LATIN RADIO The New Movement

The Latino movement for Social, Political and Economical Justice has taken many forms. From the fields of Delano to the barrios of Los Angeles, Texas, New York and San Jose.

Within this social phenomenon here in San Jose, there has sprung up a new form of the movement. The Latin Barrio Radio Show which programs the latest in Latin Pride.

It has also created "Too Loose" Jesus Orosco, San Jose's first and foremost "Underground" Latin D.J.

Jesus' first show (La Hora Latina) was aired in 1973. Now, two years later he is acclaimed as the number one contemporary D.J. in San Jose. During these two years Orosco has started a new trend in "Chicano" disc jockeys. No longer in the mold of the old Spanish language stations.

The new Chicano show bursts with the energy of his youth driving with the beat of the "Salsa" he plays.

Orosco's program (Monday nights-9 p.m. to 1 a.m.) is acclaimed on KSJS (90.7fm) most listened to radio program. Too Loose calls his music Salsa, Latin Soul, Salsoul or Salsadelic.

When talking about contemporary Latin music, or his own "Mambo San Jo" you can feel his energy and watch his motions almost surround with an aura of Salsa.

The program has become so popular he has been joined by Pablo Ramirez and Ruben Valdez as back up D.J.s.

Orosco states that both Latin Soul Indio (Pablo Ramirez) and El Nino Bonito (Ruben Valdez) will soon broadcast their own shows. This, the latest trend in Latin pride has opened up a new category in broadcasting.

So with pride from his people and Salsita in his music Jesus Orosco has taken the Latino movement one step closer to a piece of America's pie.

El Caos

por Daniel G. Saldaña

La especie humana, la más bien dotada de todas las especies que habitan nuestro planeta, ha dominado a todas las demás especies, ha empezado a penetrar en el misterio del Universo, ha logrado descubrir y usar en su provecho todas las materias de que está formada la Tierra y ha podido dominar los elementos. Esta nuestra superior especie, se encuentra al borde del caos o de su propia extinción.

Aún cuando esto parece exagerado no lo es. Tratare de hacer una explicación dentro de la limitación de mis conocimientos y el reducido espacio de que dispongo.

En nuestro planeta existen tres reinos, ellos son: El mineral, el vegetal y el animal. En el tercer reino mencionado se encuentra la especie humana; a ésta se la distingue de las otras especies de animales, clasificándolos como racionales, es decir, que hace uso del razonamiento, piensa, tiene inteligencia y ha logrado sobreponerse a todas las demás especies. En su principio vivió en la misma forma salvaje en que viven los monos, que son entre todas las especies, la que más se parece al hombre; pero éste dotado de superior inteligencia empezó a vivir en familias, después en grupos, más tarde en tribus y finalmente creó la sociedad organizada o sea lo que llamamos civilización. Se vió obligado ha hacer esto para protegerse de los animales salvajes, de los elementos y de los otros hombres pertenecientes a diferentes tribus.

Estableció el derecho de propiedad, para proteger sus bienes formó ejércitos y aceptó la sumisión a los señores feudales que los protegían y a la vez los explotaban. Se crearon las castas; los más fuertes, más inteligentes o más audaces se hicieron señores feudales y su feudo, al morir ellos, pasaba a sus descendientes; así se hicieron los reinos, al aumentar la población y las exigencias de los individuos se hicieron revoluciones que fueron desplazando a los reinos y se establecieron naciones o repúblicas en las que el pueblo participa en el manejo de su país.

Una gran mayoría de naciones tienen gobiernos elegidos por sus propios habitantes, se les llama democracias; quedan todavía algunos que son gobernados por una persona, a estos se les llama monarquías, cuando un grupo pequeño de personas gobiernan un estado se le llama aristocracia; cuando el gobierno está en manos de los sacerdotes o la iglesia se denomina teocracia y si son las clases ricas las que gobiernan se conoce como plutocracia.

Cuando un gobierno monárquico abusa de su poder, se le llama tiranía; cuando la democracia se desentiende de las necesidades de los ciudadanos, se le llama demagogia; si la aristocracia desobedece las leyes, se le llama oligarquía.

