthquakes is 140 years. Our time gap for the last great earthquake in this region is now 159 years.

The edges of the North American and Pacific Plates move in opposite directions about one to two inches a year. The strain has slowly increased, and after more than 150 years of movement, another "adjustment" will occur. A gigantic lurch will launch the earthquake as massive segments of the Earth's surface are moved up to 30 feet in opposite directions.

Katrina, huge tsunamis and earthquakes in broad areas of planet Earth, and research in the earth sciences, provide overwhelming evidence that residents of areas prone to disasters must have a plan of action. They must know how to reduce hazards before a disaster and be ready to take care of their own needs for up to 10 days after a disaster.

A recent Wall Street Journal article encourages people in disaster-prone areas to stash up to $200 in small bills somewhere in their home. The author emphasized that cash becomes king when bad things happen, such as natural disasters and other large-scale sudden emergencies that disrupt power supplies for days or even weeks.

Without electricity, electronic commerce is powerless. Credit and debit cards are useless. So are check verification machines that most merchants depend upon.

Remember that service stations will close because their gasoline pumps will not operate without electricity. Don't wait until the warning light comes on to fill your car's gas tank.

Avoid the chaos that will occur when the unprepared people scramble for supplies.

Here then, are the glorious winners.

- When his 38-caliber revolver failed to fire at his intended victim during a hold-up in Long Beach, would-be robber James Elliot did something that can only inspire wonder. He peered down the barrel and tried the trigger again. This time it worked.

- The chef at a hotel in Switzerland lost a finger in a meat-cutting machine and, after a little hopping around, submitted a claim to his insurance company. The company, suspecting negligence, sent out one of its men to have a look for himself. He tried the machine and lost a finger. The chef's claim was approved.

- A man who shoveled snow for an hour to clear a space for his car during a blizzard in Chicago returned with his vehicle to find a woman had taken the space. Understandably, he shot her.

Catch-up maintenance important

By Jack D. Prosen

It seems to me that the cost of and the possible future savings derived from our catch-up maintenance program have been discussed and explained enumerable times, but I still have people stopping and asking me why. Obviously, one reason was the 17.4 percent assessment increase.

So, since my major theme during my board presidency was catch-up maintenance, I felt that I should try and explain its importance as simplistically as I can.

Savings

Roads throughout the Village had deteriorated to such an extent that 14 roads had to be completely reconstructed, costing much more than a simple slurry coating or a simple overlay. Once our street catch-up maintenance is completed, by about year 2010, our annual needed maintenance costs will be greatly reduced.

• Lawnscape. The current catch-up maintenance program still has this year and next year to be completely caught up. Subsequent annual budget maintenance requirements will also be greatly reduced.

• Recycled water. Thanks to Bob Ellis, the initial hooking up and use of recycled water is just beginning. The engineering firm that has been selected to complete the recycled water project is in the process of preparing the plans to completely hook up all the rest of Leisure Village. Once the entire recycled water project is completed, there should be an extremely large annual cost savings, since recycled water costs only about one third the cost of drinking water. Even worse, Camrosa Water projects that, for the foreseeable future, drinking water cost will increase, on average, by about 8 percent per year, whereas recycled water cost is projected to increase only by 3 percent per year. Thus our potential savings should increase substantially more in the future.

Why is it important?

• It's the entire look of our lawns, streets and trees that attract attention, and if our surroundings are attractive, it could help our Village maintain high property values.

• Savings are important to offset any future possible cost increases due to inflation, plus higher costs for both labor and materials. Starting about 2010, all the aforementioned potential savings could help our Village build up its reserves, which could then be used for future improvements, i.e. the remodeling of the Annex for example, and, of course, any other improvement that might be needed or desired.

Thus, planning ahead is both important and beneficial. It's the lack of planning ahead that costs more in the long run and gets us into trouble.

Avoiding identity theft

Worried that your next credit card statement will include a hefty charge that you didn't authorize? Consumer Reports Money Advisor offers ways to avoid identity theft in its June 2006 issue:

• Instead of putting outgoing letters in your mailbox, take the extra five minutes to deposit them in a post office collection box that offers more security.

