Fourth-year players Tony Neal and Gary Davis are big men on campus, particularly when they pose for a picture on the seventh floor balcony of the Humanities Building. The view is to the south and central Orange County. Neal has started virtually every Titan game the past three seasons at forward or center while Davis was a spot starter as a freshman but has started every game the past two seasons at either forward or guard.

CAL STATE FULLERTON CAMPUS

California State University, Fullerton is a broadly based liberal arts institution that also offers many professional studies such as business administration, education, engineering and nursing.

With the theme "Honoring the Past — Creating the Future," the university is celebrating its 25th anniversary in 1984-85. The community is invited to participate in the observance, which includes a wide range of special events and activities. For information, call (714) 773-FACT.

The university's students come primarily from Southern California with many from other states and other nations. Most students commute each day to and from classes: many come to classes only in the evening.

Drawn from throughout the world, the 750-member faculty is noted for its commitment to effective teaching and scholarly activity. Research is actively pursued, typically with students involved.

The university enjoys full accreditation for its overall program. In addition, national recognition has been accorded to programs in art, athletic training, business, chemistry, education, engineering, communications, music, nursing, speech and hearing, and theater. All told there are 85 degree programs — 41 of them at the graduate level.

Reinforcing classroom instruction is one of the largest university level internship and cooperative education programs on the West Coast. The program allows students to gain on-the-job experience while continuing their regular studies.

Another amenity is the extended education program. It provides classes, workshops, conferences and study tours on a year-round basis. Extended education offerings are open to the community without the formalities of regular admission to the university.

Still another strong point is the university's cultural events program. It includes a series that brings nationally known professional artists to the campus for residencies as well as public performances and the Cabaret Repertory Theater Company, which performs regularly in Brea.

An extensive recreation program aimed chiefly at students but also open to community members is another highlight, as is the network of community support organizations. The Titan Athletic Foundation is one of these support groups.

Further examples of community outreach are joint ventures with the City of Fullerton. One resulted in the Fullerton Arboretum, which opened on campus in 1979. Another produced lighting for the baseball field and adjoining soccer fields, while a third yielded two lighted softball fields. The university and city are now moving ahead with plans for an inn/conference center on campus as well as a sports complex.

To reinforce the university's commitment to high academic standards and community services, Cal State has embarked on a comprehensive fund-raising campaign. Its purpose is to raise the necessary non-state funding to make a very good university a great university.

Administration

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb, President

Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb was appointed the third president of Cal State Fullerton on July 8, 1981. Her selection was the culmination of a nationwide search begun in November, 1980 to replace Dr. L. Donald Shields, who had resigned after a ten-year term to accept the presidency of Southern Methodist University.

Dr. Cobb had served as Dean of Douglass College at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey, since 1976. There she also held the rank of Professor of Biological Sciences. Prior to her Douglass appointment she was Dean of Connecticut College and professor of Zoology for seven years. Previously, she was Professor of Biology at Sarah Lawrence College in New York.

Born in January, 1924, Dr. Cobb is known for her work in cell physiology, her promotion of the advancement of women in scientific fields and her activities on behalf of minorities. She is the first black woman to head a major public university on the west coast.

Cobb earned her bachelor's degree in 1944 from Talladega College in Alabama and her M.S. and Ph.D. in cell physiology from New York University in 1947 and 1950, respectively. She is the mother of a son, Jonathan, who is a student in the Cornell University Medical School.

Titan Athletic Foundation

The Titan Athletic Foundation is a non-profit organization that exists solely to aid the athletic program at Cal State Fullerton. It is a group of individuals with a genuine interest in athletics, the University and the community.

The foundation supports athletics by providing funds for scholarships that insure an effective recruiting program to attract the best student-athletes available. The telephone number is (714) 773-3480.

Athletic Department

Lynn Eilefson, Athletic Director

While demonstrating the highest level of fiscal and academic responsibility, Lynn Eilefson has maintained the championship calibre of the Cal State Fullerton intercollegiate athletic program and established the foundation for continued growth.

Since his April 1, 1982 appointment, Eilefson has seen the Titans win a baseball national championship and their first conference football title and bowl bid; the men's basketball team gained its first National Invitation Tournament berth; and the gymnastics teams and women's softball squads continue their conference domination and consistently earn national Top Ten rankings.

A two-diamond softball complex has been completed and the baseball field is now lighted for night play. These joint venture projects with the City of Fullerton are the prelude to the long-awaited "Youth Sports Complex" which will feature football/soccer and baseball stadiums. Long dormant plans have been revitalized and with legal roadblocks recently surmounted, a 1986 completion date is targeted.

While many colleges and universities are dropping sports, Fullerton has maintained a well-rounded program of 20 men's and women's sports despite overburdened facilities and shrinking fiscal allocations.

Eilefson came to Fullerton after serving as senior assistant athletic director at UCLA, where he was responsible for alumni and booster liaison, marketing, promotions and sports information. He previously served for eight and a half years at Fresno State University in a variety of positions including associate athletic director, coordinator of the stadium development fund and six years as executive director of the Bulldog Foundation. Prior to that he held posts at Lawrence University and Montana State University.

At Fresno State, Eilefson drew up a capital fund campaign to build its 30,000-seat on-campus stadium. He raised cash contributions from $30,000 to more than $500,000 during his term and also launched the "Red Wave" mania that has captured the San Joaquin Valley.

Eilefson is a 1957 graduate of the University of Montana with a degree in Business Marketing Management. He and wife Bev live in Placentia. His children are all graduates of Fresno State University and make their home in Fresno.

ACADEMIC ENRICHMENT PROGRAM

Success in the classroom as well as on the court is the goal of Cal State Fullerton basketball coach George McQuarn and he has responded by establishing an academic enrichment program for his student-athletes.

"While I believe an athlete is responsible for his academic progress, I also believe it is the responsibility of a coach to establish an atmosphere and environment conducive to academic success," says McQuarn.

The program was inaugurated in 1981 at Fullerton but has been expanded rapidly. Last year Alison Cone was hired to fill the new post of Athletic Academic Coordinator, a position created partly at McQuarn's instigation. She assists the student-athletes in reaching their academic goals by organizing a tutorial program, study halls and advisement sessions. Foundation and developmental classes also will be made available to help perfect basic skills.

And this year the program has added an Academic counselor for Men's Basketball in the person of Alice Maxwell, who will apply Cone's program directly to the basketball team.

"I will be 'coaching' the players, particularly the incoming freshmen, in the classroom instead of on the playing floor," said Maxwell, a part-time employee in the University's Learning Assistance Center. "I will continue to work in the Learning Center and work with Alison Cone solely for the men's basketball team."

Maxwell is a resident of Fullerton and the mother of two. She received her bachelor's degree in history from Cal State Fullerton in 1983 and currently is pursuing a master's degree. She is a former hospital administrator and has lived in a variety of settings including Singapore, the Marshall Islands and northeastern Arizona.

Another requirement for athletes at Fullerton is enrollment in a Speech Communications class. Coach McQuarn believes this effort will help enhance verbal communication skills necessary in the classroom and future career endeavors.

To assist freshmen and transfer student-athletes in making a successful transition to Cal State Fullerton, a college preparation and career orientation course is offered during the student's first semester on campus. They receive information on and are encouraged to use the many campus support services which will further assist them in achieving their personal, academic and career goals.

"We are a goal-oriented program and the graduation of our players is an important goal to me," said McQuarn.

COACH GEORGE McQUARN

RESIDENCE: Long Beach

BEST TIME TO CALL: 10 a.m. to Noon

COLLEGE, FULLERTON RECORD: 60-58 (.508), 4 Years

CAREER RECORD: 276-94 (.746), 12 Years

George McQuarn turned a barren program into a winner in 1981-82 and the Titans have continued that success by averaging 19 victories over the last three years. They have played in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association Championship game, been invited to the National Invitational Tournament and earned national rankings and attention while increasing attendance in Titan Gym threefold.

