Dodd's 3 years--constant fight for expansion, $$$

Paul Dodd became president of SF State in July 1962. He was named to the post in April by Chancellor Glenn Dumke. Dodd, born in Greenwood, Missouri, July 26, 1902, was graduated cum laude in 1924 from Park College in Parkville,

He received his Ph.D in economics in 1932 from the University of Pennsylvania, and was granted an LL.D degree from Park College in 1950.

He moved west in 1928 to join the teaching staff of the University of California at Los Angeles as an Associate in Economics.

He was appointed Dean of the College of Letters and Sciences 19 years later, in 1947.

In 1959-60 he took on the added administrative assignment of Acting Academic Vice Chancellor for the U.C.L.A. campus.

He retired from the active service of the University of California in 1961 and took up research activities in Western Europe before returning to the United States in June 1962.

Dodd is widely known as a labor-management mediator, having arbitrated in some 300 disputes. He has also written numerous books and papers on the subject of labor relations.

Dodd's three years at SF State were marked by the reorganizing of the campus into a university-type structure of schools and colleges.

For as long as he served he was in a constant struggle to secure finances necessary to hire more instructors, pay better salaries, and buy more land for construction of needed classrooms.

Dodd now plans to assume duties as the West Coast Director of the regional office of the Institute of International Education.

Chancellor to OK 'leave': will name acting president

President Paul A. Dodd's days as active president at SF State are over.

According to Stanley Paulson, Vice President of Academic Affairs, Dodd has put in a request to the Chancellor's office asking that he be relieved of his active duties. Dodd wants to take accumulated vacation leave until his resignation becomes official next February.

Paulson, in his capacity as Vice President, will take over the reins as chief administrator of the college.

He said official confirmation by the Chancellor's office of Dodd's move will probably come concurrently with the announcement of an acting president.

According to the Chancellor's office in Inglewood, acting presidents are chosen from within a campus staff. A Chancellor's office spokesman said that the announcement should come in the "near future."

Until that time, Paulson will have the same responsibility for campus operations that he has had in the past when Dodd has been on vacation.

Dodd made his official resignation announcement during the summer. It becomes effective Feb. 15, 1966.

He listed budget problems, approaching retirement age, and the offer of a position with an educational institute as the reasons for retirement.

Dodd said his struggles with the Department of Finance put him in a position of "not being able to do what I know I can do and ought to do."

One apparent frustration of Dodd's has been the failure to win the support of Senator J. Eugene McAteer (D-SF) in the college's quest for a $1.58 million appropriation from the Senate Finance Committee for land purchase and expansion.

The approval of the committee hinges on McAteer's recommendation.

Dodd had considered the land purchase and expansion program as his pet project.

In the past few months, the president has had to fight a lingering case of pneumonia which has kept him at home much of the semester.

He is retiring a little more than a year before he reaches the compulsory retirement age set down by the State College Trustees.

One-man show

Hoping to launch himself into "bigger and better" show-biz fortunes, Ronald Hanley will stage a "One Man Act," a rarity at SF State, today at noon on the Speaker's Platform.

Hanley, 26, a social welfare major, will MC his own act and sing for about 20 minutes. He hopes to attract the backing of a professional agent.

On a rotation basis, each Sunday night from 10:05 to 11 p.m., the student announcers will pick music, read public service announcements, and, in general, ad lib as "host" for the program, "Records at Random."

The radio-TV-film department and KSFO cosponsor the "Random" series, and it is endorsed by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, the broadcasters' union.

Morgan praised "Records at Random" as a "valuable experience in bringing a student closer to radio than any classroom situation could achieve."

At KSFO, newscaster and staff announcer Bill Heyward handles regular commercials the news, and, according to Morgan, "shows us how to be natural and relaxed while on the air."

The series, beginning h eleventh year, also offers cash scholarships to the four participants judged "best" at the end of the school year.

Auditions at SF State were handled by Arthur Hough, assistant professor of R-TV; William Wente, associate professor, and assistant R-TV professors Benjamin Draper and Douglas Gallez.

Auditions, conducted at the beginning of each semester, are open to all students, not only R-TV majors.

Tryouts for spring semester are scheduled for January 16.