• Make sure to shred all financial statements before throwing them out.

• To keep from getting pre-approved credit or insurance offers, go to <http://www.optoutprescreen.com> or call 888-5-OPT-OUT.

• Avoid giving out financial information over the telephone, Internet or through the mail unless you're sure that the company is legitimate. Only give your Social Security number when applying for government programs and only when it is necessary.

• To monitor your credit, go to <http://annualcreditreport.com> to get a free annual credit report.

• If you do find yourself a victim of identity theft, immediately contact your local police to file a complaint. Contact the three major credit bureaus so they can place a fraud alert on your credit report, and monitor your credit for any suspicious activity.

When it comes to getting your car back to normal, the answer is quite simple.

FARMERS

Talk about your cuckoo ...

A contestant on "Who Wants to be a Millionaire?" had reached the final plateau. If she answered the next question correctly, she would win $1,000,000. If she answered incorrectly, she would pocket only the $32,000 milestone money.

The question was, "Which of the following species of birds does not build its own nest, but instead lays its eggs in the nests of other birds? Is it:

- A) the condor;
- B) the buzzard;
- C) the cuckoo; or
- D) the vulture?"

The woman was on the spot. She did not know the answer. And she was doubly on the spot because she had used up her 50/50 Lifeline and her Audience Poll Lifeline. All that remained was her Phone-a-Friend Lifeline, and the woman had hoped that she would not have to use it, mainly because the only friend that she knew would be home happened to be a blonde.

But the contestant had no alternative. She called her friend and gave her the question and the four choices. The blonde responded unhesitatingly: "That's easy. The answer is 'C: The cuckoo.'"

The contestant had to make a decision and make it fast. She considered employing a reverse strategy and giving any answer except the one that her friend had given her. And considering that her friend was a blonde, that would seem to be the logical thing to do.

On the other hand, the blonde had responded with such confidence that the contestant could not help but be persuaded.

Crossing her fingers, the contestant said, "C: The cuckoo."

"Is that your final answer?" asked the host.

"Yes, final answer," replied the contestant.

The host replied, "That answer is absolutely correct! You are now a millionaire!"

Several days later, the contestant hosted a party for her family and friends, including the blonde who had helped her win the million dollars.

"Jenny, I just do not know how to thank you," said the contestant. "Because of your knowing the answer to that final question, I am now a millionaire. And do you want to know something? It was the assuredness with which you answered the question that convinced me to go with your choice. How did you happen to know the right answer?"

"Oh, come on," said the blonde. "Everybody knows that cuckoos don't build nests. They live in clocks."

Poet's corner

Birthdays can be a lot of fun
Unless you take them serious.
If you start counting the years
It might make you delirious.

Take each one as it comes.
Enjoy it, have a good time.
For if you don't, no one will.
That certainly would be a crime.

So let's forget our aches and pains.
Let's think of much nicer things.
Let's enjoy each birthday
And everything it brings.

Every one of us needs reasons
For days to celebrate.
So why not pick that certain day
Which made our parents feel great?

So have a happy birthday
Those for today and all the rest.
And everyone tell themselves
"I deserve the very best!"

EDITOR

generate another view, would be unfair to the issue and to our readers.

Standing alone, Ms. Pemberton's letter charged that the process followed in the recent, successful vote to approve the CC&Rs and the By-laws was in some way either improper or in violation of state law.

Since Ms. Pratt, like Ms. Pemberton, served on the Board in the past and chaired the ad hoc committee, in my opinion she was a qualified, appropriate and logical person to seek out for an opposing point of view.

Furthermore, it seemed to me to be highly responsible to have Ms. Pratt's comments appear in the same issue as Ms. Pemberton's because the voting had not yet closed and a one-sided argument in this paper would not be fair to the issues under consideration.

Strictly speaking, Inside Leisure Village is not a "news" paper. At best, we are a community service. Moreover, because of historical incidents, members of the Board of our Association are forbidden to comment to us on any matters, such as the ones Ms. Pemberton addresses.

The official word in such cases appears in the Board's publication, "The Village Voice," which is sent to every Villager every month.