"I think we have established the continuity necessary for a successful program. We've built a solid base. We have had three players drafted by the National Basketball Association and have been able to bring in more players with that potential."

Building a winning intercollegiate basketball program is a major challenge and sustaining it can be an even greater task. As he begins his fifth season at Cal State Fullerton, McQuarn, 43, has demonstrated the ability to do both.

"I said last year that the challenge was to sustain the program at a high level and I think we have done that," says McQuarn. "We were extremely competitive last year and I look for us to be a factor in the conference race this season as well."

Individual honors have come McQuarn's way. In 1982-83, he was selected District 15 Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, and last spring he coached the West squad to the championship of the annual Aloha Classic in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Team honors have included the designation of the 1981-82 squad as the nation's most improved team and the Titans' 21 wins the following year set a school record for most regular season victories.

The current crop of McQuarn newcomers ranks high in quality and quantity. Among the incoming freshmen are three of the San Francisco Bay area's top performers in Richard Morton, Patrick Clardy and Henry Turner; an All-City player from Los Angeles in Eugene Jackson; an All-Orange County pick in Mark Moses and the CIF 2A Player of the Year in Vincent Blow.

Incoming college transfers include former Big Eight all-freshman selection Kerry Boagni from the University of Kansas and point guard Bryant Standley from Laney College. Eligible next year will be Tee Williamson, a transfer from Arizona State.

While his recruiting and coaching abilities are the more visible of McQuarn's attributes, equally critical to his success at Fullerton have been his attention to discipline and academic success.

"We are a goal-oriented program and the graduation of our players is an important goal to me. While I believe an athlete is responsible for his academic progress, I also believe it is the responsibility of a coach to create an atmosphere and environment conducive to academic success."

He believes in teaching mental toughness and insisting on total concentration. He wants his players to play through outside elements they have no control over, including a coach with an aggressive personality. He seeks players who are willing to accept this concept.

"We have become more aggressive on defense each year and I expect that to continue in 1984-85," says McQuarn. "You have to be flexible and adjust to your personnel. This year's team is very young and inexperienced and we won't try to do too many things right away."

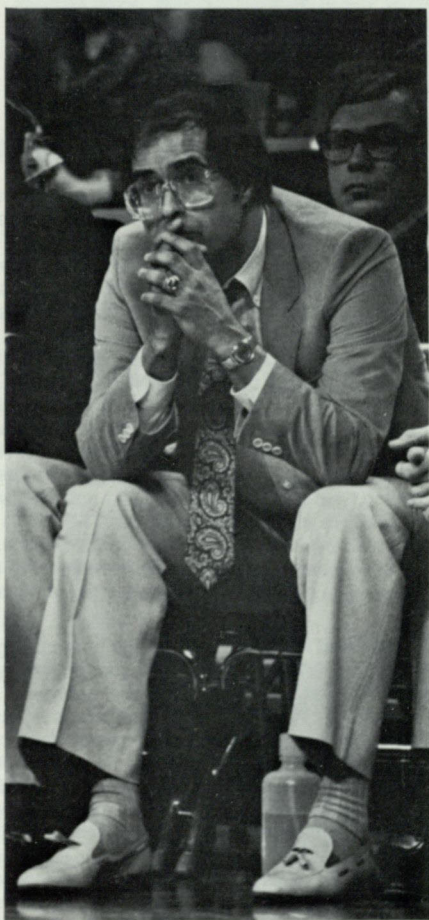

McQuarn graduated from Long Beach State in 1966 with a degree in physical education. He earlier had attended UCLA on a baseball scholarship and earned All-West Coast honors as the Bruins' catcher.

A native of Fresno, McQuarn graduated from Centennial High School in Compton where he earned All-CIF honors in basketball and baseball before attending Compton College, where he was selected to the JC All-American baseball team.

McQuarn's coaching career began with a phenomenal tenure at Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles. Between 1969 and 1973 he guided the varsity to four consecutive CIF championships and had an overall record of 123-8 (.939).

An appointment as the Recreation Superintendent for the City of Compton took McQuarn away from Verbum Dei, but he returned to coaching in 1976 to serve as an assistant to Jerry Tarkanian at Nevada-Las Vegas. The Rebels were 93-28 (.769) during his four-year tenure including trips to the NCAA quarterfinals and NIT semifinals.

At both Verbum Dei and UNLV, McQuarn coached numerous players who went on to play in the National Basketball Association. His Fullerton program has produced three NBA draft picks in Ricky Mixon (Los Angeles-1983), Ozell Jones (San Antonio-1984) and Leon Wood (Philadelphia-1984). Wood also won gold medals with the United States' teams in the 1983 Pan-American Games and 1984 Olympic Games.

Assistant Coaches

John Sneed

Phil Mathews

JOHN SNEED — is in charge of scouting the opposition and coordinating the academic program and services for members of the basketball team. He also has made a major contribution toward the promotion and marketing of Titan basketball, which has more than doubled attendance during his four-year tenure at Fullerton.

Sneed brought experience with winning Division I programs and remarkably successful high school teams to Fullerton when he became a member of head coach George McQuarn's original staff in 1980.

Sneed was an assistant for one year at the University of Arizona, a 21-6 season (1976-77) which took the Wildcats into the NCAA playoffs. During 1977-78 he was an assistant at San Diego State and the 19-8 Aztecs won the PCAA title before being eliminated in the post-season tournament by Cal State Fullerton. He also was at San Diego in 1978-79.

Sneed succeeded McQuarn at Verbum Dei High School in Los Angeles in 1974 and won the CIF 4A title and CIF Coach of the Year honors with a 30-2 record. His Eagles won two more Camino Real League titles with 28-1 and 23-5 seasons and three times he was league coach of the year. His career prep mark was 81-8 (.910) and the 1974 team was recognized as national champion by the National Sport News Service.

A Long Beach State graduate, Sneed served two years as an assistant to McQuarn at Verbum Dei. He is a native of Gastonia, North Carolina.

PHIL MATHEWS — is in charge of recruiting high school and junior college basketball prospects to Cal State Fullerton and coordinates game scheduling. He also assists with scheduling and monitoring classes and tutorial services.

Mathews brought PCAA experience as a player and coach to the Titan staff with his appointment in 1981 after a highly successful high school coaching career.

Mathews played two years at Riverside City College under coach Bill Mulligan and then transferred to UC Irvine and played for coach Tim Tift. He was the third guard as a senior as UCI went 16-14 and participated in the Division II regional playoffs. Mathews was an all-league and all-county selection at North High School in Riverside.

After obtaining a bachelor's degree in social science in 1972, Mathews remained at Irvine as an assistant to Tift and during his five-year tenure the Anteaters were 70-65.

After earning a master's degree in education, Mathews moved to Santa Ana Valley in 1977 where he posted three winning seasons. The Falcons were 12-10, 22-5 and 18-7 and won a pair of Century League titles.

SEASON PREVIEW

Three returning starters and an influx of promising talent from a variety of sources should combine to keep Cal State Fullerton in the national collegiate basketball limelight again in 1984-85.

Coach George McQuarn has established a consistently successful program and this year he will put on the floor a balanced, diversified lineup which is expected to keep the Titans in the upper echelon of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association.

Three-year starters Tony Neal and Gary Davis form the backbone of the squad. Neal has been one of the PCAA's dominant inside players since being selected its Freshman of the Year in 1981-82. Davis has been a double-figures scorer since cracking the starting five as a freshman and he ranks with Neal as an outstanding defender. The pair of 6-foot-6 seniors have celebrated together an average of 19 victories per season as Titans.

