

AIR SCIENCE DIVISION

Division Head _____ Lt. Col. Edgar L. Stambaugh

The Air Science Division is organized as a regular instructional division of the college and includes units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps of the United States Air Force.

The program of military instruction includes a two-year basic course designed to lay a foundation for air age citizenship and to provide training in military subjects common to all branches of service; a two-year advanced course leading to a reserve commission as a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force; and a minor for the bachelor of arts degree.

Field trips to Air Force Bases and familiarization flights in Air Force aircraft are normally offered to enrolled students.

A flight instruction program leading to a private pilot's license is offered to selected seniors at government expense.

Air Science
Basic Air Science
Advanced Air Science