And, it might be noted that many of the letters that contain charges and counter-charges involving the Association's official business would be more properly addressed to the Board, either in person or through a formal letter. No real business of the Village can or should be done in the pages of this publication.

In the future, I will continue to honor all letters to the editor in a way that is consistent with honoring the needs and intelligence of our readers.

If, in our opinion, a letter raises a controversial issue, if it misinterprets the facts as we understand them, or unfairly characterizes an issue or an individual, we will reserve the right either not publish such letters or to continue to seek out the "other side," no matter how many sides there may be.

One more thing: Despite the comments of one writer in a cover letter, not only do I possess "the intestinal fortitude" to publish the writer's letter, I have my own sense of "courtesy, wisdom and common sense" to know that random chance, or a month or more, is unwise and too long a time to allow a fact or right idea to catch up with mistatement of fact or an idea that just may be "wrong."

I trust Editor Schulman honors his "obligation to publish letters that are not profane, inflammatory, or libelous," because this letter is none of those. My beef is why my last month's letter was shown to Ms. Pratt, without my knowledge and without my permission, and why I was not provided a copy of her letter to refute.

I firmly believe Editor Schulman breached journalistic tenets by misusing my letter directed to him (as editor) to present one side of a "discussion." And do you know what his explanation was? He didn't think my letter was factual and had thought about not publishing it at all. Yet he couldn't remember where it wasn't factual. I just hope the attached maze of papers about the new law enlightens him.

Please see EDITOR on 15

Editor's note repeated

It is this paper's policy to refuse to print letters containing clearly blatant, inflammatory or accusatory material.

We will, from time to time, publish letters that contain views of events which sometimes differ from the views or facts as understood by others. In such cases, we will welcome and will usually publish opposing views in reply. We will do our best to see that such replies are to the points raised by the original letter-writer, and are not driven by personal invective or laden with inflammatory accusations.

As we allow readers a forum for the exchange and/or clarification of views and issues, we will do our best not to become an outlet for the creation or the settling of personal or group grudges.

For those who seem always to be on the lookout for suspects and smoking guns on Village issues, this probably is not a perfect policy. However, for a monthly publication that has no full-time staff and wants mainly to represent Village life as experienced by most residents, it is a policy with which we feel most comfortable.

P.S. An editor is never required to swear to the truthfulness of letters he didn't write.

— Ethel Ann Pemberton, V. 37

In last month's "One Side of the Story and the Other," apples and oranges were discussed.

Ethel Ann Pemberton explained the new state law that became effective on July 1, and in Caroline Pratt's response, Ms. Pratt defended prior actions of Boards and attacked Ms. Pemberton.

Prior practices are not the issue. Actions taken after July 1 are.

Troubling to me is why Ms. Pratt was given Ms. Pemberton's letter to respond to when Ms. Pemberton was not given Ms. Pratt's letter. That biased action gave Ms. Pratt another shot to influence homeowners to vote "yes." In a democracy, people are asked to vote, not told how to vote. In Ms. Pemberton's letter, she did not solicit votes but merely stated facts.

— Ed Evans, V. 3

In July's ILV, I noticed the editor still gives articles he disapproves of to other residents before publication, thus allowing for a rebuttal in the same edition.

Apart from being unethical, this is extremely discourteous. I refer to Ethel Ann Pemberton's letter, in which she gave facts about a new voting-practice law that became effective July 1. The editor apparently took exception to this information and handed the letter to Caroline Pratt for a rebuttal, which was published beneath Ms. Pemberton's letter.

When the current editor assumed control of ILV, he published a lengthy editorial stating he wouldn't publish letters containing personal attacks on homeowners; however, he's been very selective in this hypothesis. Ms. Pemberton presented pertinent information only, while Ms. Pratt attacked Ms. Pemberton.

Under the late Sandy Okum's editorship, he always published homeowners' letters, never gave them to others to read beforehand, but published rebuttals in the following issue.

