Certificates

The university awards three different types of certificates.

The Certificate of Completion is awarded for successfully completing a planned educational experience designed for specific academic objectives.

The Certificate of Special Study is awarded for successfully completing a structured program of educational experiences of at least twelve semester units, determined in advance by a department or school, and consisting of upper division (100-199) courses, professional (300-399) courses, and related activities.

The Certificate of Advanced Study is awarded for successfully completing a structured program at least twelve semester units of graduate (200-299) courses, upper-division (100-199) courses, and professional (300-399) courses determined in advance by a department or school. Students must be eligible for unclassified, postbaccalaureate standing.