Algunos de estos sistemas de gobierno se conocieron y se han puesto en práctica desde tres mil años Antes de Cristo en China y unos mil quinientos años A. de C. en Grecia que ya empezó a formular leyes. Pero cinco mil quinientos años A. de C. ya existían sociedades organizadas en Egipto, Babilonia, Asiria y otros países.

Es decir, que la especie humana tiene al rededor de siete mil quinientos años tratando de encontrar un sistema de gobierno que garantice la seguridad, el bien estar y la justicia para sus habitantes, así como la fraternidad y buenas relaciones con los demás sistemas de gobierno.

Aunque se ha avanzado mucho en esos siete mil quinientos años, el hombre no ha sido capaz de encontrar el sistema adecuado para formar un gobierno que garantice y satisfaga el bien estar de la especie humana en todas formas. En la actualidad casi no hay país que llene las necesidades de sus habitantes, por lo contrario, hay guerras hay hambre, hay manifestaciones de descontento de los gobernados para sus gobernantes, éstas son en grupos y en otras veces individuales. Cuando son grupos tratan de ventilar sus problemas en mítines o en marchas de protesta; pero cuando son individuales, abarcan desde el suicidio como protesta, el crimen en forma de homicidio o robo por su rencor al sistema, incendian como venganza y envidia, hacen estallar bombas por odio al grupo social en que viven y como castigo al gobierno.

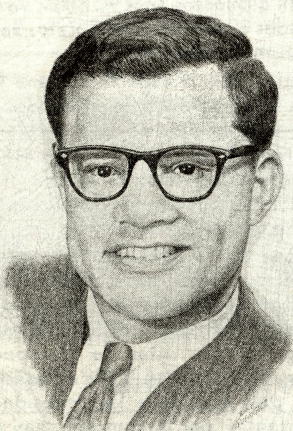

La amenaza de las poderosas armas nucleares pueden acabar en un momento con todo vestigio de vida en la Tierra y esterilizarla para siempre. Lo único que se puede pensar, es que la especie humana ha vivido siempre en un estado caótico, a pesar de su indiscutible intelecto el hombre se acerca cada día más a la destrucción de todo lo que tiene vida en la Tierra y a su propia destrucción.

Attorney

Robert Gonzales was only thirty years old when he formed his own law partnership, Gonzales and Mitchell. During the next three years, he pursued his private practice as an attorney, while at the same time taking an active role in outside legal and Mexican American community affairs. The high point of his young career came on January 6, 1969 when San Francisco Municipal Court Judge Harry W. Low administered to Gonzales the oath of office for San Francisco City and County Supervisor. Mayor Joseph Alioto, watching the ceremony approvingly, commented afterward that Gonzales' appointment by him was the first of a person of Mexican ancestry to that governing body since the turn of the century.

OPINION

REPORT PROBES STATUS OF SPANISH-SPEAKING

A report prepared by the Raza Association—a citizens lobby for the Spanish-speaking in the nation's capitol—and recently published in La Luz Magazine probes the socio-economic characteristic of the Spanish-speaking population.

The lack of reliable and regular statistics about the Spanish-speaking population has resulted in the continued inability to make an accurate assessment of the needs and participation of Spanish-speaking citizens in the social economic and political spheres in America.

Despite limitations on the availability of accurate data concerning the Spanish-speaking population, there are several conclusions which can be made in light of the most current information available on the socio-economic conditions of the Spanish-speaking population.

Three major conclusions which can be made relative to the Spanish-speaking population are

1. That the Spanish-speaking population is a "young population."
2. The Spanish-speaking population lags markedly behind other groups in educational attainment.
3. The Spanish-speaking population is over-represented in the low-income bracket.

Contrary to popular belief, the Spanish-speaking population is not concentrated in rural areas. The proportion of the Spanish-speaking population living in urban areas is 82.5 per cent; 76 for Blacks, and 67.8 per cent for the total population.