LV panel can't officially recommend

By Ted Lansing

As chairperson of the Architectural Committee, I receive telephone calls on a regular basis, in that capacity, asking for recommendations of workmen or contractors to perform various tasks required by residents of the Village. I try to explain very carefully that the Architectural Committee, as a representative activity of the Association, does not recommend workmen or contractors because of possible implications leading to liability in the case of disputes. We are not authorized to place the Village at such risk. Our contractors list is for the purpose of establishing what contractors who work on the exterior of structures within the Village have the necessary licenses and insurance in place, as a protection for our members.

I recently received a telephone call from a gentleman who was new to the Village and wanted to remodel his kitchen. His opening remarks included a statement of his understanding that it took "an act of Congress" to do any work on residences here in the Village. He then asked for recommendations of contractors to do the work he needed.

I explained the above to him, additionally pointing out that the Architectural Committee's authorities and responsibilities apply only to work done on the exterior of structures, not interiors.

I then explained that we have no authority and exercise no control over work that is done on the interior of buildings within the Village. The individual became irate and rather rude because I would not supply such information.

As it happens, I am familiar with an individual who does such work, and who I would be most happy to recommend on a personal basis, not as a representative of Leisure Village. However, the caller abruptly hung up on me before I could do so. His mistake was that he didn't find out about a reliable, competent, thoroughly professional person to possibly do the work he had in mind.

The Architectural Committee does not and will not recommend contractors for work on the outside or the inside of homes. We are not authorized to do so but may choose to on a very personal, non-Association representation basis.

L.V. Mens Golf Association

By Mannie Abbate

The next monthly meetings of the Leisure Village Mens Golf Association will be Tuesday, August 8, at 2 p.m., with social time starting at 1:30 p.m.

The Board has decided to have the Continental Breakfast and putting or chipping contest on alternate months instead of on every meeting day. That had been started as part of the 30th Anniversary Celebration and continued last year because we had some money left over from the fundraisers. Now they will be financed by the monthly 50-50 raffles, so if you want to continue having these treats, be sure to buy raffle tickets at the monthly meetings. The next time will be at the September 12 meeting.

The new officers announced their plans for this year. They need volunteers to help implement the programs. Joe Smith said he would like to spread the work around so we don't have only a few men doing all the work. It is nice having interesting social events during the year, but it is unfair to expect the same few people to do all the work.

This would be a good time for those members who take advantage of the many events we have to participate by giving the Board members a hand. If you think you can help, why don't you contact President Rick Secia or Vice President Joe Smith and get involved a little.

Tell your golfing friends who do not belong to our club about the special events the LVMGA presents during the year and invite them to join our club and share in the many benefits they are missing.

Mannie Abbate and Ernie Ohmstedt will be running the now "3rd Annual Solvang trip" again. This is not an official club outing but rather a time for members and their ladies to enjoy a few days in Solvang. The trip will be held on October 25-27. We have rooms reserved at the Royal Scandinavian Hotel and have tee time at the Alisal River Course on Thursday morning. We have a dinner planned for Wednesday evening and an awards dinner party at the hotel on Thursday evening. If you are interested call Mannie or Ernie. There is a memo available with all the pertinent information. Call Mannie and he will e-mail you a copy or make a copy available for you if you don't have a computer. This outing is available for LVMGA members too. Copies of the information were presented to the ladies at their July meeting.

The next Regulation Golf Tournament will be at Camarillo Springs on August 24.

The best way for members to keep up with the various events available to club members is to come to the monthly meetings, check the bulletin boards at the course and to watch Channel 25.

The card players will meet on August 22 in the Annex at 7 p.m. and will enjoy another evening of Manipulation.

Look for the posters on all of the bulletin boards and watch Channel 25 on TV for all of our activities.

And, most important, remember: "If it's Tuesday, it must be SAS."

Our picnic was a huge success, thanks to our cooks, servers, etc. We are now looking forward to our Dinner Dance on October 22. More details later.

a bottle of wine.

Tickets are $14 each and may be purchased from members of the Patch Patrol: Jeffrey Cohen, Serge Procopenko, Ivan Bjel, Joe Foraker, Club President Joe Dishlip and Treasurer Georgia Griswold. We have several great prizes for the raffle, which will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The patches are in full production right now, with tomatoes as the number one crop. Zucchini and other squash are doing especially well, and the surplus is being shared with friends and neighbors.

