

mental basis beginning in September, 1967. The procedure is designed to limit the risks inherent in such an evaluation process, both to a student's grade-point average and to his prospect of normal advancement in his college program. Its limitations are also designed to permit adequate evaluation of the procedure as it affects instruction and administrative procedures.

Under this plan a student may individually enroll in a course in which others are receiving grades on a five-point scale, but in which he may receive only the grades of "passed" (P) or "withdrawn" (W). The grade of P will be given if his work is judged to be equivalent to that grade A, B, or C as applicable to regular enrollment, or the grade of W if his work is equivalent to a D or F. Other conditions concerning P-W grading are as follows:

1. Not all courses will be available for this type of enrollment. Those in which P-W grading will be possible will be indicated in the Schedule of Courses. Further directions concerning enrollment procedure will also be found there.

2. A student must be in good standing (not on probation) and must have completed less than 60 units at the time of enrollment.

3. A student may enroll in only one course in a semester or term on a P-W basis. A maximum of 15 units of such courses may apply to the total units required for the degree. A course taken on this basis will not normally apply to the satisfaction of a major or a credential requirement.

4. A course enrolled in on a P-W basis will not be taken into account in the computation of the grade-point average.