Joining Neal, Davis and late-season starter Kevin Henderson will be two veteran reserves, one junior college transfer, one redshirt coming off the disabled list, six freshmen and a major college transfer eligible in mid-December.

"It will take a while for us to develop into a cohesive unit," said McQuarn. "We've also got some decisions to make about what positions some people will play and what combinations we can use.

"We really don't have a true center but I'm comfortable going with two power forwards inside. We have better depth than ever at the wing spots and we have several ways to go at the point guard spot. I'm confident we will continue to be competitive."

Teaming with Neal inside will be DeWayne Shepard, a junior college All-American from West-Ark Community College in Arkansas who has missed virtually two full seasons due to knee injuries.

"We still haven't seen the real DeWayne Shepard," said McQuarn. "He's still kind of like a JC transfer even though he is more mature and developed. But his knee is healthy and he had a fine summer."

Backing up Neal and Shepard will be freshmen Patrick Clardy and Vincent Blow and senior letterman Gary Moeller, who averaged 3.2 points and 3.9 rebounds while playing 17 minutes a game last year.

"Gary knows his role but Clardy and Blow are freshmen and you never know quite how they will adjust," said McQuarn.

Battling for the small forward spot with Henderson will be freshman Henry Turner and University of Kansas transfer Kerry Boagni, who will become eligible in mid-December.

"Henderson really contributed during the last month of last season and he is the man to beat out of the spot," said McQuarn. "Turner is another freshman with potential and Boagni is an outstanding shooter."

Davis will man the "shooting" guard position although he has plenty of experience at the small forward spot. Backing him up will be a freshman — either Mark Moses or versatile Richard Morton.

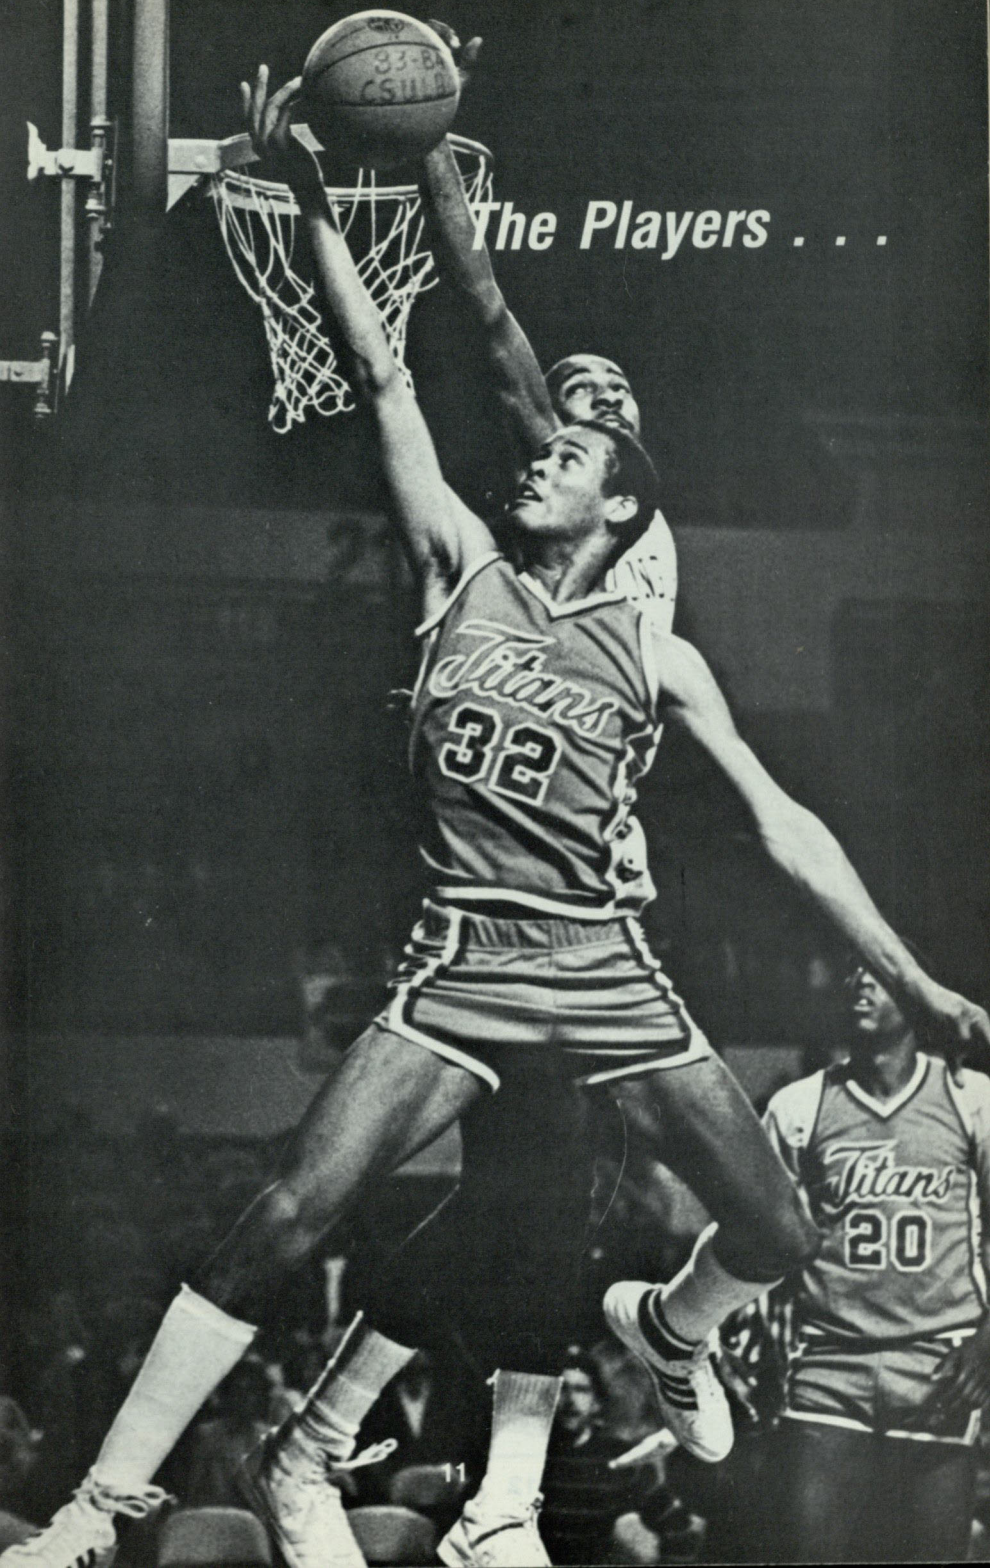

Aspects to Cal State Fullerton and monitoring classes and tutoring on the floor," said McQuarn. "His development will answer a lot of questions. Mathews brought PCAA experience. He could simultaneously fill several roles for us but that's asking a lot in 1981 after a highly successful season with his abilities."

Mathews played two years as a point guard but McQuarn has three other candidates fighting to replace him. He graduated All-American Leon Wood: Laney College transfer Bryant Jackson and letterman George Yezbak.

After obtaining a bachelor's degree, he will be in our point guard situation," said McQuarn. "This is the most options we have for a more traditional role for the point guard this year with the shots around the floor."