Several of the gardeners acquired their skills while growing up on farms spread over the United States. There is also a generous sprinkling of gardeners from others countries, including Italy, Germany, Hungary, China, Japan and the Czech Republic.

The entire month of August and much of September is an ideal time to plant a second round of tomato plants. They grow rapidly and will load up with tomatoes that will last through November or even longer.

Before planting a second crop of tomatoes, the ground should be thoroughly loosened with a deep turnover of the soil. Tomato plants should be selected that produce the middle-size fruit, such as Celebrity, Better Boy and Early Girl. Home Depot, Armstrong's and Green Thumb usually have a broad selection of tomato plants through early September.

First, let me apologize for two major mistakes in last month's Club News. First,

I called our new, charming and efficient treasurer Darleen Anderson, instead of her proper name of Darleen Alexander. Second, I said the meeting would be on July 19 instead of July 12. So sorry. I'm only allowed two errors a year, and I've had them both. Happily, you can believe everything you read in this spot for the rest of the year!

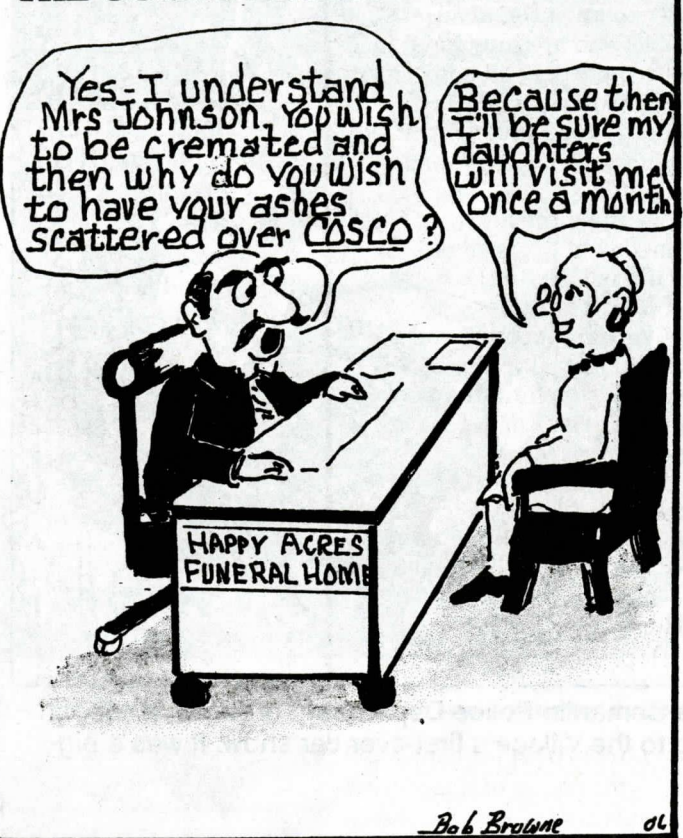

Our new calendar is full of special events for all to enjoy. On August 9, our General Meeting will follow the Weekly Tournament at 2 p.m. in the AR. (Note: The General Meeting is always on the second Wednesday of the month, so mark your calendars and enjoy the gathering.)

On August 16, Meriam Laird will present the Tee Timers Golf Tournament followed by a luncheon in the AR at 12:30 p.m.

August 17 will be Regulation Golf at Mountain

The next General Meeting is Thursday, September 7. After the meeting, entertainment will feature The Caravan, a family band, playing tunes from the '20s through the '70s. The Hillman family of four has a great deal of talent. Remember the family with the two college sons who seemed well versed in '40s music, playing saxophone and piano, including that mellow sax on "In The Mood" and boogie woogie on the keyboard? They're all back to entertain us with their spirited, lively music. Come enjoy their wit and charm. Refreshments will be served.

Ceramics Plus

By Aurelie Zachary

At our meeting on June 20, Irma Shapiro brought the 15 Kachina dolls she handmade. She beautifully carved them from balsa wood and dressed them according to the pictures in a book, using feathers, leather, cloth, etc. There was an owl, a wolf, an eagle, etc.