For the overall U.S. population, 11.1 per cent of all people were classified as having a low-income status; the percentage of the total Spanish-speaking population which was classified in a low-income category was 21.9 per cent.

The median income for individuals who were 25 years old and over was $6,289; the median income for Spanish-speaking individuals in the same category in 1973 was $5,369.

Median income for the total population becomes proportionately higher with four years of high school in comparison to the Spanish-speaking population. The median income for all individuals completing four years of high school was $7,055 in 1973.

The median income for Spanish-speaking individuals completing four years of high school during the same time was $6,611.

A current U.S. Census Bureau report states that in 1973 2.9 million Spanish-speaking men were of legal working age (16 years old and over); 79 per cent (2.3 million) of those men were employed.

Spanish-speaking women who were of legal working age numbered 3.2 million, approximately 40 per cent (1.3 million) of those women were in the labor force.

Over 27 per cent of the Spanish-speaking men were employed in transportation and other operative occupations such as gas station attendants, produce packers, drillers, and manufacturing checkers.

The second most common form of employment for Spanish-speaking men was that of craftsmen-repairmen, machinists, furniture finishers, and other similar occupations.

Over 56 per cent of the Spanish-speaking male population was employed in blue collar jobs. The most common occupation for Spanish-speaking women was that of clerical work and operative occupations.

A current report issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (U.S. Department of Labor) for the third quarter of 1974 indicates that there were 325,000 Spanish-speaking people who were unemployed.

At 8.0 per cent the unemployment rate for the Spanish-speaking population was more than halfway between the 5 per cent unemployment rate for white workers and a 10.5 per cent unemployment rate for Blacks.

Since the third quarter of 1973, workers from the Spanish-speaking population suffered an increase in unemployment at a rate of 29 per cent; the rate was greater than that for Blacks which was an 8 per cent increase and for white which was a 22 per cent increase.

As of August 1974, there were approximately 7.7 million school age children who had a limited English speaking ability or who could not speak Spanish. 90 per cent of those 7.7 million children came from the Spanish-speaking population.

The attrition rate (drop-out rate) for Spanish-speaking individuals was higher than for other groups. The nation-wide attrition median rate for Anglos-Whites was 20 per cent, for Blacks it was 40 per cent and it was 55 per cent for the Spanish-speaking population.

The average number of school years completed by Spanish-speaking individuals was 7.1 years in comparison to 12.1 years of school completed by the Anglo-White individuals.

The Spanish-speaking population does not have a fair representation in business ownership. A report issued by the Office of Minority Enterprise in 1972 noted that minority owned businesses numbered approximately 322,000 which was about 4 per cent of the nation's enterprises.

Some 100,000 of the total minority owned businesses were owned by Spanish-speaking people.

Out of the receipts totaling $1,498 billion reported by all firms, receipts for all minority owned businesses amounted to $10.6 billion — 7 per cent of the total business receipts reported. The Spanish-speaking owned firms claimed approximately 2 per cent ($3.3 billion) of the total $1,498 billion receipts reported.

General Ignacio Zaragoza

"EL HOMBRE PUEBLO"

El general IGNACIO ZARAGOZA, héroe sobresaliente en la gran victoria el 5 de mayo de 1862 en Puebla, contra los famosos ejércitos frances y austriaco, es nuestro personaje importante en esta fiesta patria del mes de mayo. Nació en la habia del Espíritu Santo del estado de Texas, el día 24 de marzo de 1829. En Matamoros, Tamaulipas hizo sus primeros estudios, continuando después en Monterrey Nuevo Leon, por lo que nos dice la historia sabemos que tenía sentimientos de un gran mexicano. Todo México lo apreciaba al grado de que le llamaban cariñosamente "El Hombre Pueblo".

Par darnos una idea de la popularidad de este grandioso militar mexicano, veamos este incidente ocurrido en una de sus visitas a la capital: Se presentó un día el Gral. Zaragoza, después del triunfo de Puebla en forma inesperada, para atender asuntos de sus deberes militares sin haber anunciado su llegada; lo notaron algunos de sus compañeros y la noticia corrió rápidamente; el pueblo organizó en seguida una grandiosa y espontánea demostración de cariño; tuvieron repiques de campanas, repetidos toques de diana para aquel su grandioso héroe.