Gary Davis enters his fourth and final year at Cal State Fullerton as an integral part of coach George McQuarn's basketball program . . . versatile performer who has star quality but must maintain consistency . . . should benefit from graduation of Leon Wood as he must assert himself offensively . . . is most experienced outside scoring threat on the squad . . . can play either small forward or shooting guard . . . has deft shooting touch from the perimeter but also has the mobility and agility to drive to the basket . . . excellent one on one defender who typically draws opponents' top scoring threat . . . has not missed a game in three years . . . improving rebounder and ball-handler . . . has had uncanny success against Long Beach State . . . in seven games vs. the 49ers has averaged 16.1 points on .645 field goal shooting and .682 at the line . . . has scored 113 points and grabbed 25 rebounds vs. Long Beach . . . highly recruited out of Compton High School . . . particularly coveted by Oregon State team co-captain with Tony Neal.

LAST YEAR: No. 2 scorer with 11.2 average and No. 4 rebounder at 3.2 per game . . . second on team with 80 assists . . . third in steals with 33 . . . along with only Leon Wood, started all 30 games . . . began year at small forward . . . after five games, moved to off guard with Johnny Wilkes starting at forward . . . moved back to forward late in season with the emergence of Kevin Henderson at the guard spot . . . led team in scoring in four games and once in rebounds . . . scored career high 27 points in win over Texas-San Antonio with 17 of those coming in the first half . . . hit 10 of 20 shots from the floor and 7 of 8 from the line . . . was 11 of 16 in 22-point effort vs. Long Beach State . . . had 20 points on two other occasions . . . four times had six rebounds in a game . . . had back-to-back games of eight and six assists (career bests) vs. Idaho State and Pepperdine . . . played 56 of possible 60 minutes in four overtime loss at Long Beach State . . . had strong games vs. Nevada-Las Vegas before fouling out in each overtime contest . . . scored 17 and 12 points on 13 of 24 field-goal shooting and was 3 of 5 from the line.

SOPHOMORE YEAR: No. 3 scorer with 11.2 point average . . . selected team's Most Improved Player . . . started at guard first 14 games of season . . . started final 11 games at forward and averaged 13.6 points . . . continued great play against Long

Coach McQuarn: "Since this is Gary's senior year, I anticipate this will be his best. He will concentrate primarily at the small forward position and will lend support to the young players through his experience."

Beach State, averaged 14.5 points with 13 of 18 field-goal shooting . . . scored 20 points in first half of career-high 25-point game vs. UC Santa Barbara (March 3) . . . had 23 points vs. Chapman College (Dec. 1) . . . had career-high nine rebounds vs. Long Beach State (Feb. 5) .

FRESHMAN YEAR: Played all 32 games including seven starting assignments and made PCAA All-Freshman team . . . hit last-second 20-foot jumper to defeat UC Irvine, 62-61 in semi-finals of PCAA Tournament . . . began year at small forward but had more success at "off" or "big" guard spot . . . was team's No. 4 scorer at 6.8 points per game . . . scored season-high 21 points vs. Long Beach State (Jan. 16) and had 19 in win over eventual NIT champion Bradley (Dec. 30) . . . underwent arthroscopic knee surgery in late spring but was back in time to play on West squad at the National Sports Festival in Indianapolis, Indiana . . . averaged 10.3 points in four games.

HIGH SCHOOL: Twice selected Most Valuable Player of the always rugged Moore League . . . averaged 20.4 points as a senior and earned All-American honors from Street and Smith Magazine . . . All-CIF . . . chose Fullerton over Oregon State.

PERSONAL: Parents are Ralph and Rebecca Davis . . . has two brothers and four sisters.

Tony Neal has been one of the building blocks of George McQuarn's Cal State Fullerton basketball program . . . a three-year starter who has developed into one of the nation's finest inside players . . . tenacious rebounder and aggressive defender with tremendous mental discipline and on-court concentration . . . co-captain with Gary Davis . . . excels at the "little" things: picking up loose balls, setting picks and team defense . . . had an excellent summer league and piled up impressive offensive statistics as well . . . must regain the free-throw shooting form he showed as a freshman . . . with his ability to pursue rebounds laterally as well as vertically, already holds Fullerton's career rebounding record with 789 .

LAST YEAR: Averaged 10.6 points and 8.4 rebounds for the season, 9.9 and 8.8 in PCAA play . . . No. 2 rebounder in PCAA behind teammate Ozell Jones (9.4) . . . was third behind Jones (10.1) and New Mexico State's Andre Patterson (8.83 to 8.75) in PCAA games only . . . led team in steals (74) and blocked shots (40) . . . third on team with 43 assists . . . had best field-goal percentage on squad (.557) . . . was top rebounder in 11 games . . . led team with 23 points including career-high nine field goals vs. Pepperdine . . . second only to his 24-point effort as freshman . . . had career best 22 rebounds vs. Cal Poly Pomona . . . injured knee late in Jan. 15 win at Fresno State and missed next two games (4 OT loss at Long Beach State and home win over UCSB) . . . two games later scored 13 points and had 20 rebounds in home overtime loss to Nevada-Las Vegas .

SOPHOMORE YEAR: Averaged 10.0 rebounds per game, 10.4 during PCAA play . . . led team with 62 steals . . . No. 5 scorer at 8.7 points per game . . . with 289 rebounds was only five shy of school single season record . . . chosen team's top defensive player for second consecutive season . . . selected to all-tournament team at Utah Classic with 26 rebounds and 15 points in two games . . . probably his best game was home victory over No. 1-rated Nevada-Las Vegas (Feb. 24) . . . scored season-high 18 points and took game honors with 13 rebounds and four steals . . . followed up with 10 rebounds and 10 points in a win over third-place Utah State to share PCAA Player of the Week honors . . . had 21 rebounds vs. Chapman College (Dec. 1) . . . value to team stood out most vividly when he was not at his best . . . suffered knee injury at San Jose State (Jan. 13) and Titans lost . . . didn't start next game at Pacific (Jan. 20) and Titans struggled, 62-56 . . . wore knee brace in loss at Nevada-Las Vegas (Jan. 22) . . . after abandoning brace, Neal led team to nine wins in next 10 games .

Coach McQuarn: "Tony is a great competitor. I look for him to be a major factor in the success of this year's team. He may be the best rebounder in America for his size."

FRESHMAN YEAR: Led team in rebounding with 8.5 per game and was No. 3 scorer with 10.9 points per game . . . selected PCAA Freshman of the Year . . . split duty between power forward and center positions . . . had season-high 18 rebounds in 36 minutes of play at Utah State (Feb. 6) . . . scored career-high 24 points vs. Loyola-Marymount (Jan. 9) . . . had brilliant game vs. Spring Arbor College (Dec. 23) when he hit six of nine from the floor and nine of 11 at the line for 21 points and had 14 rebounds and four blocked shots in 33 minutes of play . . . hit game-winning free throws in triple overtime win over UC Irvine (Feb. 25) . . . played all 55 minutes . . . selected team's Defensive Player of the Year . . . led team with 61 steals . . . made All-PCAA Tournament team with 28 points and 30 rebounds.

HIGH SCHOOL: Averaged 25 points and 12 rebounds to lead Santa Ana Valley to the CIF play-offs . . . twice was selected to the 3A All-CIF and All-Orange County teams and was the Century League's Most Valuable Player as a senior . . . was Valley's MVP three times.

Coach McQuarn: "DeWayne is a player we have really missed the last two years because of his knee injury. He is a mature player who understands his role. With his strength and jumping ability, he will be a solid rebounder and post defender."