Kachinas were of Hopi mythology. Irma's study of the Kachinas revealed that only men were Kachinas — a form of a cult rather than a religion. The men dressed to represent living things such as birds, animals, rain, sun, etc.

Originally, the Kachina dolls were fashioned by the Hopi Indian. Now, they are also made by the Navajo.

We all found Irma's display and narration very interesting.

Village Painters

Afterwards, we played four word games prepared by Gwen Zimring, social chairman, and Marge Curry,

Country Line Dance

By Ida Kubica

Country Line Dance Workshop meets on Tuesdays from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in the AR. Dance steps and Routine Refresh is offered at 2:45 for anyone interested.

It's summer, and the afternoons can get hot at home. Why not come over to the AR instead of turning on the air conditioner? It saves money and motivates you to exercise in a cool environment. Also, it presents the opportunity to enjoy the company of your fellow dancers and lifts your spirits. Can't get any better than that.

New to line dance, you say? That's a good reason to attend the 15-minute Routine Refresh. It bears repeating that regular attendance is the key to learning the steps. All, members are in various stages of expertise, so there's no need to feel uncomfortable. It's exercise for the body, brain and balance.

The first two classes are free. Thereafter, it's $3 for a year of membership.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

By Phil Kamens

A message to all Villagers, especially recent move-ins:

A good way to become known and meet people is to volunteer at one or more clubs. They can all use the help, and it is good for you. It doesn't take much time, and it gets you out to meet other people.

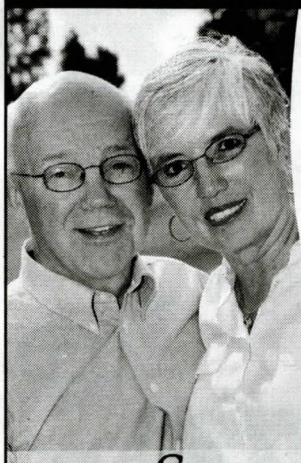

If you volunteer to be in charge of a picnic, pizza party or dinner dance, many people get to know you by name. You realize this as the days go by, and more and more people are calling you by name. It is a good feeling, and volunteers are the life blood of this Village.

Contact any of the presidents or vice presidents of the club or clubs you choose. I am sure you will be happy with the results.

The above, of course, are just a few examples. The various clubs have many positions they need volunteers for. Please check it out. You will be glad you did.

L.V. Exercise Group

By Milt Mankoff

Officers of the Leisure Village Exercise Group are busy planning social events for the rest of the year.

Buoyed up by the rousing success of the June 23 Catered Picnic Dinner, plans are going ahead for the Halloween Potluck Dinner. This annual event is scheduled for Friday, October 27, in the Assembly Room. Each table of 10 makes up its own menu, thus assuring their favorite dishes and avoiding waiting lines. The Member Of The Year award will be conferred on Vice President Jerry Cohen. All this will be capped by the Costume Contest Parade. Seating is limited, and early reservations are advised.

The end of December is the time for a holiday cheer visit to the Camarillo Convalescent Hospital. More on that annual event next month.

Exercises are held Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 9 a.m. in the Pool Pavilion.

Many seniors have to contend with the tendency to lose control of their balance. Regular attendance at these exercise sessions can be helpful, very often, in improving balance. It also can contribute to maintaining flexibility in the joints as well as cardiovascular benefits. Combined with the very friendly atmosphere, this makes for many good reasons to join. Annual dues are only $4 and are being collected now.

The Leisure Village Exercise Group welcomes all residents. Join now and get on the road to good health and happy days.

Players Guild

By Stan Reshes

The Players Guild will be presenting a workshop production of "Best of Broadway Musicals" in the AR on Thursday evening, August 17, at 7:30 p.m.

Directed by Ginny Naspoo, this show will feature a talented cast of Players Guild singers and dancers in costume performing numbers from some of the great musicals, including "Mame," "Showboat," "Hello Dolly," "Singin' in the Rain" and many others.

Tune up the vocal chords and get ready to hum or sing along for a great evening of fun and music. And after the show, enjoy the free refreshments.

