New online General Catalog launched

Fresno State's new digitalized General Catalog is now available online and hardcopy versions are no longer available. The mobile-ready online catalog was developed as a resource for students, faculty, and staff. According to April Schulthies, catalog editor in the University Communications office, the new online catalog features easier navigation. Drawing from the university's PeopleSoft database, it contains up-to-date degree and program information, course lists with descriptions and faculty information. Degree roadmaps and career information are also included as well as a video preview. Requirements and department information will continue to be manually maintained. Printed catalogs will no longer be produced. INFO: Video preview.