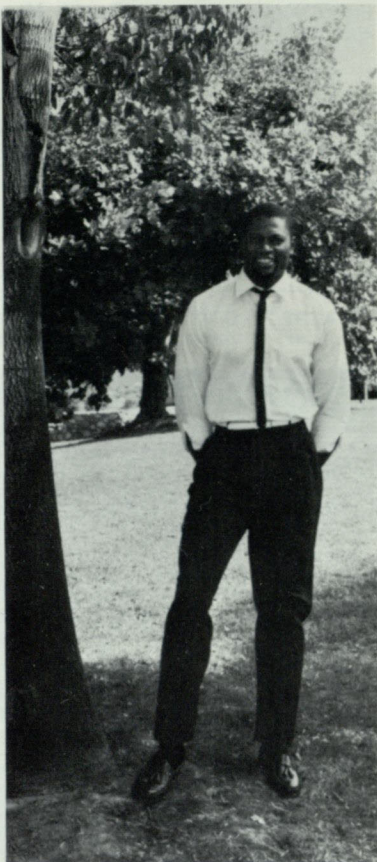

DeWayne Shepard's absence for the past year and a half was a staggering blow to the nevertheless successful Titan basketball program . . . in combination with early knee injury to Craig Fuller, left Titans with thread-bare depth on front line . . . first injured his knee during summer of 1982 . . . had arthroscopic surgery before season and missed two games . . . came back and played on one leg before diagnosis of additional ligament damage . . . underwent reconstructive surgery in March of 1983 . . . appears completely recovered and added maturity and upper body strength promise to make him a ferocious inside player . . . excellent rebounder particularly on the defensive boards . . . aggressive interior defender .

JUNIOR YEAR: Sat out first two games before stunning debut at Loyola-Marymount on Dec. 4 . . . scored 11 points and grabbed 7 rebounds in only 17 minutes of action . . . hit all five field-goal attempts . . . had 10 rebounds vs. Sacramento State on Dec. 10 but never again scored in double figures . . . led team in field-goal percentage at 64.1 per cent . . . top rebounder on team in boards per minute played (1 per 3.16 minutes).

JUNIOR COLLEGE: All-American selection at WestArk Community College . . . led the Fort Smith, Arkansas-based team to the 1981 national junior college championship with 33-5 record . . . team went 32-5 in his sophomore year but couldn't repeat title . . . was selected the Most Valuable Player of the 1981 JC Tournament . . . averaged 13.7 points and 7.8 rebounds per game in a disciplined system.

HIGH SCHOOL: Played for coach Ron Taylor at Central High in Helena, Arkansas.

PERSONAL: Parents are Jimmy and Roselee Shepard . . . has seven brothers and seven sisters.

TELEVISION PACKAGE

The Pacific Coast Athletic Association is in the second year of a three-year agreement with Katz Sports, a division of Katz Communication, Inc., for the television syndication rights of the conference's regular season basketball games.

Under the terms of the agreement, Katz Sports holds the rights to a selected schedule of PCAA regular season games and the entire post-season tournament and can distribute the games to television stations in each of the conference markets.

The following is the probable Katz television schedule for the PCAA in the 1984-85 season with times to be announced:

Wednesday	Jan. 2	UNLV at Utah St.	Saturday	Feb. 2	NM St. at UCSB
Saturday	Jan. 5	Fullerton at CSULB	Wednesday	Feb. 6	CSULB at Utah St.
Wednesday	Jan. 9	Fresno St. at UCI	Saturday	Feb. 9	UNLV at Fresno St.
Saturday	Jan. 12	Fresno St. at UNLV	Wednesday	Feb. 13	UCSB at San Jose
Wednesday	Jan. 16	NM St. at Pacific	Saturday	Feb. 16	UNLV at UCI
Saturday	Jan. 19	San Jose at Utah St.	Wednesday	Feb. 20	CSULB at UCI

TITAN RADIO NETWORK

All Titan games home and road will be broadcast on a two-station network in 1984-85: KEZY (1190 AM) in Anaheim and KWRM (1370 AM) in Corona.

KWRM has been a Titan basketball station since the 1976-77 season with the exception of the 1980-81 campaign (KWOW) while KEZY is in its second year of airing Titan basketball. The games are produced on the Titan network by JR Sports Inc. of Fullerton.

John Rebenstorf returns to the play-by-play microphone for his fourth consecutive season of Fullerton basketball. Grayle Howlett, former sports director at KVI in Seattle and currently publicity director of the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) will provide commentary and analysis on selected games.

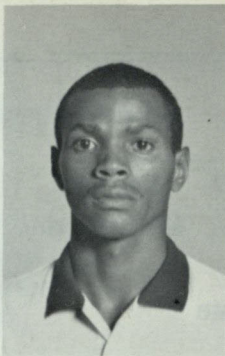

Rebenstorf, 35, has brought Titan football, basketball and baseball to Fullerton fans since the 1981-82 school year. The excitement of the California Bowl, NIT basketball and the College World Series have all been shared with his southern California audience in the past two years.

A native of Danville, Illinois, Rebenstorf moved west in 1971 and served on the campus radio station and as sports information director at UC Riverside, where he earned his bachelor's degree. He has served as sports director of KSOM in Ontario and KBON and KMEN in San Bernardino. He is married, has four children and lives in Fullerton.

With continued growth every season, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association is generally acknowledged as the top basketball conference in the Western United States. By virtually every yardstick, the PCAA comes out on top.

- Professional draft picks: Only the Southeastern Conference had more players selected than the 15 tabbed from the PCAA last summer by the National Basketball Association.
- Post-season play: Seven PCAA teams have been involved in post-season play the past two years with Fresno State winning the 1983 NIT title and Nevada-Las Vegas losing in the NCAA playoffs only to the eventual national champion each of the past two years.
- Olympic representation: Fullerton's Leon Wood was the only player from West of the Rocky Mountains on the United States' gold-medal winning squad.
- Rankings; UNLV is the only western team in the past two years to achieve No. 1 national ranking, losing its place in 1983 after a loss in Titan Gym.
- State dominance: Utah State has captured the "state championship" in each of the past two years over rivals BYU, Utah and Weber State in head-to-head play while UNLV hasn't lost to Nevada-Reno. Fresno State has been the most consistent winner among the numerous California schools over the past few years.
- And, finally, the PCAA is the only conference in the West with a post-season tournament where the winner receives an automatic berth in the NCAA playoffs. All but the ninth and tenth-place teams are never more than three victories from the opportunity to win the national title.

Two guards who would end up the season in the nation's Top Twenty scorers column shot it out in the season opener at Honolulu in the opening game of the Hawaii Tip-Off Classic. Joe Dumars of McNeese State hit 9 of 18 shots from the floor and 11 of 14 free throws on his way to an impressive 29 points. But Fullerton's Leon Wood hit 11 of 15 shots and 13 of 16 free throws for 35 points to lead a relatively easy Titan win.

Fullerton never trailed in the game and it wasn't even tied after the 2-2 mark. McNeese State (Louisiana) never got closer than six points in the second half and when the Titans went on a 12-0 run to make the score 65-47, both coaches were able to clear their benches and share playing time. Jon Samuelson got a starting call in his first game as a collegian for the Titans and scored six points before fouling out.

Playing what Hawaii coach Larry Little called "as fine a half as I've ever seen any team play," Fullerton exploded to a lopsided win for the championship of the Tip-Off Classic.

The Titans hit 80 per cent of their shots in the first half — 20 of 25 — as they jumped out to a 46-24 halftime advantage. Leon Wood was the main cause of the Rainbows' demise, hitting 8 of 9 shots from the floor and 5 of 5 from the line for 21 first-half points. He was a unanimous selection as the Most Valuable Player of the Tournament. Tony Neal went 5 for 5 from the floor in the first half.

Wood, who played well in the 1981 Rainbow Classic in Hawaii, would return to the Islands in the summer of 1984 and become the MVP of the Aloha All-Star Classic as well.

What appeared to be a third consecutive Fullerton romp turned into a down to the wire thriller for the Titans in Tucson.