• Seems an Arkansas guy wanted some beer pretty badly. He decided that he'd just throw a cinder block through a liquor store window, grab some booze and run. So he lifted the cinder block and heaved it over his head at the window. The cinder block bounced back and hit the would-be thief on the head, knocking him unconscious. The liquor store window was made of Plexiglas. The whole event was caught on videotape.

• As a woman left a store, a man grabbed her purse and ran. The clerk called 9-1-1, and the woman was able to give them a detailed description of the snatcher. Within minutes, the police apprehended a man, put him in the car and drove back to the store. The thief was then taken out of the car and told to stand there for a positive ID. To which he replied, "Yes, officer, that's her. That's the lady I stole the purse from."

WELLS FARGO HOME MORTGAGE

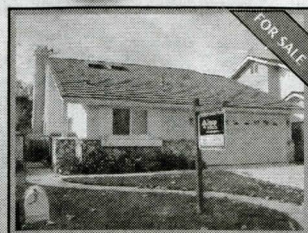

Selling real estate is simple, but it is almost never easy. Having an open mind and never looking at two transactions the same is critical for me. Everyday is a learning process for any Realtor because the real estate world changes constantly. Ask a Realtor when was the last time C.A.R. updated or change a policy? What are the interest rates today? How about market trends in your area? See my point? I enjoy this occupation of being a Realtor, because I found the ingredients of a specialized professional early in my career. Knowledge. Experience. Confidence.

I have had so many opportunities to meet new people, I had the privilege to represent new home Buyers and also to demonstrate my experience with Sellers who felt it necessary to be in good hands before hiring a Realtor to sell their home. I like to assist my friends who are also Realtors. These experiences can be priceless. I know because I work in the trenches everyday with everyone from the Clients to the Realtors to the Professional services we choose in all our transactions.

I look forward to meeting you. I look forward to satisfying your real estate needs. I look forward to hearing you say thank you!

I'm not the world's #1 Realtor, I'm not the nation's #1 Realtor and I'm not even Troop Real Estate's #1 real estate agent. However, if you ask my 89 clients of 2005, they might disagree!!!

fun. The ability to sing is not important. If you want to sing, great. If you don't want to sing but just want to have fun, you'll fit in just fine.

Our next two meetings are Mondays, August 14 and August 28, in the AR. Socializing starts at 7 p.m. Singing and fun start at 7:30 p.m. Bring your friends and neighbors, and wear your I.D. badge so we get to know each other.

Saturday Night Dance

By Milan Weiss

The Saturday Night Dance Party has always been concerned about music for your enjoyment and dancing pleasure. It appears that the variety of music now being played is, for the most part, what you requested. More is being planned for your evening's enjoyment.

On August 5, the popular Rick Tucker will be there for "Country Western Night."

"Hawaiian Night" will be on August 19, and the AR will be decorated to make you feel like you're in Hawaii. Jerry Dokken will be the band and will make your "booty" shake! And the popular steel guitar player is back, as per many requests.

We must reminisce the July 4 dance. The AR was decorated beautifully, and the decor was the most talked about to date. Contributing to make it so festive were the committee firecrackers: Betty Herrmann, Marge Moran, Helen Scraba and SNDC Leader Barbara Ohmstedt.

We have a new committee member, Betty Dean, whom we welcome with open arms. She will serve as a greeter. Meet her just inside the main entry to the AR and she and another greeter, acting as cashier, will greet you so warmly that you'll wonder if it's summer or winter. Your welcome will be established right there and now! She will be serving right along with the championship greeter team of Betty Herrmann, Shirley Francis and Helen Judd.

Here is the SNDP for August:

Aug. 5, Rick Tucker, "Country Western Night."

Aug. 12, Wyatt Haupt.

Aug. 19, Jerry Dokken, "Hawaiian Night."

Aug. 26, Music by Choice.

Don't forget, it's dress-up time (if you like) for "Country Western Night" and "Hawaiian Night."

All dances are $5 per person. All dates are Saturday. All dances start at 7:30 p.m. in the AR.

Though mentioned, dress code is "always be comfortable," and that's a recommendation set by the SNDP a few years back.

Spend your Saturday nights at the dance party. It's really true. "We love to see you there."
