

Commencement Announcement for Radio-TV

Special Announcement: California State University Channel Islands asks local electronic media to make this announcement from today until noon, Saturday, May 21, regarding traffic conditions during its commencement ceremony.

Just a reminder: This Saturday, California State University Channel Islands will be celebrating its 2005 commencement ceremony. Expect heavy traffic in the area of Lewis Road, from the Metrolink Station at Ventura Boulevard to the entrance to the campus, as well as on other roads accessing the University. Peak traffic will occur in the early morning hours and from noon to 2 p.m. when the event concludes. Most of this year's Class of 2005 are students from Ventura County who will be enjoying this great occasion with families and friends. (Your station may want to offer congratulations to the CSUCI Class of 2005.)