With Leon Wood putting on a dazzling show before fans who cheered him as a freshman at Arizona, the Titans coasted to a 46-28 intermission lead. Wood had 20 points on 9 of 13 shooting from the floor.

But the Wildcats hit the first three baskets of the second half to make it 46-34 and the crowd got back into the game. Arizona gradually chipped away and with the Titans playing tentatively, the lead shrank to three at 63-60 with 3:02 to play. Fullerton free throwing then became a problem as the Titans missed 8 of 10 in the final 46 seconds. Fortunately, the Wildcats missed two of four so the Titans held on for their only one-point win of a year they would lose five times by that margin.

The Titans made a triumphant debut in Titan Gym in 1983 before a crowd of 4,026. Fullerton jumped off to leads of 6-0 and 18-7 before really putting the game away with a 13-0 burst to 33-10. The outmanned Broncos never got closer than 21 points the rest of the game.

Tony Neal established a career high with 22 rebounds as the Titans managed a 13-rebound edge over the outmanned Broncos. Gary Moeller had nine rebounds in what would be his fourth best effort of the year. Conversely, Ozell Jones had one of his poorest games as he fouled out in only 11 minutes of action with just four points and one rebound.

Eddie Brown tried to keep the Broncos in the game with 6 of 12 shooting from the floor, 6 of 8 from the line and a team-high six rebounds in 30 minutes of play. Former Titan Jerry Alfajara scored five points in 23 minutes for the visitors.

After trips to the Hawaiian Islands and the desert resort of Tucson, the Titans changed directions and headed for the snowy lands of Missoula for the Champion Holiday Classic and ran into some red-hot teams.

Centenary, which produced Robert Parrish for the Boston Celtics, showcased another of the nation's Top Twenty scorers in forward Willie Jackson, whose 26 points came on a sub-par 9 of 25 shooting night.

Fullerton gradually built up a six-point halftime lead and led by as many as 11 points with 6:31 to play before the Gents came back. A 7-0 Centenary spurt made it 68-66 Fullerton with 2:29 to go. A crucial call went Fullerton's way with 1:16 to go as Michael Bell was ejected for laying a violent intentional foul on Ozell Jones. Jones hit one free throw and Leon Wood two on the technical for a 73-68 lead that stood up on 3 of 6 foul shooting in the final 54 seconds by the Titans.

The absence of Ozell Jones due to injury, the after effects of oral surgery on Leon Wood and an exuberant home crowd set the stage for the championship game between Fullerton and Montana. The Grizzlies got such good play from Larry Krystkowiak and Doug Selvig that the other advantages may not have been necessary. Krystkowiak, who would go on to become the Most Valuable Player in the Big Sky Conference, had a field day inside, scoring 18 points and grabbing 10 rebounds to outdistance all players. Selvig hit 6 of 10 outside shots to keep the Titan zone defense honest.

Fullerton fell behind 6-0 at the outset and never got closer than two points the rest of the game. It was still only 43-38 with 4:50 to play but the Grizzlies ran off seven unanswered points to put the game away.

Wood, playing in considerable pain after having a tooth removed, hit only 4 of 16 shots from the floor but still made the all-tournament team. Krystkowiak was a unanimous choice for the MVP.

A crowd of more than 3,000 was on hand despite the absence of numerous fans who had ventured north to Fresno for that afternoon's California Bowl football game between Fullerton and Northern Illinois. They saw an easy Fullerton win over a team led by Derrick Gervin, the younger brother of the fabled George "Ice Man" Gervin of the San Antonio Spurs.

The Titans jumped out to leads of 8-0 and 12-2 and the visiting Roadrunners never got closer than seven, falling behind by 12 at the half. A number of Titans shared defensive responsibilities on Gervin and made him work for every shot. He finished with 16 points on 5 of 18 shooting from the floor along with a team-high 10 rebounds.

Idaho State proved a stubborn foe for the Titans, who finally got rolling in the second half for the victory. After the Titans jumped out to a 4-0 lead, the Bengals responded with an 11-3 spurt of their own for an 11-7 lead six minutes into the contest. Fullerton went back ahead at 15-13 but couldn't shake the Bengals, who were as close as 39-35 just before halftime.

Coach George McQuarn came up with the right halftime speech and the Titans roared out of the locker room. They scored the first seven points of the second half for a 49-35 advantage and stretched it out to a 21-point bulge with 10 minutes to play. It got as large as 25 points before the Bengals made a late run.

Donn Holston hit 5 of 6 shots from the floor to pace Idaho State to a fine 53 per cent effort. But the Bengals committed 21 turnovers and were outrebounded by 10.

What would become a series of heartbreaking last-second defeats began at Pepperdine on a questionable five second call. Johnny Wilkes had given the Titans a 65-64 lead with 1:47 to play and when Victor Anger missed two free throws at 0:58, the Titans were trying to run out the clock. Leon Wood went into his patented dribbling act but was cited for not advancing the ball far enough into the forecourt.

The Waves gained possession and Scott McCollum hit two free throws with four seconds to play for the victory as Fullerton didn't get off a retaliatory shot.

It was a nip and tuck affair the entire game. Pepperdine never led by more than four and the Titans by more than one in a first half that ended up 33-33. Twice the Waves jumped out to six-point margins in the second half but each time Fullerton came back to make it close. The Titans had led only once at 35-33 until Wilkes' shot from the right corner.

OZELL JONES

Scores a reverse dunk vs. Fresno State. Jones is now playing for the San Antonio Spurs of the NBA.

Fullerton took out the frustration of the Pepperdine loss at the expense of a St. Mary's team that probably didn't know what hit them. The Titans bolted from a modest 10-8 lead to a 27-8 margin with a 17-point burst midway through the first half. The Gaels went six minutes without scoring and when they managed three unanswered points, the Titans came back with a 10-0 spurt for a staggering 37-11 lead.

Down by 24 points entering the second half, the Gaels made a gallant comeback attempt. They went on a 17-2 burst of their own to draw within 10 at 47-37 with 10:21 to play. But after an exchange of baskets, the Titans ran off 10 more unanswered points with Leon Wood scoring four of them and assisting on two other baskets. Wood ended up with 27 points and six assists.

Visiting Western Illinois provided the final tuneup for the Titans before Pacific Coast Athletic Association play and the Leathernecks fell victim to another Titan blitz. After a sluggish four minutes that produced a 5-5 tie, the Titans ripped off 10 consecutive points for a 15-5 advantage and repeated the effort later in the half to turn a 28-16 margin into a 40-16 breather just before intermission.

Leon Wood handed out 22 assists to lead the surges which brought the Titans' home-court winning streak to 23 in a row. The win left the Titans with a brilliant 9-2 non-conference record and promised another exciting PCAA campaign.

Conference play began as expected — a more intense, physical game which was in doubt until the final few minutes despite the 17-point winning margin for Fullerton.

The Titans took the early advantage, using an 11-0 spurt to turn a 7-4 deficit into a 15-7 lead seven minutes into the first half. The teams traded baskets the rest of the half and it was an 11-point intermission advantage to Fullerton despite 4 for 11 shooting by Leon Wood. Ron Ence was 0 for 7 for the Aggies.

Fullerton moved out to a lead as big as 15 points early in the second half but the Aggies came right back to stay within striking distance. Utah State lost an apparent three-point play opportunity at 5:08 to go when no one saw Greg Grant's off-balance shot go in the basket when fouled by Ozell Jones. Grant sank two free throws so the play was only a one-point difference, but with the score 68-59 Fullerton the Titans went on a 10-2 burst to break it open.

Fullerton and San Jose State have traditionally played some physical, low-scoring games and this one was close to the mold. The Titans led wire to wire but it wasn't easy.