En el época en que se desarrolló el combate del 5 de mayo, Francia era algo así como la poseedora de las armas nucleares de nuestro tiempo; todo mundo la respetaba por la fama que le habían dado sus victorias napoleónicas, más la forma tan heroica en que México demostró sus potencias defensivas, al ser atacado por otros países, nos ha traído mayor respeto de parte de los gobiernos europeos y el de los Estados Unidos.

Al Gral. Zaragoza tenemos que recordarlo como un héroe de todo el continente americano; defendía a México sí, en ese combate pero defendiéndolo, en verdad defendía los derechos de los pueblo débiles en contra de los abusos de los fuertes. Fijémonos en lo que les decía en un manifiesto escrito que les mandó a los soldados franceses antes de que principiara la lucha armada que fué tremendamente desesperada.

MANIFIESTO DEL GRAL. ZARAGOZA.

A vosotros, soldados de la Francia, a vosotros, hijos del pueblo más simpático del mundo, de la nación grande y civilizadora que por su inteligencia, su amor a la libertad y sus tendencias humanitarias ha hecho temblar en otro tiempo, a todos los déspotas y ha sacudido todas las monarquías; a vosotros, que por mil razones deberíamos ser los mejores amigos; . . . nosotros, los soldados de México, en este momento solemne y poco antes de nuestro encuentro en el campo del honor, desamos explicaros el engaño de que sois víctimas, para que comprendais la justicia de nuestra causa, en cuyo nombre, nos vemos obligados a rechazar vuestra inalicable agresión.

El glorioso general Zaragoza, con cara radiante por la emoción, durante aquel combate glorioso para México, recorría las líneas de su ejército en su brioso caballo, para que sus soldados juraran defender su bandera con dignidad y honor, así como para recibir los nuevos grupos que costantes llegaban de distintas partes de la república. Al conferenciar con sus jefes de brigada, les decía: "No tenemos la obligación de vencer a ese ejército tan poderoso, y en una lucha tan desigual, pero sí era honroso e indispensable que aceptáramos el compromiso de sacrificar nuestras vidas a latacarlos para dar tiempo, aunque fuera perdiendo con dignidad, pues así daríamos tiempo a que la república preparara una mejor defensa.

En verdad podemos decir que EL SER SUPREMO dirigió los acontecimientos durante aquel tremendo encuentro de armas; el fracaso y la retirada violenta del ejército francés fueron una inesperada sorpresa para el Gral. Zaragoza así como para todos los demás generales, ellos sinceramente juzgaron; hazaña como algo hecho por la mano de Dios.

Send questions to:

Anita Miller, Chairperson
California Commission on the Status of Women
926 J Street, Suite 1014
Sacramento, CA 95814

Dear Anita:

I am a married woman with no income of my own. Can I still get a credit card?

S. B., Sacramento

Dear S. B.:

You not only CAN — but we recommend that you do it immediately. Establishing a credit record in your own name may not seem like a necessity to you now. But every day, thousands of women are suddenly widowed or divorced and then discover they have no credit history.

Because of the new California Community Property law, a married woman can list as her assets the couple's community property (home equity, salaries, personal property, etc.) when applying for credit in her own name.

To establish your own credit history, visit your nearest credit reporting agency and request a file in your own name. Then, open a charge account, use it, and pay your bills promptly.

Our way of life often requires the extension of credit for essential purchases. Women must have equal opportunity to avail themselves of this essential service. For further information, write for a copy of "You've Gotta Give Her Credit" from CCSW, 926 J Street, Suite 1014, Sacramento 95814.

This is lovely Yolanda Perez, she is one of the Queen Candidates of Club Acuna, and is being sponsored by MUEBLES HACIENDA. We happen to think that she will make a beautiful queen in every sense of the word. Yolanda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mercedes Perez of San Jose. GOOD LUCK Yolanda.

