Kennedy's Speech Subversive, Say Conservatives

The Chairman of the Ventura County Central Committee of the Conservative Party of California, Jim Collins, today charged President Kennedy with attempting to subvert the sovereignty of the United States. Said Collins, "This is a serious charge, but the President's own words are the evidence. Kennedy has proclaimed himself a one-worlder in his speech to the United Nations today, and declared himself in advocacy of building up the power of the United Nations. This can only be done at the expense of this country's independence, and by utilizing the money and goods of our citizens without their consent. The people of the United States will overwhelmingly crush any proposal to elect the United Nations as our ruler, but it is not the intent of the liberal planners in our government to allow such a vote - - - until we are so weakened by piecemeal concessions of our liberty and sovereignty that we have no choice. The Disarmament Agency, the scrapping of our first strike and anti-missile weapons, and now the villainous Test Ban Treaty, are all part of the insidious program to disarm the last upright nation still standing in the way of Soviet world supremacy. To make this plan possible, our President and his cabinet have bombarded the people with a continuous series of appeals to support ideas which are opposed to our country's Constitution and our religious principles. Our trusting, uninformed people have thus been deceitfully led along the road to socialism and enslavement.

President Kennedy's speech was a cunningly veiled announcement that his administration is now opening its final drive to establish a centralized, one-world government under the United Nations, providing the necessary changes in its Charter, and the pledge of United States men, materials, and money to carry it out. The filled in hogwash between the policy statements was typical of the unrealistic, heedless rationalization of the worst utopian dreamer, disregarding the stark failure of the United Nations to resist the constant aggression of the communists since its organization, and daring to mention the Congo as an example of success. The rapes of Poland, Hungary, East Germany, Katanga, and Cuba are ignored in the new drive to convince the world that murderous lying gangsters like Khrushchev are to be trusted. Kennedy is staking the freedom of the world on a contract with known criminals. I'm sure that neither he, nor anyone else of sound mind, would sign a contract to sell a house or car to a known criminal without even a down payment! Is our country's safety of less concern?

If it's the only way to make our leaders honest, let's bring the true proposition before the people in a general vote. The individual detailed issues must be stripped away, and the hidden objectives revealed. Let the people decide whether:

- A. They prefer United Nations government to the United States.
- B. They prefer socialism to free enterprise.
- C. They prefer to have themselves associated with sterile atheism, or to be known as a Christian, God fearing nation.

I'm sure that when the chips are down, even after thirty years of brainwashing by the socialist forces in Press, Radio, and Movies and the UNESCO teaching in our schools and colleges, the American people will not toss away their successful principles of government in exchange for the deceitful promises of a way of life that records only failures.

Senator Kennedy did not disclose his intention to develop the United Nations into a supreme power over this country when he asked for the votes of the American people, but President Kennedy has unmistakably outlined this plan to the world today, and he now has martialled all of the government's propaganda machine and he wields the enormous power of our tax money to coerce and to destroy those who speak out against his plan. We should be reminded of the utopian promises of Señor Castro before he gained power, and we are now witnesses to the results of his hidden plan. We should also remember with deep misgivings that we are now following almost perfectly the design of the Communist conspiracy."