Fullerton jumped out to a 6-0 lead on two baskets by Johnny Wilkes and one by Leon Wood and the Titans stretched it to as many as 10 points on three occasions, including the intermission break. After 10 minutes of sparring in the second half, it was still a 10-point difference at 50-40 when the Spartans made their move. Two baskets by John Nord and one by Michael Dixon suddenly made it a four-point ball game. Wood responded with five unanswered points but the Spartans hung in there, still only down by six at 60-54 with four minutes to play. Seven consecutive Fullerton points, five by Ozell Jones, broke it open apparently at 68-54 but still the Spartans wouldn't quit as they got within as few as eight points before time expired.

After four successive and decisive home victories, the Titans ventured into the road portion of the PCAA schedule and met with expected results — nervousness. After jumping out to a 12-5 lead seven minutes into the game, the Titans went cold and soon found themselves behind, 29-23. They managed a halftime tie but didn't pull ahead to stay until 8:09 to play when Gary Davis hit a pair of free throws for a 46-44 lead. Four points by Leon Wood and later a Jon Samuelson dunk stretched it out to 55-48 with 3:08 to go and the Tigers got no closer than five points.

After a long, long drought in Stockton, it was Fullerton's third win in a row at Pacific.

A regional KATZ network audience and a Selland Arena sellout saw Fullerton score its first win in Fresno in the George McQuam era. Embarrassed in lopsided late-season losses previous years in Fresno, the Titans were determined to make amends.

Defense, long a Bulldog trademark, kept Fullerton in the game in the first half by creating five turnovers by Fresno. The Titans made only one to overcome cool (12 for 30) shooting from the floor and it was 26-25 Fresno State at the half.

The teams exchanged brief leads for much of the second half until the Titans jumped out at the 7:24 mark. Leon Wood's 21-foot jumper put the Titans ahead, 43-42. Tony Neal's three-point play and Wood's 10-foot bank shot extended it to 48-42.

But Fresno came back on six consecutive points by Bernard Thompson to forge a 50-50 tie with 3:11 to go. A steal by Wood resulted in two free throws at 1:55 and Fresno got back within one at 0:48 when Thompson missed the second of two free throws. Wood made one of two foul shots at 0:18 for a 53-51 margin that survived Mitch Arnold's 14-footer at the buzzer.

From one of their most significant wins ever, the Titans fell down the emotional elevator shaft when they lost a game in four overtimes at the Long Beach Arena.

Minus Tony Neal, who injured a knee during the Fresno game, Fullerton could never get its fast break going and the hungry 49ers stayed in the game all the way. Fullerton led for virtually the entire first half but never by more than four points. The Titans upped the margin to five points briefly in the second half at 31-26 but Long Beach caught them at 40-40 with 9:10 to play. Long Beach took its only lead at 50-48 but Ozell Jones hit a six-footer with :03 to go to force overtime.

In each extra period, the Titans controlled the ball as the 49ers were content to sit back in a zone and let Fullerton have the final shot. Three times the Titans couldn't convert and then in the fourth overtime, an errant pass was picked up by Joedy Gardner, who dribbled past mid-court and then let fly a 40-footer that banked in at the buzzer for a Long Beach win.

The Titans rebounded from their loss at Long Beach to beat UC Santa Barbara despite the continued absence of Tony Neal. New coach Jerry Pimm brought a much improved Gaucho team into Titan Gym and they started strong, even holding a 20-18 lead 15 minutes into the action. But a Gary Moeller free throw, Darnell Fletcher's jumper, Ozell Jones' 10-footer, a breakout layin by Gary Davis and Leon Wood's jump shot catapulted Fullerton into a 27-20 advantage. The Gauchos cut it to six on a couple of occasions in the second half, as late as 1:38 to play, before Fullerton ran off the final six points of the game on free throws to make it look more decisive.

Fullerton's 26-game winning streak in Titan Gym dating back to Jan. 23, 1982 came to a screeching halt as visiting UC Irvine scored the last seven points of the game in 62 seconds.

The Titans led virtually the entire half and by as many as 11 points at 34-23 after an 8-0 spurt at the five-minute mark. Irvine, down by eight at the half, cut it to four on a couple of occasions and once to three at 68-65 with 4:35 to go. But Fullerton looked safe with an 80-74 lead after two Gary Moeller free throws with 1:11 to play.

Ben McDonald threw in a "prayer" shot at 1:02 and then converted a George Turner "air ball" into an offensive rebound basket to make it 80-78 with 44 seconds to go. Leon Wood missed a one and one free throw opportunity at 0:35 and the Ant-eaters tied it at 80-80 with 0:13 remaining on Tod Murphy's inside bank shot. Derrick Johnson, who would later quit the UCI team, then stole the ball from Darnell Fletcher and drew a desperation foul from Tony Neal at 0:02. He sank the first free throw for his only point of the game and then missed the second one and Fletcher's 45-footer came after the final buzzer.

There was no time for the Titans to dwell on their stunning loss to UC Irvine since they were back in action 36 hours later for a Saturday afternoon KATZ TV regional broadcast of their game with first place Nevada-Las Vegas. The last time the Rebels had invaded Titan Gym they lost their unbeaten 1982-83 season and No. 1 national ranking.

It proved to be another memorable game.

The first half was a time for sparring. Fullerton scored eight points in a row for a 25-19 lead but the Rebels scored the final eight points of the half for a 38-33 lead at intermission. UNLV led the entire second half and was up by seven at 63-56 with less than a minute to play. But Fullerton rallied and not only caught the Rebs but had a chance to win in regulation. Leon Wood and Tony Neal, who had fueled the remarkable comeback, each made only one of two charities in the final 11 seconds.

After three minutes of overtime, Fullerton was ahead, 69-68. But UNLV went on to hit 14 of 18 free throws in the final 120 seconds with five Titans fouling out.

San Jose State's Civic Auditorium has been the "pits" for Fullerton basketball through the years and 1984 proved no exception. Fullerton appeared to have the game won only for the Spartans to cash in every opportunity and pull out a one-point victory.

After a nip-and-tuck first half, the Spartans pulled out to a 34-28 lead with 14:07 to play, at which time coach George McQuarn called a time out. Soon, the Titans ran off 10 straight points for a 41-37 margin and they had it up to 47-40 with under four minutes to play. The Titans didn't get another field goal. The Spartans caught them at 48-48 with 24 seconds to play. Leon Wood hit the front end of a one plus one with :06 to go but Ward Farris hit both ends for San Jose at :02 for the one-point victory.

With three losses in a row, the Titans could have tossed in the towel with another tough road game at Logan, Utah. But with guard George Yezbak getting his longest playing time of the season, the Titans made a game of it.

Utah State jumped out, 6-0, but Fullerton kept close, even leading at 12-10 before settling for a 25-26 halftime deficit. Fullerton led a couple of times briefly in the second half before falling behind for good at 45-42 on a three-point play by Greg Grant. Six times the two teams exchanged baskets, with Utah State going up by three only for the Titans to cut it back to one. A Ron Ence free throw at 4:22 turned it into a "4 then 2" cycle until Grant hit a one-and-one at 0:33 for a 66-60 lead.

Yezbak played 27 minutes at point guard, allowing Leon Wood to move to a wing position and attack the Aggies' zone. Wood got hot late in the game, scoring 22 of Fullerton's final 28 points including the last eight down the stretch.

LEON WOOD

Goes up for a shot before UNLV's Danny Tarkanian can defend. Wood is now playing for the Philadelphia 76ers.

Fullerton's first-ever trip to Las Cruces, New Mexico resulted in another frustrating yet in some ways encouraging defeat. The Titans got behind early in the KATZ TV regionally broadcast game but came back gallantly, only to make the wrong plays in the closing minutes.