If ever you are in need of guards or a patrol service for your business, or whatever the occasion—call on Alanis Patrol at 926-4479. You can always count on Alanis Patrol for efficient and dependable service.

Club San Felipe would like to thank all of you wonderful people that attended our Baile Ranchero, on April 19, 1975. It was a huge success thanks to YOU!!! Muchas Gracias. Lovely Christina Silva was elected Club San Felipe's Queen for 1975-1976. Congratulations to Christina and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel and Olivia Silva.

SOME ALWAYS KICK

A man was going home late at night and taking a short cut through the graveyard. He stepped into a newly dug grave.

"Help! I'm cold . . . help, I'm cold," he cried plaintively. A somewhat inebriated passer-by heard his cries and grabbing a shovel, started throwing dirt into the grave. "Of course you're cold!" he said, "You kicked all the dirt off you."

Listen to radio station KAZA and KGEL and be informed of all the big name bands from Mexico and South America, that will be coming to the Starlight Ballroom, Saturdays and Sundays. Bailamos??

This is Mrs. George Nieve, a very happy newly-wed. Formally Miss Judy Aquirre, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe and Terry Aquirre. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nieve, Sr., of San Francisco. George and Judy recently left for a two year stay in Germany. Congratulations to you both, and may all your troubles be small ones.

FIREMAN'S DANCE

I hear tell that the Fireman's Dance at the fairgrounds was very successful and that's great. Feliciciones. However their book-keeping was not too good. There are several places where they left tickets and never bothered to pick up the money nor the tickets. So — However could their books be in balance?

SLAVERY????

There is a store in San Jose that does not permit their employees to associate or even talk to anyone in the same line of business, and if they do, they are fired. This may not be slavery, but it is close to it!! What a shame—why can't people be like us — We love everybody.

"AMERICAN VIETNAMESE"

Have you ever stopped to think how many of the Vietnamese Orphans that are being "Air Lifted" from a war torn country, are in reality — American-Vietnamese children to begin with. To this we say "OLE," it is about time that we accept our long forgotten responsibilities. But to bring an UNLIMITED number of Vietnamese adults over to America, when we have so many jobless and needy Americans is beyond conception. We ask you President Ford — "What kind of political ploy is this?"

Dirty Harry and Magnum Force—Starring CLINT EASTWOOD!!/A SPECIAL RE-RELEASE.

YOUNG FRANKENSTEIN — Starring Gene Wilder, Marty Feldman/Directed by Mel Brooks.

THE YAKUZA is Japanese for gangster. From that alone you should get a good idea of what this film is about. The title tells it all and it tells nothing. If "food for thought" or "message" movies are your 'bag' then you have a real treat coming your way. The film which is a co-production between Warner Bros. and Toei of Japan concerns itself with old world traditions in a contemporary world and how they fit and don't fit in our contemporary times.

The film stars Robert Mitchum who plays an American ex-G.I., who goes to Japan to find to do a favor for his best friend, played by Brian Keith. The favor he has set out to do is to ease a situation between "The Yakuza" a group in Japan that is much like the Mafia in the U.S., and his friend Keith. The only way Mitchum can do this is to ask the brother of his old sweetheart, who was formerly a member of the "Yakuza," and see if he could help the situation as a spokesman. That is the basis for the plot and then it goes from there and believe me, it goes. The brother is played by Takakura Ken, a very popular star in his own right in Japan. I really can't say too much about the plot without saying too much. It is written by Robert Town (of "Chinatown" fame). And it is directed by Sidney Pollack. His previous works include "The Way We Were" and "Jeremiah Johnson." Which explains the movement of the film, slow and flowing scenes with fast and exciting action scenes interspersed throughout to make it a very interesting piece of work with just the visual alone. The story is something else entirely. Unlike many current action movies that are short on lore and long on gore, this one gives you a great deal to think about and very rich characterizations. After the first screening, you say to yourself; "Good." But later on as the day wears on you think; "Wow, what a movie," because the movie doesn't end when you leave the theater. For a entertaining, yet thought provoking time at the movies, this is it.

