Dear Miss Talmach:

Fifty-six years ago I was born in California. Today I'm here campaigning for the most important elective office in the world.

Four years ago, you and I did our best - fighting to preserve the liberal policies of Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman. We lost. Now after three years of Republican misrule, deadly drift in our foreign policy, weakening of our national defense, giveaway of our natural resources, indifference toward our farmers and working men, government of, by and for big business, we face a new fight. A fight to make the American people aware of the dangers confronting our nation. A fight to replace the Republican regime in Washington with a government of, by and for all the American people. A fight which will bring victory to our party next November.

Because I feel so deeply about these issues, I am waging a hard hitting campaign here in my native state. This Presidential Primary is important to me, and I need your support. Would you help me by working in your community and urging your friends and neighbors to vote for me on June 5th?

The common goal we seek -- the victory of our party in November -- can be achieved. Working together, I'm confident we'll win!

Cordially,