With Lindsay McElmell hitting his first six shots, the host Aggies jumped out to early 6-0 and 18-6 leads. Darnell Fletcher came off the bench to hit a couple of long jumpers for the Titans but they still trailed at the half, 40-27.

It was still a 14-point game at 47-33 with 16 minutes to go when the Titans started pressing. The Aggies had trouble handling the ball and Fullerton went on a 12-2 surge to draw within four at 49-45. After the Aggies appeared to regroup for a 60-49 lead, Ozell Jones and Leon Wood each scored back-to-back field goals to cut it to 60-57 with 3:10 to go. That was as close as the Titans would get as New Mexico State converted numerous free-throw opportunities down the stretch.

Just when the Titans had figured the season could not get any more frustrating, it did. Fullerton had visiting Fresno State beaten in regulation but couldn't hold the lead.

The first half was one of streaks. Fullerton turned a 14-14 tie into a 22-14 lead only to see the Bulldogs score the next seven points to make it close before halftime. Fullerton moved out to a seven-point lead early in the second half but it was down to a two-point advantage at the "two-minute warning." Leon Wood made one of two free throws for a 53-50 lead at 0:51 but Bernard Thompson made it 53-52 at 0:31. When Wood missed the front end of a one-and-one at 0:18, the Bulldogs had a chance to win at :01 but Ron Anderson made only one of two free throws for a 53-53 tie.

Fresno appeared to have the game won in the first overtime with a 59-53 lead with one minute to play. But Wood had two baskets and a pair of free throws for a tie that survived the Bulldogs' last-second shot.

Fullerton never led in the second overtime as Mitch Arnold hit two buckets to put the Bulldogs ahead to stay.

Last-place Pacific bore the wrath of the Titans' frustration when the Tigers walked into Titan Gym to face a Fullerton team that had lost six games in a row — twice in overtime and twice by one point in regulation.

Before the KATZ TV lights had warmed up Titan Gym it was 12-0 Fullerton with Leon Wood hitting five of the six baskets. The Tigers awakened to at least trade baskets with Fullerton until the final four minutes of the period when the Titans went on a 10-6 spurt for a 16-point intermission advantage. Wood had half of Fullerton's 40 points with 7 of 9 from the floor and 6 of 6 from the line but he cooled off after intermission and settled for 30 points.

The second half was purely academic although the Tigers did close to a 12-point deficit with 3:04 to play. But two Wood layups and dunks by Wood and Henderson quickly restored order.

Fullerton seemed to be regaining its momentum when the Titans destroyed an improved Santa Barbara team on the road. The final margin was 20 points but the lead was as large as 27 in the second half.

The Titans hit 20 of 33 shots in building an 18-point halftime lead. Leon Wood hit 8 of 12 and Kevin Henderson 4 of 5 in the first of what would become five consecutive starting assignments. Fullerton stretched a modest 8-6 advantage to 18-8 and kept on building from there. The Gauchos hit only 45 per cent from the floor and committed 10 turnovers to Fullerton's four while being out-rebounded, 17-10.

Any doubts about the outcome were dispelled midway through the half when Fullerton ran off 11 unanswered points for a 64-37 lead with 9:51 to play. Henderson was 3 of 3 in the second half for a season high of 15 points (to be matched in PCAA Tournament game).

After spotting UNLV the opening basket, Fullerton rebounded to lead the entire first half, but never by more than the six-point intermission margin at 35-29.

The Rebels came out aggressively in the second half and encouraged by the huge home-town crowd, scored the first six points to forge a 35-35 tie. Ozell Jones scored on an assist from Leon Wood but the Rebs ran off six more points for a 41-37 lead and they seemed on their way to a rout. But the Titans hung in there and seemed to get a lift at the 9:22 mark when Gary Moeller and UNLV's Paul Brozovich were ejected for fighting. Fullerton managed a 54-54 tie at 6:53 on a "sky lob" dunk from Wood to Jones. UNLV sat on the ball until Richie Adams hit two free throws at 1:30. Fullerton ran the clock down to :07 when Tony Neal hit a short bank shot for a tie that forced overtime when Danny Tarkanian missed at the buzzer.

It was all UNLV in overtime as the Rebs scored nine unanswered points in the first four minutes.

Having lost eight of 11 games dating back to the four overtime loss in the Long Beach Arena, the Titans didn't need any inspirational talks when they hosted the 49ers in Titan Gym. For 40 minutes Fullerton could make amends but it took until the second half for the determination to pay off.

With Joedy Gardner hitting 4 of 8 shots from long range, Long Beach kept within striking distance in the first half at 29-22 as the Titans shot only 46 per cent from the floor and only 3 of 9 from the free-throw line. Then came the second half.

A Tony Neal follow shot, a Gary Davis jumper, a Leon Wood jumper, a Davis layin and another Neal follow shot quickly made it 39-22 as the 49ers went almost 6 minutes before scoring after intermission. They never got closer than 11 as Fullerton hit 18 of 31 second-half shots while Long Beach was only 11 of 27.

The stage was set for a big night. It was the home season finale and the last appearance in Titan Gym for Leon Wood, Ozell Jones and Johnny Wilkes. The announcement would later be made that Wood's jersey No. 20 would be retired after the season. But the visiting New Mexico State Aggies spoiled the show with another heart-stopping one-point decision.

With Lindsay McElmell hot again, the Aggies jumped out to leads of 11-2 and 22-10 as the loyal Titan fans looked on in disbelief. Each time the Titans would make a run the Aggies would find a solution and they held a 44-36 halftime lead.

Try as they might, the Titans never could gain the lead or even forge a tie. They cut the margin to two and then to one with 4:12 to play on Wilkes' 12-foot jumper but the Aggie built it quickly back to five points before the teams began trading baskets. Steve Colter's lay-in at 0:34 proved the winning basket despite a Jones layin and two missed one-and-one free throw attempts by the Aggies in the final 16 seconds.

The ending seemed predetermined. The Titans closed out the regular season on the road at UC Irvine's cozy Crawford Hall. They played hard and well but in the end, came out on the short end of the scoreboard.

The first half proved a referees' showcase. After only 3:12 had been played, the Titans had been assessed with six personal fouls. At 15:57 to go, the Anteaters were shooting one-plus-ones but had yet to commit a foul of their own. The halftime score read UCI 37, Fullerton 30. UCI was 13 of 22 from the foul line and Fullerton was 0 of 2.

Things evened up a little in the second half, both on the scoreboard and in the foul column. The Titans made little progress until a 14-3 spurt late in the game made it 63-62 Irvine with 3:06 to go. The Anteaters built it back up to 69-63 and Fullerton could get only as close as three at the buzzer. Four of Fullerton's five starters fouled out and Leon Wood ended the game with four personals.

The opening game of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association post-season tournament was a microcosm of the Titans' 1983-84 season. They played a formidable opponent down to the wire but came up short — literally — at the buzzer and the season was over.

With late-season sparkplug Kevin Henderson leading the way, Fullerton jumped out to a 23-16 halftime lead over the Bulldogs and their enthusiastic Red Wave following.

But after intermission, the Bulldogs hit 13 of 21 and they almost made a rout of the game. Still down, 33-28, the Bulldogs scored seven consecutive points for a 35-33 lead and they ran off six more to turn a 36-36 tie into a 42-36 lead.

They were up by 10 with only 1:06 to play but miraculously, Fullerton would have a chance to tie the game at the buzzer. Missed Fresno free throws (5) and baskets by Tony Neal, Gary Davis, Leon Wood and Henderson set the stage. After Scott Barnes missed a free throw at the :03 mark, the Titans came flying down the floor. Wood dished left at the top of the key but Henderson's 20-foot jumper was partially blocked and the game and season had ended.