THE TOWERING INFERNO has been playing since Xmas and most everyone has seen it. But, if you're one of the few who haven't or if you are within that small minority that goes to the movies once or twice a year, this is THE movie you should make your annual jaunt to. I know that there have been several "disaster" movies out in the last few months and you probably say they're all alike, so why this one? Then consider these few facts; it is the first movie in history ever to be made in conjunction with two major film companies, Warner Bros. and 20th; it is the only movie that is made by Irwin Allen, of the "Pisident Adventure" fame; it has two of the hottest heart-throbs, Paul Newman and Steve McQueen and it has the biggest budget. With that, it still could be a flop, but it still managed to get three Oscars out of the six it was nominated for. If you are not a person that likes cliff-hanging" and holding on to your seat or whatever you happen to be next to a period of not less than 3 hours then see something else. I kid you not, this is the one movie that your Coke will go for lat on. From the opening credits that overlap aerial shots of the Golden Gate to the first sparks that start the whole thing, there is little time to getting into the action. Newman plays the architect who designed the "Inferno" and McQueen plays the firefighter. Together they are "dynamite" pulling more "John Waynes" in this movie than the "Duke" pulled of in his last two films. From rescuing a cat on the last of its "9 lives" to hanging on a glass elevator that is being suspended by a single cord from a helicopter and thousands of feet away from . . . ? The movie is loads of fun and guaranteed to make you gasp and glad that the end comes when it does. In its three hours, it never lags, keeping you guessing from one moment to the next. The acting is above par for this kind of movie with both leads giving stalward performances. Besides the two leads and the all-star cast, the one that does shine from supporting players is good old Fred Astire. He plays a swindler that doesn't swindle worth a woden tap shoe. All in all its a movie with everything you could want and then some.

MARIJUANA REFORM PROBABLE

A major marijuana reform bill which would reduce many penalties for possession breezed through an assembly committee on April 16.

SB 95 passed the Criminal Justice Committee (5-1) and is expected to be heard in Assembly Ways and Means Committee in early May.

SB 95, unchanged from its form when approved by the Senate in late March, is expected to have little opposition from the assembly or the governor.

The bill, written by Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, would:

- give citations for possession of one ounce or less of marijuana—(similar to San Jose's policy since March 1).
- eliminate arrests of persons present where it is smoked.
- abolish felony penalties for personal possession in any quantity.
- give citations for transporting or giving away one ounce or less.
- clear marijuana possession offenses from criminal records (at violator's expense) two years after conviction.

The San Jose Police Department supports the clause in the bill making possession of one ounce or less a citable offense.

But Police Chief Robert Murphy said earlier that he opposes the clause which makes it a misdemeanor for possession of any amount of marijuana because he said persons in possession of large amounts would sell it.

Both possession and selling presently are felonies, but penalties are many times reduced to a misdemeanor once an offender is brought to trial.

Selling would remain a felony, but Murphy does not want potential sellers to get off on a misdemeanor possession charge.

Don Solem, administrative assistant to Moscone, said in most cases police could arrest persons in possession of large amounts of marijuana on an "intent to sell" felony offense through circumstantial evidence.

"He (Murphy) is really talking about that 0.1 per cent" of cases where the potential seller would not be caught on a felony charge.

Eagle Pass Club Picnic

The Eagle Pass Club of San Jose gave its annual Easter Picnic last Sunday, April 6, 1975, for the members and their families.

Mariachis provided the fantastic music while everyone enjoyed the delicious barbecue with all the trimmings, cooked by some of the club's most talented cooks.

Afterwards, the children scrambled for the candy from the huge pinatas provided by the club.

The over-40 group decided to show up the kids and ran races. Remember, you're only as old as you feel!!

By the end of the day, each and everyone had had a wonderful time.

If anyone from Eagle Pass, Texas would like to join the Eagle Pass Club, please call Carlos Guerrero at 265-8323. Meetings are held each second Friday of every month at Hardeman Hall on Willow Avenue.
